WEATHER AND TRADE

How the Open Winter Has Depressed All Woolen Goods and HELPED IN ALL MILLINERY LINES.

The Prospects of the Shoe Upper Industry Never Better.

TRIBULATIONS OF THE ICE DEALERS

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, TUESDAY, January 21, 1890. The drygoods department of trade is one to the lack of winter weather. Stocks of flauncis, blankets, and in isct all woolen ware bid in he our tables and retailers. goods were laid in by our jobbers and retailers in the early part of the winter, with a view to at least an average volume of trade. A large part of this stock remains unsold, and will be ecessarily carried over till next season. In other lines of the drygoods trade, the season's business has been above average, showing that, with the usual amount of cold weather, dry-goods merchants would have had a good trade

One of our leading merchants who has been connected with this branch of trade many years, said this morning: "The trade in all woulden goods has not been so flat these many years as it has been this winter. Our supplies

Said one of our leading jobbers: "We are Said one of our leading jobbers: "We are better sold up than we have been for years at this time of the year. The losses of drygoods merchants have been apparently a gain to our trade. Our troubles are likely to come later on in the season, since wholesale drygoods houses will no doubt be forced to carry their customers longer than usual this season, and in all probability collections will be slow. If such should be the outcome our business will feel the effects of the open winter later on. So far we have an extra good winter, but have no disposition to crow, seeing we are not altogether out of the woods."

The largest manufacturer in this line here or anywhere in the land thus puts the situation and outlook; "Our trade is much better than it was this time last year, and orders for the spring are coming in much earlier than the usual time, a fact no doubt due to the open inter and the faith that spring will start ahead of its contoniary time. Our heaviest or ders are coming in from distant points. While our force is 15 per cent larger than at this time a year ago, we are working up to our full ca-pacity, and the outlook for a big trade the com-ing year is first class, in fact better than it has ever been before."

In the interview with this manufacturer of shoe uppers the fact was developed that in the past half year the French calfskin has been gaining on the domestic article as to the ount called for by the trade. The reason for this, as given, was the general prosperity of the country, and the consequent drift toward using better and more expensive foot wear. When the land prospers the millions have the where-with to indulge in higher class goods. The shoe upper trade in the larger consumption of high grade leather furnishes one of the straws showing that the country is in the midst of an era of general prosperity.

Worries of Ice Dealers. A representative of the Chautangua Ice Company recently said: "We have had no harder winter for our trade than this has been. In the first place all our appliances and expensive machinery for laying in stock have been idle all son, and we are forced to large expenditures for manufacturing ice. Again, the weather has using ice right along at a time when ordinarily there is no demand at all. On top of all, the streets of the East End are in such a condition horseness to deliver the goods, which we would rather not deliver at all if we could in any way get out of it. Such a winter as we are having may be adverse to many other departments of trade, but I doubt if any other has suffered as much from soft weather as ours."

Oats—The increased interest centered in the years, said this morning: 'The trade in all wooden goods has not been so flat these many years as it has been this winter. Our supplies were laid in with the expectation of an average winter. As it has turned out, we laid in entirely too much in this line. The people have this winter had no need for the flannels, blankets and heavy underwear, ordinarily wanted in winter time.

"It is now too late to make up for lost time no matter how severe the closing weeks of winter maybe, and all that is left to drygoods jobbers is to hold over their stock for another season or force it onto market at a sacrifice."

large their line of shorts to some extent. Out-side orders to purchase were moderately free, and some local operators were inclined to pur-chase for an investment, and this combination was sufficiently strong to check any material decline in prices. Manufacturers, too, were more independent in this view notwithstanding the decline in prices of hogs, as a rule were asking higher prices for all the leading de-scriptions, more especially those most in request for the consumptive trade. The weather, too, was somewhat colder, and this was regarded as a favorable feature. a favorable feature.

Significant Changes. A weak feeling prevaded the stock market yesterday, although the changes were insignincant. The sales were 380 shares, contributed by Philadelphia Gas, Airbrake and Pleasant Valley. The weakness was attributed to a scarcity of orders "at the market," and also to haste to enable the brokers to attend the auction sale at the Chamber of Commerce. Timber culture is making fair headway in this country, particularly in the West and South, although it is not entirely neglected in Pennsylvania and other Central and Eastern States. A gentleman has just contracted to have 1,000 acres of land near Asheville, N. C., planted in coniferous trees, mostly white pines, 300 acres of which, at the rate of 1,200 trees to the acre, are to be done in two years. This is the second house in this square sold this week. There is a constant increasing demand for these houses, with only a few left. Black & Baird, 95 Fourth avenue, sold to Thomas J. Phillips lot No. 8 in the J. Walter riay plan of Valley View place, in the Nineteenth ward, size 20x100 feet to a 20-foot alley, for $400, on the monthly payment plan.

J. E. Glass, 138 Fifth avenue, sold for Lowry and mansard brick residence of eight rooms, and all modern improvements, on Boquet street, Oakland, being No. 227.

Movement-Ensy Money at Home and Abrend-The Trusts Again to the Front.

New York. January 21.-The upward movement in the stock market inaugurated yester-day made further progress to-day, while the market itself perceptibly broadened, and the recent persistent pressure by the bears upon the list was conspicuous by its absence. The disposition of the latter was evidently to cover their outstanding contracts, and rumors of a coming resistance to future bear pressure was in all probability an inducement to take that course. One of the chief elements of strength in the market to-day, however, was the growing ease in money both here and in London, time money being offered freely at 5 per cent, while call loans were made as low as 8 per cent to-day.

The drives at values to-day were short and sharp, but the subjects were well chosen, and the covering was quickly done. In the general list Missouri Pacific was again the leader of the dealers, and while no marked movement was made in the stock the rise of yesterday was fully maintained and slightly improved upon. Western Union was attacked in the forenoon, but vallied quickly and finished with a small advance. The strength in these stocks of late is regarded as an indication by the friends of the management that the Gould properties will in the future be of assistance toward a better market. Reading was again properties will in the future be of assistance toward a better market. Reading was again active, and the Sully party were reported as buyers all day long, while assuring their friends of the desire to smash voting trust. The stock was advanced fractionally, but fluctuated over a comparatively narrow range, as was the case with all the leading shares.

The wide fluctuations were as usual made in the Trusts and specialties, and Sugar Refineries in the afternoon for no apparent reason was bid up rapidly, touching 55% though it fell away later to 51% and closed at 54%. Among the specialties Louisville, New Abany and Chicago was the most prominent for its rapid rise under light dealings from 40 to 44 against 38% for its last sale. It closed at 42. Chicago, St. Louis and Pittsburg common and Hocking Valley were also specially strong. The beginning of dividends is the direct result of the improved business done by all the established roads in Ohio.

The general list displayed a firm tone throughout the day and improved fractionally under small transactions all day long. The close was dull but firm, but generally at or near the best figures. The great majority of the list is higher to-night, though confined to fractions as a rule.

The railroad bond market was active to-day.

as a rule.

The railroad bond market was active to-day. The railroad bond market was active to-day, but it displayed no pronounced tone, the majority of the list being quiet and steady, while a few ssues showed marked strength and others were equally as weak. The total transactions were squally as weak. The total transactions were squally as weak. The total transactions were strong to the constant total st. the Milwaukee, Lake Shore and Western fives and some others were prominent in the dealings, they failed to reach an important total. St. Louis, Alton and Terre Haute dividends rose 5 to 55, Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern consols lost 5 at 90.

Business Notes.

THIRTY-FIVE mortgages were finished up sterday. The largest was for $100,000, given by the Aliegheny Valley Railroad Company to Charles Lockbart for purchase money. The transaction was noted several days ago in THE DISPATCH.

IT was reported vesterday that a representative of a large drygoods firm was in the city for the purpose of purchasing a site for a branch house. Real estate men on Fourth avenue said they had not been approached by the gen-tleman, but they saw nothing improbable in the story.

Mr. DAVID HUTCHINSON a hale and hearty ctogenarian, and well known in Pittsburg octogenarian, and well known in Fittsburg business circles, felled the last forest tree that stood on Boyd's Hill, and split it into rails for his fences. That was about 50 years ago. Boyd's Hill is now one of the most thickly settled parts of the city. THE annual statement of the Manufacturer and Merchants' Insurance Company, of this city, shows that it is gradually forging ahead toward its old-time prosperity. Its earnings last year not only covered its regular 6 per cent dividend, but enabled it to add a very comfort-able sum to its surplus. JAS. W. DRAPE & Co. got a bid yesterday on the Crystal Glass Works property on Sixth and Seventh streets, Southside, of $20,000, and adjourned the sale for two weeks, although it is probable that a private sale will be closed before that time, as several parties have made overtures for the property. A WALL street special to Whitney & Stephnson says: "The brokers who have been watching the market most carefully insist that if the bears want to carry through their recent campaign to a successful issue they had better campaign to a successful issue they had better hurry up, because each day develops the fact that they are losing ground, and are not likely to recover at anything like going prices the lines they put out at even lower than current montations."

Produce Trade Demonstrates the Dar-Winian Doctrine

AS TO SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST. Markets Bare of Soft White Sugar and Prices Very Firm.

CEREAL SITUATION IS UNCHANGED

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, TUESDAY, January 21, 1890.

Country Produce-Jobbing Prices. The same old story of quiet trade is told by our commission men. The egg and poultry market is particularly quiet, and the cash customer will find holders ready to meet him at inside quotations. As large quantities of vege-tables and fruit come to markets in bad shape this season, choice stock is at a premium.
Choice Baldwin apples readily bring the outside market price, while common stock is slow at inside rates. The produce commission trade daily furnishes illustrations of the Darwinian theory as to the "survival of the fittest." The kind of weather we are having this season very soon searches out and brings to light the de fects and blemishes of fruits and vegetables. None but high grade stuff gan find a safe landing place so late and in such a soft season as
