The Pennsylvania Must Pay $250 for Charging 10 Cents Extra,

OTHER INTERESTING COURT ITEMS

Judge Stowe yesterday handed down opinions in eight appealed cases of John A. Martin and A. J. Kearcher from the decisions of Alderman Carlisle, fining them $25 and costs in each case for selling milk the Brunot Island bridge, any information and sods water on Sunday. Four of the as to their intentions in regard to the partial cases were Martin's and four Kearcher's. It closing of the channel. One of the largest will be remembered that by an amicable | coal operators said yesterday: arrangement the suits were entered to shut out the Law and Order Society from the fines. In all of them the point was taken by Martin and Kearcher that judgment had been given by other Aldermen before Alderman Carlisle fined them. In several of the cases Martin had been acquitted before Magistrate McKenna Kearcher had paid fines previously to Alderman Tatem, of Alle-

Judge Stowe, in his opinion, said that the question of selling milk on Sunday being a violation of the law under the act of 1794 having already been decided, the only question at issue was that of a first judgment harring a second action for the same offense. In the cases of Martin before Magistrate McKenna, wherein Martin was acquitted, he said that the allegations of fraud and collusion on the part of Martin to obtain his acquittal were not made apparent, and such an allegation must be established by satisfactory evidence. It was his opinion that the magistrate erred in his decision; that he should have convicted, but that his opinion that the inagistrate erred in his de-cision; that he should have convicted, but that is not evidence of frand. His Honor quoted from the Constitution: "No person shall for the same offense be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb," and added that this is said to be life or limb," and added that this is said to be nothing more than a Constitutional asservation of a common law maxim. It is an insurmountable bar to a second prosecution, he held, when there has once been a verdict of acquittal or conviction upon a proper indictment, which was the state of affairs in these cases. The first judgment, he added, when given extinguishes the original cause of action. Judgment was ordered to be entered in favor of Martin and Kearcher.

"The contractors propose to narrow the 500-foot channel to 150 feet. That would be practically a blockade. We have emphatically refused to accede to such a proposal. Reports of this matter have been published in other papers. They are partly ridiculous and partly the result of ignorance. It was proposed by the contractors to make this contraction in November. At that time of the year we are almost absolutely sure of a heavy rise in the river. The rise may be so heavy that it will wash away the temporary structures at the bridge, as it did at Circinnati some time ago. The contractors should have done this work on the channel span during July and August, the season of low water. They claim that they have done everything possible to complete the work at that stage. They have not done it. That is the cold fact. Now we insist that they go ahead with the other parts of the bridge, and complete this channel span during the dry season next year. nel span during the dry season next year If they insist on narrowing the channel as they threaten, we will appeal to the Secre-tary of War."

Dr. Carrington Says They Haven't Much Notion of Time.

There are men who remember days and weeks with the greatest accuracy, and others who appear to have no idea whatever of the lapse of time. Between these extremes there are all grades of time memorizing. These peculiarities, as a rule, pertain to individuals, but Dr. Carrington, the surgeon of the Marine Hospital Service, tells from his experience of a class who appear to be deficient in correct recollection of the passage of Father Time athwart their lives.

He says: "I find that steamboatmen, as a class, cannot judge of past time at all. I that he was pretty sure it was not more than three weeks. When I looked up my books I found that it was four months. This is only a sample, but it illustrates the idea. Why steamboatmen are so deficient in their Common Pleas No. 1—Thompson et al vs notions of the passage of time I cannot tell.

Assessments Will be Rectified to Agree With the Decision. A few days since a note was made that the Court had decided in the case of the appeal of the Pittsburg, Virginia and Charleston Ruilway Company from the valuation of the Board of City Assessors, that the section of the new charter making it mandatory on the Assessors to value property at least as high a rate as the price paid at the last recorded sale, is unconstitutional. Assessor Hoerr states that he always expected such a decision, and says that essments will be rectified in accordance with the Court's decision. He also stated that he was opposed to working on the principle noted in the charter act, that an isolated sale or even several should be taken as a basis for valuation, though a considerable number of such sales might. The revision of assessments will be made, as the idea is to secure uniformity. Mr. Hoerr states, however, that it will not be so much of a task as most people think, as the Assessors have already heard the names of

INPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 NEW YORK, September 18.—The New York and Cuba Mail Steamship Company, of which Mr. William H. T. Hughes i President, and James E. They are first-class steamships, elegantly equipped for the passenger service between this city

The company has other steamers now running regularly between New York and the West Indies. Mr. Hughes entertained a company of friends at breakfast this morning on the Cienfuegos (the hundred fires), which sails this afternoon for Vera Cruz. Speaking of the commercial relations between this country and the West Indies and South American States, Mr. Hughes said:

ENCOURAGED BY REPUBLICAN SUCCESS. "Mainly because of our faith in what the new administration will do for American shipping we built the three large ships. If the election of last November had gone otherwise we certainly would not have done otherwise we certainly would not have done so. We could have made much more money by chartering English instead of building American ships, but I have always maintained the idea of keeping American shipping in American vessels. There is no use of our trying to do anything about foreign trade unless we have constant steam communication of our own with all parts of the

"This if the only American line running out of New York to foreign ports semi-weekly; and you can understand the opposi-tion we encounter from the fact that the Spanish line we are running against is owned by the Compania Transatlantico Espanola, and receives a subsidy from the Spanish Government to an amount annually of over $1,750,000. Yet their steamships leave here only once in ten days, while ours are twice TRADE AMERICA MIGHT HAVE. "We have practically no communication we have practically no communication with many of the South American countries. Our visitors have to go to Europe and then come here, returning by the same route, making all the voyages in either British, French or German ships. Something must be done, for America should not permit such commercial stagnancy. To me the bounty bill seems the most feasible plan now for aiding American shipping, opening steam communication with all South American ports and immediately giving us the im-mense trade which is going to every other nation under the sun.

"I believe that we should arrange for banking facilities in all the principal ports so that we can do our business there in that line; for without banks under American (3). the Seventh Avenue Hotel. It will be the control we can never develop commerce to

MORE STEAMERS TO BE BUILT. "An opinion has long prevailed that mistake. She has reached but little beyond the stage of her commercial infancy. Her supply of mineral may be considered inexhaustible as long as the world lasts. The tobacco, sugar and coffee industries are capable of quadrupling their present dimensions. Mexico is a nation of producers, yet she can use many times the amount of machinery and manufactured articles that our manufacturers are pouring in there. We are going right on, building more ships. "We are American shippers, and are encouraged by the advent of the Republican administration. When Congress takes the subject up we believe that it will be but a short time before there will be American lines, communicating with all the ports south of us."

There is no garment that is more useful, necessary and dressy than one of these light or medium weight Top Coats. They afford complete protection against colds (and their more serious, often fatal consequences), and at the same time lend an air of finish, elegance and refinement to a gentleman's dress that is most pleasing and

And now, gentlemen, if you want to take your choice from an assortment of over 6,000 Fall Overcoats -an assortment that embraces every new style, every popular color, every reliable material—then GO TO

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Again, the very moderate prices at which these garments are sold for at this store places them within the reach of the $10-a-week-calico salesman as easily as the millionaire railroad magnate.

GOOD, DRESSY FALL OVERCOATS AT $7 Of course we have Fall Overcoats for less than $7, but we cannot guarantee them. These $7 garments, however, we can conscientiousl recommend to all who want good, stylish and substantial Fall Overcoats They cannot be matched elsewhere below $10.

AT $9 and $10 WE HAVE A MAMMOTH LINE of FALL OVERCOATS.

and they're beauties -every one of them. They are cut long, medium or short box style. The materials are wide and narrow Wales, fancy Corkscrews, Worsteds and Cassimeres, Meltons, Cheviots, Crepes, Venetians, Covert Cloths, etc. You can have them with or without silk facing, and as regards make and fit they will compare favorably with any garments for which other stores ask $15.

AT $12, $13 50, $14 and $15 WE SHOW FALL OVERCOATS FINE ENOUGH FOR ANY MAN.

Don't leave your measure for a Top Coat until you have seen these. Nine chances out of ten you'll prefer these ready-made garments to those for which your tailor would charge you double their prices. Besides we give you a much larger assortment to select from-over 200 styles being here to select from.

THE FINEST FALL OVERCOATS WE HAVE RANGE FROM $18 to $25.

They're made from the costliest and most exquisite imported materials and are equal in make, fit and finish to the most expensive custom work turned out in Pittsburg. Some come with rich silk linings, others with English serge, and, taken in all, they're the finest ready-made garments ever produced.

OUR GRAND CLOAK BAZAAR looks like a huge reception room. So many ladies coming and going. They admire our new styles, try them on, buy them and leave the store wondering how such fine goods can be sold for so little money. We will lead the Cloak trade of Pittsburg this season from the word "go." Why shouldn't we? We have the right goods and the right prices.

OUT-OF-TOWN residents should write for our Illustrated Cata-logue. It is the finest and largest book of the kind ever published in Pittsburg and will be mailed gratis on ap-
