REV. W. S. WILLIAMS ON VANITY.

National Capital. OTHER TOPICS TREATED BY PREACHERS

A Sermon or Two on the Calamity at the

At Christ Universalist Church, in U. V. L. Hall, last night, Rev. W. S. Williams, the pastor, preached on the subject of "Ourselves and Other People," "taking for his text, Romans xii:3-"For I say # * * * to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, as God both dealt to every man the measure of faith." The preacher began his discourse by touching somewhat ungently the recent session of Presbyterians in New York. The principal object of that session, he remarked, was the revision of the Calvinistic creed. The substance of the objections made by those progressive, or rather self-styled progressive, Presbyterians, was that their creed lacks any suggestion of the fact that God is a loving God. The members of that Presbytery plumed themselves on having discovered that God is love! They considered themselves as very superior to ordinary men because they thought they had discovered that. No doubt it was a good thing to see the ideas of men advance even at a snail's pace. But it was also striking and amusing to a degree, that such persons should claim to have "discovered" that God is love. Did not a nobler and a grander people-although, perhaps, a people not so ostentatious-discover that fact over 100 years ago? As if no one had ever known that God was love before!

As if God, continued the speaker, had never been love before, but had become so for the purpose of being discovered by these Presbyterians. As though He were not the father—the supreme dispenser of all love! Members of that New York Presbytery must have thought most loftily of themselves. Now the apostle told us that a man must not think higher of himself than he ought to think. This, of course, should not prevent a man from forming a just notion of himself. but we are not to make ideal pictures to soothe our vanity. Then, too, this did not prevent a man from making an ideal or what, by grace, he might become, and striving to obtain that ideal. A man was not what he thought himself. Neither was he what others thought him. But it would do everyone good if some power would give them the "giftie" that Burns speaks of. The sin of overestimating ourselves was a grievous sin, and should be watchfully

GOD'S HAND IN BEREAVEMENT.

Rev. Kennedy Looks Upon the National Affliction as a Necessity.

Rev. David S. Kennedy, of the First Presbyterian Church, Allegheny, preached resterday morning on the subject: "God's Unseen Hand in Bereavement." As an introduction to the sermon, which related particularly to Jacob's bereavement, Mr. Kennedy referred to the dark sorrow which settled over the National Capital during the past week and to which the attention of the Kennedy regards afflictions as a necessity.

"God does not send them as a judgment for condemnation, but as a chastisement for the correction of his people. He never strikes a blow save when it is necessary for the good of his people. We are permitted to look behind the scenes and see God's afflictions we shall see that they have worked out for good. It is a kind mercy that God keeps his course secret. We would not know how to use the light if we had it. Living trouble is worse than dead | Serious Assault by Two Colored Rivermen

REV. PRUGH'S DISCOVERIES.

Created to be Damaed. Rev. Prugh, of the Grace Reformed

Church delivered a very interesting sermon last evening. His subject gave him an excellent opportunity for argument. He took the position that one could make the Scriptures read any way he had a mind to, if he started out to do so, but it was getting to be that all men would not accept any reading but the correct one. The soul-harrowing pictures of the Puritans and St. Angustine did more than anything else to drive men away from God. Men would not believe that the God who created man, and loved him, would hold him up a blaspheming, cursing, shricking wretch over a bottomless

The Bible, said the speaker, was a series of pictures, and no man had a right to take metaphors and dogmatize them. There was just as much proof in the Scriptures that all men would be saved as that most of them would be damned.

WITHOUT THE FOLD. A Washington Prencher Speaks on the Subject of the Uneaved. Taking for his text, I Cor. v:13, "But them that are without, God judgeth," Rev. Dr. J. D. Moffatt, of Washington, Pa., preached an eloquent sermon at the Third Presbyterian Church last evening. Dr. Moffatt first briefly considered the unsaved, who and what they are; he then proceeded to show why; they are without the fold, and discussed the question of the danger attending their remaining out.

Opening of the New Presbyterian Church Near the Driving Park-Great Interest In the Proceedings-History of the Build-

The new Presbyterian church on Homewood avenue was yesterday formally turned over to the congregation. Although no special services marked the occasion still great interest was shown in the proceedings by a very large attendance both of the regular worshipers of the congregation and visitors who came to congratulate them upon the fulfillment of their work. The services were opened with prayer, and after a hymn by the choir Rev. W. J. Chalfant of the Park Avenue Presbyterian Church gave a brief history of the new church. The total cost of the lot and building was $4,311, of which $3,201 has been paid, leaving only the lot to be paid for. The money was raised partly by the congregation and the congregations of other churches,

The dedicatory prayer was delivered by Rev. Dr. Shrom, of the Fourth Presbyterian Church, after which short addresses were made by Dr. H. T. McClelland, of the Western Theological Seminary; Rev. S. H. Morris, of Wilkinsburg, and J. H. Jennings, Esq. The tenor of the remarks were of a congratulatory order, and urging the people to be steadfast in their Christianity. George Wagner sang a very pretty solo, "In the Secret of His Presence." The new church is a frame structure, and is neatly and comfortably furnished. The pulpit will be filled by the Presbytery, no pastor having vet been called.

WILL OPEN ON WEDNESDAY. Father Sheedy's New School New Rendy to be Dedicated. The new parochial school connected with St. Mary of Mercy Church will be dedicated and opened Wednesday. It will be one of city for years. The ceremonies will begin at 4 o'clock in the afternoon by the blessing of the building by Father Sheedy. After this the dedication exercises proper will take place. The school children will be present and sing appropriate hymns. A beautiful silk flag will be presented to the school by N. H. Brady, the well-known G. A. R. representative. As the flag is raised to the top of the building and unfurled the school children will sing national airs.

In the evening the building will be thrown open for the inspection of the pub-lic. An entertainment will be given in the hall, at which Bishop Phelan will preside. He will also probably make an address, fol lowed by short speeches from prominent citizens. A musical and dramatic entertainment will wind up the festivities. A banquet will be served for the visitors. The admission will be by card. whole country has been directed. RATHER A DARK DEED.

Upon a Third. A colored man was found by Officer W.

P. Smith, about 4 A. M. yesterday, lying on He Does Not Belleve That Man Was the sidewalk on Market, near Water street, unconscious and bleeding profusely. The officer set to work and soon got the man brought back to consciousness sufficiently to tell what had occurred. He said he was Dan Hopkins, fireman on the towboat Fulton. He had started out with Walter and Henry Arnold, also colored firemen on the same boat, and after putting in the greater part of the night in drinking they started to return. On the way the two Arnolds got offended at Hop-kins, and assaulted him with handybillies, leaving him where the officer found him, the officer went to the boat and arrested the Arnolds, though one of them assaulted him with a hammer before he managed to get the nippers on him.

Magistrate Gripp gave each of the Arnolds 90 days to the work house. Hopkins

For the past few days all sorts of charges have been made by Democrats to the effect that the different police officials have been "coercing and bleeding" liquor dealers, licensed and unlicensed, for political purposes. The police officials charged, in justice to themselves, Saturday night made the following affidavit before Alderman McKenns, which is submitted by them to the public in refutation of the political slanders of which they were made the victims.
