President Day Replies to Some of His Opponents.

HE DENIES SOME STORIES.

An Important Conference Between Hecker, Nimick and Scandrett.

THE SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

President J. B. Day writes an open letter in reply to his opponents. It is interesting. Messrs. Hecker, Nimick and Scandrett had a long conference about appointing a manager. It is stated that Pete Conway will certainly pitch for the local Brotherhood Club.

INPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) NEW YORK, February 4.—President John B. Day, of the New York ball club, to-night issued an open letter to the public in which he says among other things: "I deem it a duty to myself and to the men with whom I have for some years been associated in baseball to take this opportunity of replying over my own signature—so that there may be no doubt as to my position in the premises—to certain unfair insinuations which have lately appeared in the columns of a few newspapers, as witness the following:

ONE RUMOR NAILED. But there is a chance for John B. Day to practically gain control of the New York Players' League club if he chose to do so. He could besides realize handsomely on the grand stand and equipments of the old club. All the gentlemen and the players connected with the new club like Mr. Day personally, and I have reason to believe would increase the capital stock in order to allow him to come in. Better get in

"Let me say once for all that I deem such a suggestion an insult to my business reputation. Last autumn I refuted a similar instruction by of the characteristics of a Benedict Arnold.

COWARDLY ADVICE. "Should I accept any such cowardly advice, there is nothing that could be said in condemnation of my course that would be too severe. I have, as a member of the New York Baseball Club, business partners who suffer equally with myself in this ungrateful conspiracy of our well-treated players to ruin us. If I were contemptible enough now to desert these part ners-sell them out, betray them-and join hands with the men who betrayed us, and who new add insult to injury by making such a suggestion to me, I should deserve the odium of all men.

all men.
"Besides, as a member of the New York National League club, I am indirectly, and have been for seven years, a partner of the owners of other League clubs whose interests, friendship and business confidence I should also betray were I to even think of accepting also believe were it to even think of accepting such an invitation. Let it be understood, once for all, I am not a Judas who will sell my friends for so many pieces of silver. If the players whom we treated so generously during the years of our mutual success succeed in their players whom we treated so generously during the years of our mutual success succeed in their efforts to ruin the business we have built up, that they may divide the supposed profits among themselves, I will suffer equally with the men who were betrayed with me, though I do not believe the uncalled for rebellion will result so disastrously as all that to the New York club.

"These men who now invite me to sell out a lease on property for $20,000, which cost nearly $50,000 last season to put into condition for use, and to invest the $20,000 or part of it in the purchase of the stock which they have already taken from me, are not lacking in assurance. Yet it is nothing more than should be expected of men who saw the club expend this money on of men who saw the club expend this money on new grounds while they were secretly conspir-ing for the club's ruin; who, without a cause for complaint against the club's treatment of themselves, as they have frequently confessed, planned for the overthrow of our business while under contract with us, actuated only by a selfish motive of a hope for further gain.

"Does any one think I could desert my hon-orable business narriers of the past and present orabic business partners of the past and present to join fortunes with the men who plotted for my rain while they enjoyed my confidence? The New York club is in the business to stay. It cannot be bought out, frozen out or knocked "President New York Ball Club,"

AN IMPORTANT CONFERENCE.

Guy Hecker's Terms Acceptable to Messra. Nimick and Scandrett.

The genial and good-looking Sir Guy Hecker arrived in the city yesterday, and had a long and important conference with Messrs. Scandrett and Nimick relative to the appointment of Hecker as manager.

Sir Guy was asked to state his terms to play in the team and manage it. He made a proposition, which was highly acceptable to the directors present. It was not stated what his terms were, but it is understood that they are considerably above $3,000. The fact that they met with the favor of Messrs. Scandrett and Nimick means that Mr. Hecker is virtually ap-

Nimick means that Mr. Hecker is virtually appointed manager, because the other directors are disposed to vote for him. After the conferference Mr. Hecker said:

"I am well satisfied with the talk we have had, because I think I can rest assured that everything is all right. I feel confident that we can have an excellent team here. I have gone carefully over the list of players, and I don't hesitate to say that we can get a club that will be on top. I am aware that two clubs cannot live here, and that the one that plays the better ball will be the one to stay. Now, I feel sure that the old League club will stand better in the League race than the new local club will in the Brotherhood race. If this is so there is no fear of the local National League of there is no fear of the local National League ciub. We have some remarkably good young men aigned. Let me tell you that Daniels will soon become one of the best pitchers in the country. I think that with a rew weeks prac-tice before the champiouship season opens we will have a first-class ball team." Mr. Hecker thinks the club will either go to Hot Springs or Florida for a few weeks. The directors will meet to-morrow and decide the

CONWAY'S CASE

A Statement That He Will Surely Pitch for the Players.

It was stated on the most authentic authority yesterday that Pete Conway will certainly pitch for the local Brotherhood club this season. The authority is a very important member of the Brotherhood, who claims to know that what he says is true. President Nimick was spoken to or nowhere. says is true. President Nimick was spoken to on the matter yesterday, and said:

"We have a signed contract with Conway for this year, and if it won't stand, why, no contract at all will stand, that's all I have to say."

Fred Carroll said he knew nothing definitely about the matter, but he insimated that there is little desire in Brotherhood ranks to take back deserters. It is claimed Conway is a deserter because he signed the Brotherhood agreement knowing that he had a two-years' contract with the local League club.

The National League Had Better Play Fair

BALTIMORE, February 4.-Manager Barnie said to-day that if the National League refused to protect the Atlantic Association in its purchase of the Worcester club, there was nothing left for the Atlantic but to give up the naing left for the Atlantic but to give up the national agreement and look to other sources for protection. The threat of Ex-President Bancroft, of the Springfield club, to make arrangements with Ward for a series of games between the Brotherbood and the New England clubs also stirred up Barnie. He says: "If the Atlantic Association should make such a threat as that there would be some sense in it. The New England League seems to be posing now as a sort of miniature brotherbood.

BIG FIELDS OF FINE HORSES Entered for the Principal Events Schedule for Washington Park.

CHICAGO, February 4.—Secretary Brewster has completed a compilation of the entries to the Washington Park stakes for the coming season. The stakes that closed January 15 received the following entries: Wheeler handi-cap, 129; Lakewood handicap, 88; Great Western handicap, 56; Boulevard 'stakes, 81; Dear born handicap, 166; Lake View handicap, 192, and Quickstep stakes, 143. The two last named born handicap, 166; Lake View handicap, 182, and Quickstep stakes, 143. The two last named are for 2-year-olds, while the Maiden stakes and Dearborn handicap are for 3-year-olds. The number of entries for these stakes is a fraction over 85. The club has eight stakes closed previously. They are the American Derby with 124 entries; Sheridan stakes, 101; Englewood stake, 86; Drexel stakes, 43: all for 3-year-olds. Hyde Park stakes, 135; Friendly stake, 257; Lakeside stake, 83, and Kenwood stakes, 80: all for 2-year-olds. This makes a grand total of 1,673 entries for 16 stakes, an average of a fraction over 18. This remarkable exhibit is one that carries with it the certainty of a great racing campaign at Washington Park next June and July. The total entry of 257 for the Friendly stakes comprises 125 made to the Washington Park Jockey Club. As the conditions prescribe that horses entered at either place are eligible to start at both on the payment of only one entry fee, it follows that the whole list of 257 are entered with both jockey clubs alike.

No handicap for 3-year-olds and upward ever closed before in this country with a list of entries to compare in point of numbers. Its 129 entries show conclusively that Western owners are ready to send their horses over a distance of ground when sufficient inducement is offered. Every horse of good class in the West is entered, with the king of colta, El Rio Rey, at the head. As the event will probably be worth $7,000 to the winner, it is no trouble to predict that it will have a grand field of starters. If the weather is fair and track fast July 1 next, the winner of the first Wheeler handicap will be likely to have a grand field of starters. If the weather is fair and track fast July 1 next, the winner of the first Wheeler handicap will be likely to have a grand field of starters. If the weather is fair and track fast July 1 next, the winner of the first Wheeler handicap will be likely to have a grand field of starters. If the weather is fair and track fast July 1 next are expected, and the tale of entries for the year 1890 is now completed.

HIS LAST GOODBY

Loved Wife and Daughter. TRYING ORDEAL FOR A SICK MAN.

He Recovers Sufficiently to be Removed to the White House

IN PRESIDENT HARRISON'S CARRIAGE. Preparations Complete for the Double Funeral This Morning.

Secretary Tracy recovered sufficiently yeserday to admit of his removal to the White House in President Harrison's carriage. Arrived at the Executive Mansion, he rested for awhile, and then took a last look at the remains of his beloved wife and daughter.

The ordeal was a very trying one.

WASHINGTON, February 4 .- Shortly before 3 o'clock to-day, President Harrison ordered his carriage to be sent to Judge Davis' house, for the purpose of bringing Secretary Tracy over to the White House, as his guest. A gentleman who had just left Secretary Tracy said that he wanted to walk over, as he felt strong enough to do so, but it was thought best for him to use the carriage. The Secretary was fully dressed, in his ordinary clothes, and wore no extra wraps, and he walked downstairs, across the sidewalk, and into the carriage without assistance. His step was firm and steady, and showed no evidence of steafly, and showed no evidence of physical weakness. His great sorrow had left its impress, however, on his features. His head was bowed and his face inexpressibly sad. His son, Mr. Frank B. Tracy, and Lifeutenant Parker, U. S. N., accompanied him to the White House, but were not called upon to render him any assistance. He stepped lightly out of the carriage, walked across the vestibule alone, in the main corridor, and took the elevator for the President's private apartments. The President and Mrs. Harrison greeted him there and did all they could to cheer him up and make him feel at home.

Later in the afternoon, in accordance with his request, the Secretary was taken into the East Room and shown to the caskets containing the remains of his wife and daughter. They were covered with beautiful flowers, the tribwere covered with beautiful flowers, the trib-utes of loving friends, and branches of the utes of loving friends, and branches of the sage paim were laid across the top and along the sides of each casket. Standing at the head, between them both, was a large palm tree, arranged so that the leaves drooped gracefully over the dead. Mrs. Tracy's casket was marked by a large floral anchor, and he daughter's by a large wreath of white flowers. Camelias, hyacinths, roses, lilies of the valley and violets entwined in smilax were tastefully arranged over both caskets.

The Secretary was very much affected by the sight, and sobbed as though his heart would break. The casket containing Mrs. Tracy's body was opened, and he was allowed to look upon her face for the last time. The other body was in no condition for inspection, and upon her face for the last time. The other body was in no condition for inspection, and the casket was not opened at all. It was a remarkable terrible ordeal for the stricken man, but he bore it well, though there was no concealing the keenness and depth of his grief.

Funeral services will be held over the remains of Mrs. Tracy and Miss. Tracy in the East Room of the White House, to-morrow morning at il o'clock. Rev. Dr. Douglass, rector of St. John's Church, will conduct the services. The bodies will be temporarily deposited in the receiving vault at Rock Creek Cemetery, until their final disposition is determined upon. The their final disposition is determined upon. The pall bearers for Mrs. Tracy will be as follows Secretary Windom, Secretary Proctor, Attorney General Miller, Postmaster General Wansmaker, Secretary Noble, Secretary Rusk, Admiral Porter and Rear Admiral Rogers.

Plain Unvarnished Tale, prints the busing as leading article:

A few days ago a poor Moor came to us in great distress and asked for advice and assistance. He said: "In the month of February last I had been much oppressed by the Sheikh of my district, and having heard that Christian protections were to be had in Tangier at a modurate price, my family desired me to a mount of the protections were to be had in Tangier at a modurate price, my family desired me to protections were to be had in Tangier at a moderate price, my family desired me to go to Tangier and make inquiries, with a view to purchasing one, if I found the price within our means. So I arcse and took a present in my hand and came to Tangier. I was directed to the house of one Solomon Azo-ue, with whom I found two other persons; one was his brother, called Yakoob, and the other Abraham Amselem. I never saw any of them before. In answer to my inquiries they told me that they could sell me a very strong protection for $100 which would cover myself and all my family. I told that we were very poor, having been sito which would cover myself and all my lamily. I told that we were very poor, having been greatly oppressed by unfair exactions, in fact that we had scarcely any ready money, but we were industrious and willing to work hard if we could be sure that the result of our labors would not be taken from us. I told them would not be taken from us. I told them plainly that we could not pay any money down, but that we would give our 'protector' a part of our crops and the increase of our sheep and cattle year by year.

"After some conversation they offered me a a 'strong protection' for $85, and gave me five years to pay it in. I was rejoiced at these liberal terms, and accepted without hesitation. They then took me with them to the private house of Mr. Consul Lewis, on the Marshar. They had some conversation with the Consul which I did not understand, and then told me that he was very reluctant to give me a that he was very reluctant to give me a protection for less than $100, but that by reason protection for less than $100, but that by reason of their pleadings on my behalf, he had consented to take $85 cash down, and that they had agreed to pay the money for me, but it would be necessary for me to make a paper, pretending to sell all my property to them for that amount, so as to secure them, but that they would take the payment in five annual installments.

They then fetched a bag containing $85 in silver, and we proceeded together to the public notaries, who, by their directions, drew up two documents. One recited that Solomon Azogue had then and there advanced to me the sum of had then and there advanced to me the sum of $22.50 in good silver money, and taken as his security the half of my property, movable and immovable. The other was exactly similar so far as I can remember only it recited that Abraham Amselem had advanced another sum of $42.50 upon the remaining half of my property. The money was then counted out to me by the notaries, and I put it back into the same bag, and after signing the documents I took it away in my hand. When we got outside Azogue said: 'Now the transaction is complete. Here is your protection paper; you see that it is duly sealed. Give me the bag of dollars and I will take it to the Consul and you can go home to your family, Consul and you can go home to your family, lucky man, and this is the document he gave me: "U. S. Great Improvement.

It is not many years ago people travelled on horseback or by stages; now fifty miles an hour is not fast enough for them. Formerly people wrote letters that were weeks in reaching their destination; now the telegraph fiashes thought around the world. Formerly doctors bled their patients for nearly every complaint; now they use advanced science of the highest order. Prof. Austin Flint, of Bellevue College, says: "The judicious use of alcoholic stimulants is one of the striking characteristics of progress in the practice of medicine during the last half century." Prof. Henry Mott, Ph. D., F. C. S., says: "By a most careful analysis I have found Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey free from adulterations or foreign substances, and it deserves to meet with great success." The well-known Dr. R. W. Hutchinson, of New York, says: "I highly recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and prescribe it extensively in my practice." Rev. B. Milla, of Princeton, lowa, says: "I have used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey with great benefit to my wrie, who is a confirmed invalid. I know from experience it is a pure and most valuable medicine. I am also using it in the case of my son, who is threatened with consumption. I am a Presbyterian elergyman and a doctor of divinity, but I am not afraid to recommend Duffy's Malt Whiskey as the purest and most efficient tonic that I know of, and my experience is a large one." Great Improvement.

There is a glass lamp chimney so tough that it almost never breaks in use. It is of the finest glass; it is also perfect in form and action.

The glass costs several times as much as common glass. The chimney costs two or three times as much as others to make; the dealer, of course, has to pay for it; but he can afford to sell it as usual. Some object to it. "Can't afford to sell it," they say; but they can. It brings good will of more value than all their brittle-chimney profits good profit besides.
