The English Brewery Syndicate Disappointed in Pittsburg.

PRICES TOO HIGH BY $1,000,000.

Representatives Were Here and Made an Investigation.

A LOCAL TRUST WILL NOT BE FORMED

The purchase of the Pittsburg breweries by an English syndicate has been declared off. The price that the syndicate was willing to pay and the sums asked by the brewers differed by $1,000,000. Neither side would relax from their figures, and conse-would relax from their figures, and consequently all options were surrendered and the deal relegated to the dead past.

A few days ago eight representatives of the syndicate came to Pittsburg—five Englishmen, including one London lawyer, and three New York men—who were also accompanied by their attorney. They minutely inspected the property and business of the various breweries, and concluded that they were anable to invest their capital and they were unable to invest their capital in the concerns to obtain a fair interest for the cash that they were asked to invest. They made an offer, however, to the representative of the brewers which was declined. The syndicate left the city much discomfited about the way matters had turned. Mr. J. J. O'Riley, the syndicate agent, speaking to a DISPATCH reporter last night, said: THE PRICES TOO STEEP.

"The prices asked by the Pittsburg brewers were so outrageously high that no body of men in their same minds who wanted to invest money with a hope that a fair re-muneration would result from the investment, could possibly consider the purchase of the breweries at the figure asked. Out of the 15 properties, only three asked prices within the reach of the syndicate. The Englishmen were ready to purchase 14 out of the 15 breweries, but they would not dicker with a less number. After an investigation into the condition of the buildings and the business done by each individual firm, they concluded none were worth the figures asked. When the books were inspected, the yearly returns from each brewery proved that no such Utopian figures would be considered for a moment. It was apparent from the first that there was a disposition on the part of the Pittsburg brewers to hold their places of business. If it had been otherwise, something like a reasonable price would have been offered,

THEY MEANT BUSINESS.

"The syndicate was sincere in their desire to purchase the broweries. They demon-strated that by the fact that they were willing to pay a good price for the whole lot. They came here and personally inspected the concerns, and based upon their investigations an offer was made which was fair and reasonable. This was repudiated, and the syndicate surrendered the options and left the city.

"A report has been circulated that a trust would be formed among the brewers of the city to regulate beer prices. No such trust has ever been considered by the reputable brewers of Pittsburg. I believe that one brewer, however, suggested after the syndi-cate declared the options off to boom a local trust, but this suggestion was scouted by every other brewer, and you may say from me that as long as Pittsburg is Pittsburg no such trust will be formed. The men in the trade would rather seil their beer in a keen competitive market than have the prices controlled by a trust."

GRAZIER STREET KICKERS.

The Board of Viewers Wreatle With the Same Old Prejudices.

A lively meeting of property holders was held in the Board of Viewers' office yesterday to hear the final report of assessments on the opening of Grazier street, from Homewood avenue to the city line.

The attendance was large and the kickers were numerous. Those who were damaged objected to the amounts given to them as not being large enough, and those assessed for the damages objected because their assessments were too high.

The damages amounted to $15,941, of which $3,100 was incurred by taking ground from H. W. Hartman, $2,700 from John F. Steel, $1,700 from Moses Higgenbottom, $1,530 from Mrs. E. Sullivan, $1,280 from W. L. Sloan, $1,115 from E. M. Bigelow, and the balance among 12 other property holders in amounts less than $1,000.

H. S. Paul, President Americus Club, Pittaburg:
Governor Foraker will address a large meeting here on the afternoon of October 2l. We cordially invite the Americus Republican Club to be present.

S. Y. BARTLETT,

The Executive Committee of the club has called a meeting for Monday afternoon, at o'clock, to take action on the invitation, and are satisfied from inquiries made by members who visited the club room last evening that they will be pleased to accept the kind invitation.

At the last annual banquet of the club a letter was read from Hon. E. B Taylor, in which he stated that the most enthusiastic meetings ever held in the Western Reserve was on the occasion of the visit of the Americus Club with Hon. John Dalzell, who made a telling speech there two years ago. The Western Reserve needs much enthusiasm to bring the people out, and it is thought they will be of great assistance.

Governor Foraker is very popular with the individual members of the club, and it needs

MEETING OF THE Y. M. C. A. The Work of the State Convention at New Castle Renewed and Discussed-Congratulations Passed.

The meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association, in its hall, on Penn avenue, last night was animated. The delegates to the late Y. M. C. A. convention in New Castle, were giving their experience and their impressions of the convention. Short speeches were made by Messrs. John Crawford, J. Palmer, Davis, Dripps, Bevier, Callender, Westervelt, Brown, Griggs, Captain Fulwood, Menthal, Metzgar, Secretary Orr. Porter, Frazier, Thompson, Controller Morrow, F. W. Kiefer, Jones, Clark and President J. F. Robinson.

The general tenor of the speeches was laudatory of the work done at the State Convention. Mr. Westervelt was especially gratified at the interest the women took in the work there, and predicted that through their influence many young brands would be plucked from the burning ere the evil one had fired all the good out of them. . Mr. Robinson told of the great work that was being done among railway men. Secretary Orr stated that over $6,000 had been secured for State and international work, and that Mr. Porter had agreed that if another $1,000 were raised, he would complete the sum needed—$7,500—by capping it with $500. Messrs. H. C. Westervelt, T. M. Dripps, Robert Taggart, T. M. Lyon and G. M. Paden were appointed a committee to raise money for State and international work, and empowered to receive small sums thankfully and larger ones in proportion.

While the gathering was composed almost wholly of young men, it was noticeable that there didn't appear to be any hodearriers among them, nor, in fact, any men with cal-loused hands, and the fact seemed somewhat strange, considering there are no creed bar-riers in the organization. Those present, however, appeared to think there could be it was accomplishing very great good in the vineyard, both in the United States and in

There is a watchman at the Market and demonstrated his use in that capacity yesterday in a way that caused in everybody a thrill of admiration.

At about 4:30 "Hughey" was limping around the circuit a trifle ahead of the wheels as usual, and waving everybody away from the dangerous slot.

Hughey limped, not from any infirmity, but from sheer weariness, for the position he holds permits of no easy chairs. At least 200 people were crowded about the square, awaiting cars for the Exposition or Alle-gheny, when cable No. 13 came swinging

Somebody, a woman, screamed; the crowd shook with horror; there was a rush of dusty russet clothes; a little girl's hat was ground beneath the iron wheels, but her golden head was safe on Hughey's shoulder, saved by a hair's breadth. "A pretty thing," muttered a bystander as the frightened child turned to wave a weet kiss at the impassive man who saved her. "A pretty thing, but that is what he's there for," and the crowd passed on, just a little better for the act of one man not afraid of his duty.

A FIREMAN'S PARTY.

A Pleasant Time Enjoyed by the Boys of Number Fourteen.

The boys at No. 14 engine house, known formerly in the department as "The Swell Company," had a very pleasant time on Friday evening. The only fire they had to attend was one which cooked a tempting array of comestibles, with which they en-tertained the Hooper Brothers' Mandolin and Guitar Band and vocal quartet, who paid them a visit. The members of the company donned paper caps and aprons and served the tables, showing a dexterity in waiting which would secure them jobs in any first-class hotel, should another reorganization of the Fire Bureau leave them out in the cold.

WILLIE HAD FAITH,

MR. MORROW EXPLAINS THE CASE.

If This be True There is let Hope for Suffering Humanity.

THE GOOD WORK OF THE BETHANY HOME

Little Willie Morrow, of the Bethany Home, who one week ago last Thursday, suffered a stroke of paralysis, which de-prived him of the use of his left arm and limb, and his powers of speech is now perfeetly well, and will enter school to-morrow morning. His recovery is considered alnost miraculous, as it was effected entirely was on the occasion of the visit of the Americus Club with Hon. John Dalzell, who made a telling speech there two years ago. The Western Reserve needs much enthusiasm to bring the people out, and it is thought they will be of great assistance. It is intended, as before, to take some noted member and speaker of the club along.

The fare for the round trip will be small and the trip will occupy but little time, and it is confidently expected, if it is decided to go, that at least 200 members will be in line. Governor Foraker is very popular with the individual members of the club, and it needs have given both of our children to the Lord, and so Mrs. Morrow staved while I came on, but the next day my wife came also, not that she was worried, but she thought Willie would want to see her. His condition was serious at first, but he gradually began to improve, and now, excepting a slight stoppage in his speech, is perfectly well."

In reply to further interrogations, Mr. Morrow suggested that an interview with the boy himself would perhaps be more

WILLIE IS A BRIGHT LAD.

Willie proved to be a bright-eyed lad of 15 years, very small for his age, but above the usual intelligence and not averse to He said that as he was dressing for breakfast on the morning in question he lost con-trol of his left side and vocal organs. He felt sure that it was God's will, and was willing to trust to Him. He was not alarmed; did not think he was going to die, and did not want a physician other than the Lord. He wanted to see his parents, but only as any child would wish His answer as to what his father said to him upon his return was, "Why, papa just said, 'Willie, of course you know you will get well." Regarding his means of recovery, he said: "Papa and mamma and I prayed, and perhaps some of the rest did." As to whether he had suffered much illness in his life his reply was, "Well, not so extra much, but just a year ago I had diphtheria, and then I thought I was going to die, but I didn't want a physician even then, for if it was the Lord's will I was ready to go.

THEY HAD GREAT FAITH. "My little sister was sick at the same time, but we both got well by faith and prayer." The young man then moved his arm in every conceivable manner, to show what perfect control he had over it, and as he was apparently anxions to return to his playmates he was excused.

The interview continued with a colored servant found in the hall. Her frequent ejaculations regarding the goodness of Lord retarded the gaining of knowledge rapidly, but by patience and persever-ance it was learned that when Willie failed to appear at breakfast she went to his room, thinking he had not awakened. Receiving no response to her knocks, she opened the door and there found him on the floor, unable to move or speak. She got him on the bed and went down to inform the inmates of the home. She watched him and prayed for him, asked him if he wanted a physician, and received for answer a negative motion of the head. Their prayers were answered very shortly and signs of improvement were visible. Now they all blessed the Lord for a most wonderful proof of his love and care of those who had faith.

A FIGHT OVER A LEASE.

The Arbuckle Well is Stirring Up Scramble for a Lease-Allegations Made. J. M. Patterson had the farm of Michael Beck, adjoining the Arbuckle farm, leased for a nominal consideration, and was holding it to await developments.

It is stated that the arrangement was that the rent should be deposited to Beck's order at Scully's bank, and that when Beck called at the bank, some time before the strike on the Arbuckle farm, he found that he lease had lapsed, at least this is claimed, by non-payment of two months' rent. He. then leased the farm to S. D. Robinson, of Titusville, $100 bonus to be paid and one-fourth or the oil, it any found, and $500 for each well bored that should yield gas in paying quantity, a well to be drilled by Judge White then said that the case was one bordering between first and second degree, and had the jusy found a verdlet in the first degree the Court would not have disturbed it. Judge White further said:

"I wish the law relating to murder in the second degree gave the Court the discretion as to the imprisonment. There are times when the limit of 12 years for that offense is hardly a sufficient penalty. In your case, Joseph Dimmey, the sentence of this court is that you undergo an imprisonment of 12 years in the Western Penitentiary." He was then led back to the jail, and subsequently taken to that institution in Allegheny.

Judge White also passed sentence on C. Cochran for selling liquor without a license, $500 fine and a year to the workhouse; William Scott, for illegal liquor selling, $500 fine and six months to the workhouse. Barrett Ahle, for assault and battery, was sent to the Reform School, and sentence was enspended in the case of Mary Brennan for illegal liquor selling.

ONLY CASE ON RECORD.

An English Precedent Found Covering the Slot Machine. The familiar "drop a nickel in the slot" machine, though apparently insignificant and harmless, has figured in the highest court of England. The record of the case, which is the only one of the kind in the world, has been received at the Law Library, and establishes a peculiar precedent. The case in question is peculiar precedent. The case in question is that of the Crown against Hands for larceny. The following is the syllabus of the case:

To obtain an Egyptian Beauties' cigarette place a penny in the box and push the knob as far as it will go, such were the inscriptions on an automatic cigarette box outside the assembly rooms at Cheltenham, placed there by the proprietor of the rooms, a Mr. Shenton. The proprietor of the rooms, a Mr. Shenton. The automaton, however, was so inexperienced in the ways and wiles of the world that it used to yield up 1:s treasures at the bidding, not only of pennies, but of worthless brass discs. It was held that the prisoner for taking advantage of the sweet creature's innocence and getting his cigarettes in this easy and inexpensive manner could be convicted of larceny.

Lord Coleridge, England's Chief Justice, in deciding the question when it came before him as to the officuse being a larceny said: "The means by which the cigarette was made to come out of the box were fraudulent, and the cigarette so made to come out was appropriated. There was undoubtedly a larceny committed."

KEECH'S

Just try it. If you are a good judge of Furniture and Carpets, so much the better for Keech's, for the more stores you visit and the more goods and prices you compare with those offered by this house, the firmer will be your conviction of Keech's ability to serve you best.

FURNITURE, FURNITURE,

In no place in the city can be found such an aggregation of elegant designs in the different articles of manufactured furniture as are to be found in our immense emporium. Our different floors are taxed to their utmost capacity to hold the goods, and in the present crowded condition it does not do the goods justice in having them displayed to such disadvantage, notwithstanding we are doing an immense business. The people have found out where they are not taxed two prices for what they need, and purchase accordingly. We have a few specialties to which we would call your attention. The first is:

FOLDING BEDS! The Phoenix, Rochester, Ideal and Turk & Voss are our principal makes. They have unstinted praise from all parties who have used them. The makers are always behind on their orders. This shows the popularity of their goods. Blow and bluster don't make it go-genuine merit does. .: .:

MATTRESSES! Remember one-third of your life best mattress made is none too good for you. We make them up of the best hair and guarantee you will get what you pay for every time. .: .: SIDEBOARDS! We show many new and very unique designs in these really artistic pieces of furniture. Nothing shows a dining room off to better advantage than a handsome Sideboard, and we have them at PRICES everybody CAN EASILY

AFFORD TO PAY.

Our Carpet department is located on the fourth floor-one of the largest salesrooms in the city. All the first-class goods made are to be found here. We are, in fact, sole agents in this city for many of the most celebrated carpet manufacturers in the world, whose choice products are so extremely copied in the cheap and inferior qualities of goods. and sold by unscrupulous dealers as genuine. And yet, strange, as it may seem, we sell our superior goods at the same (if not lower) prices than other dealers ask for worthless imitations. It shouldn't take you long to make up your mind where to buy your Carpets. Think! Think! Think! Think!

RUGS. RUGS.

We have these useful articles in every conceivable style and manufacture. We have the celebrated Smyrna in all sizes, from the door mat to the very largest dimensions, particular and our prices away down. A few more important items in our Carpet room are Chinese and Japanese Mattings, Oil Cloths, Linoleums, Carpet Sweepers, Wire Mats, Rubber Mats, etc. Is it necessary to supplement this statement with the fact that all these goods are to be had in the greatest variety of new patterns, the most durable qualities and the lowest prices ever heard by human ear? You know it! You know it!

CURTAINS. CURTAINS.

Should you require Curtains in either Lace, Chenille, Silk or Velous, you will find all the newest colorings and designs. Sash Curtains in endless variety. Furniture Coverings in all the medium and best grades. This department is under the superintendence of a firstclass upholsterer. We make and put up Window Shades, and do all kinds of upholstering work,

How about Silverware and Cutlery, Clocks, Pictures and Bric-a-Brac. Remember we have a handsome assortment, first-class qualities and most reasonable prices.

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS

Every housekeeper is more or less interested in these goods. There is alw ays something missing or needing replenishment in a kitchen. To begin with, we have Stoves and Ranges of every style and make. Refrigerators of every description, Wooden Ware and Tinware of every sort and make, Queensware and Crockery of the latest designs, as well as a complete assortment of anything and everything coming under the head of kitchen utensils. And stick a pin right here. You can visit every one of the scores of stores in this city where you will find these goods and none will be able to meet Keech's prices.

CLOAKS AND CLOTHING

Ladies, we can serve you with the latest styles of Newmarkets, Wraps and Jackets, and your husbands with the best styles of Suits and Overcoats. Nor will our prices leave anything to be desired. Just look through our stock and you will quickly find out where it is to your benefit to buy. Come and see.

that the safe door unlocked its own com-bination in order to smile a welcome to the profits of the season—a round $40,000, and no mistake. That the expenses reached that enormous sum in 40 days is no discredit to the management, but rather an argument of its efficiency. When Vice President Bindley, who has had the manage-ment of the affair (with Manager Johnston) said he was willing to spend $50,000 the first year if he could make another $50,000, he probably meant it as the above figures go probably meant it, as the above figures go A word now as to the management of this colossal affair that has virtually rained silver dollars into this city for 40 days and 40 nights. work; and were whooping things up for all they were worth. We are now in pretty good shape again, and expect to get out all our orders promptly in the future.
While thanking our friends for their kindness in favoring us with their orders, we would call their attention to the fact that about the 10th of each month is general payday throughout Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia. A great many people want their goods at this time who cannot order at any other time. Where it is con-venient to do so, it would be a great help to us if our friends could send in their ord week before or a week After the 10th of the month. But we want your orders no mat ter when they are sent, and we will rustle them out as quickly as we can. We would call your especial attention to our tea department this week. We can save you 20 per cent all around on your groceries, but we can save you 50 per cen but a fact. Come and drink a cup of ou tea and compare it with the tea you are using. The way to judge tea is by its drinking qualities, and you could have no fairer test than this. There are more 50c teas sold than any other kind. We guarantee our 25c teas equal to any you ever bought for 50c.
