A famous coke strike leader has been appointed to organize the Hungarian element in that region. Several prominent members of the Knights of Labor have been discharged. This puts a more serious aspect upon the situation.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCHA SCOTTDALE, January 30 .- The Executihe Board of the Knights of Labor held a meeting here to-day and appointed Steve Stannix, of Moelwood, the famous coke strike leader of 1886, as Hungarian organizer for the order in the coke region. He was discharged a couple of weeks since and the company retused to reinstate him. As the time for the conference is approaching there is trouble brewing at some of the works. The Secretary of the Knights of Labor local, at the Sterling Coke Works, has been discharged and the men have given ten days notice to reinstate or a strike may

The recording secretary of the K. of L. assembly at Leiseneing No. 2 has also been assembly at Leiseneing No. 2 has also been discharged. A committee met Superintendent Taylor, but they have failed so far to secure his reinstatement, and it is not known what the outcome will be. A large open meeting will be held at Stonerville to-night, and addresses will be made by R. D. Kerfoot, Peter Wise, Steve Stannis, J. C. Craig and other lenders. Master Workman Kerfoot has releasers. Master Workman Kerfoot has releaders. Master Workman Kerfoot has renewed his energy since he returned from the Columbus convention. Speaking of the discharge of so many men at the various large plants in the Ohio region, he said it was throwing a bad light on the operators. He had thought everything would be amicably settled but he now was entertaining fears. The Scale Committee of the Knights of Labor will be in session every day from now until Saturday and they will be fully prepared to meet the operators on Monday.

POSITIVELY HUMAN BLOOD. Another Link Added to the Chain in the Andrews Murder Trinl.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. BELLEFONTE, January 80.-Interest has increased on the second day of the trial of Andraws, and the excitement is still high. When Andrews was brought in he was wearing a frock coat belonging to Hopkins, the con-demned murderer, who loaned it to him. The courtroom was crowded. Dr. F. S. Nevling, the first witness, testified that he had held a portem examination and on looking for the bullet could not find any, but on taking off the clothing be found a bullet hole between the eighth and ninth ribs, passing through the puleighth and ninth ribs, passing through the pulmonary artery, causing instant death. S. D.
Ray, a surveyor, was then called, and showed drafts of the country adjacent, with accurate measurements between all points interested.
At the afternoon session the countroom was again crowded, a large part of those present being women. The prosecution then brought in some evidence showing the shoes worn by Andrews on the day of the murder were bloody. Andrews claimed the blood stains

Prof. G. G. Pond, of State College, said be had could not possibly be that of a domestic animal or of hirds. Dr. H. F. Formade, of Philadelphia, expert and an instructor in the University, testified to having examined the blood, and said it was human beyond all doubt. Evidence was produced showing that Andrews had passed along the road to where the murder was committed on the morning near the time the ted on the morning near the time the murder was committed.

THE SAME OLD CONTEST

Is Still Occupying the Attention of the West Virginia Legislature,

CHARLESTON, W. V.A., January 30—Senator P. W. Morris, of Ritchie county, had the floor in the joint session of the Assembly to-day. He spake for General Goff, and occupied about two hours in delivering his address, which was an able effort, but failed to throw any new light on the vexed question. He arons a the ire of the Democrats by asserting that they had been working among their partisans in the Legislature, sounding those under suspicion to see how they stood and doing everything possible to keep their 86 members in line. There had been a suspicion that not all the Democrats could be depended upon, but nowhere had the standing of any Republican member been questioned, and he took that to mean that even some Democrats held justice close to partisents.

AGAINST THE CHURCH.

A Will Contest Decided in Favor of the Testator's Daughter.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. MEADVILLE, January 39. - In Crawford County Court to-day Abigail M. Brooks recovered judgment against the First Presbyterian Church, of this city, for $8,290 20. The money was left by a codicil to the will of Alonzon Lindley, father of the plaintiff, to the church, the codicil being made less than 80 days prior to testator's death. Plaintiff, after ber father's death, signed a release of her claim to the bequest, but afterward testified that she did so through false representation on the part Plaintiff got judgment in this case a year ago before Judge Wickham, after which the decision was reversed by the Supreme Court. Judge Mebard, of Mercer, presided at the last trial. The contest has been very bitter throughout.

FLOOD NOT A CANDIDATE.

The Announcement First Made la the Dispatch Proves to Be Correct. (SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) MEADVILLE, PA., January 31.-Dr. T. L. Flood, who has been prominently mentioned for Congress in the Crawford-Erie District, furnished the following card this evening for

"To Whom it May Concern—I shall not be a candidate for Congress in this dis-trict in 1890. I have this day en-tered into an important copartnership tered into an important copartnership to establish in Meadville a book publishing house which will be known as the Chautauqua Century Press. The office of President and Manager of this house will be devolved upon me. I shall, during the coming eighteen mouths, erect new buildings, purchase machinery and organize the force to carry on this publishing business. All the books used by the Chautauqua organization will be published by this house. This, in addition to my work as editor and publisher of the Chautauquan, will make such a heavy tax upon my time and energies I cannot enter the political arena as candidate for Congress.

I very highly appreciate the requests made by scores of Republicans in Crawford and Eric counties, both personally and by letter, that I should be the party candidate this year, and I only regret that a more impurtant work restrains me from giving my consent, but wishing for the Republican party a good old-fashioned victory, I am inithfully yours.

I most sincerely trust that these sangulne views may be realized—and wish I could think so. But I see great reason to doubt whether these be well-founded expectations. On the contrary, I see nothing in the premises to warrant the belief that the long-felt duliness is about to withdraw or pinch with less severity. Ever since the harvest low prices have been predominant, and unless the unexpected happens, a sturdy "bulge" during the winter is "baseless as the fantastic visions of the evening."

The assumption that the United States is in position to control the price of the bread which the people of Europe shall eat for the next six months, assumes less and less the aspect of a substantial fact as the truth about foreign wheat crops becomes better known. Great Britain's late harvest was good, almost beyond precedent. Owing to the vine diseases in France the area set apart for the culture of wheat and other cereais in that country has been greatly enlarged of late, and the result has been a marked increase in yelds, and it is now certain that she will not require large importations. Russia, whose huge domain stretches itself out upon three continents, has a fair crop, and will market a large portion of it outside her own boundaries. The regions stretches itself out upon three continents, has a fair crop, and will market a large portion of it outside her own boundaries. The regions now devoted to the cultivation of wheat, in both heunisphieres, are so extensive that it seldom or never happens that there is a general failure of crops, and the more commerce is extended the less is scarcity felt in any particular country. The wheat plant is now cultivated in almost "every clime the sun's bright circle warms."

For himself, he did not know how anyone in the Legisluture, outside of the committee and himself, would vote, and he did not care how they would vote, having no interest in the matter save to see that justice was done and the voters vindicated.

Mr. Foley has been holding office since 1885. Previous to that time he was employed in the Wood's Run mill, and was appointed Alderman by Governor Pattison to fill out the unexpired term of Michael Woods, deceased. And attacks of la grippe, typhus fever, scarlet fever or diphtheria, the patient recovers strength slowly, as the system is weak and debilitated, and the blood poisoned by the ravages of the disease.
