CARING FOR BABIES.

Some Witnesses Testified in Favor of the Mansfield Home.

A FEW GOOD POINTS IN DEFENSE.

Smith, the Wife Murderer's Only Hope Now, is the Pardon Board.

SUIT TO RESTRAIN A STOCK TRANSPER

The trial of Mrs. Aurelia Metlar and her mother, Mrs. Tillie Quillan, of Mansfield, for cruelty to children, was continued before Judge Slagle in Criminal Court yesterday. Mrs. Montgomery, the principal witness for the prosecution, was on the stand nearly all of the forenoon. She testified to having lived with Mrs. Quillan for over a year. The chief abuse she thought was the weakness of the milk given to the children weakness of the milk given to the children senger line, and her right arm was cut off. weakness of the milk given to the children. It was weakened and deluded with water.

Mr. Marron subjected the witness to a very rigid cross-examination. She denied having been discharged by Mrs. Quillan, or of having any intimacy with Agent Dean.

The defense was opened by placing Mrs.

Metlar on the stand. She described the food given to bables, which was boiled milk, food given to babies, which was boiled milk, containing rolled crackers. The milk was two parts milk and one part water. The babies when brought to the house were nearly all sickly. She had Dr. Walters call and see them. The witness denied throwing the Zeigler child in the cradle and calling it a little Jew devil. Witness stated that she was passionately fond of children, and was foolishly indulgent with the little ones placed under her care and nursed them as if placed under her care, and nursed them as if they were her own flesh and blood.

MEMBERS WERE PLEASED. The children were sent to her by the Ladies' Aid Society, and its members often visited ber house and expressed themselves as pleased with her care of the children. The witness also stated that besides taking care of babies she took care of some women brought to her by Agent Dean. Mr. Dean told her they were married women, but she doubted that.

Mrs. Alston, of the Children's Aid Society, testified that she visited Mrs. Quillan's house, and always found the babies in good condition. Jennie and Mary Linn, of Sewickley, testified that Mrs. Montgomery had lived at their house for II years, and that her reputation for truth and veracity was very bad.

Mrs. Atchison, wife of the U. P. minister at Mansfield, was called, and testified to having visited the Quillan house. She saw the habies there, but never saw anything wrong with them. They seemed to be well fed and well cared for. Mrs. Gibbons, of Mansfield, corroborated the testimony of the previous witness. rated the testimony of the previous witness.

IN GOOD CONDITION. Mrs. Eva Prentiss, of the Children's Aid Society, had visited the home of Mrs. Quillan, and found the babies in good condition, She never heard any bad reports about the defend-

Mrs. Augusta Walters, one of the Board of Managers of the Children's Aid Society, testified that she had never heard of anything wrong with Mrs. Quillan or Mrs. Metlar, or their conduct with regard to the children or their care. Mary Seibert, who keeps a dairy at Manafield, testified to having furnished Mrs. Metlar with two pints of fresh milk each day. This closed the testimony for the defense This closed the testimony for the defense, and the prosecution called Mrs. Zeigler as a rebuttal witness. Mrs. Zeigler again stated that Mrs. Metlar had slammed her child into the cradle and said, "Go to sleep, you Jew devil."

Mr. Marron opened the argument for the defense and made a very vicorous address, in which he scorched Agent Deau, placing him in a very unenviable position, and also handled the witnesses for the prosecution rather roughly.

In the Butler Street M. E. Church. It was a semi-annual district meeting, and presided over by Mrs. D. M. Sutch. Mrs. Rev. W. W. Pearce made the address of welcome, and Mrs. Rev. T. J. Leak responded. Mrs. E. M. Hukill read an able paper on deaconess' work, tracing the growth and efforts made in that important branch of work.

In the afternoon one hour's devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. J. P. Hanna. This closed the testimony for the defense, was made before Judge Acheson, in the United States Circuit Court, for an injunction in the case of Samuel F. Barr against the Pittsburg Plate Glass Company, J. B. Ford and the Plate Glass Company from transferring to J. B. Ford & Co. 7,500 shares of the capital stock of the Plate Glass Company.

It is stated that J. B. Ford & Co. sold to the It is stated that J. B. Ford & Co. sold to the Plate Glass Company the Ford City Glass Works for $1,500,000. Seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars of this was to be paid in bonds bearing 6 per cent and $750,000 in the capital stock of the company. The directors of the company, in spite of the remenstrance of John F. Scott, one of the stockholders, passed a resolution authorizing the issue to J. B. Ford & Co., of the $750,000 worth of bonds and 7,500 shares of the capital stock at par. The par value of the the $750,000 worth of bonds and 7,000 shares of the capital stock at par. The pay value of the stock is $100 a share, but it is stated that the stock is worth at least $155 per share. This would involve the payment to J. B. Ford & Co. of $837.500 over the $1,500.000 which had been agreed to pay for the works. Judge Acheson issued a restraining order until February & which was fixed for the final hearing on the motion for an injunction.

The original suit is to have the sale of the Ford City Glass Works' and other glass works to the Pittsburg Glass Company set aside or the price reduced. It was alleged that they were built by J. B. Ford & Co., who sold to the Plate Glass Company at a price greatly exceeding the original cost. The sale, it was alleged that they were suit by J. B. Ford & Co., who sold to the Plate Glass Company at a price greatly exceeding the original cost. The sale, it was alleged was frandulent, the members of greatly exceeding the original cost. Itse sale, it was alleged, was fraudulent, the members of the firm of J. B. Ford & Co. ewning a controlling interest in the Plate Glass Company, and making the sale from themselves to the Plate Glass Company, thus defrauding the other stockholders of the amount paid in excess of the real value of the works.

CLAIMS HE WAS SHOCKED

Mr. Abbott Demands $500 for Injuries Received From Dend Wires.

Charles Abbott, Jr., vesterday entered suit against the Western Pennsylvania Telegraph and Telephone Company for $500 damages. Abbott states that on July 1, 1889, while he was driving along the Twelfth street road in the Thirty-first ward, one of his horses tramped on a wire lying in the street, and was killed by a shock of electricity. While Abbott was trying to extricate the dend horse and take off its harness, and before he know the cause of the trouble, he also was shocked, and was laid up for several weeks. He alleges that the wires causing the shock were dead ones, and had been neglected by the company for over two Against Probating.

A number of the relatives of the late John McKay yesterday filed a caveat in the Register's office against admitting to probate any testamentary paper signed by Mr. McKay. It is alleged that McKay entered into an agreement with a brother in California by which certain mining rights vested in him were to be trans-ferred to his brother, and in case of the death of John McKay before this took place, the con-sideration was to go to other parties. It is un-derstood that an effort will be made to probate

[Communicated.] THEIR NAME IS LEGION. COMMENDATIONS OF SOLID BUSINESS

MEN FOR GOURLEY. Nominee Whose Candidacy Evokes Nothing but the Kindest Words of Appreciation-Men Who Know the Elements of Prosperity Say He Should be Elected. The business men are still coming forward in their indorsement of Gourley. Nothing but words of praise are heard on all sides.

Appended are some of the indorsements of the men in the business world:
Mr. James Veruer of the Citizens' Trace tion Company-"I think the Pittsburg people have sense enough to elect a business man to be their Mayor. I favor Mr. Gourley, and am doing all I can for him. He is a good business man, smart and fit for the place. He is a sensible man every way you take him. The citizens wouldn't be ashamed to send him any place as a representative of the city. Mr. Gourley would be a good selection for Mayor." Mr. W. J. Caskey, merchant: "A fair ruling man in everything is Mr. Gourley, Where could we get a better one? In Coun-cils he wielded the gavel with good judgment. His decisions were tair and impar-tial, and his record is untarnished. He protected the interests of the city with a firm ness that a business man endeavors to handle his own interests. I think a business man is unquestionably the man wanted. It is evident that one so versed could extend his business knowledge in many ways to the governing of the city. Contingencies arise which render this knowledge of great assistance. My only wish is that Mr. Gourley may be elected." Mr. George Lang: "Mr. Gourley is my man. He is shrewd, intelligent and intellectual, a man far above the average and the proper man for the place. His uprightness in business affairs and his Councilmanic records have done much to place him before the public in an excellent light. If elected Mayor, as he will be, he will furnish us with an executive of prominence."

Mr. R. J. Wilson, manufacturer: "A better man than Mr. Gourley could not be found. He is just the man whom we want. He is well versed in the duties of the office, is well posted in city affairs, a knowledge of great benefit. He has qualifications for this office that few other aspirants ever possessed. He is a man of undeniable ability, and will with Mr. Gourley, both in a business and social way, gives me ground to refute the insulting article which appeared in a recent Sunday paper. It was a feeble attempt to blacken the gentleman's reputation, which, to my mind, is irreproschable. Had I been half-hearted in my estimation of the gentleman, this insult would have caused me to cast aside all doubts and establish an allegiance of the firmest character. I am an admirer of Mr. Gourley."

Mr. Thomas H. Lane, merchant: "I don't know Mr. Gourley personally. I know him as a city official and think he is competent and correct. He was always working for the interests of the city. His personal qualifications, together with his experience in city affairs, should make him as efficient an officer as we have ever had. I favor a business man particularly. Mr. Gourley, I understand, is a man of good address and there will be no necessity of 'en-gaging a talker' to receive any loreign visgaging a talker to receive any loreign vis-itors. This reminds me of a Mayor we had once. The President of the United States visited the city. Our Mayor walked up to him and said, as he extended his hand: 'How are you, old hoss.' He was an old soldier and meant well, but the dignity of record is spotless and he should, and, I have no doubt will be supported by the masses."

Mr. H. Walker, manufacturer: "A personal acquaintance is not necessary for a man to have to indorse Mr. Gourley, for his reputation is widespread and it is of the best. He is very suitable for the position. His principles are strictly conformable to moral rectitude. I admire the man and will

Mr. Frank Ardary: "Mr. Gourley is a finely educated, straightforward man, in every way having the enabling quality requisite for the high position of Mayor. He is a man that can talk to anyone that comes along. He can receive any foreign deputation with that degree of honor that is essential to a magistrate of a city. He is a man fit to go into any society. A business man is what we desire, and Mr. Gourley is Mr. James Kerr, Jr., only differs with Mr. Gourley in one stand, and that is in politics. "I am on the other side, But leaving politics out of the question, I have the highest regard for the gentleman. I feel sale in asserting that he would make as competent an official us the city has ever had the good fortune to secure. A business man is the best kind for the citizens to install in such an important office. He can preserve the interests of the city in various He is a scholarly man, of unblemished reputation, and has great executive ability. He, as Mayor, will be of great honor to the people who elect him."
