The Alderman Questioned Rather Severely by Mr. Burleigh.

WITNESSES HEARD IN DEFENSE.

Unusual Cruelty Stories as Grounds for Granting Divorces.

TWO WILLS THAT PUZZLED MR. CONNERS

The Evidence Taken in the Pennsylvania Salt Works Case.

Alderman Porter was heard yesterday in his own defense. He told a straight story, though cross-examined without gloves by Mr. Burleigh. A number of witnesses testified in favor of the Alderman, The Alderman Porter trial for conspiracy was continued before Judge Slagle in Criminal Court yesterday. Richard Allen, who was a deputy constable and did some work for Alderman Porter, testified that he served the warrant on Mrs. Clinton; was present during the hearing, and was sure that no money was paid. Charles A. Sullivan, Esq., testified as to having acted for Mrs. McMinniman, and received from her $45, out of which he paid the costs in the case. The witness flatly denied having acted as attorney for the Detective Agency.

Mrs. Celin Bosnier testified to having visited Mrs. Clinton often, and that she said she paid money to both Porter and Sheppard, yet she would often contradict herself. Mrs. Drum was a witness in the case against Mrs. McNulty, and saw her lay money on the 'Squire's desk to pay the costs, but the 'Squire refused to take it, saving that the case would have to go to court and the grand jury pass upon it.

John S. Bobb, Esq., testified that Alderman Porter had consulted him about a rehearing in the case of Maud Campbell, and that he advised the 'Squire that a rehearing could be had where the defendant was not in condition to make a proper defense at the first hearing.

Thomas Hogan testified that he thought he heard J. J. Jordan, Esq., say that the Porter gang had been indicted, and he would see that that they would get four years apiece, but he was not quite sure of it, as he paid little attention to it. William Desso, clerk for Alderman Porter, stated that he remembered the 'Squire telling Mrs. McMinniman to quit fortune telling and to embark in the grocery or some other

Alderman W. H. Porter was then called to the stand, and testified that he had been Alderman in the Fifteenth ward for 17 years. He had been commissioned by the court as a detective and to conduct a detective agency. The original purpose of the agency was to make a place for Hugh Daly, so that he might ferret out Allegheny Val-ley Railroad thieves. The only other detective specially engaged was a man named Perry Bailey; Sheppard and Krusa were deputy constables, while Packer was the regular constable of the ward. Tom Carney was about the office; he served subpostas, etc., but never executed a war-rant. The list of persons who testified that they had paid money for the settlement of cases was gone over, and a specific denial entered in each case. The only money received was as costs. The witness stated that there was only one case where he ever advised that a settlement be made, and that was in the case of a woman named Kate Cordell, who was poor and had a large family. Her husband was an old soldier and was paralyzed. He did advise the settlement of that case, purely on charitable grounds. The case against Mrs. Curry was

Mr. Porter—No. sir; she did not. Mr. Burleigh-You did not collect costs from the county in any of these cases cited?

Mr. Porter-No, sir; I did not. The reason was that at the time there was considerable newspaper talk about Aldermea collecting costs from the county, and I wanted to be careful. In the last 13 months I have not collected one-half of my costs. Mr. Burleigh-How much did you collect

Mr. Burleigh—Did you ever collect costs from both the prosecutor and the county?

Mr. Porter further testified that he had been a deputy Mayor for 11 years and for two years acting Mayor of the city. He was still on the stand when court adjourned. The case will go on to-day.

A Singular Probate Case Which Register Conner is Worried Over-Mrs. W. M. Grace Presented Two Wills of Her Hasband.

A hearing was had before Register Connor yesterday in the case of the contest of the will of William M. Grace, of Ingram. Mr. Grace died on August 12. Shortly afterward Attorney N. W. Schafer presented a will for probate, but as it was unsigned the Register refused to admit it. The document, which bequeathed all of Grace's property to his widow, Elizabeth Grace, was then taken away. Some time later Mrs. Grace herself appeared, bringing with her a duly signed document similar to the first, which she filed.

This will was evently like the first one

This will was exactly like the first one, the wording being the same and it was written on the same kind of form, the only difference being the addition of the signa-ture. Mrs. Grace explained that she had found the document in her husband's desk, where the other had been, and as it was properly signed, brought it in.

Mr. Grace's brother, however, filed a cavent, protesting against the probate of the paper, holding that it had not been signed by the deceased and was not his will. At contradicted all the statements made on the stand by Mrs. McMinnimae, and also duced by Mrs. Grace to show that the signature was that of her husband. They testi fied that it was similar to Mr. Grace's sig-nature, and they thought it was his. One of them, Wilson S. Smith, first said that he was familiar with Mr. Grace's handwriting, and the signature was not his. He afterward said that it looked something like Mr. Grace's signature, and then that he was Rsgister Conner continued the hearing until next Friday.

Then this last will and testament shall remain in full force, as above stated."

Some people suggest that if the courts would exercise more stringency in granting detective licenses, crooked Aldermen would not do so much mischief. Enjoy a Boom. The reports to Bradstreet's and R. G. Dun & Co., show that business is generally quiet. The prospects, however, are regarded as excellent. The future of coal and wool will depend on the weather. (SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH, NEW YORK, December 27 .- Special telegrams to Bradstrest's show that general trade has been much quieter even than is customary at this season in jobbing circles, owing to the observance of holiday cere-monies, to the prolonged mild weather and to the interference of stock-taking. In California there have been only six fair days within a month, and trade is much de-

The New York wholesale trade has been quiet. Retail trade during the holidays has been disappointing in furs, woolens and other lines of heavy goods. Country road-ways are heavy. The bank reserves increased again, but call loans at New York on Friday were quoted as high as 30 per cent, which served to check stock specula-tion. The stringency at this time is caused by preparations to meet this, demand on the banks.

SPECULATION NOT ACTIVE. Stock market transactions aggregate a very small amount. Many operators feel confident that after the opening of the new year Wall street will be in position to reflect the general prosperity of the country. Lackawanna advanced to-day after declaring a 13/ per cent quarterly dividend, and Reading is higher. There are 20,000 idle coal miners, and 20,000 more are to be cut down one-quarter as to working time and wages on January 1.

The coal companies cannot have received as much gross this year as last by $15,000,-000. Special returns to Bradstreet's show that the wool and woolen goods trades have suffered three times as heavy financial losses from failure in 1889 as they did in 1888. The total of such failures in the United States is 72 this year against 67 last year, and of liabilities $10,442,000 as compared with $3,637,000 in 1888, and of assets $7,032,000 against

The cross-examination, which was rather severe, was conducted by Mr. Burleigh.

Mr. Porter, however, gave prompt answers and was not tangled up very much.

Mr. Burleigh, the attorney for the Lanusacturing interests. A speculative tendency is apparent in crude iron in several Western markets. The possibility of an advance in freights, particularly on Southern iron, is also recognized. Western buyers have placed large orders with Southern turnace managers, to be delivered during the first half of the year. At Southern exporting points inquiries from foreign sources are being received for prices on crude iron.

Sales of 35,000 tons of steel ralis are reported, with the price steady at $35 East and $36 25 at Chicago. Bar iron is firm at 2 cents, and confidence in the future is in all branches of the iron and steel business undiminished.

A larger demand for copper having ensued, the syndicate has advanced take to 14% cents, with sales of 750 pounds, but lead is quiet at $3.87, and tin has been depressed at London by speculative realizing, being quoted at 21 cents here. In speculative markets, corn has dropped 2½ cents, with sales of 11,000,000 bushels. Wheat sales were but 9,000,000 bushels, but oats are nearly 1 cent lower. nearly 1 cent lower.

BUT LITTLE CHANGE.

Pork products are substantially un-changed, petroleum a quarter of a cent lower with insignificant trading, coffee a quarter higher with sales of only 160,000 bags, and cotton steady with small sales, though the exports again exceed those of the corresponding week last year, and the receipts are nearly the same. The belief in a very large yield grows stronger, but also a faith in large increase in foreign consump-tion.

Tight money continues here and at Philadelphia, and relaxation is not to be ex-pected now until after the January disbursements. The November exports exceeded imports by the unprecedented sum of $34,653,716, and at New York in December the exports show a decrease of 5.1 per cent, while imports increase 22 per cent, but even at this rate the excess of imports for the whole country would be over $10,000,-000. The treasury is so conducted as to pressed by continued rains. The movement of Indian corn and flour is quite heavy, and the lack of railway cars at Western distributing centers to meet demands made upon railway companies for freight room on old business remains as conspicuous as last week.

OUO. The treasury is so conducted as to sustain the money market as far as practicable, and $3,200,000 has been paid out in cross of receipts this week, but the movement of $70,000,000 cash from the treasury and the banks to the West and South since August 1 makes the present stringency by no means surprising.

A ROYAL GIFT FOR THE LADIES

We have about 250 Dore Bible Galleries left. It's hardly necessary to dwell on the artistic merit of the engravings in this book. Everybody knows that Dore was the greatest artist of his kind the world has ever known, and everybody knows that the Bible Gallery is the most prodigious of his grand works. Its regular 'publisher's price is $4 (and it's worth it), but
