

POPULAR PREACHERS

Who believe that Legitimate In and Out Door Preaching is the only way to give their souls to the subject in...

TO-MORROW'S DISPATCH

Will Contain Twenty Pages. IN IT WILL BE FOUND...

- The Second installment of RIDER HAGGARD'S GREAT STORY, SEATRACE. The opening chapter of COME FORTH, A BIBLICAL ROMANCE of the time of Christ, by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps...

A FEW OF THE CONTRIBUTORS:

- Rider Haggard, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Shirley Darr, Frank G. Carpenter, Mrs. Partington, Hon. Henry Hall, Charles Bell, Henry C. Maines, Beattie Bradlee, Rev. George Holmes, T. S. Bowers...

AND ALL THE NEWS FROM EVERY PART OF THE WORLD.

The Dispatch.

ESTABLISHED FEBRUARY 8, 1868. Vol. 46, No. 28. Entered at Pittsburgh Postoffice, November 14, 1887, as second-class matter.

Business Office—77 and 99 Fifth Avenue, New York. News Rooms and Publishing Office—75, 77 and 99 Broadway Street.

TERMS OF THE DISPATCH. POSTAGE FREE IN THE UNITED STATES. DAILY DISPATCH, One Year, $10.00. DAILY DISPATCH, One Month, $1.00.

ADVERTISING RATES. THE DISPATCH is delivered by carriers at 10 cents per week, or including Sunday edition, at 12 cents per week.

PITTSBURGH, SATURDAY, JAN. 11, 1890.

ONCE MORE, THE LIBRARY.

The considerable report already made by the Allegheny City Property Committee in abandoning its first proposal to take whole charge of the Carnegie Library leads to the belief that notwithstanding its first seemingly obstinate stand, the committee is really disposed to provide the best plan of management according to its lights. This being so it will have all the light possible and the best light at hand. The communication, therefore, from Dr. M. E. Riddle, of the Allegheny Theological Seminary, in our columns this morning, is of special interest, because it is well known that there are few if any more competent authorities on the use of a great library than the writer.

Dr. Riddle strikes the keynote of this question when he points out that the function of a great library in these days is to serve as a popular university; that libraries to be successful must be open to all, and must be organized selections for their specific purposes, where everyone can find a competent authority in the field of his special interest.

It is only a question of time when the function of a great library in these days is to serve as a popular university; that libraries to be successful must be open to all, and must be organized selections for their specific purposes, where everyone can find a competent authority in the field of his special interest.

It is only a question of time when the function of a great library in these days is to serve as a popular university; that libraries to be successful must be open to all, and must be organized selections for their specific purposes, where everyone can find a competent authority in the field of his special interest.

It is only a question of time when the function of a great library in these days is to serve as a popular university; that libraries to be successful must be open to all, and must be organized selections for their specific purposes, where everyone can find a competent authority in the field of his special interest.

It is only a question of time when the function of a great library in these days is to serve as a popular university; that libraries to be successful must be open to all, and must be organized selections for their specific purposes, where everyone can find a competent authority in the field of his special interest.

It is only a question of time when the function of a great library in these days is to serve as a popular university; that libraries to be successful must be open to all, and must be organized selections for their specific purposes, where everyone can find a competent authority in the field of his special interest.

It is only a question of time when the function of a great library in these days is to serve as a popular university; that libraries to be successful must be open to all, and must be organized selections for their specific purposes, where everyone can find a competent authority in the field of his special interest.

It is only a question of time when the function of a great library in these days is to serve as a popular university; that libraries to be successful must be open to all, and must be organized selections for their specific purposes, where everyone can find a competent authority in the field of his special interest.

It is only a question of time when the function of a great library in these days is to serve as a popular university; that libraries to be successful must be open to all, and must be organized selections for their specific purposes, where everyone can find a competent authority in the field of his special interest.

It is only a question of time when the function of a great library in these days is to serve as a popular university; that libraries to be successful must be open to all, and must be organized selections for their specific purposes, where everyone can find a competent authority in the field of his special interest.

margarine served with a meal is a sale in the sense that the law of 1885 makes punishable—a not more interesting as another would lead us to think that distinct and that 30 years would see it reconstructed with fine buildings and streets capable of doing business. The location of the district make the natural quarter for wholesale trade. It has been presented from skimming that character by the anticipated observations in the street and structures. Is not the present a favorable time to modernize it and give it the full benefit of its capabilities?

It is evident that Judge Paxson is not a patron of the lunch counter. His dictum points to glutinous as a last resource. Suppose a man with a quarter of a dollar and ten minutes to spare orders a twenty-cent meal. The waiter, cook and other operators are slow. The ten minutes are gone when the meal arrives. Has not that man the right to get the roast beef in his coat pocket, the potatoes in his vest and the coffee in his hat, if he choose? He pays twenty cents just the same, whatever vehicle he provides for the food's removal.

Does Judge Paxson wish to enforce the covert claim of the restaurateur to the remnants of the meals served? We know how the ingenious cook can conjure with the debris of dinner. Entrées of all sorts, soups and puddings, are raised from the ruins of honest joints. The awful, the unfathomable, the national emblem, restaurant hash, has found its apotheosis in the Supreme Court.

THE SUCCESS OF BRICE IN THE DEMOCRATIC caucus is, of course, making a great deal of talk in the city. It is pertinent to remark that something which has happened contemporaneously makes the contrast between the two parties, that what it does is to give a great kick to elect one Senator by the Democrats in Ohio, the Republicans in Montana elect two in their without even creating a party rank.

THE DIVERGENCE OF OPINION between the physicians is brought out in a rather unique form. But it is neither inexplicable, nor inconsistent with the general value and intelligence of medical science. The fact is, there is some basis of fact for most, if not all, the views expressed. The physician who has given his attention to one branch of the subject, may be permitted to look upon it rather differently than one who has studied with equal care and intelligence, another branch. It is the old fable of the two sides of the shield referred to modern times.

PRIVATE JUDGMENT, therefore, can accept the dictum that there are diseases peculiar to cold winters and others which arise more frequently in warm ones. If we have the grip, as a result of this weather, we escape the less engrossing but more enduring pang of the chills. Malaria may be generated, but bronchitis and pneumonia are abated. The divergence in opinions may also permit us to turn from the somewhat depressing consideration of the ailments which follow the different temperatures, to the compensations that attach to each.

ON THE whole, the study of the subject will lead to the conclusion that we had better take the weather as it comes, adopt the evident precautions that are needed when it blows warm and when it blows cold, and look at the bright side of both hard and soft winters. When we determine to make the best of anything, it generally turns out that the best is very good.

BLAST FURNACE CASUALTIES. The fatal accident at the Lucy Furnace yesterday, by which one man was killed and another fatally injured, was caused by one of those casualties which from time to time occur in the blast furnace and which human precaution has not yet learned how to avert. The "unfolding" or bridging of the charge in a blast furnace, and its subsequent "slip" or fall, have been diminished in frequency by the modern improvements in that industry; but that accident has not yet mastered the means of preventing them together, as shown by the casualties which took the life of W. B. Jones at Braddock, as well as that of yesterday. If the secret of entirely avoiding such untoward developments of the iron-smelting industry could be disclosed, it would do much to lessen the casualties which attend the physical hazards of the business. Until that is done, it is of little avail to inquire for a cause of the unpleasant frequency of these accidents of late.

THE NEWEST RAILROAD. The report that Mr. Carnegie is forming an alliance of his railway and manufacturing interests with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, is thoroughly exploded by statements from authoritative sources, including Mr. Carnegie himself. That part of the rumor arising out of the acquisition of the Valley road by the Baltimore and Ohio may, therefore, be regarded as the limbo of dead and gone reports of new railway connections.

There are, however, strong indications that the transaction may have an intimate relation to the financial column of yesterday's DISPATCH, that in the extension of business new quarters would have to be sought in the direction of the Point, deserves the consideration of the property owners of that district. A proper comprehension of the possibilities that can result from an intelligent and progressive policy on the downtown streets, ought to produce the most marked changes in that section.

THE HIGH PRICES recently paid for property on the leading business streets give the best measure of the pressure of trade on the streets which sell the first-class business. The extension so far has been mainly along Penn avenue, with sporadic attempts to go above Smithfield street checked by the barrier of the hump. At the same time, a vast amount of property below Market and Sixth streets has comparatively recently been sold, and the same is true of a considerable portion of First, Second and Third avenues above Market. The reason for this is not hard to discover. It is not for lack of central location, but simply because the buildings are unsuited to modern trade, and the streets laid out in the last century are so narrow as to discourage rebuilding. For any adaptation to modern needs this entire district will have to be rebuilt. With the reconstruction in view an intelligent and fore-sighted policy of widening the streets would be comparatively easy of fulfillment. It is almost susceptible of mathematical

THE STROLLER'S STORIES.

Old Opinions and Quaint Observations Gathered from Corridors.

COLONEL SAMUEL B. DICK, of Meadville, is at the Hotel Adelphi. He is a ex-member of Congress, a prominent banker of his city, and a gentleman who has not yet lost his interest in politics. Coming from Senator George W. Delamater's house, it was supposed that Mr. Carnegie would have information in regard to the progress of the gubernatorial campaign. He said to the stroller that he was the present candidate, but was watching it only as a Republican. He would like to see the party nominate a candidate who would be representative of the people, and be worthy of the office by reason of his intellectuality.

THEODORE KOLICHER, of New York, is at the Duquesne. He represents a big ice machine company in New York which is doing a big business in this city at present. Mr. Kolicher is a Russian, the master of five modern languages, and a gentleman bound to succeed in any undertaking. His company, he says, has found Pittsburgh, particularly during this season, to be a very profitable field for their machinery. He will remain here five or six days, but at the present time in conference with the members of a prominent ice company.

IT SEEMS TO BE MUCH APPREHENSION among the people as to the manner in which the capacity of an ice machine is measured. It is a matter of fact that the machine which can make that many tons of ice in 24 hours, that one which could melt that much within the same period of time. Why this manner of measuring capacity has been adopted even Mr. Kolicher is unable to explain. It is a fact, however, that the city of New York, Chicago and Franklin county, Pa. As a matter of fact, a 5-ton machine will make only 40 tons of ice per day.

THEIR chief demand for ice machines in this city comes from the brewers. The plants which are being erected here for the production of beer, they do not make ice. They are called refrigerating machines. They make simply refrigerating machines, which are a great kick to elect one Senator by the Democrats in Ohio, the Republicans in Montana elect two in their without even creating a party rank.

THE air within the pipes is so cold that a coating of ice is formed on the interior of the pipes. This cools the air in the room and the temperature is thus kept permanently low without the use of any ice at all.

MACHINES made and set up by the firm which Mr. Kolicher represents are now being erected in many localities. Winter Brothers secured one last spring. Eberhardt & Ober, on the Northside, are setting up the largest capacity machine in the city. W. W. Wright & Co. are having erected two 5-ton machines. While neither alone is as large as that of their Northside rival, its plants will exceed that of any other here.

THEY other foreman, while Magistrate Gripp was in the city, called him up by telephone from the City Hall. The magistrate did not know whence the call came, but he hurried to the telephone room. The caller said that he was a man named "How old are you?" "Thirty-three last October," "That's false," "It's true! Who are you?" "I am a representative of the Allegheny Theological Seminary Association. You have misrepresented your age, and you, a representative of the Allegheny Theological Seminary Association, will see you to-morrow." "The hell rank of you and the magistrate returned to his desk somewhat hurried. Five minutes later he received a card from the same man, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old, and you are yelling several times, the Alderman again returned to his desk. Only ten minutes later he received another card, which said: "How old are you?" "Why," was the reply, "I am thirty-three." "What's the matter with you?" "Why, the matter with me is that I am thirty years old,