

THE LAKE VISITORS.

Cleveland Sends Representatives to Learn From Pittsburgh.

A CRITICISM ON THE EXPOSITION.

Ohio Politics Comes in for a Share in Their Deliberations.

A VICTORY PRESAGED FOR FORAKER.

Mayor George W. Gardner, of Cleveland; John C. Covert, editor of the Cleveland Leader, and L. E. Holden, banker and proprietor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, visited Pittsburgh yesterday as a committee appointed by the Board of Industry and Improvement of the Forest City to inspect expositions, with a view to the establishment of an Exposition in Cleveland.

"I like the Pittsburgh Exposition very well, but it is not as fine as the one in Detroit. Your buildings cost more than theirs, but I don't like the shape of your main building. The Mechanical Hall here is a splendid structure and worthy of study, but it seems to me that the exhibits made in it are not truly representative of the products for which Pittsburgh is noted. I have no doubt that the managers will do better next year. I am sorry that we cannot remain here longer. I would like to have time to call upon some of your Pittsburgh people, whom I know as visitors to the fishing resorts on Lake Erie, in regard to a project a few of us have concerning Ballast Island.

For several years about ten of us in Cleveland have had a fishing club there. Five of us own the island, and we have spent many thousands of dollars in improvements. We propose to increase the membership to about 50, and admit the new members at a very low figure. We want to receive a number of Pittsburgh and Cincinnati gentlemen. Ballast Island is about in the center of the bass fishing ground in the spring and fall. It is always cool there in the summer, and is a beautiful place to take women and children. The Western Canoe Association meets there every summer. The island contains about ten acres, there are a dozen cottages, a boat house, ice house, steamer landing and other improvements.

"What we propose is the Federal plan. The Mayor shall be the responsible head of the government and shall have power to appoint and remove the heads of departments. If he be a corrupt or inefficient man he will last for only one term. Each department shall be run by one man, who shall be responsible to the Mayor and appoint his subordinates. That is somewhat like the Chicago plan. In your city I find that the Mayor is a mere figure head and that you have a few men who run everything. Our best people favor the reform, but the politicians are opposed to it. It is a lively issue in the election of our legislators.

"I feel satisfied that Forsaker will be rejected. That Halstead business about Campbell will not make much difference. Our registration in Cleveland has been remarkably light, showing indifference. That is the only thing I am afraid of. The Democrats are making strenuous efforts to carry the Legislature. If they do succeed Senator Payne, it is generally understood, will not be a candidate for re-election.

"I think your people here would be wise not to attempt to take the visitors around the city much, or to the various manufacturing establishments. The best plan would be to prepare an exhibit of your chief manufactures in the Exposition building.

Autumn Excursion via the Pennsylvania Lines. The Pennsylvania Company will sell excursion tickets to Chicago on Saturday, October 20, for trains leaving Pittsburgh at 7:35 A. M., 12:20 and 1:00 P. M., central time, good for return passage by trains leaving Chicago on mail November 2. For full information apply to Samuel Moody, D. P. A., 1127 Liberty street.

JENNY MARSHALL IS DEAD.

Demise, in Great Pain, of the Handsome Race Track Frequenter. (SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) NEW YORK, October 19.—Jenny Marshall is dead. She had the reputation of being the handsomest woman who visited the racing tracks at Sheepshead Bay and Monmouth Park, and was a noticeable figure on all occasions, by reason of her jewelry and fine gowns. She had been ill for some months, of Bright's disease, and died in great pain. She left a will returning diamonds said to be worth many thousands to a live merchant of this city, who gave them to her.

She gained notoriety about five years ago by being connected with the robbery of $12,000 in bank bills from a rich Staten Islander who was visiting her home in Seventh avenue. She left a fortune estimated at several hundred thousand dollars.

CLERGYMEN, DOCTORS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN. Your attention is called to RUBEN'S Broadway Kersey. Prices, $3 00, $3 50, $4 00. BROADWAY KERSEY. The Kersey or Cassimere, which we illustrate above, is growing in wonderful favor as a semi-dress hat, and professional men in general prefer it to any other, combining as it does the staleness of a silk hat with the hardness of a derby. We have just received a fresh invoice of these splendid goods. They are exceedingly light in weight, and as we carry three varying dimensions, we are thus enabled to perfectly suit different physiognomies. Gentlemen whose only objection to a silk hat is their tendency to roughen, the Kersey is the very thing, as neither rain nor steady service affects their appearance. By all means come and inspect these hats.

Men's Clothing Department. Boys' Clothing Department. Men's Hat Department. Come when you will, any hour in the day, and you will always find our Hat department crowded with purchasers. This fact is easily accounted for when it is taken into consideration that we not only show all the new styles and handle none but the thoroughly good brands and qualities, but also sell them at prices which no hatter can or will match. Here are examples: Our $3 50 Silk Hats, sold elsewhere for $5. Our $2 little shape English Derbys, sold elsewhere at $3; our silk-lined French Crush Hats, 74c, elsewhere $1. :::: of Pittsburgh. ::::

Well dressed gentlemen select their scarfs, collars, cuffs, shirts, etc., with the same care as their clothing. In doing this, however, they are compelled to go to a house where they can make their selections from an assortment that is complete in every particular. The fact that the most particular and fastidious dressers buy their Furnishing Goods from us speaks volumes, not only in favor of the magnitude of our stock, but our low prices as well. Apropos: Our great Underwear Sale continues this week. The choicest productions of Berlin, Paris, London and New York, the great Cloak manufacturing centers of the world, are placed by us at the disposal of our lady patrons. If any other local Cloak house can make an equal showing, we would like to hear of it. But it is not only in point of assortment that we beat all competition, but in the quality of our goods, the beauty of our styles and the lowness of our prices. Under these circumstances it is no wonder that our Cloak department, although but a few years old, enjoys the largest trade in the city. Madam, we expect you this week. ::::
