

STATESMEN'S HOMES

Where Our Senators and Representatives Live.

DON CAMERON'S HOUSE.

Secretary Blaine's Residence on Henry Clay's Old Lot.

EX-SENATOR HENDERSON'S CASTLE

(CORRESPONDENCE OF THE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 28.

VERY one of the noted houses of Washington will be thrown open next week.

On the last of January the p o m o u s Washington houses will come out in his glorious livery and for three months there will be nothing but receptions, teas, calling and dinner-giving.

Year by year the number of statesmen owning houses in Washington increases. During the present season only 125 Representatives will live at hotels for Berry, of Arkansas, and Bannum, of North Carolina, are stopping at the Metropolitan. Frye is at the Hamilton, and Blodgett and private old Joe Brown, of Georgia, are at the National.

quarters to go back to his old historic board at the National and Metropolitan hotels.

It costs more at the hotels near the White House and Connecticut, Westbury, of Minnesota, and Squire, of Washington, who are at the Arlington, have board bills which run well up into the hundreds of dollars.

Senator Edmunds' Denon Keep. The dining room and its walls are hung with crimson tapestry, and the chairs are upholstered in red.

Edmunds' Denon Keep. In a block near by Senator Edmunds hides his exclusiveness in his iron-barred denon keep.

Just above it is Blaine's barn-like palace, for which the rich retired merchant, Mr. Don Cameron, paid $100,000.

CRIMINAL HYPNOTISM. Animal Magnetism a Valuable Aid to Successful Swindlers.

FASCINATING A RICH VICTIM. By the Exercise of a Subtle and Dominating Influence.

HOLDING UP A TRAIN BY MESMERISM. (WRITTEN FOR THE DISPATCH.)

"What do you think of hypnotism and crime?"

"I think there is an intimate relation between the two, in the sense that the former is a valuable adjunct to the latter."

The question was put to and answered by a lawyer of wide experience.

There was bedlam about him constantly. As a teacher he was competent; as an administrator he was striking.

At work that asserted itself successfully, for, if a content of strength had occurred, there was a dozen big fellows in the room.

A Habit Practiced That is Profitable, but Quite a Cruelty. American Agriculturist.

A curious case came before an English court for adjudication recently.

It is estimated by a Scientist to be About Six Trillion Tons.

Time was when the carbon and hydrogen which form practically the whole of our supply of fuel and the principal part of our food, were inorganic.

THE WORLD'S FUEL SUPPLY. It is estimated by a Scientist to be About Six Trillion Tons.
