To cure Mrs. Thomas Hatton, and she suffered on for 13 years. The aches and pains which she experienced in almost every part of her body were simply terrible. Those sharp, cutting pains across the small of her back and lower part of her body were almost unbearable. In fact, she suffered with all those diseases and conditions peculiar to women. For three months her mind was unbalanced, and for months she was confined to her bed. She became very weak and emaciated, so that she only weighed 86 pounds. No one expected her to live, much less get entirely cured. After receiving three months' treatment from the physicians of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute, 323 Penn avenue, she says: "The condition of my case was much worse than has been de scribed. It is over five months since I became cured, and no trace of the disease has since appeared. I now enjoy good health and am very glad to testify to my permanent cure by the physicians of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute,'

The Lincoln School Board Must Elect That Teacher by Saturday

OR ELSE STEP DOWN AND OUT.

That is the Decree of Judge White as to the School Deadlock.

GENERAL NEWS OF THE COUNTY COURTS An argument was had before Judge White yesterday afternoon on the petition of citizens of the Twenty-first ward, asking for the removal of the school directors of the Lincoln sub-district of the Twenty-first ward. The directors are Messrs. McLaughlin, Candy, Bryce, Edwards, Ward and Thompson. The trouble is caused by the board dividing on the election of Miss Emily Gardner as writing teacher of the school. Messrs. Edwards, Ward and Thompson are firm for Miss Gardner, while Messrs. McLaughlin, Candy and Bryce are opposed to her election and desire the election of Miss McCormick. Miss Gardner's supporters are willing to Miss Gardner's supporters are withing to elect Miss McCormick to the position of teacher, but desire Miss Gardner's retention as writing teacher. The deadlock occa-sioned the filing of the petition to have the directors compelled to do their duty and elect the full quota of teachers, 23, the num-

J. McF. Carpenter, Esq., presented the case to Judge White. He argued on behalf of the residents of the ward that all they desired was to have the board elect some teacher so that they would have the full quota and the children not suffer. If they would not do their duty they desired the Court to remove them and appoint some one Messers. Robb and Rowand made arguments for their respective clients. Judge White said that he would let the case go over until next Saturday. If the full number of teachers was not elected by that time he would declare the seats of the directors vacant. He would not decide as to the case of Miss Gardner, but would say that it is unfortunate whenever a question of church membership arises.

HOPPER BROS. & CO.'S DISPLAY From 307 Wood Street When you think of it seriously you come quickly to the conclusion that it must be a very large and very complete stock from which the firm drew the materials for their exquisite display in North Gallery; a display which has attracted all visitors and held them spell-bound at its loveliness. No stand in the building could be more popular, and each day makes it more difficult to force your way through the crowd, which, by common consent, fills the villa and the aisle in front of it. It is not just a parlor, or a bedroom, or a hall, or a kitchen, or a and the aisle in front of it. It is not just a narlor, or a bedroom, or a hall, or a kitchen, or a Jining room, but it is all of them, so that every department of a house is represented fully and entirely; people have not time to stir up their imaginations to fill up blanks and deficiencies;

they want to see it all plainly told before them;
and this has been fully and satisfactorily done, in this case, anyway. It will compensate visitors to make a trip to the store, 307 Wood street, and go from floor to floor to see the other fine things, for which there was not room in the display. A specialty with Messrs, Hopper Bros. & Co. is to fill all orders at the time

E. G. Hays & Co., 75 Fifth Avenue. Visitors are more and more surprised to find Visitors are more and more surprised to find that such very young men constitute the firm that has the admirable display in South Gallery. The instruments are fine, the cases in all the new fashionable woods are of the handsomest, and withal there is such a business air about the whole that the greatest interest is felt in their evident success. Hays & Co. are showing those splendid pianos made by Hazleton Bros. Lester and Mathushek. They are in concert grands cabinet grands and up-Hazieton Bros., Lester and Mathushek. They are in concert grands, cabinet grands and uprights, with all to itself the wee little instrument called the "Petite Bijou," a perfect piano for serenading paties, as it can be put in a carriage. The woods employed in the cases are bright rosewood, French walnut, mahogany, English burl oak and antique oak, just the newestatyle, each a choice specimen of its bind.

The "Pneumatic Symphony Organs" are of a very high order of merit. They are a regular keyboard organ, carrying the largest number of reeds used, and they are also played by simply moving the pedals with the feet, or they can be combined, producing great tone. Every register of reeds acts upon the Pneumatic organ, which is the case only with those made by Wilcox & White. These organs are invaluable, for no home need be without music; and so far as the Pneumatic organ is concerned, the number of pieces of music that concerned, the number of pieces of music that can be played is without limit. It is only needed to buy the "barrel," which means the piece of music, slip it into place, pull the "stop," move the feet, and the music will roll on at your plassing.

in Main Gallery, and Pumps in Mechanical Hall. Crowds are observable at all times all about crowds are observation at all times all about the space in the gallery where the latest examples of scientific and sanitary plumbing hold sway in connection with "The Gurney Hot Water Heater." This appliance is largely in demand as the best for dwellings, offices, public buildings, conservatories, etc. One of its claims to superiority is the equality of temperature in all parts of the building, and the insuring of a warm house day and night as perature in all parts of the building, and the insuring of a warm house day and night, as there is not the fluctuation to the heat as with steam, besides which, the heat radiated from the pipes is of a mild, even and agreeable nature, not to be obtained by any other system of heating, and does not shrink, injure or crack Reinecke's Pumps have a prominent position at the upper corner nearest Duquesne way. There are 100 kinds of pumps shown, among them "The Keystone non-freezing double acting force pump" attracts more than general attention, as it is the best and most effective pump ever put on the market. It is simple, durable and casiest to manipulate of any pump extant. It has brass-lined cylinders, brass valve seat and brass upper plunger; dispenses with stuffing box and threws a solid stream. These pumps are for shallow and deep wells, but are very readily changed from shallow to deep by the addition of attachments. They all have strainer, hose attachment and reversible lever. They are also arranged for windmill power. A pump which has just been put into position attracts considerable attention: it is a "Deep well Force Pump Standard" with gearing and pulley fly-wheel. This pump is adapted for elevating water from very deep wells, also to a great height by either hand or by power. The fly-wheel is broad enough for beit when power is used. No pump exhibit is more varied or attracts as much attention as Reinecke & Co.'s. THE PUMPS AT THE POOL.

Echols, McMurray and Company.

The exhibits of musical instruments seem always to have a powerful attraction for the visitors to the Exposition, and a particular favorite is this one in North Gallery; the reason is simple enough; the pianos and organs are of the very best makes, and the people know it; the space is well arranged for examining the different styles, so that you both see and hear with satisfaction. The principal pianos carried by this comparatively new but vigorous firm, are the very fine Ahlstron, and the long well-known Haines Bros. With these as leaders, Echols, McMurray & Co, have entered the lists boildy, the result being a fine business. The organs shown are the Taber, Mason & Hamila, and Keystone; all most desirable instruments that flud ready sale. These pianos and organs are to be had in richly carved cases, or in plainer styles to suit all purchasers, but under all circumstances handsome. In Public Favor.

Probably no exhibit at the Exposition takes better with the general public than that of Hopper Bros. & Co., of 307 Wood street. No exhibit, we think, is the theme of such general comment as theirs, and really we have voted none more perfect. Such a perfect combination of household goods in so small a space one would have thought out of question. From the parlor to bedroom, dining room and kitchen, each seems to be the pretiest room. There is a something so attractive about this suite of rooms that people cannot keep away from them. Something so inviting that to use their own expression, this is something worth living for." Each day hereafter a limited number of that splendidly-illustrated book published by this firm will be given away at their exhibit; be fortunate enough to get one. Mr. F. A. Hopper had intended giving his entire time to the Exposition, but their trade at the store, becoming of a much greater volume than was anticipated, requires his assistance there during the day, but will be pleased to meet his many friends at the exhibit in the evening.

The Steamship Model. Mr. J. J. McCormick, the veteran steamship agent, has a most attractive space in which is placed a model of the Inman steamship City of New York, a counterpart of the City of Paris. These are the fastest boats on the Atlantic, as well as the most gorgeous. The City of Paris' best time was 5 days 19 hours and 18 minutes. Length, 589-feet; beam, 63 feet; height, 59 feet; engines, 17,500 h. p.; tonnage, 10,500. The lines of the model are beautiful, and each of its parts a study. There are pictures on either side showing the interior, such as the grand dining hall, the bedroom, bathrooms, enginerooms, etc. A splendid view of the steamer under full headway adorns the apex of the group. This mode is 13 feet long, and is one of the greatest attractions of the Exposition. The Dabbs Photograph Gallery, The Dabbs Photograph Gallery, Corner of Liberty and Market streets, is quite a busy place on fine days. In dull, heavy weather patrons are not pressed to have pictures taken. Some people say a good picture can be made either in rain or shine. No honest photographer will say this, for unless the proper light illuminates the face a dingy, obscure expression will prevail. In foggy, nasty weather the picture will sympathize with the conditions of the atmosphere. See the clear eye and wonderful expression in the faces Mr. Dabbs shows in the art gallery.

Crumrine, Bane & Bassett, of 416 Wood Street. Have taken rather a unique way of exhibiting their wall paper, and, as we think, the only proper way. Much has been heard of the Moorish villa of Hopper Bros. & Co. There is an old and true saying that in union there is strength. This is especially true when the "union" is a union of good qualities in an excellent and useful article of household furniture, such as an adjustable chair of the kind manufactured by this reliable firm. Some of the good qualities united in these chairs are elegance of shape, beauty of materials, convenince, comfort and durability. Each chair may be arranged and adjusted for no less than five purposes, cach of which usually requires a separate article of furniture, viz.: Easy chair, adjustable lounge, child's crib, invalid's reclining chair and bed.

It is the union of these good qualities that has proved to be the strength of the company. These chairs are in demand from widely separated cities throughout this State and country. They are made in all styles of upholstery suitable for parlor, library and sick room.

The company also manufacture chairs on wheels for invalids, and in fact carry almost everything desired for invalids.

Bishop Jones, who acted as President, talked to a DISPATCH man yesterday. The Bishop is middle-sized, with broad shoulders. He has an intellectual face and is a polished speaker. He said: "The Western Pennsylvania Conference is a fairly good one. In church property it will compare favorably with other districts in the eastern part of the country. The value of our city church property, which includes Allegheny, can be estimated at $95,000. The churches located outside the city, but within the jurisdiction of thus conference, approximate $105,000. The most of this property has been acquired by the hard labor of our people. This is a wonderful achievement for the colored man, considering a decade ago he was held within the jaws of a cruel and merciless slavery. HAMPERED IN THEIR WORK

"The pastors of the A. M. E. Church work under the severest strain, and at the greatest disadvantages. Their salaries range anywhere from $250 to $1,000. The general average is about $500. This small remuneration is accounted for by the poverty of our people. The pastors who are paid $250 usually live in country places. They are supposed to work in the fields to earn the balance of their living. Many of the men who preach in the country are frequently boarded at some of the members' houses. Possibly they go the rounds of a half a dozen familes before they leave the charge. It is herculean work, but it has to be done.

"Within the last ten years the Church in "Within the last ten years the Church in this section has increased in property, numbers and money 20 per cent. The salaries correspondingly increased. At present the membership of this conference is about 2,000, the congregations number 5,000, and they are served by 35 pastors. The aggregate receipts from all sources is $12,000 per comm. This amount is disbursed for annum. This amount is disbursed for preachers' salaries, rents of mission halls and other necessary expenses connected with a church. Money is also paid out to various missionary societies. We also pro-vide funds for the support of ministers at points where the people cannot afford to

A BIG CONGREGATION. "The largest congregation in this conference is the John Wesley Chapel, which has a membership of 350. This church is very progressive. There are organizations con-intellectual culture of the people. "At the late conference we formed a new committee called the Home Mission and Preachers' Aid Society. This society will work for the development of our cause in parts of the country where colored churches building churches. It may be said that the colored people in Pennsylvania give more in proportion to their means than in any other part of the land. The colored man here is more intelligent than his Southern brother, owing to his better educational advantages.
