The transition from the old federation to our present form of union was not as rapid as ex-pected at the start. This was demonstrated by the fact that on the first of February there were less than 3,000 miners in the Progressive Union. Yet by the eod of March we had suc-ceeded in enrolling 15,000 members. From that date our organization again suffered reverses which continued until October 1, when our membership was reduced fully two-thirds. The cause of the rapid decline in the numerical strength of the organization may be explained by the following reasons: First, the strike in the coal fields of Indiana and Northern Illinois which included 5,000 of our members; second, by the following the coal fields of Iediana and Northeon, which included 5,000 of our members; second, the flerce conflict which was waged between the flerce conflict which was waged between the core rival organizations; third, the disatis-tion of the second second second second second flore the second second second second second the second second second second second second the second second second second second second the second the flerce conflict which was waged between miners' rival organizations; third, the dissatis-faction that naturally found expression in the ranks of the miners caused by the very un warranted reductions in mining rates which they were forced in a great measure to accept: fourth, the stoppage of a number of mines through the duliness of trade and the partial suspension of others, rendering the miners un-able to pay their dues regulariy. Reports from Indiana, Illinois, West Virgini's and other parts of the country indicate that by the end of the present month our organization will have at-tained a membership greater than at any time since its institution. In December, 185, the Excentive Board recognized that if the condi-tion of miners in the better organized portions of the competitive district was to be improved the miners in Southern Illinous, West Virginia and Pennsylvania must be moved into line. The President, with that object in view, sent organization spent nearly $2,500 trying to have scale rates established in those parts of the competitive field, the efforts were almost, if not entirely, neutralized through the machina-tions of a class of men who seemingly were more devoted to the form of an organization than to the interest of our suffering craft. THE GREAT QUESTION.

question of amalgamation was The brought up by the committee composed of David Ross, C. H. Penna, A. M. Ferrell, W. N. Turner, James Cole and Wm. Warburton, submitting the following report: WHEREAS, The Competitive District Con-vention, at its session in Indianapolis last month, declared in favor of one organization, one defense fund, one set of officers, and equal taxation, therefore be it Resolved, That we favor a dissolution of both organizations to the extent that the objects therein specified may be accomplished. The report was adopted unanimously without discussion. A committee composed of John McBride, John Kane and Ebenezer Howells was appointed to meet a similar committee from National District Assembly 135, K. of L., and arrange the order of busi-ness for the joint convention to-morrow. Telegrams were received from President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, and Secretary Martin, of the Iron and Steel Workers' Association, congratulating the Progressive Union upon the pros-pect of amalgamation. The convention of National District As-sembly 135, K. of L., was called to order by Grand Master Workman John B. Res. A large proportion of the delegates are from the coke regions of Pennsylvania. The en-tire afternoon was spent in discussing the proposed amalgamation. As the sessions of the assembly are secret, but little could be learned of the proceedings. It is under-stood, however, the question was spiritedly discussed. A small minority of the dele-gates formed an opposition. Their chief rea-son for opposing amalgamation was the sup-position that the Progressive Union miners were not sincrere in the movement. It seemed at experiment of the convertion would seemed at one time as if the opposition would control the sentiment of the convention, but the tide was fortunately turned by a master-ly speech from Secretary Robert Watchorn. Mr. Watchorn brought the delegates to a full realization of the situation by setting forth the consequences which would result SEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. ST. LOUIS, January 22.-Acting Mayor Walbridge, shortly after arriving at his office this corning, put his approval upon the ordimance donating Forest Park for the site of the World's Fair. The ordinance is brief, but it means much, as it represents probably $1,500,000 that the other cities in the race will have to set aside as a site fund.

"Of the many preparations before the public for the cure of colds, coughs, bronchitis, and kindred discases, there is none, within the range of my experi-ence, so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pec-toral. For years I was subject to colds, followed by terrible coughs. About four years ago, when so afflicted, I was advised to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and to lay all other remedies aside. I did so, and within a week was well of my cold and cough. Since then I have always kept this preparation in the house, and feel comparatively secure." -- Mrs. L. L. Brown, Denmark, Miss.

- Mrs. L. L. Brown, Denmark, Miss. "A few years ago I took a severe cold which affected my lungs. I had a ter-rible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the con-tinual use of the Pectoral, a permanent cure was effected."-Horace Fairbrother, Bockingham, Vt.
