SULLIVAN IN A HOLE.

A Tough Outlook for the Champion and All Others Who Took Part in

THAT BIG PRIZE FIGHT.

The Judge Charges the Jury in a Most Sweeping Manner.

NOT ONE GUILTY MAN MUST ESCAPE.

All Who Aided or Abetted the Fight Equally Guilty. President of the Bill Not Necessary to Convict of Crime—Sullivan and Kilrain Indicted, but the Papers Not Yet Presented—Nearly All the Accused Present in Court—The New York Contingent Mightily Worked Up—Charge of Judge Terrill to the Jury—More Than One Cause of Complaint Against Each Principal.

A special term of the Criminal Court of Marion county, Miss., convened yesterday to investigate the Sullivan-Kilrain prize fight. The judge's charge to the grand jury was a sweeping one, and leaves few loopholes of escape for anyone who had anything to do with the recent mill. The two principals were indicted in short order, but no papers were presented to the court yesterday.

THE JUDGE TELLS THE DISPATCH.

PUEBLS, MISS., Aug. 12.—The court called to try John L. Sullivan convoked here this morning, with Judge S. H. Terrill presiding and James H. Neville as District Attorney. The entire party who spent the night here, defendants, sheriff and jurors, were up early this morning. The people came here from miles around, the greater portion of them out of curiosity. Sullivan and other defendants were in the best of humor, and Sullivan conversed with all who came in contact with him. Quite a crowd soon gathered about the depot, awaiting the arrival of the train from Meridian, which came in on time, bringing Judge Terrill, District Attorney Neville and a number of attorneys.

WHO THE JUDGE IS.

Judge Terrill lives at Quitman, on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad. He is a splendid specimen of physical manhood, speaks deliberately, and is considered a first-class jurist. Most of his rulings have been confirmed by the Supreme Court. The judge stated that this special term of court had been called partly at the request of the Governor and partly from the demand of the good people of Marion county, as made known through the public prints; and, furthermore, because the regular term of one week in December would be inadequate to the necessities which the prize fight would add to the regular business of the term. He therefore yielded, and he thought it best to convene a special term of the public service, and called this special term to dispose of this special business.

THE ACCUSED PRESENT.

All the accused are here except Pat Duffy, whose absence was accounted for by the District Attorney, who failed to notify him. General Superintendent Carroll, of the Queen and Crescent, was not present, but the general belief is that he will not be indicted by the grand jury. The foreman of the grand jury is T. R. White, a mill owner and merchant at Poplarville. When one of the good people of Marion county, as made known through the public prints; and, furthermore, because the regular term of one week in December would be inadequate to the necessities which the prize fight would add to the regular business of the term. He therefore yielded, and he thought it best to convene a special term of the public service, and called this special term to dispose of this special business.

PUBLIC SENTIMENT IN THE COUNTY.

seemed to demand and expect it, and yielded thereto. Since he has given in court here a full charge concerning the various offenses indictable under the laws of the State, he would now quit their separate mention, reminding the jury, however, that if any of them have violated it was their duty to bring the offenders to justice.

COMMON LAW IN THE CASE.

He then expatiated on the admirable system and the wisdom of the common law. He said that the Supreme Court of Mississippi has again and again declared this system as fully in force as if so declared by legislative enactment and said: "And I do declare it to you, and you are bound by your conscience to act upon the law declared to you from this stand. Anger or ill will is not necessary to constitute the crime of assault and battery, nor does the consent of the party take away the guilt of the offense. A battery is any unlawful physical force, inflicting injury or hurt upon another, whether done in malice or wantonness. It need not be in anger."

IT MAY BE SERIOUS YET.

The Governor of Alabama is anxious to capture the Duellists. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., August 12.—Governor Seay is in the city to-day corresponding by telegraph with Governor Gordon of Georgia, relative to the extradition of Williamson and Calhoun, the Georgia lawyers who fought a duel on Alabama soil on Saturday night. Governor Seay is determined to have them brought back to Alabama, and vigorously prosecuted, and has already issued a requisition which Governor Gordon promises to grant.

A REIGN OF TERROR.

White Jack the Peep is Frightening the Women of Elizabeth Thieves Ran across the Town—The Police Never on Hand.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. ELIZABETH, N. J., August 12.—"Jack the Peep," the nocturnal fiend of Elizabeth, had fresh orders to assist him in terrorizing the inhabitants of Elizabethport Sunday night. Burglars, emboldened by Jack's success in evading the sleepy police, took a hand in the fun and tackled three houses in one block of South Park street, near the principal thoroughfare of the town. The first place cracked was Harry Kennedy's, an engineer. The thieves crawled in by the brother's bedroom window, took a pair of pantaloons and a vest off the chair at his bedside to a lounge near the window, and rifled the pockets of $34. They next ransacked some of the other rooms, until the barking of a dog drove them away. They afterward visited James Keating's, across the way, and Nicholas Labisher's, two doors above, but without success. They made a great haul and the inmates and the thieves fled.

against them, the aiders and abettors, for an assault and battery, even though the fight was by agreement and without anger or ill will, and with no intention of doing any hurt, except what might be incidental to the purpose of seeing who was the best man.

ALL IN GOOD SPIRITS.

John L. Sullivan, Referee Fitzpatrick, Bud Renaud, Captain Tom Jamison, Charles Rich, Superintendent E. L. Flyler, and the other officials of the fight, were in good spirits, but anxious that the case shall be concluded as soon as possible.

CANNOT COMPROMISE IT.

Mr. Neville stated that some suggestions of compromise had been made, but he would not listen to any proposition until the grand jury had reached some decision. He cannot accept any compromise, and he is determined to see the case through to the end.
