LARGE GROWTH OF THE ORGANIZATION.

Last Speech. The twenty-third annual National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic was formally opened at Milwaukee yesterday. General Warner's address favors service pensions. The reports show a large increase in membership. General Alger was elected Commander-in-Chief. The Women's Relief Corps held its annual meeting. General Sherman made the last speech he will ever deliver.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPAYOR. MILWAUKEE, WIS., August 28.-There are at least 100,000 strangers on the streets of Milwaukee to-day, but there will be mor to-morrow, when the great naval battle begins. It is expected that 20,000 will come from Chicago alone, while other points will swell the total number to 150,000 to 200,000. There is no more difficulty about accommodations than could be expected in an event of such magnitude. The magnificent weather makes those who are in the various camps as comfortable as though they were

The formal opening of the twenty-third annual encampment took place at 10:15 o'clock this morning in Westside Turn Hall, the interior of which is lavishly decorated. The delegates number about 750. At 10:45 Commander-in-Chief Warner commenced reading his address. Following is a syn-

GENERAL WARNER'S ADDRESS.

The greatest honor ever conferred upon me was my election as Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. In taking the obligation of the office I fully realized the im-portance of the trust confided to me and then highly resolved neither by word nor act to do anything that should drive a deserving comrade from our ranks, and to do all that in me lay to strengthen the silver cord of comrac that I trust shall ever bind the surviving sold ier and sailor of the Union Army and Navy one to another as brothers tried.

The growth of the organization has been steady and healthy. Strong as it is, it has never been, and I trust never will be, used for partisan purposes or to gratify the personal ambitions of any man or set of men. The greatest gain during the year has been in

The greatest gain during the year has been in the Department of Missouri. Eight depart-ments show a gain in membership in good standing of 15,824, distributed as follows: Illinois, 1.283; Iowa, 1.413; Nebraska, 1,709; New York, 1,185; Ohio, 2,008; Wisconsia, 2,023; Mis-souri, 3,632; Pennsylvania, 1,746. NO QUESTION OF PENSIONS. The matter of pensions was reserved by the Commander for the conclusion of his address. He said:

The Committee on Pensions have been unable to make any progress in securing favorable consideration by Congress of the pension bills recommended by the Columbus Ennampment. The reason for this failure will be given by the committee and I know that its members are in no way to blame. The question of pension legislation will come before you again for discussion and recommendation.

The last encampment, after much discussion by a practically unanimous vote. recommended to Congress a service pension bill, and what is known as the disability pension bill, the latter of Jol by a practically distinction what is known as the disability pension bill, and what is known as the disability pension bill, the latter having received the repeated approval of previous encampments. This action was the result of compromise, and in my judgment was as wise as it was just and conservative. My experience in Congress leads me to believe that you will greatly strengthen the hands of our friends in that body by demanding at Milwaukee the pension legislation asked for at Columbus. Let the Committee ou Pensions take your recommendations to Congress, backed by a united Grand Army of the Republic, and there will be no failure. If we are true to ourselves before the next encampment, every comrade disabled by age, sickness or accident and the widows and orphans of veterans will be borne on the pension roll. We should neither give sleep to our eyes nor slumber to our eyelida until justice is done our comrades.

The service pension will come. The day is not far distant when an bonorable discharge from the Union army or navy shall be all the evidence required to secure a pension to its holder.

"Let the bandbolders of the country remem-evidence required to secure a pension to its holder.

"Let the bandholders of the country remember that the men who rendered their securities valuable—the men who have ever insisted that they be naid to the uttermost farthing principal and interest, of the money advanced by them to the State—let them remember that these men have claims upon the State equal at least to that of the bondholder.

"We, the survivors of these men, we who gave the best years of our lives to our country, will present our claims to Congress, and in doing so will not approach those in authority with bated breath and whispering humbleness, but as free men we will demand, asking only that which is just. We would rather have the nation help our comrades living than erect monuments to them dead.

THE ADJUTANT GENERAL'S REPORT.
At the afternoon session the report of Adjutant General Eugene F. Weigel was read. The following points are taken from it:
At the time Commander Warner assumed command, in 1888, there were 40 departments, comprising 6,360 posts, with a total membership in good standing of 381,149, and now, after the lapse of a year, 42 permanent departments, with 6,711 posts and a membership in good standing of 382,650, being a net gala of two departments, 351 posts and 21,431 comrades in good standing. The two new departments are those of Alabama and Georgis, whose posts were formerly included in the Department of Tennessee.

Tennessee.
The total gains during the year by muster, transfer, reinstatement and from delinquent reports was $3,450; the losses by death were 4,606, and from other causes $7,850; a total of

4,666. and from other causes 67,530; a total of 72,046.
Adding the number lost by delinquent reports and the number suspended (who are still members of the order) to the membership in good standing, gives a total membership as borne on the rolls June 30, 1880, of 410,686, to which should also be added nearly 3,000 comrades out on transfer cards.

For charity and relief the order spent during the year $237,637, making the total from July 1, 1871, $1,933,833.

J. R. Johnston Will Lead the Prohibition Hosts. NAMED FOR STATE TREASURER.

The Convention Cheered by Converts From the Ranks of Republicans.

MAKING SURE ABOUT CAMPAIGN CASH.

is Indersed, for One Thing.

The Prohibition State Convention got through its work at Harrisburg yesterday by nominating J. R. Johnston, of Pittaburg, for State Treasurer, adopting a long plat-form, making arrangements for campaign funds and naming a State Committee. There was much enthusiasm manifested.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. HARRISBURG, August 28 .- The Prohibition State Convention consumed twice as much time as that of the Republican, which nominated Speaker Boyer for State Treasurer. The machinery was not so well lubricated, but the 600 delegates who made up to-day's convention did not mind the delay in completing its business, as they were delightfully entertained with quaint and in-spiring prohibition music by the Silver Lake Quartet and Prof. Dailey, of Jefferson county, and speeches by a number of Re-publican converts to the third party on account of the overwhelming defeat of the prohibitory amendment and the incorporation of a plank in the Republican platform indorsing high license. The convention bristled with evidences of the determination of the partisan Prohibitionists to continue the warfare for the abolition of the liquor traffic without regard to the long time it might take to accomplish their purpose. The sentiment seemed to be strong in the convention that the crushing blow received by constitutional prohibition blow received by constitutional prohibition would materially strengthen their party, and particularly does the veteran prohibition advocate, A. A. Barker, and his coworker on the State Committee, A. A. Stevens, entertain such an opinion. Both these men, have authentic advices showing that many persons who have steadily voted the Republican ticket in the hope that the party could ultimately deal a death blow to the rum power, have lost all faith in the dominant political organization as temperance reformers and decided to join their fortunes with the third party people.

The convention had a demonstration in the speeches of a number of notable converts that the political Prohibitionists are gathering strength. Among those who heretofore voted the Republican ticket and have determined hereafter to vote the straight prohibition ticket, is Rev. B. B. Hamlin, presiding elder of the Altoona Methodist Episcopal district, who made a very humorous speech in describing how confidingly he had trusted the Republican party to establish prohibition and how gioriously he had been deceived. He had been a Republican all his life, and at the last Presidental election had voted for Harrison. As to the prohibitory amendment, he was sure that it would be carried by an immense majority, but as it had been defeated overwhelmingly he would let the Republicans tenderly care for the tariff while he would sustain prohibition in company with the third party.

Judge Amos Briggs, of Philadelphia, also announced that he had left the Republican party for good, and would hereafter train with the political Prohibitionista. Judge Cool, of Pittston, who is 81 years old, also announced his conversion, and as an evidence of the new mith that was in him he contributed $100 for himself for use of the Prohibition State Committee, and $50 for each of his sons. SOME NOTABLE CONVERTS.

WILL VOTE STRAIGHT NOW.

WILL VOTE STRAIGHT NOW.

During the progress of the convention Prot. Dickie, at the instance of Vice Chairman Stevens, asked the delegates who had never voted a straight prohibition ticket to arise in their places, and about 25 stood on their feet, amid the wild applause of the convention. About as many went through a similar performance when asked how many had voted for the first Presidental ticket in 1872, when Judge Black of Lancaster, was the standard bearer of the new party.

Agib Ricketts, of Luzerne, was slated last night for temporary chairman, and the position was given him without a contest. Ricketts made a hit by announcing that he wouldn't make a speech, the audience applauding the sentiment in vigorous fashion. Rev. W. R. Covert, of Westmoreland, who was chosen permanent chairman, also refrained from making a speech, and this deviation from the usual custom of inflicting dull addresses on a convention was a very welcome relief to the delegates. Prof. Dickie, of the National Prohibition Committee, gave his Penusylvania friends a number of pointers, which seemed to have taken deep root. He suggested that prohibition be treated as an economic question among men who could not be controlled by moral considerations. Could the grocer, the butcher or the general dealer once be convinced that when he stops his customer from drinking beer that customer purchases more of his wares, and is, therefore, a more profitable customer, a substanpurchases more of his wares, and is, therefore, a more profitable customer, a substantial impression would be made in favor of prohibition of the liquor traffic.

The regular business of the convention was much delayed by the slowness of the Committee on Resolutions in reporting the platform of the convention. The committee consisted of A. A. Stevens, James Black, E. J. Wheeler, S. W. Murray, J. A. McConnell, H. S. Ames, James Hayatt, Rev. M. W. Barr, J. D. Gill, Gales Buell, A. A. Barker, D. C. Jeremy, Tallie Morgan and Mrs. D. Dodson. There was no disagreement on the vital feature of the platform, but simply on phraseology. Several hours were consumed in whipping it into verbal symmetry.

Meanwhile John Yeldell, who was on the stage, was introduced by the Chair as the man who was not hanged in South Carolina. Yeldell was a little off color as an orator and did not indicate whether he was a party prohibitionist. The convention was relieved when he quietly took his convention was a party prohibitionist. The convention was relieved when he quietly took his seat.

Rev. John M. Palmer, colored candidate for Congressman-at-Large, in 1886, on the Prohibition ticket, as usual captured the audience by his witty remarks. The convention was subsequently enthused by the receipt of a communication from the Woman's Christian Temperance Prohibition Union, of Harrisburg, in which it said: The more we look at the failure of the non-

THE RAISING OF FUNDS For the promotion of the coming campaign was an interesting feature of the convention. Philadelphia was represented by 156 delegates, but only $300 was pledged, which Judge Briggs raised to $340 to make the aggregate amount pledged $4,000. The Allegheny country delegation came to time with only $100. One of the delegates gave the rich counties a severe drubbing for their parsimony. In the last Presidental campaign only $2,700 were expended in Pennsylvania by the Prohibition State Committee, many money pledges having dissolved into the air. In to-day's convention contributors were required to give written guarantees, and all the money promised is expected to be collected.

and all the money promised is expected to be collected.

The nomination for State Treasurer was not made until a late hour this afternoon. The names of W. W. Hague, of Tidioute, and Tallie Morgan, of Scranton, were withdrawn, and J. R. Johnston, of Pittsburg, was nominated by acclamation. The nominee accepted in a brief speech, in which he said it was not the man who was to be voted for, but the principle of prohibition, and the convention adjourned with three cheers for the ticket and the platform.

SYNOPSIS OF THE PLATFORM. The platform in addition to indorsing prohibition, declares for enforcement of all Sunday laws, and for additional necessary legislation; pronounces for the Australian system of voting, for female suffrage, apon a proper legislative educational basis, and for the amendment of the naturalization laws so as to increase the number of years' residence required before allowing foreign-ers to vote, denounces trusts and the landers to vote, denounces trusts and the landing of paupers and criminals in this country; favors arbitration for the settlement of labor disputes, arraigns both political parties for defeating constitutional prohibition, and gives high license a drubbing. A separate resolution denounces the act of the late Sinking Fund Commissioners for selling $1,000,000 worth of interest bearing Government bonds and distributing the proceeds among favored banks, as a piece of gross mismangement, if not a breach of trust.

OTLESS THAN HALF PRICE

wonderful offer-the best we have made this season. These Short Pant and lacket Suits are made from fine, strictly all-wool Cassimeres, in nobby plaids and silk mixed checks, and run in sizes from 4 to 14. Their regular retail price is $8, and they are sold for this price to-day at several clothing stores in this city. We will sell them for

This is a most

Of course, we could not afford to sell these Suits at any such low price had we not been fortunate enough to close them out from the manufacturer at a figure so low that we could not resist the temptation to buy them. We have just placed them on sale at a very slight advance on the price we paid for them-$3 per Suit. Saving mothers, remember

ONLY $3.50

AND A CAP TO MATCH FREE OF CHARGE Parents and custodians, if you have Boys to clothe, you cannot afford to miss this chance. Next Monday-when the school will re-open -it is but meet and proper that your boy be cleanly and neatly dressed, and here is a chance to get the finest raiment at the price other dealers charge for the poorest.

WE ALSO SHALL OFFER SOME

EXCEPTIONALLY GOOD BARGAINS
