

THE BALTIMORE TO JOIN THE OLD NATIONAL LEAGUE. ANOTHER GREAT STROKE. Reddy Gallagher Wants to Fight Pat Farrell for $1,000.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

As anticipated yesterday in THE DISPATCH, Baltimore and Washington will consolidate as a League Club in Baltimore. There are many interesting rumors about baseball affairs.

THE BIG DEAL. Baltimore will take the place of Washington in the National League. The deal has not yet been completed, but enough is known of the details to warrant the opinion that the local management practically admits that the arrangement now in progress will be completed before another week has passed.

THE GREAT STROKE. Baltimore is undoubtedly a great baseball town, when one considers the fact that the proposed change such as contemplated will strip it. The League, though all its stars leave, will be a very big attraction with such new stars as Cincinnati, Brooklyn and Baltimore in its ranks.

HOLDING OFF FOR AWHILE. The Atlantic Association Winking at Baltimore and the Athletics. SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, November 25.—The unsettled condition of affairs has been rather a drawback to the Atlantic Association, still when the time comes for reorganization it is believed that the association will be placed upon a more solid foundation than ever before.

BALDWIN AT WORK IN ST. LOUIS. He Catches Two or Three Excellent Association Players. SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

ST. LOUIS, November 25.—Mark Baldwin arrived at the Lindell to-day, with several Brotherhood contracts in his inside pocket, which he spent the day in signing. He was telegraphed Joe Quinn Sunday that he would be down, but other business required his attention.

BEATIN SIGNS WITH CLEVELAND. Joe Sommer, of the Baltimore, Also Joins the Baltimore Brotherhood. SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

BALTIMORE, November 25.—McKean, the shortstop of the Cleveland club, who arrived here yesterday, has been quietly working on Brother Beatin, of the same club, and tonight signed him after much persuasion. The salary promised him is $5,000, and he received $500 in advance.

Tom Allen and Tom Kelly Think John L. Can Knock Out Jackson. ST. LOUIS, November 25.—The much-talked-of proposed battle between John L. Sullivan and Tom Kelly, the colored wonder, has brought out opinions from two old-time champions as to the probable outcome of a fight to a finish between the two most prominent sluggers of the present day.

John and Mary Quinn, of Penn Avenue, who were arrested on Sunday for keeping an illegal saloon, were yesterday committed by Alderman McKenna to the jail to await a hearing to-morrow.

between you and me, Dr. Forwood has hardly been long enough a Republican to ask for an appointment like the one he did ask for. It was long talk, lasting nearly an hour, to accomplish so little. It is true that Senator Robinson consented to and did accept a cigar from Mr. Chadwick, but he did not tell Mr. Chadwick that he thought he would make a good postmaster and that he was

THE WARRING FACTIONS MEET. But Despite the Pressure, They Fail to Harmonize Extremely Well. DELAWARE COUNTY'S FIGHT STILL ON.

THE DEFENSE RESTS. Nearly All the Testimony in the Cronin Case Now a Reporter Creates a Sensation and Lawyers Wrangle.

CHICAGO, November 25.—In the Cronin trial to-day a reporter created a sensation by remarking, "That's a lie," just when counsel were in the midst of a heated argument. The Court demanded to know who he did, but he refused to be named. He said he was talking to a reporter, and that he was not referring to what the lawyer was saying. Testimony was introduced contradicting the statement of Carlson that O'Sullivan on March 19 was heard to say that he had rented the cottage.

PHILADELPHIA, November 25.—The leaders of the warring factions of the Republican party in Delaware county were, today, brought together for a talk. They met, they talked, they reasoned and they argued, but they did not heal their enmities. Congressman Smedley Darlington, who has been for some time past a fiery leader, had suddenly turned peacemaker. "Jack" Robinson had whipped him in the fight for Senator. Darlington knocked Robinson having done so, he was anxious to harmonize existing differences, and to try to get his party into shape.

MR. POWDERLY'S VIEWS. He Makes Public Letters in Which He Charges Powderly with Dereliction of Duty—The Master Workman Bitterly Scored.

SCOTTSDALE, November 25.—Edward Callaghan makes public some spy letters which passed between himself and General Master Workman Powderly, and which throw some additional light upon the conspiracy cases now pending. During the Legislative session of 1887 a committee representing the Knights of Labor at Harrisburg to watch legislation. The members of this committee were paid $5 per day and expenses. When the report was made Callaghan wanted a copy of it, but he didn't get it. He says he got a boycott instead.

UNDER DATE OF MARCH 5, 1888, Master Workman Powderly stated that he had been informed on pretty good authority that he had been elected a member of the order. He stood high in the order did not want the reports published. He stated in this letter that if Powderly sanctioned such a course his name deserved to go down in obloquy and the order be scattered to the four winds of heaven. The letter closed with this sentence: "Should you close your eyes to this I will have no more sympathy with you or the order."

UNDER DATE OF MARCH 5, 1888, Master Workman Powderly stated that he was not aware that the reports of the committee had not been looked after, nor did he know that any member who stood high in the order did not want them published. Master Workman Powderly further stated: "Not by my alter ego in any way, but my name deserves to go down in obloquy and the order be scattered to the four winds of the universe. Now, since you have put the matter so strongly I ask you to give me your authority in writing to the order that I may have the order of my name published. This I ask under the seal of the General Master Workman."

CALLAGHAN REPLIED TO MASTER WORKMAN POWDERLY IN A LETTER DATED MARCH 5, 1888, stating that he would see him in a much better place and in a much better way. He would be there to see him in a much better way. He would be there to see him in a much better way.

HEARD TIMES FOR MINERS. Anthracite Coal Miners in a Desperate Struggle with the Owners. SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

POTTSVILLE, November 25.—The miners in the anthracite coal regions are in a deplorable frame of mind. Hard times are written everywhere. The large number of collieries that were shut down to stop coal production are still idle. Added to these are about all that were compelled to stop, owing to the floods. Probably 3,000 men and boys are now out of work. Those who are employed at the mines are working at a 6 per cent reduction. The severe effects of the late long winter are still felt. Many of the late long winter are still felt. Many of the late long winter are still felt.

TRIAL OF WILLIAM L. SCOTT. Hon. William L. Scott has given the contract to Mr. E. L. Felton, an artist and designer, to design a memorial to the men who died in the coal mines. The memorial will be a large structure, and will be a memorial to the men who died in the coal mines.
