THE SWEEPS OF OLD.

A Chat With One of Them Shows They Have No More Show Here.

TWO VERY DIFFERENT GILLESPIES,

One of Whom Just Sweeps, and the Other of Whom Was Swept.

SENTIMENT AS TO BOYS IN CHIMNEYS

A Pleasanter Friend of the Boys.

HE Decline and Fall of Pittsburg Chimney Sweeping! What a subject for the ambitious pens of budding Gibbons' new studying in our public schools! How eloquently might they dwell upon the glorious past of the sooty craft, and the sad stagnation into which it fell, subsequent to the introduction of natural gas. In what glowing language might they describe the leaders of chimney-sweeping in the olden time; and how mournfully might the lives and characters of the few remaining exponents of the art be depicted upon the pages of this great historic triumph of the future.

Without desiring to infringe upon the rights of the historiographer of the chimney, but rather from an earnest desire to render him some small assistance, the writer the other day made an investigation into the subject.

* * * * * * * * *

It was in the quiet little parlor of Mr. Alexander Gillespie, the veteran Allegheny chimney sweeper. Close by the roaring coal fire sat the Mr. G. himself, and over against him lounged the cadaverous form of the writer.

And Sae I Hae Been, for Forty Year and Mair.

"You are, I believe, a sweeper of chimneys, Mr. Gillespie?" observed the newspaper person.

"Hoots, man, I am that," replied Mr. G. with a touch of the old Lallan tongue, "and sae I hae been, for 40 years and mair."

THE SWEEPER AND THE SWEPT.

"Any relation, Mr. Gillespie, by marriage or birth, of James Gillespie Blaine?" queried the writer.

The old man pondered awhile. Then he asked, "Where did he sweep?"

"He didn't sweep," the writer replied; "he got swept himself, poor fellow! You are not an American, I believe, Mr. Gillespie?"

"How did ye ken that without speering?" asked the sweeper. "Well, ye're right enough, onyway. I come frae Stranraer, in Wigtonshire, and the guidwife yonder she comes frae Ballinahinch, on the Irish coast. We've been 19 year in America, a'thegither."

"How is trade, Mr. Gillespie?"

The old man shook his head sadly. "Trade's flown awa' frae Pittsburg the noo," he said, "we never had work since the gas came."

"You don't like the gas, then?"

"Weel, the Beuk says we maun love our foes," said the veteran, "and sae, I suppose, I love the gas, which is my worst foe. But it ruined chimney-cleanin' in these twa cities."

"Do not natural gas chimneys need cleaning, then?"

"Aye, they want cleanin', but they're seldom cleaned for a' that."

The Trades Former Prosperity, in Caricature.

The old sweeper then proceeded to give the writer an idea of the difference between his trade's prosperity six years ago, and its present decadence. Before gas was introduced, Pittsburg was almost

OVERSTOCKED WITH SWEEPERS.

In Pittsburg five master sweepers employed from four to six men each, and in Allegheny four masters had a similar number of laborers. Besides these there were a score of sweepers with one or two assistants; and a small army of individuals who worked, with the help of an occasional urchin, to do the light work. Mr. Gillespie's brother was among the more prosperous sweepers. He employed five men; but, since the advent of gas, he has gone to St. Louis. Mr. Gillespie's two sons, also sweepers, fled from the gas-invaded city at the same time, and went west. In Kansas City and Denver they find plenty of chimney-sweeping.

Sweeping prospects were never so rosy as in the few years prior to the coming of the fiend. Comfortable fortunes could be made in the business by the mere journeymen, while now the masters themselves find it hard to eke out a living.

But the most surprising thing of all, in connection with the decline, is the sudden decrease in the number of Pittsburg sweepers. As has been said, they could be counted by the score a few years ago. Now there is one solitary sweeper in Pittsburg, and three others in Allegheny. None of these can afford to employ journeymen; indeed, there is scarcely work enough to keep their own hands going, in the "slack seasons" (i. e. the summer and winter) Mr. Gillespie is forced to work at grate-setting, and some other mysterious avocation connected with the adjustment of the fireplace. A little while ago Mr. Gillespie was sent for from Indiana county, and he sojourned for two weeks in that neighborhood, cleaning chimneys by the dozen. But this is a stroke of luck which seldom occurs.

AN ODDITY AND THE BOYS.

There is much more chimney-sweeping done in Allegheny than in this sister city. Why this is so, Mr. Gillespie is not able to say. In proportion to its size, Allegheny uses as much natural gas as Pittsburg, and yet it is able to support two more chimney-sweepers than the transportive Babylon.

"Do you ever clean the long factory chimneys?" asked the writer.

"Heeh, sirs!" cried the old sweeper; "'twould be a braw cleanin' they'd need. Why, mon, ye see these lang chimneys sweep themsel's. The force o' the fire is enoo to keep the dirt awa'."

"Is it true that sweepers send little boys up the flues where their brushes can't reach?"

"Not now, ye ken. The Government winna let them do 't. But ower i' th' auld country they send the boys up still. In my young days we used to go up the highest chimneys, hangin' on, as best we could, wi' nails an'

Ower i' the Auld Country They Send the Boys Up Still.

elbows, an' knees, an' feet—aye, an' wi' teeth, too, sometimes. My son-in-law, who is a sweep, too (they're a' sweeps, our kin), once climbed up the big chimney in Trinity Church

WHEN HE WAS A BAIRN.

"But the bairns are their ain masters the noo; an' Government sees that naebody makes them work till they've ruined their health an' hurt their eyes ower useless beuks that don't tell 'em the differ betwixt a clean sweep an' a dirty one."

"And is there any difference?" asked the ignorant inquisitive person.

"Troth there is," Mr. Gillespie answered. "Naebody but an experienced sweep can avoid makin' a mess on the hearth. The awkward mon always dirties the whole room. Ye see, there's two ways o' doin' a' things—the right way and the wrang way. "Weel, sir, I hae answered a' your questions noo. Pittsburg chimney sweepin' is well nigh a trade o' the past. The most four sweepers can do here is just to keep body an' soul thegither. I heerd tell o' a travelin' sweep, wi' a donkey, somewhere up on Moont"Washington; but he must hae starved or gone awa', as his name hasn't been mentioned to me for mony months. I look forward to the day when the gas 'll give oot in Pennsylvania. Only then can we sweepers ever hope to be prosperous again. A guid day, to ye; an' I hope ye'll gie an auld Scotchman his due, when ye write him up for the newspapers."

With these parting words the old sweeper dismissed the inquisitive newspaper man; and the latter stepped out into the street, much impressed with the sad account he had heard of the Decline and Fall of the Ancient Science, Light Chimney Sweeping. BRENAN.

THE ENGINEER WAS ASLEEP,

And His Train Ran Into One Ahead, Causing a Disastrous Wreck.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

HARRISBURG, November 17.—A very disastrous freight wreck occurred on the Northern Central road, at Middleton Ferry, between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning. Emile Lashey, a brakeman, was killed, and Engineer Appello and his fireman were badly injured. All the men live at Baltimore. Two sections of the Empire line which left Baltimore last evening about 7 o'clock, loaded with perishable goods, collided, and about 30 cars and an engine were smashed. The wreck caught fire and five cars were burned. Lashey was caught in the telescope and fell under the ruins. The freight of the entire two trains, which was consigned to dealers in New York State, will probably be lost. The road is blocked and the wreckage cannot be cleared before Tuesday morning. Trains are getting through on the Pennsylvania road via Columbia.

The first section stopped on account of an accident to its engine. The flagman went behind, but the engineer of the second train is said to have been asleep and did not see his signal. His train was running at the rate of 30 miles an hour when it struck the train ahead. Several of the crew on the first train jumped from the caboose in time to escape injury. The loss will be many thousand dollars to the company.

CATARRH

Is a complaint which affects nearly everybody, more or less. It originates in a cold, or succession of colds, combined with impure blood. Disagreeable flow from the nose, tickling in the throat, offensive breath, pain over and between the eyes, ringing and bursting noises in the ears, are the more common symptoms. Catarrh is cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which strikes directly at its cause by removing all impurities from the blood, building up the diseased tissues and giving healthy tone to the whole system.

"For several years I have been troubled with that terribly disagreeable disease, catarrh. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla with the very best results. It cured me of that continual dropping in my throat, and stuffed-up feeling. It has also helped my mother, who has taken it for run down state of health and kidney trouble. I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all as a good medicine." MRS. S. D. HEATH, Putnam, Conn.

FOR DYSPEPSIA

Use Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

Dr. Lorenzo Waite, Pittsfield, Mass., says: "From its use for a period of about eight weeks, to the exclusion of all other remedies, I attribute the restoration to health of a patient who was emaciated to the last degree, in consequence of nervous prostration and dyspepsia. This patient's stomach was in such an irritable condition that he could not bear either liquid or solid food. An accomplished physician of many years experience, whom I called in consultation, pronounced his case an incurable one. At this stage I decided to use Horsford's Acid Phosphate, which resulted as above mentioned."

Does the Public Appreciate?

Our experience has been that it does. Else how our own success? Not because the public has any love for us, personally. It is because the people are fair and liberal enough to appreciate our efforts to serve them. They recognize that our long experience and perfect facilities enable us to meet their wants at the least possible cost to themselves. Our errors they cheerfully overlook in their faith in our sincerity. We announce in our "ad" on the second page a special sale of Paris robe patterns at very low prices. The people, we are sure, will make short work of the entire lot.

OFFICIAL—PITTSBURG.

[No. 133.]

AN ORDINANCE—GRANTING THE USE of certain streets and avenues to the Pittsburg and Birmingham Traction Company.

Section 1—Be it ordained and enacted by the city of Pittsburg, in Select and Common Councils assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the Pittsburg and Birmingham Traction Company be and is hereby authorized with the consent of the Pittsburg and Birmingham Passenger Railway Company to lay a double-track railway over the following streets and avenues in the city of Pittsburg, to wit: Beginning on Liberty avenue at the present northwestern terminus of the Pittsburg and Birmingham Passenger Railway Company, at or near the Union depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, thence southwestwardly along Liberty avenue to Smithfield street, thence southwardly along Smithfield street to the Monongahela bridge, thence along and across said Monongahela bridge to Carson street, thence eastwardly along Carson street to the eastern line of the city on the Southside.

Section 2—That the said Pittsburg and Birmingham Traction Company in building and operating the line or lines of railway contemplated by the terms of this ordinance or any of them over the route hereinbefore and hereinafter designated, shall have the right to construct sub-ways beneath the surface of the street for the purpose of using a continuous cable as a motive power in addition to the power now used by the railway companies operating railways over the route designated.

Section 3—That said traction company before constructing said sub-ways shall submit plans of the same to the Committee on Public Works of Councils of the city of Pittsburg, and before the same are built and constructed such plans shall be approved by said committee and the Chief of the Department of Public Works, and such sub-ways so approved in their construction and erection shall be subject to the control and supervision of the Chief of the Department of Public Works.

Section 4—The rights granted by this ordinance are expressly given upon the condition that the Pittsburg and Birmingham Traction Company shall pave all streets and avenues occupied by it with block stone, asphaltum or other equally good material, to be approved by the Committee on Public Works, between its tracks and one foot outside of its tracks, and keep the same in perpetual good repair and clean the same as may be directed by the Chief of the Department of Public Works.

Section 5—That said Pittsburg and Birmingham Traction Company shall have the right to build sub-ways for cables under the provisions of this ordinance, with the consent of the Pittsburg and Birmingham Passenger Railway Company, in and over any street now or hereafter occupied by said company or authorized by ordinances of Councils to be occupied by it.

Section 6—The said traction company shall commence to build and erect its plant within six months from the date of the passage of this ordinance and complete the construction of the same within 12 months thereafter, otherwise the rights and privileges granted hereunder to be forfeited.

Section 7—That before the provisions of this ordinance shall go into effect, the said Pittsburg and Birmingham Traction Company shall within 30 days after its approval by the Mayor file its written acceptance attested by the hand of its President, and sealed with the seal of the company of this ordinance according to its terms.
