The Pennsylvania Works Show That They Help the Crops to Grow.

AGAINST WIDENING DIAMOND ST. Plaintiffs Claim That the Act of 1889 is Unconstitutional.

P. T. BARNUM SUEB FOR $5,000 DAMAGES

Otterson's Partner Files a Bill for the Dissolution of the Firm.

Before Master Williams yesterday the Pennsylvania Salt Works tried to show that the fumes from the plant did not poison the atmosphere of Natrona. The plaintiffs in the Diamond alley case claim that the act under which the city wants to widen the street is unconstitutional.

N. S. Williams, Esq., yesterday renewed the hearing in the city suit of William Metcalf and the Arnold Coal Company vs. the Pennsylvania Salt Works, which plaintiffs allege are poisoning the atmosphere in the vicinity of Natrona to such an extent that all organic life is in danger of extermination. The defendant's side of the suit is being heard, and from some of the testimony taken yesterday, it would seem just possible that the fumes so bitterly complained of are just what is needed to make agriculture in that section, and that plants thrive on them. Messrs. J. S. Ferguson and J. E. McKelvey are conducting the defense, and Mr. Woodward the case of the plaintiffs.

IN DEBT $6,000. Bet Knoxville Intends to Build a $4,000 School House.

W. C. H. Noble, Secretary of the School Board of Knoxville borough, yesterday filed a statement of the taxable value and indebtedness of the borough with the clerk of courts, as required by law when it is desired to increase the indebtedness for school purposes.

Today's Trial Lists. Common Pleas No. 1—McMahon vs. O'Donohy, et al. vs. Iron Works and Iron Company vs. St. Clair Light and Fuel Company.

Either for the Diamond Street Widening Objectors or the Other Side. The hearing on the application for an injunction against the city of Pittsburgh to restrain from widening and widening Diamond street on Friday next will be interesting, as the constitutionality of the act of May 16, 1889, will be attacked by plaintiffs counsel, Hampton, Tinsell, Scott and Gordon.

THE FARMERS' BANK WINS. A Check From the Penn Bank for $55,000 Allowed as an Offset.

The suit of the Penn Bank, for use of Henry Warner, assignee, against the Farmers' Deposit National Bank of Pittsburgh was tried yesterday for the second time before Judge Collier.
