A New Incline to be Erected on the Southside.

THE PLANS ARE PREPARED.

The Company to Have a Capital of $200,000.

MONASTERY HILL TO BE TUNNELED

A charter will be applied for in a few days for a corporation to be known as the Pittsburg and Knozville Incline Company, with a capital stock of $200,000. It is the purpose of the incorporators to build a purpose of the incorporators to build a freight and passenger incline running from the head of South Thirteenth street to a was crowded; giving a large and varied field the head of South Thirteenth street to a point near Arlington avenue, in the center of Knozville borough. The gentlemen interested in the scheme are Alderman J. M. Schaefer, of the Southside; J. W. Patterson, of Knoxville: Charles Path, of Path, Haberman & Co.; R. L. McCully, the civil engipeer, and Charles Elphinstone. The route has been surveyed and the plans for the incline have been prepared. It is proposed to run the incline up over Pins street thence by way of a tunnel through the hill to the left of the monastery, up the Brownsville road to the Catholic Cemetery. Work will be commenced on the construction of the incline as soon as the charter is secured and the right of way obtained, and it is expected to have it in operation in about a year.

HEAVY PREIGHT TRAFFIC. The new incline will be a valuable adjunct to the advantages of Knoxville and will be an inducement to people to locate on the hill. Aside from this it will be a great convenience to the teamsters. There as a great deal of hauling to the hill from the Southside proper, owing to so much building being in progress in the hill dis-trict. The chief purpose in building the incline is to accommodate this traffic.

The custom of the Mt. Oliver Incline will be considerably affected, however, as people Thirteenth street, for one fare and without any change, while by coming by the Mt. Oliver Incline they are first obliged to take an increased rate of fare.

A DISPATCH reporter asked Mr. Path vesterday afternoon to give the details of the proposed incline. The gentleman at first dodged having any connection with the company, or knowing about the proposed incline. It was rumored that those interested in the affair held a meeting in Mr. McCully's office a few days ago. He de-nied being at the meeting. Afterward he acknowledged that he knew the incline was contemplated, and gave as his reason for being so reticent that if it became generally known that the company wanted the right of way over certain properties, the prices for the same would be increased to an un-

Squire Schaefer confirmed the report that the company had been formed, and that the incline will be built. Attorney W. J. Brennen has been retained as counsel, and has prepared the application for a charter, which will be filed either Saturday or Mon-

With the completion of the proposed elec-tric roads to White Hall, Mt. Lebanon and West Liberty, the Castle Shannon, the Pittsburg and Knoxville inclines, the people of the hill and suburban districts will be supplied with a system of rapid transit that can scarcely be equaled in any other section of the city. These sections are be-coming populated rapidly and to afford means of easy access to the city, these various inclines are demanded.

Mr. McCully said he thought the Knoxville incline would be the most important of them all: not so particularly for passengers, but for the teams. The road has been so had this winter that it required six and load through the mud up the hills. The in cline will afford its greatest convenience in

I cannot get the 25 men additional for whom I have applied, and who have been granted by both branches of Council, until provisions have been made for their pay, and it is time enough then to think of which of the hundred and odd applicants will get the positions. At present I could not think of the subject, as you have seen by the reports I have had to borrow $3,000 from the Health Bureau in helping out in the necessary expenses

WORK WILL BE RESUMED.

Injunction Against Allegheny Dissolved by Indemnity Bonds.

A special meeting of the Allegheny Finance Committee was held last night to take action on the matter of issuing indemnity bonds to several citizens along the route of the California extension opening. The city of Allegheny wants the road put through, as it will be of incalculable benefit to the city and create easy access to a large district as yet not built up.

The entire matter was amicably settled last night by Mr. Dahlinger offering a reso-lution, which was passed, to the effect that the Mayor file bonds for the city to indemnity the property holders specified by the wiewers. There were George Witmer, in the sum of $160; Jacob Eckert and heirs, $2,800; J. C. Dicken $280, and Henry Meyer $565 50, a total of $3,805 50, which is twice the amount of damages claimed, according to the law in the case.

TOO MANY COATS.

Three Men Who Provided Themselves With

Extra Clothing Arrested. Detective Shore yesterday afternoon met three men on Wylie avenue who seemed to be wearing more clothes than even the cold weather warranted. One of them had on two overcoats, while the others had several superfluous garments. Suspecting that the trio had stolen some of the clothes. Detective Shore arrested the three and took them to Central station.

They were James O'Connors, white, and Louis Humpford and Winfield Scott, colored. They had been confined but a short time when one of them admitted that the extra clothing they were had been stolen. They came from Washington, Pa., yesterday. A new overcoat that they had pawned at a second-hand store on Wylie avenue was

A DETECTIVE IN CHURCH.

Sel Coulson Follows Two Crooked Gentle men Into the Sanctuary.

The fact that a detective went to church vesterday morning is not published with the idea of showing that any great religious revival is pending in the Police Bureau, or dained church goers; still it is a fact. Sol Coulson, while coming down from his home on Tannehill street yesterday morning saw two gentlemen who were included in the circle of his acquaintances, as well as the popular art exhibition known as the rogues' gallery, turn into the German Catholic Church at the corner of Crawford and Cen-

The first was Frank Watson, known in the upper aristocracy of thiefdom as "The Little Duke," and the other was James Burke, who, although he flaunts neither prefix nor affix to his name in the shape of a title, has a personal and family record which, in the criminal blue book, would entitle him to a place among the select 400 of the Relief Society, which relieves society of its pocketbooks and other portable prop of operations for the two eminent members of the Relief Association to work upon. Detective Coulson followed on the heels of the devotees, who mistook a Christian temple to Mercury, who was appropriately enough the god of physicians and of thieves, probably because the former healed others and the latter "heeled" themselves. He called both their attentions to the fact that they knew him well enough, and that the recognition was mutual, and also that they should accompany him. This they did, to the Eleventh ward station, where they luxuriated for a couple of hours, when they were escorted, with all of 90 days to the workhouse. The only ex- would rather be driven out of the business cuse they could render for being in the city was that they had arrived from Ohio on Tuesday night, which they spent with a friend, and, getting chilly yesterday morn-ing, went into the church to get warm, when they responded to the hospitable invi tation of Detective Coulson.

ICE TO BE ASSURED.

The Chantauqua Company Has Purchase

Its Ice Machines. The Chautauqua Ice Company has com pleted its plans for the new ice plant, and will begin to-day tearing down the houses on the lot adjoining its premises, which it has just bought. This lot is 50 feet wide, and runs from Mulberry alley to Pike the street cars to the head of the incline, at street. The machine will be in operation within 90 days, and will turn out 100 tons

The Pittsburg Meat Supply Company, S. W. Hill manager, has contracted for a plant for refrigerating its building at the corner of Church avenue. ELECTRICIANS LEAVING THE CITY

President Gompers, of the Federation of Labor, attended the meeting of the Marble and Slate Workers and Tile Layers' Union last night, in Allegheny. The meeting was in session until nearly 12 o'clock, and at its conclusion, it was stated by the officers that there was no news to be given out. It was said that the union would not withdraw from the Federation, but the breach between the members of the union and the Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers' Union has been widened more than ever. President Gompers maintained his position in regard to the strike at Herrick's. FOSTER NOT ADMITTED Among those who applied for admission to the meeting was Joseph Foster, the man who is the bone of contention between the two unions. He was a former member of the M. & S. W. and T. L. U., but when the M. & E. T. L. U. was organized he left the former organization and went into the latter. When the members of the latter union struck against him he paid his fine and applied for re-election into the M. & S. W. due observance to the dignity of the Little Duke and his retainer, to the office of Judge

than associate again with the members of the M. & E. T. L. U. When President Gompers left the meeting last night he was met outside the door by Mr. Foster, who wanted to explain his position. He had an interesting interview with Mr. Gompers. The latter told him as a workingman he had better make his peace with his union. The President of the Federation told him that he was wrong in the matter and the union had a right to fine him. Mr. Foster had a number of details to tell, but his statements did not change Gompers' mind about the trouble. When he told Foster to go back to his union, the latter declared that he would die first.

THE TROUBLE ONLY BEGUN. When the meeting was over, Foster could obtain no information about the disposition of his case further than that they had not done anything about it. This was equivo-lent to a refusal to elect him. He claims the trouble has but fairly begun, and says his friends will stick to him. This may mean that they will withdraw from the union, and it is dead certain that they will not go into the other tile layers' organization. It is possible that the discontented members may torm an independent organiof Labor. There are already two tile layers' unions in the Federation, and it is not likely that another charter will be Knights of Labor from a local assembly in New York. This was the cause of the feeling of antipathy against the Federation officials. foundry, at Woods' Run, will be moved to that side of the river. The plant will be enlarged and its capacity increased. The company who will put up the plant will be the third of its kind in existence in this country.

Application will be made in a few days to the Governor for a charter for the Union Foundry and Machine Company. The ap-plicants will be Messrs. F. N. Hoffstot, James M. Bailey, James W. Friend, Frank H. Zimmers and C. C. Morrow. The plant will be located on the old Clinton mill property, below the Monongahela bridge. Although the incorporators are all interested in the Clinton furnace, the new corporation will be entirely separate and distinct from the Clinton Iron and Steel Company. The latter are building a new blast furnace, a full account of which was printed in THE DISPATCH several weeks

The foundations for the new foundry and machine shop have been laid, and it is expected that the new plant will be in operation by April 1. The new foundry will be 120x90 feet. The machine shop will be 60x 100. The plant will give employment to about 150 men. The improvement will cost about $15,000.

The plant will be run exclusively on heavy machine mold gearing. There are only two concerns of this kind in the United States. They are Poole & Hunt, of Balti-more, and the Wharton Manufacturing Company, of Cleveland. The plant at Woods' Run will be abandoned.

WILL NOT STRIKE. President Smith Says the Glass Workers Will Not Go Out.

President William Smith, of the American can Flint Glass Workers' Union, was seen last night in regard to the report published in the afternoon that members of the union would probably strike to-morrow on account of certain ffint glass bottle manufacturers try ing to compel them to work molds sent here by Eastern green bottle manufacturers who are engaged in the strike. Mr. Smith said:

"The idea is preposterous. We cannot become engaged in the strike. We have an agreement with the flint manufacturers that we will not do any work for 'struck' factories. The manufacturers in this city know this clause well enough and would not try to run in these molds. The green bottle trade is entirely distinct from our organization, and the blowers are organized in the Knights of Labor. Beyond supporting them in a fraternal way to continue the strike, we have nothing to do with them. Of course, if any attempt was made to have our men blow green goods, we would refuse to do so, and f necessary we would strike. As yet no attempt has been made, nor do I think there will be.' The strike in the East remains in about the same condition as last week. The following houses are still idle. Swindell's and Baker's, of Boston; Haggerly's and Brookfield's, of Brooklyn; Gaynor, of Salem, N. J.; Thomas' and Bodine's, of Williamsburg; Whitney, of Glassboro, and the factories at Clyde, N. The Eighteenth Ward Democratic Candidates are Incensed.

FRANK BROCKEN IS INDIGNANT. Suit to be Brought Against the Election

TWENTY AFFIDAVITS AND SIX VOTES

Board Members.

There is war imminent in the Eighteenth ward in the Democratic ranks, the late primaries not suiting the general idea of the Democracy of the ward. There were three candidates for Select Council on the Demoeratic ticket, Messrs. Frank Brocken, son of he well-known contractor of that ward. Michael Dwyer and Mr. Levden.

Frank Brocken was urged by a number of his young friends to run for the membership in Select Council, and he consented. When the primaries came off it was found that in the First and Second districts, or the lower part of the ward, Mr. Brocken was chosen by large majorities, while at the Third dis-trict, near the Sharpsburg bridge, there were only some six votes registered for Mr. Brocken.

An investigation by Mr. Brocken's friends showed that over four times that number of votes were cast, and affidavits were secured showing 20 votes to have been deposited for him which were sworn to be fore Mr. P. M. Cushing, giving him a full majority of the votes cast at the primaries. This has been so fully agitated that the whole ward is torn up on the subject, and meetings are being held every night to express condemnation of the action of the election board.

Suits will be brought by the friends of Frank Brocken within a day or two, to ompel either a recount or a full statement the status of the votes, and there is no doubt but that one of the liveliest political fights on record is on the tunis in the Eighteenth ward.

The father of the gentleman who claims to be Councilman-elect of the Eighteenth ward, was seen at his old homestead last night and said:

"I regret very much that Frank has gone into this contest, on account of the possible connection I might have with the city on contracts. Still, his friends urged him to make a fight for the nomination, and for a young man such as he is it is undoubtedly a great honor to gain the distinction of repre-sentative to Select Council. Of course, his friends who first induced him to work for the nomination are still with him, but as to what steps he shall take I know nothing."

A thorough search of the ward failed to get the prospective candidate, although traces of his presence a little earlier showed hat he was attending to business. The general opinion is that the election board will have to answer to the courts for its proceedings at the late Democratic primaries.

The tramps who stopped at Pittsburg on their way south, concluding that they would enjoy Florida weather in this locality, were startled Mouday night when the wind began to circle around their nomadic forms, It was entirely unexpected. They had enjoyed such pleasant weather so far, and it was a wretched disappointment to have Dakota zephyrs put in an appearance just when they were about to welcome the joyous springtime. Those who had not secured a furnace berth immediately sought the police stations and applied for lodging. The re-last evening. "They come here like bees to a hive, but, of course, no comparison can be made between the habits of the two. A peculiarity I have noticed is the way they register on certain nights. For instance, to-night they may all register from Buffalo, tonorrow night, with one or two exceptions, they will all register from New York, the next night from Baltimore and so on. I don't know how it happens, but nevertheless it is a fact, and one which I never have been able to make any of them explain. The most of them, however, are sailors, who come down here to spend the winter and then return to the lakes when navigation opens. They like to be sent to the works, and whenever a magistrate gets a secord among the fraternity for sending vags to that institution, he always has his hands full when cold weather commences. They are a harmless lot of wretches and in all my experience I have never had any trouble with a professional tramp."

The Bridgewater Gas Company Strikes Big

at Bakerstown. At 9:17 o'clock last night Mr. George I. Whitney received a telegram stating that the Bridgewater Gas Company had struck a gas well at Bakerstown, the pressure of which was between 600 and 700 pounds to the inch. Some people felt that it would be a grand consummation could the flow from it have been turned into local mains, especially those who arose late, and, having no oil stovehandy, were forced to drink cold coffee at breakfast yesterday morning.

The Position Changed.

B. J. Babcock, a museum lecturer, was arrested in a market hotel last night after a sharp run, and placed in the Central station. The complaint was made that he was beating his wife at No. 36 Diamond, but an investigation seemed to reverse the position of beater and beatee. He will be held for a hearing.

more. By this time she had to cough up the gathering in her throat. Then she went to sleep, and slept good for 15 minutes. Then she got up and vomited; then she went back to bed, and slept good for the remainder of the night. She got the croup the second night, and I gave the same remedy with the ame good results. I write this because I thought there might be some one in the e need and not know the true merits of this wonderful medicine.

POTTERS' PROCEEDINGS.

The National Association Elects Officers East Liverpool Lurgely Represented-A Delegation to See Binine-Some

New Members Admitted. IFROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT, 1 WASHINGTON, January 22 .- The second day's session of the fourteenth annual convention of the United States Potters' Association was held to-day, completing what has proved to be one of the most pleasant meetings the society has ever held. A most enjoyable feature of the day was an address by Mr. L. W. Miller, of the Philadelphia Art Design School, who was present by instations and applied for longing. The result was that nearly every station was crowded to its fullest capacity.

"This cold weather drives the lads in," said a Sergeant at one of the station houses The following officers were elected for the vitation, on the subject of the development ensuing year:

A resolution was adopted at last night's session, instructing the members of the Ex-ecutive committee to call, in company with Congressman McKinley, of Ohio, and Buchanan, of New Jersey, upon the Secretary of State, to request the appointment of Wil-liam Burgiss, of Trenton, N. J., as Consul at Tunstall, England. This was the outcome of a contest between John J. Purinton, of East Liverpool, and William Norris, of Trenton, over this appointment. Neither of these gentlemen could be agreed upon, and Mr. Burgess was selected as a compromise candidate and has the support of all the pot-ters. The Executive Committee called at the State Department this morning, but on account of his recent bereavement and his own indisposition, Secretary Blaine was not there to greet them. They, however, filed the strong indorsement they bore in favor of Mr. Burgess' appointment, and were promised that the matter should receive early at-
