HER LIFE ONE OF MISERY.

She Declares Suicide Preferable to a | Home in Dixmont.

A PITEOUS CRY FOR ASSISTANCE

Yesterday a piteous appeal for relief from the insane asylum at Dixmont was received by the Humane Society. The letter was addressed to Agent O'Brien, and ran as follows:

"DEAR SIE-Act quietly on this appeal, and bring my husband with you. 1 cannot stand this another hour. I have begged and pleaded for mercy from them all, and they said yesterday that all that would end my misery would be a doze of poison. They say they are fixing me for my husband to take me home. If I cry and beg for mercy, they lock me up and pull my hair out of my head, and have given me so much poison that I am in so much torture that much poison that I am in so much tortate that it is martyrdom. You will have to act quickly, for I cannot stand this abuse another day. My husband thinks they are kind to me, and does not dream of the truth, although I have written and written to him. If he knew, he would go wild, and would make all parties suffer to the full extent of the law.

FEELS LIKE NEEDLES.

"No one can stand this feeling of torture, as if needles were all over your flesh. They use carbolic acid on me. One could not stand it, even if they were insane. No tongue or pen in the universe can describe my feelings. When my bushand was here I would have told him all, but he had a drink or two in him. As a matter of course, they had lied to him, and I could convince him of nothing. If you have the least bit of humanity give this your first atten-tion and believe him not. Compel him to come tion and believe him not. Compel him to come at once and put me even in prison, where it wor'd be a palace to this place. There must be a law preventing the torture in which they have put me. They say here that they will not send for my husband, and that they initend to experiment more on me. "My even all prick me where Dr. — rubbed poison on them, and all over my face. Mrs.— and Miss — held me. Dr. — said he had given me enough poison to kill five women. It only put me in the most terrible torture. If something is not done at once 1 will have to commit suicide to end it. For heaven's sake get me free at once, so that I can tell my story before it is too late. My father is very wealtby, and he would punish them to the full extent of the law. Such martyrdom never existed on earth.

I sent you a letter yesterday that I smug "Then you a letter yesterday that I amage fied out through a friend. I hope you will give it your earliest at ention. I cannot sit or stand quiet for the terrible burning, and the green poison they put on me makes it worse. God knows this will have to end somehow, as I am iriven distracted

AS SHE SEES IT.

"If the cruelty and tyranny that was practiced here was brought before the public, it would bring the world to sympathize with the Inmates. But it is only my own case I wish to draw attention to, as that is all I am able to do now. Attend to this at once, and do not believe my husband. My suffering is worthy of lieve my husband. My suffering is worthy of attention. In addition to that, there is the in-sulting contempt and disregard shown to me by heartless attendants. They have bragged that they are experimenting on me for the sake of medical science, and want to see how long a human being can live in such torture. Give this your immediate attention. Praying you may be successful, I remain the most miserable wretch in existence." Agent O'Brien vesterday afternoon called may be successful, I remain the most miserable wretch in existence." Agent O'Brien yesterday afternoon called upon the huwhand of the writer of the letter, and had a talk with him. The husband said that his wife was sent to the asylum on August 22, 1869, as a private patient. She was exam-ined, he said, by two East End physicians, who recommended her commitment. The woman, he says, is subject to hallucinations, and has suicidal tendencies. Her father is a prominent and wealthy physician of Philadelphia. Until a few years ago he was a resident of this city. Agent O'Brien will investigate the matter further to-day, it being his intention to call upon the physicians who recommended the woman's committal.

Drilling has been commenced in the valit of the building, for the purpose of establishing an artesian well. A depth of 76 feet has been already reached. Five feet of dirt, 21 of city, 10 of gravel, and 30 of blue slate rock have been penetrated, and it is expected that water will flow by to-day or tomorrow. The water of this well will be perfectly pure, which will enable a highly pure quality of ice to be made.
The process is to make the ice from ammonia, gas and water. The cakes will be frozen in thin any, with dimensions of 44 inches deep, 22 long, and 11 wide. A conference has at last been arranged between the Knights of Labor and the officials of the Pittsburg Traction Company. From the present indications a settlement of the gripmen's strike is probable and the strikers will, at their ball to-night, dance with lighter hearts than they have had for nearly six weeks. After many days of disappointment trying to secure a hearing with the officials of the traction company, they have secured the promise of the president of the road that their case will be considered at a meeting of the board of directors in this city either next Tuesday or Tuesday week. Yesterday morning President Elkins received a visit from J. O. Brown, Chief of the Department of Public Safety, and Clarence Burleigh, Esq., assistant eity solicitor. The two city officials have interested themselves in the matter, and say they will use their influence to enable the employes to secure their rights. Chief Brown told Pres-ident Elkins a number of things he was prob-ably aware of and asked the President to give the men a hearing, even it he did not want to re-employ them. Chief Brown said:

BROWN'S POINTED TALK. "Your company has received sprobably more favors than any street railway company ever allowed to operate in this city. You were given the use of the best street in Pittsburg, and in many other ways have received favors from the city. The road is practically owned by outside capital, and in coming in here, you asked for certain privileges and rights. In giving these, Councils undoubtedly expected that you would appreciate the privileges and conduct your hus.

might expect to come under this feeling of re-ciprocity, would be the proper treatment of our citizens in your employ. "The men who are now out on strike are honest citizens of Pittsburg, and I request that you give them a hearing. We do not ask that you give them back into your employ, but petition that you in all fairness hear what they have to say. It will do no harm to grant them an interview, and by holding a conference it may smooth over the bitter feeling now exist-ing between the company and your old men. They have conducted themselves as peaceable citizens, and there was no apparent reason for their discharge. I do not know the details of the case, and am not familiar with the trouble. I have been asked as the head of the Depart-ment of Public Safety to use what influence I have to patch up the trouble, and this is the For months the women of the town have been afraid to appear on the streets at night for fear of being assaulted. During the holidays Miss Lizzie Montgomery, while walking along the street, was attacked by a man, who knocked her down and rendered her unconscious. Her father is a welk-known and respected citizen of the place, and after waiting for some time for he local authorities to do something toward cap-uring the rascal, he came to the city and placed have to patch up the trouble, and this is the reason why I am here."

turing the rascal, he came to the city and placed the case in the hands of Supermtendent Allen. The latter investigated and got a clew to the man who made the assault. After committing the crime, the man left the town and went to Wilmerding, where he has been working on the Westinghouse building. The detective found him there yesterdar, and, with the assistance of Chief of Police Donovan, of Braddock, ar-rested the man. He was taken to Hulton, where he gave his name as Thomas Rourke. To ascertain if there was much Southern pig iron used in this city, a call was made upon 0. M. Hartzell, of H. E. Col-ling & Co., the best-known brokers in Pitts-burg. To the question Mr. Hartzell said: "Yes, there is considerable Southern pig iron wold in this city now. We handle a great iron supplanting the Mahoning or Shenango Valley product. It is not as good as the iron wade in this section, but it is a good mixer. When but in with Pittsburg pig a manufac-turer can get a good finished product. Because real estate is too scarce in this city. The trouble is that while a scarce in this city. The trouble is that while a theater must be put on the ground floor here-after, space is too much limited to get any store-rooms on the ground floor, George Middleton and Charlie Kohl, two of the most lively theatrical proprietors in America, were here last month, but, after looking over the town, they gave up the project. The reason was this: a lot costs too much to depend on the returns from a theatrical house alone. The percentage is too small. It will cost a man at least $500,000 to get a good lease and put up a first-class house, and $30,000 a year will not pay him, as you can figure ont."

The few spoken to did not anticipate that the 70 men now out on strike would be benefited to any great extent, on account of the way the company has acted toward their organization. The strikers have been put off from time to time and when they thought they had a chance for an interview with President Elkins, they found the latter had gone to Philadelphia Some of them wanted to make up a purse and send a committee after him, hoping that they could secure an interview with P. DOCTORS SAY SHE'S INSANE.

Dr. J. S. Nelan, one of the physicians who treated the lady previous to her being placed in Dixmont, states that there is no doubt of her insanity. She was repeatedly calling upon him in reference to her imagined afflictions. Her most peculiar hallucinations were that her touch was poisonous and that snakes and worms were crawling under her skin, in proof of which she would point to the blue veins on the back of her hands. He treated her for six months and knows beyond question her actual con-dition. He also avers that a pronounced streak of insanity taints her whole family. Several he could mention, one in particular, a sister has been confined in Dixmont for the last 20 years, but he refrains from mentioning name This been considered in Dirkmont for the last 20 years, but he refrains from mentioning names on account of her relatives who are well-known affi highly connected in Philadelphia. GEORGE T. OLIVER SUCCESSFUL.

End of the Long Contest for the Local

Census Supervisorship.

The contest over the supervisorship of census for the Pittsburg district was settled yes terday by a division of the district, and the appointment of Mr. George T. Oliver, of the firm of Oliver & Roberts, to supervise the collection of census returns in Allegheny county, and Dr. William Denny to perform the same duties for the other counties formerly included in the Ninth district. The appointment of Mr. Oliver is regarded as a wise action. He is a popular manufacturer, and stands high in the commu-nity for his remarkably able and intelligent business qualities. He was admitted to the Allegheny county bar about 12 years ago, and a few years later he became the head of the firm of Oilver & Roberts, the wire manufacturers, of the Southside, a position he still holds.

The history of the fight between Senator Quay, as the supporter of Dr. Denny, and the Superintendent of the Census Porter, who de-stred the annual sector of the Census Porter, who desired the appointment of Mr. Oliver, is well known. Neither side would give up, and the division was the only possible solution of the
