

A PECULIAR WRECK.

Slippery Rails Cause a Fatal Accident in the Mountains.

RUNNING AT A MILE A MINUTE.

Another Train Saved by a Timely Warning From a Woodsman.

ALL THE NEWS FROM NEARBY TOWNS

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

ALTOONA, Pa., November 8.—The runaway freight train on the mountain division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, which collided with the Gallitzin work train, and resulted in the death of one man and injury to several others, caused considerable excitement here this morning for a time.

Extra engine, No. 1140, with 33 cars, left Gallitzin shortly after 10 o'clock for the East. Scarcely had they started, when eight cars in the rear, upon which were two brakemen and a flagman, broke loose from the train.

A work train at Kittanning Point, ahead of the runaway, was caught at Scotch Knob and two of its cars were thrown from the track. At McGarvey's another car of the work train was knocked off. Both trains continued on east about one mile, when two more cars of the work train were wrecked and at the same time one car of the runaway train was wrecked.

The third collision was at its mad right. William Stephens, of Gallitzin, was instantly killed, and Engineer J. A. Ashcroft, Fireman J. A. McKelvy and Conductor I. Ross were slightly hurt. Three of the men on the work train sustained slight injuries, but the accident delayed all east and west-bound trains.

UNCLE SAM CAN HAVE IT.

Sen. Walter Lyon Succeeds in Impressing the Allegheny Committee in Regard to the Herk's Island Dam.

The Committee on Wharves and Landings, of Allegheny, met last night for the purpose of considering the ordinance granting the United States a certain piece of land at Herk's Island for dam purposes.

District Attorney Lyon said that if Councils did not grant the land the United States could secure it by having it condemned; besides, it was an open question if the land did not properly belong to the United States, and both the city of Allegheny and the Pittsburgh and Western Railroad were not trespassers.

This argument seemed to have the desired effect, as Mr. Elmer moved that the ordinance granting the land be favorably reported and returned to Councils, naming the price as $1. A clause was also inserted giving the city the right to grant to any railroad the right to lay tracks on the land.
