

NEW MADE IT EVEN. The Home Team Give the Hoosiers a Game and Manage to Keep the Next.

Rumor Starts that Garfield is Shortly to be Released. THE SENATORS BEAT THE BOSTONS. Harry Lyons Wins His Case Against Von Der Ahe.

GENERAL BASEBALL NEWS OF THE DAY. Two games were played on the local grounds yesterday between the local club and the Indianapolis team. Each won a game. The playing on both sides was loose.

Ordinarily speaking there is not much to grumble about if one quits even in any contest that may be engaged in; but there are occasions when quitting even is just as expediting as a clean defeat. It is not a stretch of the imagination to say that of yesterday in the ball game at Recreation Park.

Chicago Got the Best of It and Again Downed the Cleveland. CHICAGO, August 1.—The Chicago Cleveland game this afternoon was a pitchers' contest. The Cleveland pitcher, Glasscock, pitched the last half of the first, and when play resumed after 20 minutes, the grounds were very bad.

VERY BAD CONDUCT. Those unfortunates who were guilty of indiscretion have a vulgar spirit of disaffection which will not let them go. They show the unfortunate ignorance of those who participate in them and only make the players worse. It is not to be wondered at that the Cleveland pitcher, Glasscock, was caused by over-anxiety, or a desire to do too much. Hissing and growling at players or anyone on the ball field ought to be discouraged at every stage.

THE GREAT SENATORS. They Defeat the Boston in a Brilliant 10-1 Lining Contest. WASHINGTON, August 1.—The Boston team proved themselves very troublesome to the Senators to-day, but were finally disposed of in a brilliant 10-1 lining contest.

HAS GARFIELD TO GO. A Rumor That the Young Man Will Shortly be Released. Rumors were current last evening to the effect that Garfield would be released.

THE GAME WE WON. The second game was a little more interesting to the crowd than the first, because it was more decidedly a game of strategy.

GLASSCOCK'S COSTLY ERROR. Glasscock fumbled Gowen's grounder and Hanlon scored. A double play, however, retired both Maul and Rowe. White reached first on Denny's fumble in the second, and after Dunlap and Sowers were out on Hanlon got two on a muffed fly by White's long single by Miller and Carroll's long single sent White home.

ASSOCIATION GAMES. Two Singular Games at Baltimore. Barnie's Team and the Cowboys Reached a Game by the Same Score Reversed—Brooklyn Beats Louisville—Cincinnati Easily Pounds Columbus and Columbus.

BALTIMORE, August 1.—Two games were played here today, the first being postponed from the day before. Each club one won a game. Scores being identical, but reversed in the second game.

WON THEM BOTH. Brooklyn Captures Two Games From the Hoosiers. BROOKLYN, August 1.—In spite of the rain and a new mud the Brooklyn and Louisville teams played two games at Washington Park, D. C., today. Both of which were won by the visitors being a perfect mar.

A PITCHER'S CONTEST. Chicago Got the Best of It and Again Downed the Cleveland. CHICAGO, August 1.—The Chicago Cleveland game this afternoon was a pitchers' contest. The Cleveland pitcher, Glasscock, pitched the last half of the first, and when play resumed after 20 minutes, the grounds were very bad.

LOTS OF FUN. The Reds Have a Merry Time With the Hoosiers. COLUMBUS, August 1.—Baldwin was touched for two or three hits in the third inning with the Cincinnati to-day and Manager Boehmberger removed him to give Ma a chance.

MADE HIM PAY. Harry Lyons Wins His Suit Against Von Der Ahe. PHILADELPHIA, August 1.—Harry Lyons, the ball player, today won his suit against President Von Der Ahe, of the St. Louis Baseball Association, for $10,000.

COMELY WOULD PLAY. Philadelphia August 1.—The heavy rains that prevailed at intervals all day rendered the Athletic ground very muddy.

THE BLUES WON. They Rather Took the Contest Out of the McKeesport Fellows. BRADDOCK, Pa., August 1.—The McKeesport club came down to Braddock today. All the players of the crack team were full of spirit when they went home on an evening train with their expectancies badly shattered.

LEAGUE RECORD. NATIONAL LEAGUE—INDIANAPOLIS AT PITTSBURGH. CLEVELAND AT CHICAGO; BOSTON AT PHILADELPHIA; ST. LOUIS AT CINCINNATI; KANSAS CITY AT COLUMBUS; INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE—SYRACUSE AT BUFFALO; HAMILTON AT ROCHESTER; DETROIT AT LONDON; TOLEDO AT CLEVELAND.

IN THE S.O.P. SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. HARRISBURG, August 1.—The baseball uniforms of the Shenandoah club were confiscated at York by the hotel proprietor who entertained the team in the past two days.

RICHARDSON BEATEN. Thorsless Defeats the Game Horse in Straight Heats. AXTELL GOES THE MILE IN 2:14 3-4. Jack, the Famous $10,000 Stake Winner, Gets the 220 Race.

MONMOUTH AND SARATOGA WINNERS. Numerous Local Challenges for Wrestling and Boxing Contests. There was some great racing at Cleveland yesterday. Axtell, the young stallion, beat his own record for $2,800 and Guy went a mile in 2:05 1/2. J. B. Richardson, somewhat of a Pittsburgh horse, was beaten by Thorsless. Jack, another well-known horse, won the 220 race. There was also good running races at Monmouth Park and Saratoga.

AT MONMOUTH PARK. MONMOUTH PARK, August 1.—Rain fell here today and the track was heavy. First race, three-quarters of a mile—Starters: St. James, Lord Pylon, Civil Service, Congo, Trent, and other horses.

DISCOLORE WANTS A MATCH. The following challenge was received at this office yesterday: GREENSBURG, Pa., July 31. To the Sporting Editor of The Dispatch: Will you please put the following in your paper?

TEEMER'S ASPIRATIONS. A big regatta is being arranged for at Denver, California, and one at Oswego, New York. The regatta at Denver is to be held in the month of August.

BASEBALL NOTES. SERRY made a great one-handed running catch yesterday. The Keystone team beat the Maroons of Washington, Pa., yesterday by 13 to 0.

A BLIND GIRL'S LONG WALK. She Travels on Foot All the Way From Scranton to Detroit. DETROIT, Mich., August 1.—A deaf, dumb, blind and insane girl was found near the city of Scranton, Pa., in this city in search of a home.

SARATOGA RACES. A Heavy Rainfall Makes the Track Heavy and Time Slow. SARATOGA, N. Y., August 1.—There was another heavy rainfall this morning and the track was heavier than yesterday.

THE WEATHER. For Western Pennsylvania, showers and slightly warmer; southwesterly winds. For West Virginia, fair; stationary temperatures; southerly winds. FRIDAY, August 1, 1895.

TRIP-STATE LEAGUE. At Canton—Manchester, 10 to 0; Columbus, 10 to 0; Erie, 10 to 0; Mansfield, 10 to 0; Canton, 2 to 0; Erie, 2 to 0.

THOSE NEW STATES. The Delegates Bard at Work Framing Strong Constitutions. MR. HARRISON MAY BE HONORED. A Suggestion to Change the Name of South Dakota for That End.

THE CURIOUS LEGAL PROPOSITION. Which the Able Lawyers Finally Succeeded in Doing to Defeat. A proposition to have the Supreme Court pass upon the constitutionality of the proposed laws was defeated after a warm struggle in the North Dakota Convention.

BISMARCK'S N. DAK. August 1.—At last evening's session the convention, through the efforts of Williams, of Burleigh, amended the report of the Judiciary Committee by providing that the Supreme Court shall give its opinion on any bill or question pending before the Legislature when requested by the Legislature or the Governor.

SUGGESTING A NEW NAME. At the South Dakota Convention at Sioux Falls no business of importance was done. The regular batch of communications suggesting names for the new States were read. This time it is "Benson," in honor of the President, the name being a combination of his first and last names.

ONE CENT A LOOK. City Directory Slot Machines Introduced Into Dragstores. A gentleman entered a Second Avenue drugstore last evening and asked permission to consult the city directory, which the public has grown to regard as essential a part of the pharmacopoeia as the blue pill or pain killer.

BY LOOKING AT THEIR EARS. How a Chicago Hotel Clerk Anticipates the Wants of Guests. Where seems to be a variety of ways by which the clerk learns to distinguish one man from another. Of course the general appearance goes for much. But many men have full beards and many more dark mustaches, and so on.

A DEBITFUL BEAUTY. A Maiden With Money and Good Looks Cheating a Conductor. "She dressed modestly and was the daughter of mighty good people," said a street car conductor to a Chicago Times reporter. Her parents live in a brown stone front, and are well off in the way of this world's goods.

HIS UNLUCKY DAY. A Man Who Gets Hurt on His Birthday Anniversary. An extraordinary coincidence came under my notice the other day. A one-eyed looking negro from Illinois had the habit of coming to St. Louis every year to spend his birthday anniversary of the day he supposed was born on. The result is that his name appears on the City Dispensary book exactly once a year, and always on the same date.

WOLF'S ACME Blacking. In the Blacking for Men, Women and Children. THE RICHEST BLACK POLISH. Making Leather Waterproof and Durable. No Brusk. A Shine Lasts a Week. Can be washed with water, same as Oilcloth. The Finest Dressing for Harness.

BLOOKER'S DUTCH COCOA. 100 CUPS FOR $1. CHOICEST, PUREST, BEST. TRY IT. J. B. ROBERTSON, Philadelphia.

EMANCIPATION CELEBRATION. How It Was Observed at Homewood Park. McKee's Grove and Several Other Places—The Colored People All Out. Yesterday was a day of days among the colored people. Next to the 1st of January—the anniversary of their emancipation in the United States—the 1st of August is honored among them.

First among the celebrations of yesterday was that at Homewood Park. Early in the forenoon a parade was held, and a gallant cavalcade proceeded from Liberty Hall to Homewood Park. Ajax Jones was chief of staff, and J. H. Coates officiated as general manager. At Homewood a crowd had assembled to witness the fun. A pleasant picnic followed the proceedings, and then some half dozen equestrians entered the lists for the ring riding contest.

At the celebration of yesterday was that at Homewood Park. Early in the forenoon a parade was held, and a gallant cavalcade proceeded from Liberty Hall to Homewood Park. Ajax Jones was chief of staff, and J. H. Coates officiated as general manager. At Homewood a crowd had assembled to witness the fun. A pleasant picnic followed the proceedings, and then some half dozen equestrians entered the lists for the ring riding contest.

At the celebration of yesterday was that at Homewood Park. Early in the forenoon a parade was held, and a gallant cavalcade proceeded from Liberty Hall to Homewood Park. Ajax Jones was chief of staff, and J. H. Coates officiated as general manager. At Homewood a crowd had assembled to witness the fun. A pleasant picnic followed the proceedings, and then some half dozen equestrians entered the lists for the ring riding contest.

At the celebration of yesterday was that at Homewood Park. Early in the forenoon a parade was held, and a gallant cavalcade proceeded from Liberty Hall to Homewood Park. Ajax Jones was chief of staff, and J. H. Coates officiated as general manager. At Homewood a crowd had assembled to witness the fun. A pleasant picnic followed the proceedings, and then some half dozen equestrians entered the lists for the ring riding contest.

At the celebration of yesterday was that at Homewood Park. Early in the forenoon a parade was held, and a gallant cavalcade proceeded from Liberty Hall to Homewood Park. Ajax Jones was chief of staff, and J. H. Coates officiated as general manager. At Homewood a crowd had assembled to witness the fun. A pleasant picnic followed the proceedings, and then some half dozen equestrians entered the lists for the ring riding contest.

At the celebration of yesterday was that at Homewood Park. Early in the forenoon a parade was held, and a gallant cavalcade proceeded from Liberty Hall to Homewood Park. Ajax Jones was chief of staff, and J. H. Coates officiated as general manager. At Homewood a crowd had assembled to witness the fun. A pleasant picnic followed the proceedings, and then some half dozen equestrians entered the lists for the ring riding contest.

At the celebration of yesterday was that at Homewood Park. Early in the forenoon a parade was held, and a gallant cavalcade proceeded from Liberty Hall to Homewood Park. Ajax Jones was chief of staff, and J. H. Coates officiated as general manager. At Homewood a crowd had assembled to witness the fun. A pleasant picnic followed the proceedings, and then some half dozen equestrians entered the lists for the ring riding contest.

At the celebration of yesterday was that at Homewood Park. Early in the forenoon a parade was held, and a gallant cavalcade proceeded from Liberty Hall to Homewood Park. Ajax Jones was chief of staff, and J. H. Coates officiated as general manager. At Homewood a crowd had assembled to witness the fun. A pleasant picnic followed the proceedings, and then some half dozen equestrians entered the lists for the ring riding contest.

At the celebration of yesterday was that at Homewood Park. Early in the forenoon a parade was held, and a gallant cavalcade proceeded from Liberty Hall to Homewood Park. Ajax Jones was chief of staff, and J. H. Coates officiated as general manager. At Homewood a crowd had assembled to witness the fun. A pleasant picnic followed the proceedings, and then some half dozen equestrians entered the lists for the ring riding contest.

A HORRIBLE CUSTOM. Cannibalism Practiced Among the Members of an Indian Tribe. A VILE, INHUMAN INITIATION. One of the Sacred Ordinances of the Taimpheans or Winter Danos. HUMAN FLESH EATEN BY INITIATES. A Feast of Berries for Women. Interrupted in a Disgraceful Manner.

A tribe of Indians has been discovered in the northern part of British Columbia that for generations has indulged in cannibalism as one of its customs of initiation. The details of the practices are horrible. SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. OTTAWA, Ont., August 1.—An agent of the Dominion Government has been exploring in the northern part of British Columbia, reports the discovery of a tribe of Indians who have for generations indulged in cannibalism as one of their sacred ordinances during what is known as their winter dances. They are the Taimpheans or Kwaguts, and believe that the Hamadist is a spirit living entirely upon human flesh and the mountains.

Formerly a captive or a slave was killed and presented to be initiated, and the older Hamadist would eat the corpse in the presence of a general assembly of the people. More recently, although slavery is not wholly extinct, the Indians have become afraid to kill, so they are reduced to the stealing of a corpse. This has usually been done a long time, and is described as quite flavorless, the brains being a luxury. After eating, the Hamadist does not taste food for some days, but drink warm water. Up to the time of eating a corpse in public, the initiate, whenever he appears in the presence of his relatives, women being however, generally exempt. Formerly the faces were bitten, noses and ears especially, but now the initiate merely LIFTS THE FLESH of a man's skin with his teeth, which is sliced off with a knife by a bystander, and probably spat out in secret. The father of the initiate pays everybody who has been bitten from two to ten blankets. There are few men in the wigwag tribes unscarred by this practice. The Hamadist begins these ceremonies of the winter dance while entirely nude, a heavy blanket being thrown over his shoulders. Thereafter from 3 to 20 Hamadists in every village, and one of them is called the chief. The Hamadist is a white man who was taken off from the water dance, as the woman told him, A CORPSE WAS TO BE EATEN. He saw a woman's body taken into the house by three nude men, and went round to see what was going on. He saw the Hamadist holding the body in their arms and biting pieces out. By the long black hair hanging from the head he supposed that the original cause of a bringing variety of things to eat. A Kanaka, a man of good repute, told the narrator of this story that at the head of the wigwag he had seen a white man and saw Hamadist eat a corpse in the presence of the tribe. His wife, the Chiefess, a member of the Hamadist family, after describing the original cause of a bringing variety of things to eat. A Kanaka, a man of good repute, told the narrator of this story that at the head of the wigwag he had seen a white man and saw Hamadist eat a corpse in the presence of the tribe. His wife, the Chiefess, a member of the Hamadist family, after describing the original cause of a bringing variety of things to eat.

He saw a woman's body taken into the house by three nude men, and went round to see what was going on. He saw the Hamadist holding the body in their arms and biting pieces out. By the long black hair hanging from the head he supposed that the original cause of a bringing variety of things to eat. A Kanaka, a man of good repute, told the narrator of this story that at the head of the wigwag he had seen a white man and saw Hamadist eat a corpse in the presence of the tribe. His wife, the Chiefess, a member of the Hamadist family, after describing the original cause of a bringing variety of things to eat.

He saw a woman's body taken into the house by three nude men, and went round to see what was going on. He saw the Hamadist holding the body in their arms and biting pieces out. By the long black hair hanging from the head he supposed that the original cause of a bringing variety of things to eat. A Kanaka, a man of good repute, told the narrator of this story that at the head of the wigwag he had seen a white man and saw Hamadist eat a corpse in the presence of the tribe. His wife, the Chiefess, a member of the Hamadist family, after describing the original cause of a bringing variety of things to eat.

He saw a woman's body taken into the house by three nude men, and went round to see what was going on. He saw the Hamadist holding the body in their arms and biting pieces out. By the long black hair hanging from the head he supposed that the original cause of a bringing variety of things to eat. A Kanaka, a man of good repute, told the narrator of this story that at the head of the wigwag he had seen a white man and saw Hamadist eat a corpse in the presence of the tribe. His wife, the Chiefess, a member of the Hamadist family, after describing the original cause of a bringing variety of things to eat.

He saw a woman's body taken into the house by three nude men, and went round to see what was going on. He saw the Hamadist holding the body in their arms and biting pieces out. By the long black hair hanging from the head he supposed that the original cause of a bringing variety of things to eat. A Kanaka, a man of good repute, told the narrator of this story that at the head of the wigwag he had seen a white man and saw Hamadist eat a corpse in the presence of the tribe. His wife, the Chiefess, a member of the Hamadist family, after describing the original cause of a bringing variety of things to eat.

He saw a woman's body taken into the house by three nude men, and went round to see what was going on. He saw the Hamadist holding the body in their arms and biting pieces out. By the long black hair hanging from the head he supposed that the original cause of a bringing variety of things to eat. A Kanaka, a man of good repute, told the narrator of this story that at the head of the wigwag he had seen a white man and saw Hamadist eat a corpse in the presence of the tribe. His wife, the Chiefess, a member of the Hamadist family, after describing the original cause of a bringing variety of things to eat.

He saw a woman's body taken into the house by three nude men, and went round to see what was going on. He saw the Hamadist holding the body in their arms and biting pieces out. By the long black hair hanging from the head he supposed that the original cause of a bringing variety of things to eat. A Kanaka, a man of good repute, told the narrator of this story that at the head of the wigwag he had seen a white man and saw Hamadist eat a corpse in the presence of the tribe. His wife, the Chiefess, a member of the Hamadist family, after describing the original cause of a bringing variety of things to eat.