statistics on the subject, from all the States in the Union, for 20 years, from 1866 to 1886 inclusive. Some of these figures had been sent to Dr. McAllister, and he quoted from them. During the 20 years one-third of a million divorces were granted in the United States in the Union, for 20 years, from 1866 to 1886 turbance. The detectives were about to give up here of them glanced up the side of the hill, where a ledge of rocks projected, and the idea at once struck him that possibly the man had been thrown over the precipioe. sibly the man had been thrown over the maillion divorces were granted in the United States. In that time the increase of population was 66 per cent and the increase of divorces 156 per cent. There has been, in nearly every State, an almost constant increase of divorces from year to year. South Carolina is an exception. All divorce laws have been repealed there, and a divorce cannot be obtained. In Pennsylvania, in the two decades, there have been over 16,000 divorces, there being 1,156 in 1886. In Ohio there were 26,367, and in Illinois, which carries off the palm, 36,672.

"Jesus says," the preacher continued, "that there is but one ground of divorce. In the States of the Union the causes of divorce are multitudinous, varying from 6 to 16 in the different States. Some have an omnibus clause, which allows the dissolu-

"What are the causes? First comes the multiplicity of divorce laws. There are no less than 46 different sets of laws on the subject. In New York the scriptural ground only is recognized. A man who cannot secure a divorce in one State may get it in another. Can you expect a strong moral growth in a combination of Commonwealths where there is such diversity and looseness in legislating on so great a moral question? Back of the diversity of laws less this fact: The literature and amusements of the country tend to weaken the marital vow.
