Judge Bailey Denies Any Fraud in the Graff-Bennett Sale.

LYNCH DISCHARGED FOR LYING.

Funds of Long & Co.

Auditor Jacob H. Miller yesterday re-ported $173,000 as the amount distributed of form Report & Co's assets, Judge Bailey report as Auditor in the matter of the distribution of funds in the hands of J. H. Bailey, assignee of Graff, Bennett & Co. The amount distributed is $175,000. The firm, it is stated, on February 2, 1888, assigned to P. H. Miller, who afterward re- of larceny on oath of Inspector McAleese. signed, and ex-Judge Bailey was appointed assignee in his stead. The effects of the firm were the Clinton Iron Works, the Millvale Iron and Steel Works, and the new mill in Millvale borough. The property was cov. Millvale borough. The property was covered with a first mortgage given to the New York Lafe Insurance Company for $450,000 to secure bonds, payable in three years from 1888, and a second mortgage for $200,000 given a day later to Hay Walker, trustee. On July II, 1888, the assignee obtained permission from Court to sell the property, and on August 14 he reported that it had been sold to J. W. Friend, James M. Balley and James Rickands, trustees for certain of the creditors, for $25,000 in cash. The report of the sale, not being excepted to, was confirmed. The creditors represented by the trustees were the Benwood Iroa Company, Nimick & Co., Shoenberger & Co. Outhwaite & Co., Cochran & Sons, Spalding Iron Company, Minnesota Iron Company, Falcon Iron Works, Witherbees, Sherman & Co., J. W. Moore & Co., Pittsburg and Lake Eric Railroad Company, W. K. Hart & Co., F. N. Hostall & Co., J. W. Friend & Co., Carnegie, Phipps & Co., Limited, Carnegie Bros, Limited, Riverside Iron Works and E. P. Wilbur. The first account of the assignee, showing Millvale borough. The property was cov-

The first account of the assignee, showing $25,050, was filed, and turned over to a master for distribution. Exceptions were filed to it and it is still pending. THE SCHEDULE REPORTED. The second account of $185.461 50, not includ ing that in the first account, was referred to Auditor Miller to report'a schedule of distribution, and pass upon exceptions which were also filed to it. The auditor being of the opinion that the exceptions filed do not involve a diminu-tion of the funds for distribution, reported a chedule for the distribution of $175,000, less the expenses of the report, hearing, schedule, etc. The schedule shows the claimt to amount to $1,183,423 27 with interest of $2,689 43, maxing a total of $1,186,112 70. The expenses of the audit etc., amounted to $347, leaving for distribution in pro-rats proportion $174,458. The schedule included a dividend on the interest on the mortgages. The total number of claims was 194.

Was 194.

The largest creditors of the firm are: Carmerie Pros., $30,443,74; James Cochran, Sons & Co., $27,372,90; George H. & S. P. Ely, $62,820,35; F. W. Hoestott & Co., $50,755,87; J. W. Moore & Co., $50,460,44; P. H. Miller, trustee, $102,728,14; New York Liffe Insurance Company, $38,000; Pickands, Meather & Co., $47,894,51; Pittsburg and Lake Eric Railroad Company, $33,350,23; Spaulding Iron Company, $32,266,84; Witherbees, Sherman & Co., $32,447,67; Hay Walker, trustee, $65,000; E. P. Wilbur, $28,200, The auditor has not as yet passed upon the

The auditor has not as yet passed upon the exceptions to the assignee's account.

Ex. Judge J. H. Bailey, the assignee, yesterday filed his answer in the equity suit brought by the creditors outside of those in the syndicate for which Friend, J. M. Bailey and Pickente for which Friend, ands are trustees, in which it is alleged that the sale of the mill property was fraudulent and the price received inadequate.

PROOFS WANTED. Judge Bailey first demands proof that the A. esceking. Garrison Foundry Company, one of the plaintiffs, authorized the use of its name. He gurther denies any knowledge nor has he any reason to believe that there was any fraud per-betrated on any creditor. He believed it true will bring. Please come before noon. that the allegations as to the conduct and actions of the parties as stated in the bill were nuknews to the Court and the creditors, but he has no means of knowing how or when the plaintiffs heard of such alleged conduct and

It was with pleasure, he stated, that he sags that the defendant, James M. Bailey, is his brother, which allegation, he ascerts is scan-tialously injected for the purpose of imputing to him, without asserting, unworthy motives; and it is also true that before filing the bill the plaintiffs requested him to commence pro-ceedings to set aside the sale, but it is not true theredings to set aside the sale, but it is not frue that the plaintiffs at any time informed him of the matters and things complained of in the bill in such manner as would enable him to commence proceedings. The counsel of plaintiffs wrote him giving general allegations of the misconduct of the purchases, and upon such general allegations demanded that he immediately commence proceedings, and requested him to answer in 25 hours if he would do so. He replied that when he had seen the witnesses, whom they claimed to have, but did not name, and had taken the advice of counsel, he would be prepared to make an answer. sel, he would be prepared to make an answer. They choose to regard this reply as a refusal, and it is their only warrant for the allegation of refusal on his part.

CAUGHT HIM LYING.

Judge Single Discharges a Juror for Telling a Story. One of the jurors in the Criminal Court re beived severe rebuke from Judge Slagle yesterday, for not telling the truth to the Court, The joror in question, named Lynch, a resident of Second avenue, did not answer when the roll was called at the opening of court yesterday morning. He came into court about 11 o'clock, and was then asked what excuse he had for being late. He replied that he had been sitting up with his sick child until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning, and had, as a result, overslept himself. Judge Slagle made no comment, and the juror took his place.

self. Judge Siagle made no comment, and the juror took his place.

His Honor, however, called up Tipstave Pender and sent him out to ascertain if the juror's story was correct. In the afternoon Pender reported, and told the Judge that he had been to Lynch's house, and he not only did not have a sick child, but that he had not been home for several weeks.

Upon this Judge Stagle called up Lynch and informed him of what be had learned. He said: "You have told me a story about the chuse of your lateness, and we have no further use for you as a juror. You are discharred use for you as a juror. You are discharged from the jury and can go."

Lyach immediately disappeared from the

Didn't Know His Age.

There were five men before Judge Slagle esterday who wished to become citizens of the country, Robert Kemp, Patrick Howard, Samuel McEwen. Frank Miltenberger and Banuel McEwen. Frank Miltenberger and Benest W, Histed. The latter could not tell his age, not knowing even "about" how old he was. He told the Judge he had come here from Brighton, England, when about 17 years old. At least he "guessed" he was about that, and had "knocked" about the country ever since. That was in 1881, as near as he could remember. He is now a photographer doing husmess in this city. He was vouched for by a friend, and was given his papers, as were the other four.

LATE NEWS IN BRIEF

CLAIM THE TAX IS LEGAL. The County Commissioners Answer the

Savings Banks. The County Commissioners yesterday filed their answers to the equity suits brought by the Dollar Savings Bank, the Germania Savings The Commissioners Claim the Tax on Savings Bank, the Germania Savings Bank and Silas N. Benham to resist the imposition of the 3-mill tax on the deposits of the banks.

The allegation made was that the act of June 1, 1889, did not contemplate taxing bank deposits. The County Commissioners in their answer assert that the act fully covers this point and is constitutional, and ask that the suits be dismissed.
