The Largest Iron and Steel Industry in the Whole World.

THEIR OWN SPECIAL MACHINERY.

Superior to Anything That Has Been Devised in This Country.

A SECRET AGENT IN EVERY NATION.

Orders for Cannon for France and Unusually Government Refused.

A report to the State Department shows that Krupp has a secret agent in every country looking after the interests of the immense establishment.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

BOSTON, November 8.—A report of the Krupp intended to establish a branch of their extensive gun works at some point on the line of the Monongahela river, in Pennsylvania, comes a very interesting report to the State Department by Consul Partello, of Dusseldorf, in which he refers to the enormous operations of this well-known establishment.

After describing the condition and kind of treatment of the employees, which has been told in print more than once, the consul gives a few facts which are not generally known. He writes:

A SECRET AGENT.

That the Krupp establishment has its secret agent in every important country there is little doubt. It was reported to me by a messenger during the recent visit to their office of an ordnance officer of the United States army.

A PANIC IN COURT.

Francis Attacked by a Convicted Prisoner to Commit Suicide—His Father-in-Law Falls Unconscious and a Juror May Die From an Attack of Heart Disease.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. LOWELL, Mass., November 8.—Judge Sherman's court and spectators witnessed a terrible scene this forenoon. John Booth, found guilty of criminal assault, attempted to commit suicide in the courtroom. He was prevented by officers, after a desperate resistance, during which his wife and father-in-law fainted away and the foreman of a jury on another case succumbed to an attack of heart disease, which may prove fatal.

SOME MAMMOTH WEAPONS.

They are breech-loading, 8-inch bore, with heavy ribs and bands separately placed on the breech and are said to be the largest guns made. A light inserted at the muzzle revealed the most perfect workmanship on the inside.

Miss Dodge Thinks Female Members of Educational Boards Are a Needed Acquisition—The Good Work of These Who Tried.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, November 8.—Now that the term of office of New York's women commissioners of Education is about to expire, though it is impossible to determine fully the extent of their work, it may be interesting to premise, from the monthly language of Miss Dodge, what their attitude has been in the much-needed measures of reform instituted during their term of service.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

BUFFALO, November 8.—Pasquale Bontivo recently paid the ocean transportation of pretty little Pappina Forentino from Italy to this country so that she might become his bride. The girl reached Buffalo all right, but did not seem fascinated with her lover, who is in prosperous circumstances but not handsome.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

PHILADELPHIA, November 8.—The hearing on a writ of habeas corpus requiring the production by Henry Deringer in court of Josephine C. Cope, widow of Cabel Cope, and issued upon the affidavit of Mrs. George E. Cope, her younger son, setting forth that she had been deceived from her home, No. 718 Spruce street, by Mr. Deringer and restrained of her liberty by him at his house began at 11 o'clock this morning before Judge Hare.

HARRITY HOLDS OVER.

Until the First of Next Month in Philadelphia's Postoffice.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

PHILADELPHIA, November 8.—John Field will not be postmaster until December 1. Postmaster Harity will hold the title until that date. Mr. Field, ex-Senator Benjamin F. Hughes, whom he has named as assistant postmaster, and Superintendent of Mails Alexander went to Washington to see Postmaster General Wanamaker regarding the transfer, the filing of the official bond and other matters connected with the postoffice.

NOT A NEW PLAN.

Revival of a Scheme to Shorten the Ocean Passage—A Bridge May Be Built Between Newfoundland and the Main Land.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

OTTAWA, Ont., November 8.—The announcement that Mr. E. J. Bender has succeeded in making arrangements in London for the purchase of the Quebec and Montreal Railway and its extension to the Straits of Belle Isle, revives the proposal General Sir Selby-Smythe laid before the Dominion Government in 1879 for diverting the Arctic current from the Gulf of St. Lawrence by filling in the Straits of Belle Isle, which would serve as a bridge connecting Newfoundland with the main land for railway purposes.

The idea of running a line of railway along the north shore of the St. Lawrence to Belle Isle, to connect there by a ferry with a line of way across Newfoundland, is not a modern invention. As giving the shortest possible sea voyage across the Atlantic, it has frequently been referred to in the past. The cold stream, which these projects which must follow in the line of march of civilization, General Smythe's idea of constructing a dam across the straits does not appear to have been original with that gentleman, as Lieutenant Murray, it is understood, laid a similar proposal before the British Government over 30 years ago.

When the Dominion Government, General Smythe drew attention to the fact that the Straits of Belle Isle open to the northeast, thus receiving the direct flow of the polar current, known as Baffin's Bay. This icy stream, from two to four miles in hour, pours its way into the Gulf of St. Lawrence, overflowing by its greater density to the southward, and then, divided into two branches near Cape Lamour, one running westward up the gulf, and the other southward, discharging into the ocean between Newfoundland and Cape Breton.

The General explains that this branch then sweeps along the eastern coast of Nova Scotia, and thence, as the water warms further out to sea, which would otherwise find its way along the shores of the continent and into the gulf. If, therefore, the polar current could be excluded and directed eastward, Newfoundland, into the open ocean, the climatic effect, by the exchange of cold for warm water, would be very marked in the gulf and adjacent shores.

CAUSES OF A CRASH.

Sergeant at Arms Leedom Declares That Ohio Went Democratic ON THE TARIFF REFORM ISSUE.

ON THE TARIFF REFORM ISSUE.

Anti-Mahone Republicans Mainly Sawed the Little Boss Under.

WITHOUT ANY FRAUDS BEING NEEDED.

What Has Led Up to Iowa's Being Almost One of the Dumbfist States.

Prominent politicians in Washington who reside in the States which were struck with the political cyclone of Tuesday, are yet busily engaged in telling how it happened. Sergeant at Arms Leedom, of the House, says Ohio is Democratic to stay. Iowa is said to have been carried by the Little Boss, who was carried against Mahone by frauds, but by Anti-Mahone Republicans.

FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, November 8.—Mr. John P. Leedom, the Democratic Sergeant at Arms of the House of Representatives, returned from Ohio, to-day in a very jubilant mood. The only regret he has is that the Republicans had a majority of some 18 or 20 in his county. He says that there is a possibility—just a possibility of the election of some of the Republican State ticket, but that the Legislature, like the Governorship, is Democratic. He attributes the victory largely to the tariff, and says there is practically a revolution in Ohio on that subject.

A FINE CANTASS.

"Campbell made the finest cantass ever made in the State," said Mr. Leedom, "and comes out of the fight as fresh as he went in. In one day I know he made five speeches, and good speeches. He made no mistake. He kept cool and acted for himself. He knew of the ballot box boomerang Halstead was going to throw at him, three weeks before the election, and he was ready. He did not let even the members of his committee. He simply waited until the proper time, and was ready."

NO SPIRIT OF CONCILIATION.

or compromise. The Foraker men know that their candidate was cut, and they are going to have revenge. It will be war to the death between the two factions. There is no doubt that Grosvenor and others of Sherman's friends cut under Foraker wherever they could, and Foraker's reply to the members of his committee was to the effect that he would carry some of the strongest Republican districts. By the present vote we would have elected Democrats in five Congressional districts. "Ohio," he added, "is sure to go Democratic in 1902."

NO FRAUDS WERE NEEDED.

Virginia Republicans Aided the Democrats to Kill Mahone.

WASHINGTON, November 8.—Judge Keith, one of the most prominent Democrats in Fauquier county, Virginia, is in the city, and says of the Virginia election: "I have seen some very bitter political fights in Virginia, but I never saw such a display of venom as that shown by the anti-Mahone Republicans. Why it was impossible for him to win. The only Republican Governor we have had since the war, the only Republican Senator in the same period, and the only Republican Congressman-at-Large, were all opposed to him. There was not a single Republican newspaper or Republican paper in the State. We are aware that Mahone believed he would get the full negro vote, but he evidently did not know the negro. When the leaders whom he has followed since emancipation do not direct him, he is helpless, and I know that a great many negroes did not vote at all this year, because the men to whom they looked for advice either would not give it or else told him to go home and not bother themselves about the election."

MAY BE SOMEWHAT TARDY.

A Blender That Will Delay the Departure of Two Senators From Home.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, November 8.—The Senators from the State of Washington will have to hurry in order to arrive here by the opening of Congress. On Saturday last the State Department received the election returns, and discovered that they had not been certified by the Governor. The Washington authorities were at once notified of the blunder they had made, and as soon as they heard of it sent a properly certified batch of documents, which will arrive in a day or two.

A JOKE ON UNCLE JERRY.

He Receives a Box of Rare Indian Plants Called a Dog House.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, November 8.—"Mr. Secretary, your dog house has arrived," said a messenger to-day to Secretary Rank, of the Agriculture Department. "Dog house? Dog house?" exclaimed Uncle Jerry. "What do I want with a dog house? I don't keep a dog." Nevertheless, the Secretary put on his hat and went out to investigate for himself. On an express wagon was a structure very closely resembling a dog house, but on close inspection it proved to be a box of rare plants from Bombay, India.

What the Library Has Accomplished in Local Educational Matters.

The Pittsburg Library Association is to get together and devise ways and means to prevent the sale of the building under the present judgment. Good work has been accomplished in the past and the Board is loath to see it come to naught.

As will be seen by reference to an advertisement the directors of the Young Men's Mercantile Library Association have called a meeting to be held at the rooms of the library Monday afternoon, 11th inst., to consider the crisis in the affairs of the association, growing out of the pending foreclosure and sale of the hall.

Mr. J. P. Hudson, one of the board, states that they had been working for the purpose of securing the postponement of the sale in order to get more time to see if the amount could not be raised so as to obtain control of the judgment in which the property is to be sold. He also stated that it was understood from Mr. Brunot in September that he would have no objection if the arrangement for the purchase of the Y. M. M. L. & M. I. arrangements. Further, it is stated that Mr. Clarke, in an interview, said he did not wish to see the property sold, but by the said arrangement with Mr. Brunot, but that since then he has seen Mr. Brunot, and he will not consent to postponement.

MONTANA IS A STATE.

Formerly Admitted the New Constitution—All of the Commissioners Have Been Accepted.

WASHINGTON, November 8.—President Harrison signed and issued the following proclamation at 10:40 o'clock this morning:

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States did by an act approved on the 22d day of February, 1889, provide that the inhabitants of the Territory of Montana, who had accepted the proposed constitution prescribed in said act, become the State of Montana;

And whereas, it was provided by said act that delegates elected as therein provided to a convention to be held at Helena, in the Territory of Montana, should meet at the call of the Governor of the Territory; and after they had met and organized, and the directors of the people of Montana that they adopt the Constitution of the United States; and whereupon the said convention should be authorized to ratify and accept the proposed Constitution of the Territory; and after they had met and organized, and the directors of the people of Montana that they adopt the Constitution of the United States;

CONDITIONS OF THE GRANT.

The Young Men's Library and Mechanics' Institute shall pay to the corporation hereby created, on or before the first day of January in each year, a good record for a library that has practically supported itself, its outside help not having exceeded $600 since its organization, all other expenses having been borne by its members themselves. It is agreed that if they can utilize the revenue that should come to them the usefulness of the library can be indefinitely extended.

AMONG SOME MUSTY PAPERS.

Land Records Found That May Complicate Matters Considerably.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, November 8.—Commissioner Groff, having the musty records of the Land Office overhauled and put in shape, so that the office force and the public may have easy access to them. To-day, while clerks were engaged in cleaning out what appeared to be rubbish in a neglected corner of the Land Office, the clerks ran across a bundle of dingy papers. On inspection they proved to be cash applications to purchase lands in Winnamadist, Indiana, and dated as far back as December, 1848. These papers had been called for on several occasions by Congressional committees, and have been missing for several years, and of late had been given up for lost.

KENTUCKY ELECTIONS CELEBRATED CHARGED WITH BLOWING UP A POSTOFFICE.

WASHINGTON, November 8.—Postmaster General Wanamaker to-day received the following telegram:

LOUISA, Ky., November 7, 1899.

I claim protection and redress at the hands of the Government, and secondly, to have my place and the handsome four-class office in Northwestern Kentucky, surpassing many Presidential offices. My office is this morning completely demolished, being the work of a few persons wanting to let the postmaster here know how Ohio had gone politically. This being a district office, the finding of the guilty parties will be an easy task for a detective.

A MUNIFICENT GIFT.

Mrs. Caroline Donovan Donates $100,000 to the Johns Hopkins University—A Timely and Most Welcome Benefaction—Sudden Fame.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

BALTIMORE, November 8.—Mrs. Caroline Donovan, formerly of New York but now of this city, came to the rescue of the Johns Hopkins University to-day with a gift of $100,000. Mrs. Donovan resides near Catonsville, in Baltimore county, and was comparatively unknown until her day, when her munificence brought her into prominence.

Several days ago Mrs. Donovan sent a communication to Mayor Latrobe, requesting him to come to her home, as she wished to consult with him as her counsel. Mrs. Donovan, upon meeting Mayor Latrobe, told him that she had $100,000 which she desired his advice about, as she wished to give it to some deserving institution. Mayor Latrobe suggested the Johns Hopkins University, and Mrs. Donovan at once intimated her approval of the suggestion. She had, she said, long entertained a deep interest in the work of the institution, and no other that could have been suggested would have more thoroughly harmonized with her inclinations.

Mrs. Donovan was at first greatly averse to letting her name be known as the donor of the money, but at last yielded this point, and in a letter, though both Allen O. Myers and Campbell's law partner want it, I don't think Payne will be a candidate. There are some Democrats who would not, under any circumstances, vote for him. Price deserves something, so does McLean. Thomas is making a big fight, and may win, though he has nothing to recommend him, except his money. I may get a moment's peace of mind, I may say that in my opinion, McLean is the coming man."

From another gentleman was obtained a new name, that of Warren P. Noble, of W.D.A. Noble may be surprised at this name, said the speaker, who is a Representative-elect, "but Noble's name has already been mentioned to more than one Legislature. Noble is moderately wealthy, has always been a Democrat—one of the old school—has been in Congress, has a commanding figure, and is in appearance a model Senator. Senator-elect Perry M. Adams is his law partner, and so far as manly Senly is his warm friend, and so far as it would be valuable he would have the influence of Charlie Foster and his following. It might be well to keep an eye on Noble."

THE NEW PENSION POLICY.

Original Claims Will Hereafter Receive the Most Prompt Attention.

WASHINGTON, November 8.—General Baum, the Commissioner of Pensions, proposes to facilitate by all proper means the adjudication of original pension applications. He finds that about half the claims coming before the office are in the interest of persons who have never received pensions, while the other half are made up of applications for an increase or re-rating of pension. General Baum is of the opinion that the application of a claimant who has never received a pension is more entitled to prompt consideration than one who is already on the pension rolls.

With No Less Than Three Other Candidates Working for His Success.

The burning question in Ohio, now that it is settled the Democracy has captured the Legislature, is who will succeed Senator Payne? At present there are a number of candidates. John H. Thomas, a millionaire manufacturer of Springfield, has always been an avowed candidate. Others are prominently mentioned, though, and the race promises to be an exciting one.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

CINCINNATI, November 8.—"Who will succeed Senator Payne?" is a most frequently asked question in Cincinnati now. Republicans ask it as well as Democrats, and politicians as well as the plain voter. So frequently were they interrogated, and so great was the danger of making a blunder (that last night) the legislative delegations elect held a meeting, at which the situation, but not the candidates, was discussed, and it was unanimously resolved that under any and all circumstances they refuse to be interviewed for publication. To-day one of the gentlemen in a more congenial mood said:

I do not know who will be Senator. I do know one who won't be—James E. Neal. He has done magnificent work for the party and deserves reward, but not the Senatorship. The State Oil Inspector would suit him better, though both Allen O. Myers and Campbell's law partner want it. I don't think Payne will be a candidate. There are some Democrats who would not, under any circumstances, vote for him. Price deserves something, so does McLean. Thomas is making a big fight, and may win, though he has nothing to recommend him, except his money. I may get a moment's peace of mind, I may say that in my opinion, McLean is the coming man."

THE BOON FOR THOMAS.

Three Rival Candidates Meet at His Home in Conference With Him.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

SPRINGFIELD, O., November 8.—Hon. John H. Thomas, the millionaire manufacturer of this city, is very ambitious to go to the United States Senate from this State. He contributed liberally to the campaign fund—in fact, it is stated that his contribution exceeded that of any other Democrat. In case Calvin E. Brice don't hanker after the Senatorship, Mr. Thomas, it is thought, stands a good show of being struck by Senatorial lightning.

Mr. Thomas has the support of Lawrence T. Neal, Virgil P. Kline and M. D. Harter, all mentioned as possible candidates for the Senatorship. Mr. Thomas' campaign bell is also a warm friend of his, but his position is such that he doesn't dare commit himself. Clandestinely the three gentlemen first named met here last night at Mr. Thomas' residence, and took supper with the millionaire.

A CONFERENCE LASTING about four hours ensued, and Neal, Harter and Kline each promised Mr. Thomas his hearty support, and plans for getting Mr. Thomas chosen were discussed. Something was agreed upon. Just what this is is not known, but it may be understood that Mr. Thomas will strain every nerve to get the place.

The trinity of statesmen did not appear around town, but stayed at Mr. Thomas' residence until the first train carried them homeward.
