Manager Hanlon Defends High Salaries for Players.

BENEFITS POINTED OUT.

Herron Hill Gun Club Members Will Tackle the Glenwood Club.

THE SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

Manager Hanlon makes an interesting defense of high salaries for ball players. He shows many resultant benefits. The Herron Hill Gun Club members are willing to meet the Glenwood challengers to arrange a match. The Chicago stable of race horses will consolidate with other two stables.

Becently there has been considerable discussion regarding the right and wrong of high salaries of baseball players. The magnates and many others have very strongly contended that high salaries were injuring the national game and would ultimately ruin it. Last evening Manager Hanlon expressed himself very pointedly on the matter. During a conversation with the writer

"Now I speak as a club stockholder, manager and player, and I unhesitatingly say that high salaries will not ruin the game, but will have quite a contrary effect. SOME STRONG FACIS.

Had I not the facts at hand to prove this I would not make the statement, because I know that many people will dispute it. I will cite the late Detroit League club as an instance in support of what I state. Before that club secured the famous big four it lost $10,000 or $15,000. I prevailed on Mr. Stearns to engage first-class men at the highest prices, and I argued that that was the only means of making the club a success. After considerable per sussion Mr. Stearns commissioned me to try and get the big four, and I got them for $7,000. Their salarles were big, but as a result of their first season's engagement, the club took a prominent position, and after paying every-thing, cleared $15,000 or $20,000. The next year the club won the League championship, and

A FEW MISFORTUNES.

The third year Hardie Richardson and myself were disabled, Thompson, White and Brouthers were sick for periods ranging from six weeks to three months, and as a result the club lost about $5,000. But the directors sold out and declared a profit of about $55,000. Now, it was high salaries for good men that brought about this success. I got that team together, and the directors gave me $500 for my work. It was undoubtedly the greatest drawing club I have known. Well, I think facts of this kind entirely settle the notion that high salaries ruin the game. The public matter a good actuals are running and will pay wants a good article every time, and will pay for it. To produce good articles demands a plucky expenditure of money, and this is the only way that a good club can be kept on the field, and it will be a successful club."
Speaking of the new local club, Manager Hanlon said: "I think that our club will open the season at home. I am certainly going to do my best to have it that way and have Chicago open the season with us. I think the Eastern cluis will open in the East and the Western clubs in the West, and if this is so Cleveland and Buffalo are near to each other and they will likely open togethe. will likely open togethe ...

WANTS A GREAT OPENING. Of course this is only a surmise, but I am going to make efforts to have the home schedworth $3,500 for the season he, Kelly, is worth $3,500 for the season he, Kelly, is worth now; at any rate it is so near completion that we can figure somewhat definitely on it. Carroll will be at first; Dunlap or his equal at second; Corcorau, short; Kuchne, third; Fields, left; Hanlon, center, and Visner right. Gumbert, Galvin, Staley, Maul and Morris will be our pitchers; Quinn and Hurley our regular catchers. Gumbert and Maul are excellent fielders, and they may occasionally relieve Fields and Visner, who will catch now and then. I am going East this week and I may try and sign Shannon to play second base. He is an excellent player, and if I can get him the Philadelphia club can have Dunlap. I also want another good man who can use the stick, as I am determined to have a heavy hatting team, no matter what the consequences may be. I think Chicago will give us Van Haltren it he will come here, and if he won't we will try for 'Tip' O'Neill."

Worth $3,500 for the season he, Kelly, is worth $3,500 for the season he, Kelly, is worth $3,500.

MUTRIE'S ADDRESS.

Truthful Jeems Says a Few Words to the Public.

NEW YORK, January 19 .- Manager Jim Mutrie, of the New York Baseball Club, is out in an address to the public. Jim recites the story of his by no means meager triumphs to the baseball line, including the successive championships won by the Giants. Then says he: "I acknowledge that I had to have the earnest cooperation of my players to do this, but, as they have acknowledged, they were satisfactorily other than the munagement of the New York club had the selection of this galaxy of players.

Well, I don't think they will succeed; however, under any and all circumstances, there will be a team to represent New York City in the National League at the old stand, capable of putting up as good an article of baseball and able to hold its own with any." to hold its own with any."

BUCK IN GOOD SPIRITS.

The Great Catcher Receives an Encouraging Letter From Keefe. Buck Ewing was very jubilant yesterday over a letter which he received the previous day from Tim Keefe. The great pitcher was very confident that the Players would triumph in the test case with the League, and he based his calculations upon a remark dropped by Judge O'Brien. The Judge is reported to have said "that he never knew before that men were bartered for and sold like so many sheep, and that they should have brought the matter to the at-they should have brought the matter to the attention of the courts long ago." Keefe claims that there isn't a possible chance of the Pinyers losing the case.

"I never had any doubt but that we would win," said Ewing, "but what Keefe writes me gives me double assurance. Work on the Brotherhood grounds in New York will be started at once. I feel very much encouraged over the progress made by the Players' League within the past few days, and think we are

WASHINGTON, January 19.-President Young is busily engaged at present making prepara-tions for the adjourned annual Lefgue meeting which will take place on January 28, with a view to praviding material for the Negotiations ommittee. 80 applications from young players who want to go into the League this season, and these papers will have to be acted upon by the magnates when they come together. This meeting was made necessary by the action of the Brotherhood at the close of last season, thereby preventing any definite action being taken on a number of details, among which may be numbered the status of the League.

"By the time we are called together," said President Young, "we will know just how matters will shape themselves for the season, and especially as to the legality of our contracts. It is not likely that we will get a decision in the injunction suit against Ward before Monday of next week, and this will have an important pearing on our future actions."

The chances now are that the horses belonging to this combination will race only in the West the coming season, and not make the usual Eastern trip. There will be racing enough from present indications to keep them busy in this section.

The Herron Hill Gun Club Will Shoot the Glenwood Club Members.

In answer to the challenge of the Glenwood Sportsman's Club which appeared in yesterday's DISPATCH Mr. E. E. Shaner, of the Herron Hill Gun Club, last evening said:

"Why, certainly we will shoot the Glenwood Club members if they will agree to anything like reasonable rules. The Bogardus rules are old and are even now discarded by Mr. Bogardus himself. We will shoot under the National Association and surely there can be no objection to them. We will make a match for either five or ten men on a side and at any either five or ten men on a side and at any number of birds from 10 to 25 each for $200 a side. Five or ten birds each seems too few. However, we will have a meeting to-morrow and fix a time and place to meet the Glenwood

He is looking splendid, and says that he never felt better in his life. He has trained down to 250 pounds, and says that he will reduce ten pounds more. Vaquelin is a big, burly blacksmith, with plenty of muscle but very little science. He has had several battles, all of which he has won. Kilrain was introduced to him at the race track, and seemed a little bit dumbfounded at the build of his prospective antagonist. The fight will come off on February 2.

Andy Bowen, a local champion lightweight, who whipped Jimmie McHale, of Philadelphia, in two rounds, some time ago, is still anxious to have a go with Billy Myer.

AN EPISODE IN CAL BRICE'S HISTORY.

Carroll county, O., is now believed to be n the oil and gas belt. Agents for Pittsburg parties have secured leases for a large mount of territory. The farmers are greatly xcited by the possible future ahead.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) CARROLLTON, O., January 19 .- Considerable excitement has been generated in and around this country town by the efforts f Pittsburg parties to lease lands in this vicinity on which to drill for oil and gas. Scientists and experts in the business have asserted that this county is in the gas field. The immense coal deposits of the place would seem to bear out these assertions and when two of our local merchants-Ferd Fiedler and Robert Fawcettbegan leasing the oil and gas privileges, with the lease provisos that work should be begun upon the lands inside of one year, or a payment of $1 per acre be made, it aroused considerable enthusiasm among the moss-back farmers, who plant the hills and gather the stones of "Little Carroll " The other condition of the lease was if either oil or gas was developed and taken out that one-fifteenth of the profit should accrue to the golden farmers. At first leases were readily negotiated; but, as the excitement spread, the rural population began to have their heads swelled and dreamed nightly of fortunes from grease or gas. When their heads had assumed the proper proportion they come to the conclusion that one barrel out they come to the conclusion that one parter out of 15 was not enough, and since then the solicitors have had hard work.

The companies for whom the lands were negotiated are Forst & Geehan and L Lehman & Bro., ef Pittsburg, and they had decided to put no test well down unless 4,000 acres of land were secured. This amount has now been virtually eased, and it is authoritatively announced that icased, and it is authoritatively announced and orilling will begin within the next 30 days. It strikes a disinterested observer, however, that the lessees have considerable the best of it. They can put down a test well or not, as they please. Their leases are good for a year without any consideration before that time. without any consideration before that time. Drilling is actively presecuted by other companies in the eastern part of the county, and they can afford to await developments. Should the other drillers strike oil or gas they can then proceed to put down a well, and if oil or gas does not materialize, they need do nothing. A farmer, who had signed his lease, remarked to your correspondent, with a rueful face:

"Sposin' these yer fellers don't put down nary well nor nuthin' on my place? where'm I goin' to, fur ter klect that there dollar 'n acre? They hain't got no means hyer, have they? 'N I'm not goin' ter Pittsburg to sue 'em."

However, the excitement has taken a deep hold here, and if these lessees fall to make a practical test, a local company will at once take hold of the matter. Several prominent citizens, D. Oliver Butan, V. E. Huston, Virgil E. Stockon and others, have expressed their willingness to contribute $500 each toward this end and the drilling will begin by one or the other party before spring.

THE LUMBER BUSINESS

Is Much Endangered by the Continued Lack of the Necessary Snow.

PETECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 BROCKWAYVILLE, PA., January 19 .- It is coming to be an interesting question to those engaged in lumbering as to what is to be the effect on the business if we have much such weather as has been dominant almost continuously since winter was first due. Of course the time has not yet arrived to give way to despair, for there was no numbering done to speak of has year until the last week in January. There are hundreds of thousands of logs lying in the woods which cannot be easily gotten to the mills without snow, and if they are allowed to remain there during the summer there is great remain there during the summer there is great danger of fire.

It will require four weeks of snow to enable the mills to get out enough lumber to keep them running all spring and summer. The lumbertuen are still hopeful of having enough of the "beautiful" to help them out.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. PUNXSUTAWNEY, January 19.-The situation of the miners' strike here is still quiet. A few of the strikers have gone out of the company's houses, and the Sheriff has removed others, but the blood that was talked of so freely a few weeks ago has not commenced to flow yet. Brice is now a national character, stories regarding his early life, when he was a poor, briefless lawyer in Lima, struggling for exist-ence, "go." Hence the following, related by a gentleman of this city, who was a schoolmate of the successful politician and business man, has an entertaining value. At a party given at the residence of Judge Hughes, in Lima, which was attended by Mr. Brice, a young lady guest amused the company by telling fortunes," which she pretended to do by reading the lines of the hand. or the hand. When it came Mr. Brices turn to see what the future had in store for him the young lady said:

"Mr. Brice, before you are ten years older you will be a millionaire."

The prediction was accepted in the spirit with which it was made, that of a pleasant jest, but Mr. Brice replied:

"Beckey, if what you predict comes true I will present you with the finest diamond ring I can buy for $1,000."

The lady answered: "Be sure you keep your promise," and the matter was dismissed without further thought. In less than eight years from that time Mr. Brice was, indeed, a millionaire, but he did not forget the young lady who had so cleverly predicted his good fortune, and on his next visit to New York, after being pretty well satisfied he had reached the measure of the prophecy, he brought back a most elegant diamond ring for the fair fortune-teller, which she shows with gride as she relates the foregoing story. In addition, the Senator has given the lady a European tour, and she continues to be the recipient of many attentions from Mr. Brice and his family.

SYRACUSE January 19 .- A monster elm stands on the Avery Durfee farm in Wayne county, between Palmyra and Marion. Two feet above the ground it measures 33 feet 10 inches in circumference, and five feet above inches in circumference, and five feet above the ground 20 feet 10 mehes. It is 60 feet to the first limb. The body would make five 12-foot logs, averaging 3,250 feet: the total amount of lumber in the body of the tree is 16,250 feet. It is estimated that there is sufficient lumber above the sawlog to make four cords of four-foot wood. Taking one-half of the diameter of the tree three feet from the ground, which is 45 inches, and allowing each inch to represent ten years' growth, the age is found to be 480 years. Cut into inch boards the elim would cover nearly two-fifths of an acre of ground. If made into stove wood 16 inches in length there would be 60 cords.

Eighty years ago, when the farm was cleared, this tree was left as a landmark. It was then a giant among the forest trees.
