AMONG AMERICANS AND FOREIGNERS.

A Manufacturer Pronounces Ohio Well the Best Ground in the Country.

The Pan-American delegates spent yesterday in examining big cotton mills and other industrial establishments.

BOSTON, October 7.—The delegates to the Pan-American Congress put in the day in a very enjoyable manner.

The party returned here in the early evening. They visited three concerns in Lowell, and saw 8,000 operatives at work.

SOME INTERESTING SIGHTS.

At the carpet mills of the Lowell Manufacturing Company the visitors saw 200 looms weaving about 40 yards each per day.

The Middlesex Woolen Mills, the oldest in Lowell, afforded the delegates a chance to see in operation machines that turn out cloth, said to be equal to any made.

"What wool do you use most?" was asked of one of the officials of the mill.

"We consume 3,000,000 pounds annually," was the reply, "and out of that we use 2,000,000 pounds of American wool and 1,000,000 pounds of foreign wool, chiefly Australian."

"Which section produces the best American wools?" asked American Delegate Filant.

"Ohio's product first, Michigan's next," was the response.

The day has been the first one of solid business upon the lines upon and within which the international Congress was projected.

IN CLOSER RELATIONS.

with the manufacturing interests they have visited. They have carefully and shrewdly observed what they have seen.

"You use rustic dye woods, do you not?" asked the foreigner.

"We do—much of it," was the interested answer.

"There is no duty in your country on fustic, and we furnish you that," said the delegate.

The mill official displayed lively interest, and subsequently the two had arranged to exchange prices, samples and conditions of fustic.

GREAT INTEREST AROUSED.

Mr. William F. Curtis, who, under direction of the State Department, is in charge of the international expedition, has received a great number of telegrams from cities which are important to the train and its occupants.

INDIGESTION

is not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies.

That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for indigestion, even when complicated with liver complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and care near ending my existence. For more than two years I suffered from this complaint, and was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken by my stomach. I improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well and hearty man, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."
