FULL OF DIFFICULTY.

Archbishop Ryan's Views of the Pope's Power and Rights.

A PROBLEM NOT EASY TO SOLVE.

The Bruno Affair Dwelt Upon at Length in the Coming Pastoral.

PRESENT POSITION OF HIS HOLINESS

Neither Gratifying to Himself Nor to King Humbert, of Italy.

Archbishop Ryan's pastoral will be read in all the Catholic churches of the Philadelphia diocese Sunday. He speaks at length of the Bruno affair and the temporal power of the Pope. A synopsis of the pastoral is given.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

PHILADELPHIA, September 19.—Archbishop Ryan's pastoral on the Bruno affair will be read in all the Catholic churches of the archdiocese on next Sunday. It will direct that special services similar to those ordered by Archbishop Corrigan, in New York, be held in this archdiocese on September 29 and 30. A collection for the Pope will also be taken up in all churches on Sunday, the 29th inst. After reviewing the story of the erection of the monument in Rome to Bruno, and giving a special sketch of the apostate's life, the Archbishop will say in his pastoral:

"We do not attempt to justify his punishment; but we point to these facts to show that the insulting ceremony was not an honest tribute to pre-eminent genius or industrious talent, but a wretched expression of wounded envy at paid to the Roman Pontiff by the whole world, Catholic, Protestant, Mohammedan and Pagan on the occasion of the golden jubilee of his priesthood. We do not believe that in his heart the King of Italy sympathized with the demonstration, because the spirit of the men who bowed their heads in veneration of Giordano Bruno is really as anti-royal as it is anti-papal. But the King is powerless on such occasions. And it may be asked if powerless to defend the royal dignity, how could he defend the so-called guarantees offered by his predecessor to preserve the personal and official liberty of the Roman Pontiff.

"We cannot help thinking that it does not become a mighty organization of over 200,000,000 of people to look on quietly to behold their supreme pastor on earth insulted in his capital and restrained in the exercise of his most important functions, and say or do nothing. It is not a question of mere temporal power, but of

of another's temporal power. The incident which the Pope feels so sensitively may be repeated in some other form at any time. The laws which condemn all who defend his civil rights are penal, persecuting laws enacted against the Pontiff himself. The tendency is to greater persecution because satanic hatred of religion itself is at the bottom of all. This will not express itself in a Garibaldian shout for liberty and union, but in a quiet, systematic, apparently constitutional mode of warfare.

"Now, if the Pope have the spiritual power to rule the church of God he should have by implication everything essential to the exercise of the spiritual power. If some amount of temporal power and independence of earthly dominion be essential to this freedom—and many good non-Catholic statesmen have so thought and said—then some such independent position or ght to be possessed by the Pontiff. He represents too much to be subject to any King. The first Napoleon felt that he only needed the Pope as a subject to be complete and permanent master of Europe.

"The Pope's present position of neither ruler nor subject is one which cannot be gratifying to either himself or the King of Italy. The latter must feel that his royal dignity is dwarfed by the presence of the Pope—that in the shadows of St. Peter's and the Vatican the Quirinal is utterly lost. But this is not as it should be when proper order prevails. The power of earthly rulers is from God, as well as the Pontiff's power. All power is from God, whether pontifical, royal or republican, and should be respected in its place. Hence, for Pope and King the present position is one out of harmony with good order.

"What, then, should be done? To give such guarantees as Victor Emmanuel offered is clearly folly, as a single vote of the Italian Parliament might at any time make the Pope a subject. It has sometimes been advanced as a

that to guarantee these guarantees by European treaty, so that not Italy alone, but all Europe, would be back of them, might give the Pope an independent position even stronger than he possessed before the Garibaldians and Victor Emmanuel robbed him of his possessions. Such a treaty might protect him from any future spoliation. However, Italy has never suggested such guarantee for her guarantees, and would probably resent such suggestion as an intrusion and an insult. Besides this fact, we must remember how treaties in the past have been disregarded: And how with the governing powers of European countries half infidel and anti-Papal, it may be doubted whether these powers would enforce, as they should, the guarantee rights.

FULL OF DIFFICULTY.

"The subject is full of difficulty. The solution of the great past has been that the Pope should be an independent ruler. It is evidently his own solution. Not that he cares to be the temporal ruler of a petty kingdom for the sake of its little tinseled royalty, when, as Pope, he rules the Catholic world. We are sure that he would prefer the pleasures of the Vatican library to those of a royal court. In the ordinary course of human life he is nearing the portals of eternity. But he feels now, more than ever, that it is due to his sublime office to lift his voice in defense of the liberty of the head of the church of Jesus Christ."

Fall Fashions for Boys.

The new styles of boys and children's clothes are very pretty this year, both in shapes and materials. A great deal of ingenuity and good taste have been expended to make nobby garments for the little fellows. There are many pretty things, both in plaids and solid colors used. No better exposition of the latest novelties can be found than at A. L. Sailor's, cor. Sixth and Liberty.

A DIFFERENCE IN PRICE.

The Marshall Foundry Sues to Recover a Heavy Bill.

The suit of the Marshall Foundry and Construction Company against the Pittsburg Traction Company is still on trial before Judge Slagle. The suit is to recover $53,000 for castings and materials furnished the Traction Company when the line was being constructed. It is claimed that the payment of the money was refused on account of the articles not being in conformity with the specifications, and that the price asked was in excess of the market prices. They offered $28,500 in payment, but it was refused, the plaintiffs claiming the full amount, $53,000, was due them.

ATTACHMENT ASKED FOR.

Two Wholesale Merchant Tailors Afraid Erdman Will Assign.

Wilson, Mitchell & Co. and Klein, Putzel & Co., wholesale clothiers of Philadelphia, yesterday brought suits against D. Erdman, the tailor, to recover for goods sold to him and asked that attachments be issued. Wilson, Mitchell & Co.'s suit is for $680, and Klein, Putzel & Co.'s is $450 75. They allege that Erdman is about to assign and dispose of and remove his property and effects and get out of the country in order to defraud his creditors. They claim that he has property enough to pay his debts, conceded, and ask for the attachment to prevent their being defrauded.

FRAUD AND FORGERY.

Blank Forms of Louisiana State Bonds Stolen, Filled Out and

THEN PLACED UPON THE MARKET

Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars Are Involved in the Deal.

NO EVIDENCE AS TO THE CRIMINALS.

The Ex-Treasurer Coming Home From London to Investigate the Matter.

All Louisiana is excited because of the discovery of an over-issue of the State bonds. The amount involved in the transactions is a very large one. Theft and forgery have been clearly shown. An investigation is in progress.

NEW ORLEANS, September 19.—Investigation by the State officials and parties largely interested in State securities continues to develop new cases of fraud almost every day. It now appears that forgery has been added to theft in the fraudulent floating of bonds of the State, through the criminality or carelessness of the State's trusted servants.

In addition to the $303,600 of consolidated bonds upon which interest payments have just been stopped, and many of which (presumably all) have been surreptitiously put upon the market instead of being canceled, there have been discovered in private hands a number of the 4 per cents issued under act 121 of 1880, and known as constitutional bonds, that are clearly an over-issue made in fraud.

SOMETHING OF A MYSTERY.

How the blank forms got out of the possession of their proper custodian, who filled them up and affixed the signatures of the Governor and State Treasurer, may only be disclosed through the Criminal Courts.

But the fact is settled that while the highest legal issue of the $100 series of these bonds is No. 200, numbers at least as high as 242 are outstanding, and of the $500 series (the legal limit of which is No. 30) bonds as high as No. 56 are afloat. To what extent this fraud may go in its ramifications a short time will disclose.

Opinion at the Stock Exchange is about equally divided in the discussion of the bond question. Some of the members state that Major F. A. Burke, the late State Treasurer, is positively to blame for while others express themselves as satisfied that the Major will make such a showing upon his return as will at once and forever quiet all doubts as to the validity of the bonds outstanding, as well as to the integrity of his administration of the State Treasury.

A dispatch received from Major Burke dated London yesterday says he will sail on Saturday and hopes to reach home by Monday week.

BACK TO THE OLD PLAN.

The Treasury Department Not to be Used to Bear the Silver Market.

WASHINGTON, September 19.—Secretary Windom has decided that in the purchase of silver for coinage into standard silver dollars, he will hereafter accept the lowest offers for the amount required, provided the price is within the market rate, as required by law. This reverses the practice of the department under the last administration, of making counter offers, and is a return to the practice which prevailed prior to 1885. The change in the practice is said to be due to representations by bankers and others that the practice of making counter offers was in effect an attempt by the Government to "bear" the silver market by forcing down the market rate. Secretary Windom, in speaking of the matter this afternoon, said that his action meant nothing more than appeared on the surface, and was not to be understood as indicating any change in the policy of the administration in the matter of the coinage of silver.

A COMPREHENSIVE LIBRARY

To be Added to the Outfit of the Government's Latest Cruiser.

PHILADELPHIA, September 19.—A number of citizens held a meeting at the Mayor's office to-day for the purpose of considering the question of presenting to the new Government cruiser Philadelphia, recently constructed by the Messrs. Cramp, some evidences of their appreciation of having the vessel named after the city. Mayor Fitler presided.

After a brief discussion it was decided to present the Philadelphia with a comprehensive library for the use of those who may be assigned to duty on the cruiser.

A NEW IDEA.

Something King Solomon Never Anticipated When Writing Proverbs.

The objection to combinations in any business is that by a "combine" prices are raised. No one ever expected to hear of one for the purpose of lowering prices. But now comes the proposal that 350 reputable persons combine to buy a piano every week until all are supplied. As soon as the 350 persons enter into this arrangement their order for 350 high grade pianos, to be delivered one a week, can be placed with the manufacturers. Such a large order secures the lowest cash prices, for each piano is paid for in cash every week by an assessment of $1 per capita. A $425 piano is secured for $350. The person to receive the piano is decided by lot. Of course there are minor details in this plan, but the principal points have been stated above. For full information apply to Alex. Ross, sole agent for the Everett pianos, 137 Federal street, Allegheny, Pa.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Chilly Mornings -AND- Cool Evenings

are now the order of the day and the careful man will meet the sudden changes of the temperature with a

FALLOVERCOAT

There is no garment that is more useful, necessary and dressy than one of these light or medium weight Top Coats. They afford complete protection against colds (and their more serious, often fatal consequences) and at the same time lend an air of finish, elegance and refinement to a gentleman's dress that is most pleasing and effective.

And now, gentlemen, if you want to take your choice from an assortment of over 6,000 Fall Overcoats—an assortment that embraces every new style, every popular color, every reliable material—then GO TO

KAUFMANNS'

Again, the very moderate prices at which these garments are sold for at this store places them within the reach of the $10-a-week-calico salesman as easily as the millionaire railroad magnate.

GOOD, DRESSY FALL OVERCOATS AT $7

Of course we have Fall Overcoats for less than $7, but we cannot guarantee them. These $7 garments, however, we can conscientiously recommend to all who want good, stylish and substantial Fall Overcoats. They cannot be matched elsewhere below $10.

AT $9 and $10 WE HAVE A MAMMOTH LINE of FALL OVERCOATS, and they're beauties—every one of them. They are cut long, medium or short box style. The materials are wide and narrow Wales, fancy Corkscrews, Worsteds and Cassimeres, Meltons, Cheviots, Crepes, Venetians, Covert Cloths, etc. You can have them with or without silk facing, and as regards make and fit they will compare favorably with any garments for which other stores ask $15.

AT $12, $13 50, $14 and $15 WE SHOW FALL OVERCOATS FINE ENOUGH FOR ANY MAN.

Don't leave your measure for a Top Coat until you have seen these. Nine chances out of ten you'll prefer these ready-made garments to those for which your tailor would charge you double their prices. Besides we give you a much larger assortment to select from—over 200 styles being here.

THE FINEST FALL OVERCOATS WE HAVE RANGE FROM $18 to $25.

They're made from the costliest and most exquisite imported materials and are equal in make, fit and finish to the most expensive custom work turned out in Pittsburg. Some come with rich silk linings, others with English serge, and, taken in all, they're the finest ready-made garments ever produced.

OUR GRAND CLOAK BAZAAR

looks like a huge reception room. So many ladies coming and going. They admire our new styles, try them on, buy them and leave the store wondering how such fine goods can be sold for so little money. We will lead the Cloak trade of Pittsburg this season from the word "go." Why shouldn't we? We have the right goods and the right prices.

OUT-OF-TOWN residents should write for our Illustrated Catalogue. It is the finest and largest book of the kind ever published in Pittsburg and will be mailed gratis on application.
