PHILADELPHIA, October 1.—The annual meeting of the National Civil Service Reform League, of which George William Curtis is President, began here this afternoon.

After the transaction of this business the visiting delegates sat down to an informal banquet, tendered them by the local committee, at the Waldorf-Astoria.

THE ANNUAL ADDRESS

This evening President Curtis delivered his annual address at the Waldorf-Astoria. There was a large audience, many of whom were ladies. During the course of his address he said:

Since our last annual meeting a party change in the administration of the national Government has occurred. Seven months of the new administration have passed, and we are now in the midst of our second year.

of public, and that only the interest of the office, and that only the interest of the public, and that only the interest of the office, and that only the interest of the public.

PARTY ORGANS KEPT

A few weeks ago a hilarious administration party organ at the capital of New York, one of the most influential and representative party journals, exclaimed: "Fifteen thousand fourth-class postmasters have been removed to date, and Mr. Clarkson remains in Washington with his coat off and his shirt sleeves rolled up."

ONE GOOD FEATURE

The President has selected an admirable Civil Service Commission. Every member of it is a sincere believer in the necessity and the practicability of reform, and its vigilance and vigor are the best earnest of its effective service.

Not Like Other Stores. For one thing, we manufacture the clothing. This superiority of quality and workmanship that we speak to you about every day is no guess-so. It's know-so, with us. We would shut up our workrooms sooner than go through the motions of making dependable clothing with a doubtful, unreliable quality. Then, we haven't the knack of either reaching up to the prices of merchant tailors, though we keep such qualities, or room to keep the cheap grades of cheap-price goods. But, are you looking for either the highest prices or the commonest clothing? We have neither. Yet, there isn't a man who buys clothing in this city that we can't serve better than if we did. We keep none but reliable clothing: no prices but fair ones: giving for every dollar as much as it's possible for a dollar to get of such clothing; and more intent by far, on gaining your confidence than your money. The money will follow. 1,000 styles of goods for to-measure work.
