REED STILL SUPREME.

All Democratic Amendments to the New House Rules Defeated.

FEATURES OF THE DISCUSSION

One Iowa Republican Enters a Protest,

But Without Avail. THE OKLAHOMA BILL FINALLY PASSED.

It is Adopted by the Senate After a Number of Formal Amendments,

In the House yesterday an amendment to the new rules providing for the call of the vess and nays was defeated. Another umendment to the effect that the Speaker could not refuse to entertain an appeal met with a similar fate.

WASHINGTON, February 13 .- As usual the Democrats of the House objected to the approval of the journal, as usual a roll call was needed, as usual the Democrats refrained from voting and as usual the Speaker counted a quorum and declared the journal approved. On motion of Mr. Hitt, of Illinois, the Senate joint resolution was passed unanimously congratulating the people of the United States of Brazil on the adoption of a republican form of government. The consideration of the rules was then proceeded with. Mr. Cannon reported an amendment to rule 15 (relating to roll calls), so as to provide that after the roll call the Speaker shall not entertain a request to record a vote or announce a pair unless a member's name has been noted under clause 3 of this rule.

COUNTING A QUORUM. Clause 3 is amended so as to read as follows: "On the demand of any member, or at the suggestion of the Speaker, the names of members sufficient to make a quorum in the hall of the House who do not vote shall be noted by the Clerk and recorded in the journal, and reported to the Speaker with the names of the members voting, and be counted and announced in determining the presence of a quorum to do business." The amendment was adopted.

Mr. Cannon also reported an amendment providing that Executive communications and Senate bills may be referred by the Speaker to the appropriate committees with-out being submitted to the House. After a brief Democratic protest the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Crisp, of Georgia, offered an amendment to the clause of the rule providing that no dilatory motion shall be entertained by the Speaker—adding the words, "but a demand for the yeas and nays shall not be considered dilatory." Mr. Adams, of Illinois, suggested that, as the demand for the yeas and nays that the constitutional right that the and navs was a constitutional right, that the words suggested were supererrogatory.

A DEMOCRATIC ARGUMENT. Mr. Crisp retorted that, from recent experience, he had learned that no safeguard that could be put around the Constitution could be considered a work of supererrogation. Gentlemen on the other side of the House would either vote for his amendment or leave it in the power of the Speaker to deprive members of their Constitutional rights.

Mr. Struble, of Iows, said that while he followed as well as he could the leader of his side of the House, and while he looked with suspicion upon any amendment com-ing from the Democratic side, he thought that the Bepublicans would do wisely to adopt Mr. Crisp's amendment.

Mr. Bayne, of Pennsylvania, expressed his amazement that any Republican should vote for this amendment and thus vote a want of confidence in the Speaker of the House. Mr. Herbert, of Alabama, said that the question was not one of confidence or lack of confidence in the Speaker. It far transcends in importance any such question as that. It was a question of fundamental

A REPUBLICAN KICKER.

Mr. Struble, of Iowa, denied that his position implied any want of confidence in the Speaker. He had indersed the Speaker in his able administration of general parliamentary law and he would continue to do so. But when he recognized among many trifling and unwise propositions coming from the other side, one which was wise, he would give it his support.

Mr. Crisp's amendment was rejected-years 119, nays 149. Mr. Crisp then offered an amendment providing that the Speaker shall not in any case refuse to entertain an appeal from his decision. In the course of a debate upon this amendment, Mr. Taylor, of Tennessee, addressing the Speaker, said: "You, by your action, have placed yourself in the line of promotion. You are yourself one of the central figures of this body, and, instead of being regarded as a tyrant and a despot, you have written your name on the scroll of iame to be remembered when your assailants are forgotten. ALLEGED HUMOR.

Mr. Cooper, of Indiana, expressed his acquiescence in a statement made a few days ago by Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, that the Democrats camped one night where the Republicans had camped the night before. That was true. The Democrats were camping in the Republican camp in Ohio, in Iowa and Indiana, and they would camp wherever the Republican party camped, up til that party was without a camp at all. [Applause on Democratic side.] The amendment was lost-yeas, 113; nays, Pending further action the Heuse took a recess until to-morrow at 11 o'clock.

TWO TREATIES DISCUSSED.

Proceedings of the Senate While Supposed to be in Secret Session. WASHINGTON, February 13 .- In executive session of the Senate the Committee on Foreign Relations reported back their Russian extradition treaty with the objectionable clause eliminated—the one which speelfically exempted from the list of political crimes attempts upon the life of the Czar or any member of his family. The Senate then proceeded to the consideration of the British extradition treaty and discussed it for an hour and a half without reaching definite nction.

Objection was made by several Senators Mr. Gray, of Delaware, making the principal speech, to the clauses by which extradition is provided for persons charged with the crimes of manslaughter and obtaining money under false pretenses.

The following appointments were confirmed: Daniel Dorchester, Superintendent of Indian Schools; George N. Wisewell, Marshal Eastern District of Wisconsin; Andrew Gardner, Jr., Postmaster, Columbus, O.

THE WORLD'S PAIR FIGHT

Will Probably Soon be Transferred to the Floor of Congress. WASHINGTON, February 13.—The House special World's Fair Committee will meet to-morrow, when the report of the sub-committee prepared by Chairman Chandler will be submitted. The report, the main features of which have already been published, recommends that the two World's Fair bills -one the New York, Chicago and St. Louis combined measure, and the other the Washington bill—be faverably reported to the House, and that bulloting on question of site be begun immediately after the claims of the four cities have been presented.

Unless something unforceden should occur it is the general expetation that the fall emmittee will accept the sub-committee's report is time to have the bills reported to the House to-morrow.

PASSED AT LAST.

The Okinhoma Bill is Safely Through the Senate-The Debate Just Before the Final Vote

Was Taken. WASHINGTON, February 13 .- In the Senate to-day the Oklahoma bill was again under consideration. Mr. Vest offered an amendment prohibiting the Legislative Assembly from authorizing the issue of any bonds, scrip or evidence of debt, by the Territory or by any county, town township, for any purpose except certificates for services ren-dered. He explained the object of the amendment to be the prevention of frauds in the issue of railroad and other bonds by county or county corporations. Arguments against the amendments were made by Senstors Platt, Jones, of Arkansas, and Ingalls, on the ground, first, that there was a general law limiting the ratio of indebtedness in Territories; and second, that such an inhibition would retard, or prevent, improvements in the shape of roads, bridges, provements in the shape of roads, bridges, court houses and school houses.

Mr. Reagan moved an amendment to Mr. Vest's amendment by adding thereto the following: "Except for necessary State and county public buildings, roads and bridges, and for that purpose no tax shall be levied and collected for more than 25 cents on the $100 for State improvements, or for more than 50 cents on the $100 for county improvements." Mr. Spooner suggested to Mr. Vest that he should limit the prohibition to bends in aid of railroads, and Mr. Vest accepted the suggestion and modified his amendment accordingly. Mr. Reagan then withdrew his amendment, and that offered by Mr. Vest was agreed to.

Some further amendments (merely formal) vere agreed to, and the bill was passed were agreed to, and the bill was passed, after a remark by Mr. McPherson that he would advise the Indians that they ought to raise their price for the land; ought to double it, or quadruple it, if necessary, because, with the Territorial governments on each side of the Cherokee outlet, the land was worth ten times more than it was worth before the adoption of the No Man's Land amendment. As the Government could not take the Indian's land from him by force, he ought to be able to get a good price for it.

After an executive session, the Senate adjourned till to-morrow.

CURRENT LITERATURE.

Episcopal Ministers Vent Their Opinions on the Subject-Views of Revs. Hodges Rodgers and Ensworth Take a Wide Scope- Yesterday's Exercises.

The Episcopalian clergy in convocation show that they are not altogether satisfied in their minds that people at large feed their minds on the best mental food within reach. One of them is freed from appre-their minds on the best mental food within reach. One of them is freed from apprehension on the subject of agnosticism as he thinks it no longer a disturbing force.

The business meeting of the Southern Convocation of the Pittsburg diocese of the Episcopal Church, was held yesterday aftermoon at the residence of Rev. W. N. Webbe. Bishop Whitehead presided, Rev.Mr. Heffern, of Hazelwood, was elected secretary, and Rev. G. A. M. Dyess treasurer. It was decided to hold the next convocation at Monongahela City, though the date was not fixed. The meeting then adjourned to St. John's Church at the corner of Butler and Main streets. In a discussion on current literature Rev. George Hodges, rector of Calvary Church, reviewed the different periods of the rise of standard literature; its gradual growth from the birth of Christ to the present time, and the trend of thought which marked the spochs of civilization. He dwelt on the attacks the Christian religion had suffered through the medium of books, magazines and the public press, and said attacks had been answered so effectually that the gospel was still the loundation of fath.

Rev. George Rodgers, of St. Thomas' Church, Verona, believed there was too much trash read; that nearly all of the matter contained in the periodicals of the day was not good intellectual matter for the development of the mind, and that a wise discrimination was necessary in the choice of books to prevent the ruin of a critical taste and the gaining of wrong ideas in regard to religion. In concluding, Mr. Rodgers reviewed a large number of books he thought valuable for the training of the mind. Good novels he considered good for recreation. Agnosticism, he said, has been dead for the last ten years in the best minds.

Agnosticism, he said, has been dead for the last ten years in the best minds. Hev. H. B. Eusworth, of Christ Church, Brownsville, spoke on religious literature and said that while every family in the country had said that while every family in the country had a daily newspaper in the home, very few subscribed to any of the church papers. This fact the speaker held was greatly to be lamented, as every family should be well informed in the great work of home and foreign missions as carried on by the churches throughout the entire land. tire land.

The remainder of the session was spent in devotional exercises. The ladies of St. John's Church had prepared a lunch which was eaten after the exercises terminated.

A SCHEME FOR LICENSE.

Novel Arrangement Between Some Landlords and Applicants Refused Before. A DISPATCH representative was shown yestarday a rather odd document in its way. It is one of the many remarkable schemes that have seen originated since the strict License Courts have been instituted. The document in question is an agreement entered into between a property holder on one of the suburban roads in this vicinity and a party at present residing

It is richity and a party at present residing in this city.

It appears from what can be learned that there are quite a number of individuals in this city who, were refused licenses last year, and the characters of the resorts so condemned by the presiding judge that no matter how many additional licenses were granted this time their chances were rather dim, considering the reputations that preceded them. To overcome this difficulty, the agreement referred to was formulated. By it the property-holder applies for a license in his own name, but the other party supplies all the money necessary, beside agreeing to furnish and stock the house, and pay in regular rental a sum the owner could not hope to realize from the place by any other means.

by any other means.

It is said that quite a number of landlords who have personal objections to, or have not the opportunity of conducting a saloon themselves, are pursuing this policy for the purpose of securing a good rental from their properties.
