THE SCARLET SIGNAL.

Dr. Talmage Back in Brooklyn, Where He Preaches of Rahab.

A LESSON TAUGHT BY THE SPIES

Who Saved the Only House that Survived the Fall of Jericho.

WHAT SCARLET MEANS TO A CHRISTIAN

SPECIAL TO THE DISPATCE. BROOKLYN, February 9 .- The Rev. T.

De Witt Talmage, D. D., resumed preaching in Brooklyn this morning, after his visit to the Holy Laud, and the Academy of Music was crowded. Thousands of people were not able to get into the building. The subject of his discourse was "The House on the Wall." Dr. Talmage took for his text Joshua vi, 23: "And the young men that were spies went in, and brought out Rahab, and her father, and her mother, and her brethren, and all that she had." He said: When, only a few weeks ago, I visited Jericho, I said, can it be possible that this dilapidated place is the Jericho that Mark Antony gave as a wedding present to Cleopatra? Where are the groves of palm trees? Where are Herod's palaces that once stood here? Where is the great theater from the stage of which Salome told the people that Herod was dead? Where is the sycamore tree on the limb of which Zaccheus sat when wreck of the walls, that fell at the blowing of the ram's horns? But the fact that all these have disappeared did not hinder me from seeing in imagination the smash of everything on the fated day, save one house drink is not going to destroy him, but it is on the wall. That scene centuries ago the first step on a bad road. comes back to me as though it were vester-

There is a very sick and sad house in the city of Jericho. What is the matter? Is it poverty? No. Worse than that. Is it lep-rosy? No. Worse than that. Is it death? hotel-perhaps the very one where he took she was induced to leave I know not; but and it is easily lifted; so he lifts it. Then they look in vain for her return.

HOPE CRUSHED TO EARTH.

Sometimes they hear a footstep very much like hers, and they start up and say: "She comes!" but only to sink back again into disappointment. Alas! Alas! The tather sits by the hour, with his fice in his hands. saying not one word. The mother's hair is ecoming gray too fast, and she begins to stoop so that those who saw her only a little while ago in the street know her not now as she passes. The brothers clench their fists, swearing vengeance against the despoiler of their home. Alas! will the poor soul never come back? There is a long, deep shadow over all the househoold. Added to this there is an invading army six miles away, just over the river, coming on to destroy the city; and what with the loss of their child and the coming on of that destructive army, I think the old people wished that they would die. That is the first scene in this drams of the Bible. In a house on the wall of the city is that daughter. That is her home now. Two spies have come from the invading army to look around through Jericho and see how best it may be taken. Yonder is the lost child, in that dwelling on the wall of the city. The police hear of it and soon there is a shuffling of feet all around about the door, and the city government de-mands the surrender of those two spies. First, Rahab-for that was the name st child-first, Rahab secretes the two spies and gets their pursuers off the track; out after awhile she says to them: "I will make a bargain with you. I will save your life if you will save my life, and the life of my tather and my mother, and my brothers, and my sisters, when the victorious army comes upon the city.

you see. The wanderer never forgets home. Her heart breaks now as she thinks of how Jesus." Then let all the forces of this those doorways. If he attempt it he will be cut to pieces. What shall he do? Escape through the window of God's mercy. That sunshine has been pouring in for many a day. God's inviting mercy. God's par-doning mercy. God's all-conquering mercy. God's everlasting mercy. But, you say, the window is so high. Ab, there is a rope, the very one with which the cross and its victim were lifted. That was strong enough to hold Christ, and it is strong enough to hold you. Bear all your weight upon it, all your hopes for this life, all your hopes for the life that is to come.

THE BEST ALTERNATIVE. Escape now through the window. "But," you say, "that cord is too small to save me; that salvation will never do at all for such a sinner as I have been." I suppose that the rope with which Rahab let the two spies to the ground was not thick enough; but they took that or nothing. And, my dean brother, that is your alternative. There is only one searlet line that can save you. who have been borne away in safety by that scarlet line, and it will bear you away in safety. Do you notice what a very narrow escape those spies had? I suppose they the window. That tells me that the blood escape those spies had? I suppose they came with flustered cheek and with excited bashedly into sin, and all the doors are open; but if we get out at all it will be by being let down over precipices, wriggling and helpless, the strong grip above keeping us from being dashed on the rocks beneath.

It is easy to get into sin, young man. It is not so easy to get out of it, A young man goes to the marble counter of a hotel. He asks for a brandy cited. It does not give any glossiness to the eye. He walks home in beautiful apparel, and all his prospects are brilliant. That

THE SCARS OF THE YEARS. Years have passed on, and I see that young No. Worse than that. A daughter has the first drink. A delirium is on him. He he pushes back the blinds and puts his foot on the window, sill. Then he gives one spring, and the watchman finds his dis-figured body, unrecognizable, on the pave-ment. O, if he had only waited a little—if he had come down on the searlet ladder that Jesus holds from the wall for him, and for you, and for me; but no, he made one jump and was gone. A minister of Christ was not long ago dismissed from his diocese for intoxication, and in a public meeting he gave this account of his sorrow. He said: "I had a beautiful home once, but strong drink shattered it. I had beautiful children, but this fiend of rum took their dimpled hands in his and led them to the grave. I had a wife-to know her was to love her-but she sits in wretchedness to-night while I wander over the earth. I had a mother, and the pride of her life was I; but the thunderbolt struck her. I now have scarcely a friend in the world. Taste of the bitter cup I have tasted, and then answer me as to whether I have would to God to-night that every distillery was in flames, for then in the glowing sky would write in the smoke of the ruin: "Woe to him that putteth the bottle to his neighbor's lips." That minister of the Gospel went in through the broad door of temptation: he came out of the window.

A NARBOW ESCAPE AT BEST.

And when I see the temptations that are about us in all countries, and when I know the proclivities to sin in every man's heart, I see that if any of us escape it will be a very narrow escape. O, if we have, my friends, got off from our sin, let us tie the searlet thread by which we have been saved across the window. Let us do it in praise of Him HOME NEVER FORGOTTEN. O, she had not forgotten her home yet,

Still further, we want this scarlet line of the text drawn across the window of our prospects. I see Rahab and her father and her mother and her brothers and sisters looking out over Jericho, the city of palm trees, and across the river, and over at the army invading, and then up to the mountains and the sky. Mind you, this house was on the wall, and I suppose the prospect from the window must have been very wide. Besides that, I do not think that the searlet line at all interfered with the view of the landscape. The assurance it gave of safety must have added to the beauty of the country. To-day, my friends, we sit in the window of earthly prospects, and we look off toward the hills of heaven and the land*cape of eternal beauty. God has opened the win-dow for us, and we look out. We now only There have been hundreds and thousands get a dim outline of the inhabitants. We now only here and there catch a note of the of Christ bought that home for my soul, and came with instered check and with excited heart. They had a very narrow escape. They went in the broad door of sin; but how did they come out? They came out of the window. They went up by the stairs of stone they came down on a slender thread, And so, my friends, we go easily and una-bashed ty into sin and all the doorn are went away some time ago-they do not stand any more with their backs to us, but their faces are this way and their voices drop through this Sabbath air, saying with all tenderness and sweetness: "Come! Come! Come!" And the child that you think of only as buried-why, there she is, and it is May day in heaven; and they gather the amaranth, and they pluck the lilies, and they twist them into a garland for her brow, tree on the limb of which Zaccheus sat when Jesus passed this place? Where is the smash-called so, I suppose, because it smashes the man that takes it. There is no O do you think they could see our waving intoxication in it. As the young man re-ceives it he does not seem to be at all ex-clear, and not many clouds in the sky. I wonder if they can see us from that good land? I think they can.

THE HEAVENLY RESPONSES.

If from this window of earthly prospects we can almost see them, then from their towers of light I think they can fully see us.

And so I wave them the glory, and I wave them the joy, and I say: "Have you got through with all your troubles?" and their voices answer: "God hath wiped away all tears from our eyes." I say: "Is it as grand up there as you thought it would be?" and the voices answer: "Eye hath not seen nor ear heard, neither hath it entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for those that love Him." I say: prepared for those that love Him." I say: "Do you have any more struggle for bread?" and they answer: "We bunger no more, we thirst no more." And I say: "Have you been out to the cemetery of the golden city?" and they answer: "There is no death here." And I look out through the heavens, and I say: "Where do you get your light from nights, and what do you burn in the temple?" and they answer: "There is no night here, and we have no need of candle or of star." And I say: "What book do you sing out of?" and they answer: "The Hallelujah Chorus." And I say: "In the splendor and magnificence of the city, don't you ever get lost?" and they answer: "The Lamb which is in the midst of the throne leadeth us to living fountains of water." HOW MUCH THE SCARLET MEANS.

O, how near they seem! Their wings-do you not feel them? Their harps-do you not hear' them? And all that through the any hatred for the agency of my ruin. Hate it! I hate the whole damning traffic. I would to God to-night that every distillery which stretcheth the scarlet line! Be that my choice color forever. Is it too glaring for you? Do you like the blue because i reminds you of the sky, or the green because it makes you think of the foliage, or the black because it has in it the shadow of the night? I take the scarlet because it shall make me think of the price that was paid for my soul. O the blood the blood the blood of the Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world. I see where you are. You are at the cross roads. The next step decides everything. Pause before you take it; but do not pause too long. I hear the blast of the trumpet that wakes the dead. Look out! Look out! For in that day, and in our closing moment on earth, better than any other defense or barricade, however high or broad or stupendous, will be one little, thin, scarlet thread in the window.

OFFICE OF PITTSBUEG DISPATCH, SATURDAT, February 8, 1890. Country Produce-Jobbing Prices.

The week's wind-up was slow in all lines of country produce, with poultry as the exception to the rule. There was a scarcity of choice poultry, and hence firmer markets. The downward movement of the egg market has been arrested, and holders are firmer in their views. Prices, however, are unchanged. Choice onlong and cabbage are very firm at quotations. Sweet potatoes are ditto. Irish potatoes of good quality are steady. There is seldom a season when so much inferior stuff has been dumped on to our markets as this, and hence choice goods are at a premium all the time. The open winter has had the effect of very much reduc-ing the average quality of produce, and only good goods find ready sale. NEW YORE, February 8.-The stock market to-day was as usual of late, narrow and dull for the general lists, while a few stocks monopoized all the interest taken in the speculation. present there are no signs of improvement. Some dealers report green steer hides as slightly lower than they were last week. Certain it is that markers show weakening tendencies. Buff hides, which have been very active and moving upward for a few weeks past, have been arrested in their upward course, and are now drifting slowly back to their old level. The reason for the upward movement was a beavy export demand, which no longer exists. Added to the export demand there came strong specu-hative influences which sent the light-weight hides sharply upward for a few weeks past. Calf skins are in good demand and prices are steady. Prices of hides and calf skins are no doubt now at their lowest for this season. There is a strong feeling of confidence among dealers over the outlook. With an active de-mand for leather, which has already started, it is only a question of short time when the ac-tivity will reach the hide department, and any future changes will inevitably be for the bet-ter.

No sconer tave these men untied the scarlet cord from their bodies than they look up, and they say: 'You had better get all your friends in this house-your father, your mother, your blowing his whistle at midnight before your brothers and your sisters; you had better get them in this house. you have put around our bodies and tie it across the window; and when our victorious army comes up, and sees that scarlet thread the window, they will spare this house and all who are in it. Shall it be so?" cried the spies. "Aye, aye," and Rahab, from the window, "it shall be so."

SECOND AND THIED SCENES.

That is the second scene in this Bible drama. There is a knock at the door of the old man. He looks up, and says: "Come in," and lol there is Rahab, the lost child; but she has no time to talk. They gather in excitement around her, and she says to them: "Get ready quickly, and go with me to my house. The army is coming! The trumpet! Make haste! Fly! The enemy That is the third scene in this Bible drama. The hosts of Israel are all around about the doomed city of Jericho. Crash ! goes the great metropolis, heaps on heaps. The air suffocating with the dust, and horrible with the screams of a dying city. All the houses flat down. All the people dead, Ah no, no. On a crag of the wall-the only piece of the wall left standing-there is a house which we must enter. There is a tamily there that have been spared. Who Who are they? Let us go and see. Rahab, her father, her mother, her brothers, her sisters, all safe, and the only house left standing in all the city. What saved them ? Was the house more firmly built? O, no; it was built in the most perilous place-on the wall; and the wall was the first thing that Was it because her character was any better than any of the other population of the city? O, no. Why then was she spared, and all her household? Can you tell me why? O, it was the scarlet line in the window. That is the fourth scene in this Bible drama. When the destroying angel went through Egypt, it was the blood of the lamb on the door-posts that saved the Is-raelites; and now that vengeance has come upon Jericho it is the same color that assures the safety of Rahab and all her household.

MUST BE MEANS OF RESCUE.

My friends, there are foes coming upon us, more deadly and more tremendous, to overthrow our immortal interests. They ill trample us down and crush us out forever, unless there be some skillful mode of rescue open. The police of death already clamor for our surrender; but, begin t blessed be God, there is a way out. It is through the window, and by a rope so satu-rated with the blood of the cross, that it is as red as that with which the spies were lowered; and if once our souls shall be delivcred, then, the scarlet cord stretched across the window of our escape, we may defy all bombardment, earthly and satanic.

In the first place, carrying out the idea of holy Sabbath there; and stretched in a my text, we must stretch this scarlet cord straight line or hung in loops or festoons, zeross the window of our rescue. There comes a time when a man is surrounded. What is that in the front door of his soul? It is the threatening of the tuture. What is that in the back door of his soul? It is the sin of are dead-and it will not be long before you the past. He cannot get out of either of are-when you are dead, will your child

veral Pieces of Down Town Busines Property Change Hands-Good but Not Fancy Prices-Saturday's

The most important event in real estate that was allowed to reach the surface Saturday was the sale by Black & Baird of a three-fourths interest in a business property "What is that in the window?" Some one said: "That is a scarlet line." "O," said on Smithfield street, near the new Postoffice building. Property in this part of the city is beginning to be appreciated. Samuel W. Black & Co. completed the transfer of a business property on Wood father, her mother, her brothers and her sisstreet, near Second avenue, for $22,000. The name of the purchaser could not be obtained, but it was stated that he would either improve the present building or put up a new one. Still another piece of downtown property was enings to the window, and perhaps burglar alarius, and perhaps an especial watchman picked up at a price of downlown property was picked up at a price approximating $17,000. It belonged to the Mrs. Phebe Phillips estate. Mr. F. C. Koehne is the reputed purchaser. It was reported that the McKelvy farm, near dwelling; but all that cannot protect your household WHAT SIGN IS THERE?

Swissvale had been purchased by a syndicate Is there on our houses the sign of a Savior's sacrifice and mercy? Is there a of local capitalists, who would subdivide it. The price mentioned was $50,000. The report scarlet line in the window? Have your children been consecrated to Christ? Have could not be confirmed. Business at the stock call Saturday was reyou been washed in the blood of the atonement? In what room do you have family prayers? Show me where it is you are accustomed to kneel. The sky is black with the coming deluge. Is your family inside or outside of the ark? It is a sad thing for a man to reject Christ; but to lie down in the night of sin, across the path to day before. The other tractions were weak heaven, so that his family come up and trip over him-that is terrific. It is a sad thing for a mother to reject Christ; but to gather her family around her, and then take them by the hand and lead them out into paths of worldliness, away from God and heaven, alas! alas! There may be geranium and cactus in that family window, and upholstery hover-ing over it, and childish faces looking out of it, but there is no scarlet thread stretches across it. Although that house may seem to be on the best street in all the "town or city, it is really on the edge of a marsh across which sweep most poisonous malarias, and it has a sandy foundation, and its splendor will come down, and great will be the fail of it. A home without God ! A prayerless father! An undevout mother! Awful awful! Is that you? Will you keep on, my brother, on the wrong road, and take your loved ones with you? Time is so short that we cannot waste any of it on apologies or indirections or circumlocations. You owe to your children, O father. O mother, more than food, more than clothing, more than shelter-you owe them the example of a prayerful, consecrated, pronounced out-and-out Christian life. You cannot afford to keep it away from them.
