THE CITY ATTORNEY'S FULL OPINION

questions referred to him by the committee two weeks ago. After the reading of the paper the committee concluded that it would take them a week to digest it, and they adjourned to meet at 3 o'clock next Friday afternoon, when the situation, as defined by the opinion, will be discussed.

The tellowing is a washetim copy of City and they are the market and at the The following is a verbatim copy of City Attorney Moreland's opinion:

of the present bridges or to act with the city in building a new bridges.

In reply thereto I respectfully say: First, the right of the city of r'ittsburg to condemn and purchase bridges restablely upon the act of Assembly entitled, 'An act authorizing the city of Pittsburg to purchase and build bridges, and for that object to borrow money and issue bonds," approved May 18, 1878. Pamphlet laws (1874), page 312.

Briefly stated this act provides, in section I, that Councils shall have authority in January and February of each year, to levy and assess a tax, not exceeding 10 mills on the dollar, on all property in the city taxable for city, county and State purposes, to be named a city bridge tax, to be collected at the same time and in the same manner as other city taxes, and shall be appropriated to the purposes herein set forth and no other.

appropriated to the purposes herein set forth and no other.

In section 2 B. F. Jones, George R. White, John McDevitt, James Park, Jr., and Jeseph Dilworth are appointed a board of appraisers to appraise the capital stock of any bridge company within the corporate limits in the manner therein fully previded; and, also, declares "but should said city fail to pay the amount of money, by said report-required to be paid, within four months thereafter, then the whole proceedings shall be dismissed at the cost of the city of Pittsburg." FILLING VACANCIES.

Section 3 provides the manner in which va-cancies in said board shall be filled, namely, by the remaining members of the board."
Section 7 authorizes the city to demand and receive tolls for crossing any bridges purchased

Section 8 requires Councils to set a part of the moneys realized by the collection of tolls as a sinking fund for the extinguishment of the indelstedness created by virtue of this act and

Section 8 provides "when the loan created for the burchase or erection of the bridge or bridges as aforesaid shall have been entirely paid off, the said bridge or bridges shall become free, and no toll shall be charged for passing over the same. Provided, that the said Councils decided to collect tolls for the payment thereof."

tion 10 authorizes Councils to borrow a Section 10 auraorizes Councils to Borrow a sum not exceeding $1,00,000, to purchase or construct bridges, at such times and in such amounts as Councils may direct.

Section 11 authorizes the issue of coupon or registered bonds for the payment of such sums horrowed, bearing interest at not more than 7 per cent, payable at such times as Councils NOTICE—MEETING MAC Pittsburg Lodge No. 52, Nathmay direct.

Section 18 provides that the Councils of said Section 18 provides that the Councils of said city of Pittsburg shall annually, at the time appropriations are made, appropriate out of the taxes levied and collected by virtue hereof, a sum sufficient to pay the interest accrued are to accrue during the year upon outstanding bonds, and out of the said taxes and tells levied and collected by virtue hereof, a further sam of not less than 4 per cent of all bonds which may have been issued in pursuance of this act to be set apart as a sinking fulld for the extinguishment of said indebtedness.

Even the extensivishment of said indebtedness.

From the synopsis thus given I declare that the power to condemn, purchase or build bridges within the corporate limits, and to impose taxes for this purpose, is perfectly clear under the act. That the city is authorized to under the act. That the city is authorized to borrow money to an amount not exceeding $1,000,000 and issue interest-bearing bonds therefor. That the underlying purpose of the act is that the tolls fixed and collected from these bridges should be the primary source from or through which the bonded indebtedness so incurred should be paid. But if all the conditions of purchase or erection of such bridges shall be fully executed by the city, the bridges owned, just facto, become free, unless the Councils should by ordinance, prescribe the tolls to be charged and collected: and, if this shall be done, so soon as the tolls thus collected shall equal the indebtedness incurred, the bridges would become free. If the Councils shall not decide to impose tolls, then such indebtedness must be paid by the city.

The whole power of this act involves condemnation, purchase or erection by the city, no authority is given under the act conferring the right to enter into any other, or qualified or latted constrain with the awners of such authority is given under the act conferring the right to enter into any other, or qualified or limited contract with the owners of such bridges. Power is not given to make a con-tract with these bridge companies for leasing, hire, use, enjoyment or immunity of any kind. The act must be strictly followed, and that which is not expressly, or by necessary implica-tion conferred, is conclusively withheld.

The act, in its second section, fixes and names five persons as a board of Appraisers, and prowides how and by whom vacancies shall be filled. Four of these persons, namely, George R. White, John McDevitt, James Park, Jr., and Joseph Dilworth are dead. Mr. B. F. Jones alone survives. Should be resign or refuse to proceed in filling such vacancies, no further action whatever could be had in condemning or purchasing such bridges. The whole act, so far as it relates to the exercise of this particular power by the city, hangs upon the action of a Board of Appraisers of five persons. It is a special juris-diction, with special and clearly defined duties. Neither can be delegated. Neither the court, the city, nor the bridge company can supply or exercise this power. Assuming full action taken by the parties interested, its confirmation by the court then, should the city fail to pay the amount of mousy by said report required to be paid, within four months thereafter, the whole proceedings shall be dismissed, at the cost of the city. chole proceedings shall be dismissed, at the cet of the city. Hitherto I have only considered the force of Hitherto I have only considered the force of the act of Assembly bearing on your first question. The most difficult problem is raising the money. How can it be raised? Ordinarily the city cannot impose in any one year taxation sufficient to meet the full amount authorized to be expended, because the act limits the levy for each year to a sum not exceeding I0 mills on the dollar. It would, therefore, devolve upon the city, assuming it has the power, to issue its bonds for the appraised value of the bridges, after the amount shall have been fully determined, and raise the money on such bonds within four months after the confirmation of the appraisers' report, otherwise all the proceedings could be vacated.

Has the city the power to increase its indebtedness to the amount authorized by said act and issue bonds therefor?

debtedness to the amount authorized by said act and issue bonds therefor?

Section 8, article IX., of the Constitution of this State declares that the debt of municipalities "shall never exceed 7 per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein." The officers of this city furnish me a statement showing: Taxable valuation of property, 194,845,025; 7 per centum thereon would be, $13,603,151; city indebtedness, $18,203,251; amount for which indebtedness might be increased, $455,600. This last sum would be the full amount for which any authority can be found justifying any action by the city. But can even this amount be utilized by Councils?

A QUESTION FOR THE PEOPLE. Section 24 of the act of Assembly entitled page 300, declares "any increase of the interest-bearing bonded indebtedness of cities of the second class is hereby probabited, unless the of a majority of the qualified electors voting thereat at an election provided for by an ordinance of Councils."

It is therefore perfectly clear that nefore the city can issue these interest-bearing bonds, express authority must be conferred by the qualified electors at an election provided for that purpose.

The right of the city to erect bridges is expressly conferred by section t of the act afterment. The exercise is to be governed by what has previously appeared in this communica-

in the source of the content of the FREE BRIDGE LAW.

In said section 4. When bridges are an indispensable part of public improvements, or in opening or grading streets, the city may construct the same, charging the cost thereof upon properties benefited: but in building such bridges as those contemplated in your letter, they are a public improvement, and must be paid for by the public at large.

I know of no authority vested by law in the County Commissioners to bind the county of Allegheny to aid the city of Pittsburg in either purchasing or building bridges. Such power must be clearly and unequivocally conferred by the Legislature upon the County Commissioners before they could take any such action. I do not find it in the books.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM C. MORELAND,
City Attorney.

To the Committee on Free Bridges:

Gentlemen—In your communication of the 20th interpretation on the following strument of some kind at Hamilton's.

First, the right and power of the city of Fitssung to condemn and purchase the present bridges; second, the right of the city to erect bridges; third, the right of the city, in conjunction with other parties, to build bridges, the city to pay its proportion of the cost; fourth, is there any such power conferred on the County Commissioners to assist in the purchase of the present bridges or to act with the city in building a new bridge.

In reply thereto I respectfully say: First, the right of the city of fittsburg to condemn and purchase bridges resis solely upon the act and get first choice. P. C. C. C., Cor. Grant and Diamond sts., opp. new
