The Washington Fair Attracts a Large Crowd of Visitors.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS OF THE DAY.

Live Stock Exhibit Attracts the Greatest

Admiration.

WONDERFUL COLLECTION OF SHEEP

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. WASHINGTON, PA., September 18 .-Cold and gloomy, cloudy and threatening was the weather for the second day of the big Washington County Fair. All day long a bitter wind swept over the fair grounds, making him who was lucky enough to have an overcoat smile with inward satisfaction, while his less fortunate neighbor tucked his hands in his trousers pockets, and silently swallowed his misery. Quite a crowd assembled on the grounds however, and oh! what a conglomeration was there! The business man, interested in the prosperity of the county, was on hand to witness what showing it could make; the farmer with his pleasing talk of crops and last year's colts and promising cattle, could be seen on all sides; fakirs of every description; ordinary curiosity seekers, visitors from allquarters, and even suspicious-looking characters, were as plentiful as apples in a rich or-

Still, the fair can scarcely be said to come up Still, the fair can scarcely be said to come up to that standard, which should be expected of a big event of its description. No fault, it is true, can be found with the live stock exhibit. He would be hard to please indeed who could not appreciate the beauties of the poultry collection, or the namber, quality and proportions of the swine there penned up, or especially

THE ADMIRABLE APPEARANCE of the many horses, of all breeds and descriptions, in the stables; and the sheep! There, indeed, was Washington county's peculiar pride, for it is the greatest all-wool-and-no-shoddy county in the United States. These dear, wooly creatures were the darlings of the ladies. They petted and watched them, and said. "Now, ain't they too nice," in the most said, "Now, ain't they too nice," in the most approved fashion, and the exhibit was worthy of it all, for it was magnificent. And what a babel of sounds broke on the ear of the visitor as he entered the park! The bleating of sheep, the cacking of hens and crowing of roosters, the grunting of swine, the bellowing of cattle and neighing of horses, the confused hum of hundreds of voices, such as you only hear at the live country fair, and the uproarious outcries of the noisy fakirs, all were united in one confused medley.

confused medley.

Although the live stock exhibit answered everyone's expectations, the same cannot be said of some of the other departments. The collection of farming utensits would hardly be large enough to stock a couple of well-regulated Western farms. Even the other things which generally form part of a good country full wars companied.

which generally form part of a good country fair were somewhat disappointing.

The crowd on the grounds was extremely good-natured. There was pienty of chance for amusement. The worst gambling devices have been excluded from the grounds; but the man with the big nuscle could try his strength as usual on the striking machines; and that other one with the stronger lungs could expand a little of his force on numerous lung-testers.

WITHOUT AN UMPIRE.

Two country lads approached one of these muscle-testing machines, and, after agreeing that the one striking the weaker blow should pay for the trial, exerted their strength to the utmost. The bargam was just the opposite of the one usually struck, and the crowd watched to see the result. Everything goes at a fair, No surprise was manifest when the one strik-

No surprise was manifest when the one striking the weaker blow paid for the trial, although he had previously protested against the wording of the bargain.

Trials of skill, in which the chances were very much in favor of the fakir, and trials in which not skill, but chance, was the supreme factor, were as numerous as could be desired.

Washington is crowded with visitors, and the interest in the fair is very great. The enthusiasm was somewhat dampened by the rain and asm was somewhat dampened by the rain and the cold weather; but the fair will be continued pated during the remainder of the week.

The races were necessarily postponed, on ac-count of the weather, and so the first series will be on Thursday. Some very fast horse are here for the trotting and running races, and the free for alls will be very lively affairs. The decisions of the committee appointed to award prizes for exhibits are already assuming form, and it is not at all hard to tell how the wind is blowing for the exhibitors, by the appearance of the judges' countenances

A NATURAL GAS WAR.

Greensburg Has a Good Prospect of Getting Rather Chenp Fuel.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR.] GREENSBURG, September 18 .- A natural gas war is imminent here. Some time ago a new gas compa ... composed of two or three Pittsburg people, a Washington capitalist, and one or two others, was formed for the purpose of supplying natural gas to the people of Greensburg and surrounding towns. A very large number of the citizens signed contracts with the new company, as its rates were fully 20 per cent lower than those of the Greensburg Fuel Company, an old corporation, the stockholders being Colonel Richard Coulter, Senator George being Colonel Richard Counter, Senato, of good F. Huff and others. An expression of good of the all company not only feeling on the part of the old company not only receiting on the part of the old company hot only encouraged those having the new project in hand, but it enabled them to secure parrons. A few days ago an application was made to the State Department, at Harrisburg, for a charter for the new company, and then the old company instituted a vigorous kick.

The Secretary has addressed a letter to Secretary Stone protesting against the granting of the charter, alleging that it is purely for specuthe charter, alleging that it is purely for specu-lative purposes, and that the majority of the citizens deplore the digging up of the streets again. He asks for a further hearing in the matter. The members of the new company are considerably exercised over the unexpected turn affairs have taken. They claim to have one of the best producing wells in the Grape-ville district, and arrangements having been made for laying the pipes, they propose to fight the opposition to the end.

ALL CAUSED BY THE DAM.

The Historic Brandywine is Astonishing Dwellers Along Its Banks.

READING, September 18 .- The large dam at Springton Forge, eight miles above Coates-ville, burst during the night, owing to the continued heavy rain, and this morning the Brandywine creek had risen to an alarming height. Hundreds of fields were a dreary waste negat. Franctous of nears were a creary waste of water. Many farmers and their families left their houses during the night and remained on the neighboring hills. The Wilmington and Northern Railroad is not yet open between this city and Wilmington.

Many miles of fence have been carried away and an a number of farms everything not in and on a number of farms everything not in buildings was carried away. The damage amounts to many thousand dollars. At one time the Brandywine creek was 18 feet above its usual height.

A COUNTERFEITER CAUGHT.

He Distributed His Coin at a Fair and Speedily Came to Grief.

NEW BREMEN, O., September 18.-Frederick Behroeder was arrested by United States Marshal Wade, of Toledo, on a charge of counterfeiting spurious coin which had been put in circulation two weeks ago at a fair at Toledo, and was traced to Schroeder. A search of his house disclosed counterfeit half dollars dated 1866, hid under the rafters, and also hars of metal and implements for counterfeiting, but the dies could not be found.

The prisoner has an estimable wife, and is connected with good families in New Bremen. He was taken to Toledo.

Looking for a New Location. PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR.

ERIE, September 18 .- A party of Pittsburgers have secured the services of Colonel Camp.

a civil engineer, and have sent him to Lake Lebouf, near Waterford, to make a survey and map of that body of water and its surroundings. It is rumored that it is the South Fork Club, of Pittsburg, that is after the lake, and that the cipb will make improvements similar to those at the fatal South Fork Lake, at Johnstown.

A Response to the Appeal.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR. GREENSBURG, September 18.—The teachers at the institute now in session here, to-day considered the appeal from Johnstown for aid to the public schools. It was resolved that every teacher should use their best energies in the district in which they teach for the purpose of rating funds for the little ones at Johns-

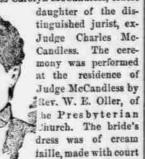

A Little Flood at Johnstown.

SPECIAL TELEPHAN TO THE DISPATCH.1 JOHNSTOWN, September 18 .- The water overflowed the banks of the river in Woodvale to-day and came down Maple avenue for some distance to a bend in the river, where it again entered the ted of the stream. The coffer dams above Conemangh, where the railroad company is building a bridge, were submerged, but little damage was done.

SHE WEDDED WEALTH,

The Daughter of Judge McCandles Marries an Enterprising Relative of Horace Greeley - He Went West and Grew Up.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. BUTLER, September 18 .- At 4 o'clock this afternoon Edward Parker Greeley was married to Miss Carolyn McCandless, eldest train and Medici collar. Her ornaments were pearls and diamonds, the gift of the the groom. Her bouquet was composed of orange blossoms and lilies of the valley. The bride is a handsome brunette, stately and self-possessed. She is a graduate of Abbott Academy at Andover, Mass. Mr.

Greeley is one of the most active and prominent business men in Iowa. Some years ago, accepting the advice of Horace Greeley, of whom he was a second cousin, he lo-cated at Nashua, In. He was the founder of that new and busy place, which he named after his old home, Nashun, where the Greeleys have lived for several generations. Mr. Greeley has accumulated a fortune and is now a promoter of railroads, his field of operations being in the West.

There were very many valuable and pretty presents, one of the most practical, owever, being a Government bond for $1,000 from the father of the bride. After the wedding breakias. THE COLLEGE OF LIFE,

A Peculiar Body of Religious and Scientific Reformers in the Windy City.

CHICAGO, September 18 .- On the northwest corner of Cottage Grove avenue and College Place stands a fine double four story brown stone-front building. Over the double front stoop is a sign bearing the words, "College of Life." Here reside words, College of Life. Here reside about 14 men, mostly gray headed, and about 14 women, mostly young and good locking. The head of the household is Dr. Cyrus R. Teed. What the "College of Life" is, and what those 28 people are after is something of a puzzle. But, according to their own representa-tions, they are religious and scientific reformers, their specialty being a new theory concerning married life and chastity as re-lated to Godliness and immortality. They look up to Dr. Teed as an inspired teacher and some say as a Christ. A long interview with Teed is published, in which he sets forth his peculiar ideas, and this is followe by interviews with a number of husband whose wives have deserted them and joined the Teed aggregation. They unitedly de nounce him in the roundest of terms as a breaker up of happy homes.

DRIVEN INSANE BY HER LOSS.

An Heiress Loses Her Mind Because of a Philip Wilding Failure to Receive Her Fortune ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1

ELIZABETH, N. J., September 18,-Minnie McGuire, a young woman residing here, was declared insane by physicians to-day at St. Michael's Hospital, and will have to be removed to the asylum. Miss McGuire becam demented over her failure to get tidings of a fortune which, she alleged, a deceased bachelor uncle, Colonel Richard Powell, a resident of New Orleans, had acquired. At his death he had willed the bulk of it to his unmarried sister, now living at Elizabeth. Miss McGuire, on behalf of her aunt, engaged lawyers to hunt up her claim, but no will could be found by New Orleans authorities, nor could they give any information about the dead Colonel

This news broke Miss McGuire's heart, as she had fondly hoped to come into possession of the inheritance, and a couple of days later she was found wandering aimlessly about the streets, and was clearly bereft of her senses. She was taken by friends

The Reason a Citizen of Wisconsin Married the Second Time.

WAUKESHA, WIS., September 18 .- Harvey Gurley, who was undoubtedly connected with his wife in the abduction of little Annie Redmond, of Chicago, will spend three years making shoes in the State prison at Waupun. He to-day pleaded guilty in the Circuit Court to a charge of polygamy, and was immediately sentenced to the penitentiary.
