Heaviest Run of Cattle This Season at Liberty Yards.

BULK OF RECEIPTS COMMON GRADE

Prime Beeves in Demand at Old Rates-Common Are Slow Sale.

SHEEP AND HOGS ON THE DOWN DRIFT

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, WEDNESDAY, August 21, 1889. The run of cattle for the week has been the largest of the season, the total being between 140 and 150 carloads. In the receipts was a very small proportion of prime cattle. A liberal estimate would not place the supply of prime beeves above ten loads. A few loads were on the market which were one-half or more primes, but among them were enough common cattle to very materially lower the grade.

There were in the supplies about 25 loads of what drovers term common to fairly good heavy steers weighing from 1,300 to 1,400 pounds. The remaining 110 loads were, as one drover expressed it, "rubbish" which commission men remaining its to bask which so the univer the pressed it, "rubbish" which commission men have been struggling at a disadvantage to dispose of since Monday morning. These consisted of stags, dry cows, thin heifers and scalawag stock of every description. It is doubtful if a meaner lot of stock was ever dumped into the Liberty yards. Many of the low class stock were unsold at noon to day, and prospects are that sales can only be made at rainous prices. The roughest sold as low as lyc per pound. The range on good heavy steers, the best that were on the market, was $40 to $4.0. There were a few primes which would have brought one-quarter more if they had not been in Bad company. There was not a single car flied with prime cattle. Common to fair heavy beeves, 1800 to 1840 pounds, sold at a range of $5 50 to $4.12%. A few loads which were put under limit by shippers, failing to bring the prices, were sent East in first hands, and probabily went further to fare worse. The shippers, would have done better to have sold at Liberty.

Good butchering stock held up fairly well to last week's prices, and sold readily. The mar-ket for common grades is seldom as mean as it has been this week, and sales are only made by liberal comparisons in human self.

The value of good goods has never been more clearly demonstrated than at the Liberty stock yards this week. While the genuine has been at a premium, the stalawag has been at a dis-

Sheep and Lambs

Receipts have been 10 to 15 loads larger than last week, and quality is reported below par. Unfavorable advices from the East on top of a heavy run and low quality of receipts has had a demoralizing influence on markets, and prices are 15625c per 100 pounds lower than last week. All drovers agree in the statement that sheep supplies the past week or two are gener-ally of inferior quality. Lambe decimed still more than sheep, and some place the decline as large as 35c per 100

Hogs.

Markets were slow on Monday and have been stagnant ever since. Prices are a shade lower last week. The prospect for low-priced hogs the coming fall was never better. The nogs the coming fail was never better. The price now is 2c lower than it was this time a year aco, and the outlook for the corn erop is steadily improving. An East Liberty stock-man, who has just returned from a trip through Central and Southwestern Ohio, reports that he has seldom seen the corn crop as promising at this time of the year as it now is in that sec-tion.

if early frosts do not prevent, the corn crop If early frosts do not prevent, the corn crop in Central and Southwestern Ohio will surpass that of last year. Similar reports come from the great corn belts of Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, and the bulls who have been banking on a short corn crop are doomed to disappointment unless early frosts come to their rescue. In Northern Ohio the corn prospect is not so bright as in the center and south. Only the well-drained farms of the Western Reserve will furnish an average yield of corn. It is as nearly certain as anything future can be that we are to have cheap corn and hogs the coming season.

McCall & Co.'s Report.

The supply of cattle has been liberal, mostly onimon to medium, which sold slow at shade ower prices. Good cattle in light supply, and with liberal demand sold readily at shade higher prices. Final closings for futures here %@%c higher, and the cash market was wore %6%c nigher, and the cash mirket was also stronger. A fair speculative business was transacted in corn, the pit at times being quite active. The teeling early in the session was firm, a fair de-mand existing from shorts and shippers. The demand, however, soon became satisfied, and offerings became quite heavy, influenced some by larger receipts and warmer weather. The speculative market opened at about the closing prices of yesterday, was firm for a time and ad-vanced 10% c, ruled weaker, declining %c, be-came quitet and closed 10% c lower than yes-terday.

The chief interest in the oats market cen-tered in May, which was traded in to a moder-erate extent, but prices held steady at the same range as yesterday. Other futures were more or less neglected, and prices without variation of importance. In hog products only a moderate trade was reported, and a steadter feeling prevailed, fluc-tuations in prices being confined within a nar-row range. Shorts purchased moderately; and the bulk of the outside orders were apparently on the buying side. Trading was almost ex-clusively in contracts for September, October and January. On the whole range prices ruled higher, more particularly on mess pork, and the market closed steady at about outside fig-ures. Pork advanced 12%@15e for near de-

The Drrgoods Market. New YORK, August 21.—Along with an in-creasingly active jobbing trade business at first hands also improved. If not more active, it is more general, and there is a stronger under-tone to staple goods. Print cloths, which ral-lied for a day or two, are again down to 3%c. They are still above the parity of other goods. Prints themselves are generally firm, but agents will to morrow reduce the price of American % indigo blue and white to 6%c. Busi-ness continues good in woolen fabrics.

THE ASTRONOMICAL EXPEDITION.

Preparations for the Trip to Africa Observe the Solar Eclipse.

WASHINGTON, August 21. - Captain Phythian, the Superintendent of the Naval Observatory, said this morning that the preparations for the expedition to Africa to bserve the total eclipse of the sun, which occurs in December next, are being actively pushed forward. The scientists are making their advance calculations, instruments are being purchased and regulated, and everything is being attended to that can be done in advance. The meager appropriation given by Congress for this work, $5,000, necessitates very careful expenditures, and it will be impossible to send the expedition to St. Paul de Loando where the observations will take place, except on a Government vessel. It was at first thought that the new cruiser Baltimore would be selected for this purpose, but it is now seen that she will not be ready for sea in time for the expedition, which will have to sail about October 1. One of the older vessels will probably be sent over with the scientists, possibly the Alliance, now at Norfolk.

The writer states that this is not so in England, that all suggestions on the part of the workmen are treated with contempt, and proceeds: "American workmen receive encouragement

"American workmen receive encouragement, and any suggestions made by them to their superiors as to the most economical ways of working, are attentively listened to; if proved to be as represented, the system is tried, and the man receives the thanks of his employer, and often pecuniary remuneration as well. This system of general encouragement is one of the reasons why the American manufacturer is able to pay greater wages and still send his commodities to the English markets cheaper than we can produce them at home. One instance which occurred a short time ago at a large iron works in the States fully illustrates this. Competition was very keen, and the em-ployers saw that it was impossible to obtain work to keep all employed unless a reduction of 10 per cent was made on the piece work

A decision involving far-reaching consequences as regards trade combinations has just been given in the First Court of Appeal, Lon-been given in the First Court of Appeal, Lon-don. The question raised was the exceed-ingly delicate one-what constitutes competi-tion in trade within the law? The appellants were the Mogul Steamship Company, Limited, the respondents being McGregor, Gow & Co., Limited, and others. The action was brought originally by the steamship company to recover exemplary damages from the defendants, who, it was alleged, had formed a combination or "ring," in order to prevent the plaintiffs from obtaining cargoes in the ports of Yangtse-Klang river for London. The Lord Chief Jus-tice, who tried the case without a jury, held that the defendants were entitled to combine, by reduction of rates, to secure all the shipping that the defendants were entitled to combine, by reduction of rates, to secure all the shipping trade of the river to themselves-in other words, that their attempt to create a monopoly of the trade of the river was perfectly lawful. This decision was appealed against, with the result that the judgment of the Lord Chief Justice' was upheld by Lords Justices Bowen and Fry, the Master of the Rolls (Lord Esher), however, dissent-ing. Competition, according to the two first-named Lords Justices, no matter whether by combination or otherwise, is perfectly lawful, provided no violence or moral intimidation be used. The Master of the Rolls disagreed with this interpretation of the law, contending that this interpretation of the law, contending that the combination was clearly a case of "boy-cott," and that it was llegal. Though the ap-peal was dismissed the case will be carried to the House of Lords.

THE DAY IN OIL.

Dull and Generally Featureless Market-Prices Letting Go.

Yesterday's oil market was dull and featureless, so far as business and conditions were concerned, but prices assumed a lower level than on the previous day. Neither side showed much of a disposition to trade, leaving it to be inferred that the market is in a condition of perplexing uncertainty. Some show of strength was developed at the close which was 1/c better than the lowest point reached during the day. Tuesday's clearings were 202,0:0 barrels. Cash oil was neglected. It will be wanted about the last of the month.
