False Rumors of Boulanger's Change of Base Arouse Excitement, BUT HE IS STILL IN LONDON.

The Campaign for the New French Elections Cause Fights.

AMERICAN ACTRESSES IN LONDON

BY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH. LONDON, September 14.—[Copyright.] Paris went wild this afternoon on the report that General Boulanger had secretly left London and taken up his quarters at Jersey, in order to be nearer his beloved France, while still on the safe soil of England during the critical period of the general election.

THE GOVERNMENT'S STRUGGLE. Frenchmen are beginning to take an interest in the coming struggle, which is to decide the fate of the Republic. In the big towns, notably Paris, Marseilles and Lyons, the interest is shown chiefly in turbulent meetings, factional fights and combats between rival bill-posters.

THE GOVERNMENT'S ACTIVITY. This was in Montmartre, where Boulanger has a good show of election, despite the whole-souled manner in which the Government agents are endeavoring to break up his meetings and prevent the circulation of his election literature.

IF THE GOVERNMENT obtains a majority Boulanger's return will be promptly invalidated, as he is now legally an outlaw, but there will be no difficulty if Revision is to carry the elections. Monsieur Thervet, Minister of Justice, at a lively meeting in Lyons described the coalition between Boulanger and the reactionaries as a plot against the Republic, and his constituents emphasized the argument with a brickbat.

PROMENADE CONCERTS. A Popular Feature of Amusement in London New American Women.

LONDON, September 14.—A popular form of amusement just now in London is the promenade concert. Her Majesty's and the Covent Garden Theater give rival concerts every night, and both are drawing good houses.

A BRAVE FIREMAN. Burred to Death Still Holding the Nozzle in His Hand.

LONDON, September 14.—A story full of pathos, of the death of a brave man has come to the public this week. He was a fireman, and in searching for possible offenders in a burning factory his retreat was cut off. His companions escaped through a small window, but he being too bulky was prevented from following them, although at the outset he called to his companions to let them know his plight, he said never a word when he saw that the fire was out, he was lost, but he stood and hoped to death with the fortitude of a hero.

CONCENTRATED BEEF. The Overriding of a Horse in London Reveals Queer Methods.

LONDON, September 14.—A man at Colchester this week has been fined 40 shillings for driving a dying horse with cruelty. He was taking it to port for transhipment to Antwerp, where it seems they boil down old screws and send back the results to English invalids for beef.

IT WASN'T LOADED. A Man Intercepts Mr. John Dillon With a Revolver.

MELBOURNE, September 14.—While Mr. John Dillon was entering his hotel in this city to-day, he was intercepted by a man. The man drew a revolver and pointed it at him. The man was seized and the revolver was taken away from him, when it was discovered that the weapon was not loaded.

The Return of Consul General Waller to Connecticut—He Can Have Most Anything Political He Sees for the Asking.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW LONDON, September 14.—The announcement that ex-Consul General Waller is not to abide in England, but is coming home to his beloved New London, has set all the politicians of Eastern Connecticut to talking. His whole political horoscope has already been set up for him, and nothing more remains to be done but for the little giant to get into gear with the secret and to verify their own predictions.

IT TAKES CASH. A Congressman Cannot Shine in Washington on His Salary Alone.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. WILKESBARRE, September 14.—General E. Osborne, Congressman from the Twelfth Pennsylvania district, contributes an interesting article to a weekly periodical here, from which the following extracts are taken:

For a Congressman to live in the capital—that is, to make every mediocre figure in society—no matter how prominent, to at least twice his salary. I should think $10,000 a year would hardly be sufficient in giving a man anything like a fair life in a city of this size.

SENSATIONAL CHURCH SCENE. A Woman Appears in a Hebrew Synagogue Demanding Justice.

PORTLAND, ME., September 14.—A very sensational and uncommon scene occurred this morning at the Hebrew synagogue. Service was in progress, and the officiating rabbi held the roll of law in his hand, when the wife of Jacob Sivolonov, who had been arrested for the murder of her husband, entered the synagogue and demanded justice.

THE BOY SPY. A Graphic History of the Late Rebellion by an Eye Witness.

Major J. O. Kerbey, the well-known Washington correspondent, is meeting with phenomenal success in the sale of his celebrated book, "The Boy Spy." It is not only full of thrilling incidents, finely illustrated and well written, but a spur to patriotism in the young and a valuable contribution to history. Its truthfulness also makes it interesting to the author's comrades who took part in the stirring scenes depicted. The book is highly recommended by such men as Hon. Steele Holley, A. A. Barker and Colonel Bowman, who indorse it as a valuable historical narrative of the struggle in which Major Kerbey bore a conspicuous and useful part. It is a story for boys, for girls, for the veterans and for all lovers of the Union.

WHEELING A VICTIM

Of a Clever Young Swindler Who Worked the Entire Community.

HE WAS A VERY LIBERAL CHAP, And Made Contracts for a Circus on the Most Generous Terms.

EVEN THE MAYOR IS A LARGE LOSER

WHEELING, September 14.—One of the boldest and most successful confidence games ever played on an unsuspecting public was worked in Wheeling this week. A week ago to-day a small, smooth-faced, dark-skinned man, calling himself Harvey Lacey, arrived in Wheeling and proclaimed himself the advance agent of Adam Forepaugh's circus. He was a genial man, of good address, and proceeded to make friends with everybody with whom a circus agent usually comes in contact.

He made a contract with the State Fair Association for the use of their grounds on the island for two days, October 7 and 8. He let the fair privilege of the grounds and a large number of other contracts. He was much sought after. It is not often a circus agent with so liberal a heart is seen.

A LIBERAL FELLOW. He stopped at the McClure House and made all sorts of liberal arrangements with the hotels to feed "my people" and with the bill posters and others to do "my work."

He had received a large amount of money in the way of small advances from men with whom he had made contracts, the sum amounting to $25,000. In each case, he succeeded in lining his pockets with a large amount of money. The fact that he was unable to tell where the Forepaugh show has been exhibiting during the past week looked peculiar, and a newspaper reporter telegraphed to-day to Fort Dodge, La., to Mr. Forepaugh, in a short time receiving the following reply:

OPENED THEIR EYES. FORT DODGE, LA., September 14. I do not show Wheeling this season. I know the man Lacey. He is a thief. Arrest him. ADAM FOREPAUGH.

The people at the McClure House, where Lacey was stopping, were notified, and a warrant was issued for his arrest, which was accomplished this afternoon. The news soon spread, and the Justice's Court was quickly crowded with a large and excited audience of Lacey's victims.

CABLE PARLOR CARS. The Experiment Being Tried on One of the New York Lines.

NEW YORK, September 14.—This week the cable car company will run a drawing-room car on the road, to see if it will pay to run so expensive a class of cars on Third avenue when the cable system is completed between Harlem bridge and City Hall. The new car was made in the company's shops from designs furnished by J. H. Robinson, superintendent of the road. The car is 32 feet long, with rounded ends, and will seat 36 persons. The interior of the car is finished in bird's-eye maple and French walnut. It is furnished with cushioned seats covered with dark green leather.

Perfectly Safe.

Readers of this paper will notice a large advertisement of Lacey's soap, which appears on the seventh page. The manufacturers find by experience that it is safe to do business in this way with the subscribers of a first-class newspaper, since they seldom find anyone who is not perfectly trustworthy. Freed from the element of risk and the expense of traveling agents, they are able thus to furnish the consumer with soap at the lowest wholesale price.

Advertisements in this paper will be accepted for one month at the rate of $10 per line. For longer terms, apply to the office of the publisher, J. D. Larkins & Co., Buffalo, N. Y.
