The Philadelphia Gas Co. Sells Its

Magnificent Building.

THE AIRBRAKE THE PURCHASER.

What the Structure Will be Devoted to in the Future.

THE ALLEGHENY SITE WILL BE SOLD

The magnificent office building owned by the Philadelphia Company at the corner of Penn avenue and Ninth street has been sold to the Westinghouse Air Brake Company.

The sale was made at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the company, held in the office of George Westinghouse Wednesday afternoon. The meeting continued in session until after 6 o'clock. A DISPATCH reporter interviewed a number of the directors, but as the deal had not been completed at that time they would not say anything about it. Since then it has been developed that the only business transacted was the authorization of the sale of the

The property was purchased by the latter company as an investment. Some time ago THE DISPATCH published the fact that the directors of the Philadelphia Company were dissatisfied with the great scale upon which the building was being finished. At that meeting George Westinghouse, President of the company, said it was a good investment, and stated that he was ready at any time to take the building off their hands. He has accordingly done so by the late transfer.

A HANDSOME PILE. The erection of the building was begun about three years ago. It took about 2½ years to complete it. The building cost about $250,000 and is without doubt the finest office building in the city, if not in the State. It was erected by the Philadelphia Company, but the directors thought it cost too much money. It is nine stories in height, with two basements, fronts about 150 feet on Penn avenue and runs back on Ninth street to Spring alley. There are ning continually all day.

The floors are all tiled and the lower parts of the walls are marble. The two en-

The amount paid is a round $600,000.

THE INDIAN QUESTION DISCUSSED.

A Very Interesting Report From the National Indian Association.

The Pittsburg and Allegheny Auxiliary of the Indian Association held a regular meeting yesterday afternoon at No. 49

The plan to have regular monthly sermons preached for the awakening of interest in Indians will be instituted by Rev. W. J.

Robinson, at the First U. P. Church, Allegheny, next Sunday evening. Mrs. McClure, an Indian Territory missionary, sent a letter which was read. Thanks were returned for supplies sent from Pittsburg, and cheer-ful allusions were made to the progress of the work.

Mrs. John Gregg and Mrs. H. Strickler, the delegates to the National Indian Association, which convened at Newark, N. J., November 20, made their report. They spoke warmly of the Government's recent liberality in treating the Indian question. Congress had passed 25 acts last year. The recents of the association for the past year.

receipts of the association for the past year were $5,000 larger than in any previous 12 months. Honorable mention had been made of the Pittsburg and Allegheny auxiliaries, the former contributing $3,000 during the year. Reference was made in closing to the earnest spirit evinced by the workers in the cause. The meeting then adjourned.

Some of Long & Co.'s Iron Brought Ontside Prices at Sheriff's Sale.

ATTENDANCE AND BIDDING GOOD. Over $35,000 Worth Sold in Broken Lots in Less Than Five Hours.

A BID ON 550 TONS OF BAR REFUSED

The attendance at the sale of Long & Co.'s stock at Chartiers by the Sheriff yesterday was large and the competition spirited. Had there been a disposition to allow a slaughter all the stuff might have been closed out in a short time, but Attorney W. F. McCook constantly consulted Mr. Long as to prices, and when they did not suit he called a balt. Assignee McKelvey was also on hand looking after the interests of the Lawrence Bank, and kept close watch on the proceedings. There were some passages at arms between Mr. Mo-Cook and some of the bidders,

A rush was made to take in a 550 ton lot of merchant bar iron of various sizes, but it dragged more heavily than anything else There was considerable growling among bidders because they were not allowed to bid for the sizes they wanted and several who wanted certain sizes refused to bid at all. It was finally held over until next Tuesday on an offer of $1.75 per cwt. t was said there was some $60 iron in the

BARGAINS IN MOTIVE POWER. The fun began when four mules were offered. They were bargains for anyone who wanted that kind of motive power, and would have brought more if offered on Duquesne way. One big black fellow, standing 16 hands high, said to be 7 years old and able to draw three tons, was sold to Mr. McChesney for $85, and the rest went at $15, $10 and $12, respectively. These were somewhat sway-backed, knock-kneed, and with cornice on their hoofs, but very porter. Not foreign importations, sold serviceable animals, nevertheless. A big bay mare went for $26 and six sets of heavy harness, a wagon saddle and two earts, were all sold for $30, giving rise to the suspicion that they were bought in.

After the refusal to let the bar iron go, the sale lost its interest for a considerable num-ber of bidders, but some brokers and scrap iron dealers remained and a lot of old pipe, a blower, two barrels of mill grease, a pile of eoal 100 finished and some unfinished car axles, a small pile of turnings, a lottef rails and grate bars, plow points, old boiler plate, pine framing timber, muck scrap, etc., were ery was only 4,000 barrels persannum, when sold. A pile of hook iron was held over on a Mr. Hipley took hold of it (five years ago), pine framing timber, muck scrap, etc., were bid of $23 50; muck scrap brought $25 50, to-day it is putting out over 16,000 barrels, turnings 3/c and the finished car axles $1 95 while an extension of premises and facilities

RECEIPTS WEBE SATISFACTORY, The parties in charge of the sale expressed themselves well pleased with results. There was a fair sprinkling of lawyers present who sawed wood and said nothing, but were supposed to carry judgments in their chalcons' pockets. The remainder of the stock will be offered next Tuesday. Mr. McCook gave notice that it would be well for buyers to get their stuff off the ground before January 6, as the Dollar Savings Bank will take a shy at the take to state, before seeing Mr. Guthrie, what grace the bank might be disposed to allow yesterday's buyers.

Meantime some hollow-eyed people in Chartiers disconsolately ask all whom they think may have inside information, what the prospect of a rehabilitation is. These people will suffer more from the stopping of mill on that date, and he would not under-the mill than will the owners. UPON GALLACIAN IMMIGRATION

Consul Max Schumberg Sets a Controversy

at Rest. Mr. Max Schamberg takes exception to the expressions of opinion with regard to Gallacian immigration. He said yesterday: "There have been no disclosures of any great magnitude. What has been done by the Austrian Government is purely in accord with the immigration laws here. They don't allow anyone to leave the country without a passport, because they desire to avoid trouble with this country, and knowing as they do that, arriving here, they must show their ability to make that everything must be imported to be the best, while you will further share the satisfaction of having evidenced the truly cosmopolitan spirit of assisting a living, and, failing to do so, they are sent dustry. "The law with regard to passports is also atrict, for the purpose of preventing pauper immigration. In doubtful cases no passport is given unless their friends in America send evidence that they are able to maintain them. The Austrian Government permits no swindle, and they are more strict with regard to immigration than anything else." A $600,000 DEAL MADE THE EXECUTIVE BOARD OF T. C.

Has Examined the Evidence in the John M. Kelly Case-Evans' Statement The Executive Board of the Central Trades Council has held a special meeting to hear the evidence submitted by L. A. 6111 in support of its charges against John M. Kelly. The entire testimony was read, and it was decided to transmit it to the meeting of the council on Saturday evening. Mr. Joseph L. Evans asked permission to read a statement in the nature of a personal explanation. The statement commenced as follows:

I have noticed with some amusement, the attack of J. M. Kelly against certain people whom he charges with being a detriment to the labor movement. I ask, "How long has John M. Kelly been a member of a labor organization?" Just 25 months. How long have I been? I will compare working cards with you, John? Mr. Kelly assumes that he is now, or will be expelled from the Council. I do not know why he assumes this. I have no right to speak for the C. T. Council and I know he has no more right than I. He says that the old Trades Assembly had an unsayory record. He prevarioates. The record of the old Trades Assembly is an honorable one. Only once in its history did in make a mistake, that was in 1886, when it went into politics. The change of name was effected. into politics. The change of name was effected in '86, when the Chairman of the Committee of the Revision of the Law (John M. Kelly) said that the new title was a 'more high sounding name. Nothing was then said about "unsavory cook and some of the bidders, he insinuating rather broadly at times that there might be a combination among them to keep down prices. There were some bargains gotten in odd lots of scrap, but on the whole good prices were realized, many bidders seeming determined to have stock so long as they could get it at a price that, freight added, would lay it down at their works. It was stated that pig iron sold at an average of $17 05 per ton.

BIG FIRMS AS BUYERS.

The first lot of pig, all ore, was knocked down to A, M. Byers & Co., at $17 55, about 200 tons. Scott & McLean took in 1,500 tons of cinder, Girard, Isabella and Soho. J. H. Clemens took some Republic ore at $6 50, and J. W. Friend a lot at $7, loaded on cars. Mr. Friend, who was buying for the Clinton Iron and Steel Company, went for muck iron by bidding $30 first jump for it, and then Byers & Co. got some at the same price. Friend got 40 tons faggots at $27 80. J. B. Jones & Bro. got 20 tons horseshees, old, at $21 50 per ton.

Friend took a lot of Silica fire brick at $15, and a lot of common at various prices, the Friend took a lot of Silica fire brick at $15, and a lot of common at various prices, the whole being considered cheap. Klein, Logan & Co. took a pile of pick iron at 1 7-10 and the contained abuse of McGaw. He knew who tarnished the alleged facts to these papers. L. A. Sill brought the Jeannette case into that council because the members voted for it.

Mr. Evans concludes by referring Kelly for evidence as to his character in the labor movement to the columns of his paper up to last January, and says that if men are to be punished for sustaining a United States law the Central Trades Council intends to express its opinion.
