Galvin Plays Some Franks
With the Phillies and
THE HOME PLAYERS WIN.

The Boston and New York Tied for First Place.
RESULTS OF ASSOCIATION GAMES.

The Senators in a Railroad Wreck and Perfected a Game.
GENERAL BASEBALL NEWS OF THE DAY.

The home club defeated the Philadelphia team yesterday quite easily. Galvin was in great form, and nearly made a home run. The Boston won and the New York lost, causing the teams to be tied for first place. The Washington players were in a railroad wreck, and failed to reach the city in time to play. The umpire gave the game to the Cleveland.

Manager Hanson and his team could not reasonably wish for anything else than what the Phillies were yesterday. Harry Wright's delegation were never in the entirely, because they were outplayed at every stage of the game. Wright's team were in the Quaker City may have had for the local talent in the past, they were just as nice as the most delicious pie yesterday. They did not put up their best game, but even if they had they would have been beaten, because they had not the show in yesterday's contest at Recreation Park.

There were about 600 people present and the weather was too cool to be pleasant. However, the game was very enjoyable to see. Probably the most interesting feature was the performance of Old Sport Galvin. After a good rest he reappeared in the hot sun and in the rain, and to repeat his historic feat of 1877. He nearly made a home run. He would have done so had he been able to run as fast as molasses from a jar. The old man, however, made a three-bagger and his effort in getting to third base was so exhausting that Miller delayed the game until Jones was restored to his wonted vigor.

THE VETERAN IN LUCK.
But the veteran was not only in luck as far as his three-bagger was concerned, but he also made the circuit of the field with a wild throw to Malvey. He also pitched a fine game, and altogether it was the old man's day.

In the early part of the game it did look as if Jones was going to be a mark for the Philadelphia players. In the second inning the three men at bat made each a good and clean single, filling the bases. This looked blue, indeed, but the old man drove himself out of the game by a brilliant display of fielding on the part of Dunlap. Galvin struck another out and the third was out. Dunlap's never received better support in his life than he did in yesterday's game. Every member of the team did everything well that they were able to do. Not only did Galvin pitch a field very well indeed and so did the outfield.

The visitors put up a very shaky game.
Cleveland, however, succeeded after completing the third inning. This was a surprise, as only three hits had been made of his delivery; but they were all recorded in the third inning. He did not appear to be weakened, his support was as good as succeeded him, and did fairly well. However, he took in hand a hopeless task if his intentions were to win. He pitched a fine game, and altogether it was the old man's day.

HALLMAN'S WRECKED MUFF.
In the fifth inning, when two men were out, Beckley made a muffed ball and White got a pop fly on balls. Fields then knocked up a pop fly to Hallman. It was one of the easiest kind to catch, and Hallman got it into his hands, and let it go. He was this flagrant error as Beckley crossed the plate. The visitors were also presented with a muffed ball. Beckley's muffed ball got his base on balls, and reached second on Miller's sacrifice. White pitched a fine game, and he scored on a single by Myers.

The third inning was a lively one for the home players. White struck out Sunday got his base on balls. Beckley pitched a fine game, and he scored on a single by Myers.

ANOTHER GOOD INNING.
In the fifth inning Hanson led off with a single to right field and reached second on Sunday's sacrifice. Dunlap got his base on balls, and both runners were advanced a stage by a wild pitch. Then Hanson again looked up to play an important part in the contest. He foiled on with young Anderson for two or three balls, and then he "pointed out to the youth who he was wrong. Hanson got his big fat lady on to the base of a nice ball, and Fogarty's head into the long grass in the second field. An ordinary runner would have been home on this. Hanson pitched a fine game, and he scored on a single by Myers.

The visitors made their second run in the sixth. Anderson led off with a double to deep left base, and scored on the sacrifice of Deliahanty and Mulvey. Following is the score:

BEAT THE REDS.
The Cowboys Win an Interesting Game by a Score of 10 to 3.

KANSAS CITY, September 26.—The Cowboys beat the Cincinnati Reds in an interesting game today. The batting and fielding of both clubs were about equal, but Kansas City had the luck. Fickett hit a finger ball at bat in the first inning, and the home team took the place.
Snyder replaced Conway in the box in the eighth, and held the visitors down to one hit, when the score was tied. Score:

THE LAST OF THE ILLINI.
A Bit of Indian History Recalled by a Visit to Ottawa.

On a recent trip to Ottawa, Ill., I visited the famous "Starved Rock," situated about ten miles down the river from that city.
