PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. NEW YORK, December 16 .- The members of the Baseball Players' League met at the Fifth Avenue Botel to-day for the purpose of completing their organization for next season. The number of ball players that usually attend the baseball meetings at the Fifth Avenue Hotel from time to time is usually great, but at to-day's meeting the number was small. The meeting was called to order at 12 o'clock, with the following delegates present: New York, E. A. Mo-Alpin and William Ewing; Boston, J. B. Hart and Dan Brouthers; Philadelphia, John Vanderslice and George Wood; Chicago, John Addison and Fred Pfeffer; Pittsburg. E. F. Beamer and Ed Hanlon; Cleveland, A. L. Johnson and "Cub" Stricker; Buffalo, M. Shire and Jack Rowe; Brooklyn, Edward F. Linton and Ed Andrews. The name agreed upon was "The Players' National League of Baseball Clubs." The object of the League is to encourage, foster and elevate baseball and to protect the mutual interests of professional baseball players and clubs, as well as to establish the baseball championship of the world.

A NUMBER OF CHANGES. There are quite a number of changes compared with the constitution of the National League. The yearly meetings of the board of directors are to be on the first Tuesday after scond Monday in December and March, the December meeting to take place in New York, and the March meeting elsewhere. The retary's salary is to be $3,200, with a bond of $35,000. He must be an outsider. New members must receive a three-fourths vote, and applications for membership must be filed 60 days before a meeting. Clubs may be expelled for failure to sign the constitution or to pay rearly dues, ($1,500) to pay salaries or visiting clubs' shares of the receipts, for deliberately failing to play a championship game, for selling beer or liquor, pool selling, open betting, playing with disqualified clubs, throwing games, playing on Sunday, for disbanding the organimation and failure to comply with obligations and contracts as a member of the League.
There is no pecuniary punishment or forfeits
for not complying with the rules.

Any member can be dismissed between one playing season and another, but no player can be transferred from one club to another without a written contract from him. The League be transferred from one club to another with-outs written contract from him. The League is to be managed by a central board of directors, which shall consist of stockholders who are not players, and players who are not stockholders. Two members of each club will form the committee. The agreement between clubs lasts for ten years, and was amended by the following resolution offered by Mr. Addison.

SALARIES GUARANTEED.

Resolved, That each member of this League be raised a fund of $40,000 to be contributed by the members of this League equally, share and share alike, to be deposited with the treasurer of the League as a guarantee for the performance by each member of this League of its contracts to pay salaries. of each club, aggregating $12,000

rearly, will be used to pay the salaries and other expenses of the League.

At the evening session an election for officers was beid. For President there was but one name mentioned—Colonel E. A. MoAlpin, of the New York Club. Al Johnson, of Cleveland was the company of the New York Club. land, was the nominator. John Addison, of Chicago, was elected Vice President, and Frank H. Brunell, of Chicago, Secretary and

A committee on playing rules and also to select the playing ball for 1890 is composed of Benjamin Hilt, of Philadelphia; Julian B. Hart, of Boston; William Ewing, of New York; John Ward of Brooklyn, and Fred Pfeffer, of Chicago. The Schedule Committee, drawn by lot, will comprise Brooklyn, Chicago, Cleveland, Buffalo and Philadelphia. A legal committee of three, to act in conjunction with the President, will be appointed to-day. The meeting then adjourned until 10 A. M. to-merrow

President Von der Ahe, while not openly declaring that he made overtures for admission into the Players' League, seemed to be very much concerned regarding the results of the meeting to-day, and he was apprised frequently at the Grand Central Hotel of every move made by that body.
