NEW YORK, January 13 .- A breach of promise of marriage case, in which the damges are put down at $100,000, was begun before Judge Ingraham in the Supreme Court here to-day. The plaintiff is Miss Caroline J. Cammerer, the 23-year-old daughter of Robert Cammerer, of Phil-sdelphia. She is handsome, and interests are being looked after by Daniel Dougherty. The defendant is Clemens Muller, a retired real estate dealer, a man of family who lives on Sixtyfirst street, near Third avenue. He is about 60 years of age, and a prominent member of the Lederkranz Society. Colonel Robert

G. Ingersoll is his counsel.

The plaintiff testified that she was born in moderate circumstances, but at the age of 10 years she developed great musical talent, and studied music and the languages

HER STORY OF THE COURTSHIP. She met the defendant at Philadelphia in October, 1885, for the first time. When she came to New York he met her on her arrival and escorted her to the house of her rival and excorted her to the house of her friend, Mrs. Farley, on Twenty-second street. They went to various places of amusement, and went out to walk together. During a ramble in Central Park, he proposed to her. Referring to the difference in their ages, he said his heart was still young, and that he had an income of $18,000 a year and would keep her in lux-

Frunk Wilson Had a Charley Bates to Steal

Wipes for Him. Frank Wilson, a colored man, was committed to jail yesterday by Alderman Mc-Kenna in default of $1,000 bail on charges of larceny and receiving stolen goods. Wilson, it is alleged, was profiting by the thefts of a small boy, who stole a quantity of furnishing goods from Hannoch's store. After suspicion had fallen on Wilson a constable went to his house in Allegheny and discovered the stolen goods. He was held to be responsible for the whole transaction, as the little boy was too young to do otherwise than as he was directed.

Not Wanted Where He Does Business Samuel M. McIlwaine, the proprietor of a grease manufacturing plant on Spring Garden run, Allegheny, yesterday waived a bearing before Alderman Reilly and entered bail for court on a charge of maintaining a nulsance. The information was made by John Herchenrother, who claimed that the establishment was not a proper one for that location.

The Democrats of the State came | An Itemized Statement Submitted by thousands from every section, and inclement weather could not dampen their enthusissm. At 10 o'clock this morning Governor-elect Campbell was escorted to the Neil by a joint committee of the Senate and House. He was unaccompanied by Mrs. Campbell, who is still sick at her home in Hamilton. At 11:40 Mr. Campbell was escorted to the State House, and at noon the stand were the Governor, the Governor of Pittsburg was second in line, and presented a fine appearance. In his inaugural address, among other subjects of interest, Mr. Campbell said:

The perplaxing problem confronting you is to decide what form of government to substitute in the city of Cincinnati for that now enforced, which has proven faulty in many respects other than those arising from Gubernatorial interference. In that city exist endiess divisions of authority, and consequent lack of responsibility, resulting, naturally, in extravagant and incompetent rule. Apparently no attempt has been made to construct a homogeneous form of government. Offices and boards have been created by patchwork from year to year, until they aggregate more than a score of independent departments. They are appointed at haphazard by the Mayor, Governor, the various courts, or by Council. In justice to the people of that city, as well as in the furtherance of sound political principles, you should carefully consider, mature and formulate a charter which will give them an opportunity to manage their affairs through officers chosen solely by themselves.

The Board of Public Affairs, now an appointive board, should be so constituted that

There is but little doubt that under the quickened public spirit aroused by existing conditions, the people of Cincinnati would rise to the occasion, and govern themselves in a better and more houest manner than can possibly be attained by the interference of any outside authority, however conscientiously exerference in their ages, he said his heart was still young, and that he had an income of $18,000 a year and would keep her in luxury. She gave him no decision then, but on the 17th of December, 1885, at Philadelphia, he again proposed, and she accepted him.

Soon afterward she learned that he had a wife in an anyium. In answer to her demand for an explanation he said he would get a divorce, and later on himself and his counsel assured her father that the divorce had been obtained in Indians. She offered to release him from his engagement, but he went on to Philadelphia and pressed her to become his wife more ardently than ever.

In July of 1886, at Rhinebeck, he introduced her as his betrothed, and soon afterward they came to New York to make purchased sof the weedding. He so urged her to hasten the ceremony that she became ill, and when she recovered he proposed a mock marriage, which she indignantly rejected.

He never returned to see her since then, though he wrote to her several times. These are the allegations of the plaintiff. The defendant denies them in toto. Colonel lugersell asked for a dismissal of the case on the ground that she relieved him from his engagement. The motion was denied and there are will be continued to-morrow.

A Peculia: State of Things in a Bankrupi Firm's Affairs. CHICAGO, Sanuary 13 .- The examination into the assets of B. Deimel & Bros., the involvent furniture dealers, was taken up this morning. A most peculiar state of affairs, which Attorney Mayer designates "a stupendous fraud," was brought out. Altogether about $120,000 worth of assets were discovered, and an order of court will be asked, restraining several holders from dis-posing of any of the goods until further or-ders. The discovery increases the tangible assets to about $200,000 but it is said that the liabilities have also increased, and are now supposed to be $500,000 instead of $300,-000, as at first related.

It is claimed that the firm has been prac tically insolvent since last July and has continued to purchase goods on which they have borrowed money and for which they

Something to Think About. In these times of business prosperity many persons are accumulating wealth, and men of families are naturally thinking of making provision for their families. In making their wills an important question to decide is in regard to the executor or trustee. Many decide upon a person, and thereby not infrequently impose a duty on friends that they do not like to refuse and yet would gladly be relieved of the responsibility and care. A better way would be to put the estate or trust in the care of a trust inetitu-tion, as The Safe Deposit Company of Pitts-burg, expressly devoted to such business. We sak our readers to stop and think about We ask our readers to stop and think about this matter of an impersonal administration of estates and trusts. We think a careful consideration of this question will convince persons that it is the true method. What are some of the manifest advantages of an impersonal administration? One is permanence. In the case of a personal administration there is always the contingency of death or disability caused by sickness of the personal the ground, a distance of 15 feet. Rer, to recover on ex-Sheriff Gray's bond an alleged shortage in his accounts during his term as Sheriff, covering the years 1885-6-7.

The bond is in the sum of $60,000, and the shortage claimed amounts to $11,784 68. The statement in the suit was sworn to by County Commissioner Mercer. It sets forth that the indebtedness arises on the official bond of ex-Sheriff Gray, with David Coon, N. S. Brokaw and Dr. T. A. Rex as suretnes, dated December 27, 1884. The amount, #11,784 68—is claimed with interest from January 1, 1888. This amount, it is stated, he has neglected and refused to account for and pay over to the

THE ITEMIZED STATEMENT. The following is an itemized statement given of Sheriff Gray's indebtedness to the county at the expiration of his term, January 1, 1888: the expiration of his term, January 1, 1888; Sheriff's fees and mileage, $3,088 68; county tax on Sheriff's docket, $1,399 33; Prothomotary's fees on Sheriff's docket, $1,071; county taxes on delinquent tax lien docket, $381 87; Prothomotary's fees on same, $127 75; Sheriff's fees and mileage on same, $355 23; advertising on same, $342 50; county tax on municipal tax lien docket, $18 72; Prothomotary's fees on same, $342 50; county tax on municipal tax lien docket, $18 72; Prothomotary's fees on same, $365 20; advertising on same, $395; verdict fees, $234; collections on processes to January 1, 1888, $3,384 56; Prothomotary's fees and mileage on Sheriff's fees and mileage on same, $1,200 Be; advertising on same, $76; fines, $6,521. Total, $18,449 50.

This has been reduced by payment of the following: Sheriff's fees and mileage, $1,403; salary for December, 1887, $559 18; cash fees, $1,509 13; cash $2,894 56; total, $6,056 82; leaving a palance due of $11,764 62.

WHY THE DELAY OCCUREED.

WHY THE DELAY OCCURRED. The delay in bringing the action, it was stated yesterday, was due to a desire to allow ex-Sheriff Gray to make up the shortage. Some of it he did make good, paying the amounts stated at different times, but the balance not being forthcoming the suit was entered against the bondsmen. Two of these, it was asserted, had been willing to pay the money, but the third did not appear willing to pay his share, and a settlement in that manner was pre-
