

DEATH IN THE RING.

A Texas Sport Killed by the Kilrain Combination.

WHICH SHOULD BE IN JAIL.

One Blow on the Neck Knocks a Pugilist Out for All Time.

NO INTERRUPTION TO THE SHOW.

The Fatal Character of the Fight Not at First Discovered.

ALL THE PARTY SOON UNDER ARREST.

Kilrain, who is supposed to be in jail in Mississippi, headed a pugilistic combination traveling through the South. At Dallas, Tex., $25 was offered to any person who would fight Bezenah, a lightweight, for four rounds. A young man named James accepted, and was knocked senseless. He never spoke again, but the performance continued some time before the serious character of the injury was discovered. Kilrain then went like a child. The entire party was arrested.

DECIDEDLY PECULIAR.

DALLAS, TEX., February 14.—There is great excitement here over a tragedy that occurred at the Dallas Opera House last night. The attraction was the Kilrain and Muldoon combination, which has been traveling in Texas since the Kilrain-Vaquelin fight of two weeks ago. The prominent wrestlers and boxers in the combination are Kilrain, Cleary, Bezenah and Muldoon.

HOW TO KITE CHECKS.

Feasible Business Methods in Vogue at the Metropolitan—More Particulars as to the Operations of the Bank Wreckers.

NO MATCH FOR HIM.

When the men appeared for the bout it was seen at once that Bezenah was at least ten pounds heavier than his opponent. In fact he must have weighed fully 150 pounds, while James did not appear to weigh more than 135. Regulation four-ounce gloves, hardened from usage, were strapped on the men. Muldoon was referee and Kilrain handled Bezenah, while a friend looked after James.

ANXIOUS FOR HITTING.

The Dallas man continued the Mitchell tactics, and Bezenah dropped his arms by his side and said: "Don't run away; step up here and hit me." This was the end of the first round, and James was about as fresh as when he started in. In the second round Bezenah rushed his man all around the stage, and punished him severely. James took his medicine, and got in two good blows on his opponent's back.

SOME VICIOUS STROKES.

Twice he rushed at James and delivered right arm swings which, had they landed, would have settled the Dallas pugilist. James was a fairly good ducker and escaped the blows by throwing down his head. He smashed Bezenah twice in the face, but without any apparent effect. Before the round closed Bezenah sent in three blows on James' head that made him groggy, but he retreated and escaped a knock-out.

THE FINAL BLOW.

James was weak, while his opponent appeared as strong and steady on his pins as in the first round. Bezenah retreated and said: "Now you follow me." James would follow him, but always kept well out of reach. Bezenah feinted a number of times with his left without hitting out, and as James jumped back at every feint, the combination pugilist stood and laughed. This angered James, and he did not jump out of the ring at the next feint. He had continued reach for the next feint. He had continued reach for the next feint. He had continued reach for the next feint.

THEIR FABULOUS FIND.

Chinese Have Discovered Gold in Utmost Quantities in the Celestial Empire—They Contract for a $4,000,000 American Firm.

CHICAGO, February 14.—A conference of the great importance was held at the Grand Pacific Hotel to-day between two Chinese noblemen and two representatives of the big mining machinery firm of Fraser & Chalmers. The result was that negotiations were formally entered into looking to the construction of a 300-stamp mill in the mountains of China. The magnitude of the deal may be understood when it is stated that the mill, with all its machinery and appliances, will cost not far from $4,000,000. This sum will include all preliminary expenses, such as transportation of machinery, erection of buildings and the importation of the skilled laborers and the machinists needed. The Chinese noblemen said: "There has been discovered, in the very heart of China, the richest and most extensive gold-bearing region in the world. There was a little gold to be found in the Tachsan mountains, in the province of Shan-tung, has been known to the Chinese, perhaps, since the days of Confucius. The Chinese do not know this by crushing the rocks and treating the resulting dust with chemicals, the hidden gold could be obtained. Now they know all about the methods of gold production, and they are ready to go to California during the coming summer. They have secured a contract with the American firm of Fraser & Chalmers, who returned to their homes with money and with the knowledge. About $200,000, in particular, some Chinese prospectors entered the Lashan mountains determined to find gold-bearing quartz. It is stated in the National Geographic Magazine, which was sent them, that the gold-bearing quartz is of a great lead which is now known to be of a great value. One of these men was Teng Hing, a mining expert, who has been engaged in mining and prospecting in California, and who saw the wisdom in this.

Noble Red Men Demoralized by Exhibiting With Wild West Shows—The Practice Will be Stopped by the Government.

WASHINGTON, February 14.—During the last two or three years the savage and Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show has caused the Indian reservations to be drawn upon for performers by the managers of other entertainments of the same class, so that there are now between 300 and 400 "wards of the nation" employed in exhibiting to the untutored white men the customs and habits of the savages. The Indians, being under the control of the Secretary of the Interior, cannot leave their reservations without his permission, and the law requires that they be sent to the States to be trained in agriculture and other profitable arts, and that they be sent to the States to be trained in agriculture and other profitable arts, and that they be sent to the States to be trained in agriculture and other profitable arts.

Money Paid Out for Protection for Which There Was No Necessity.

Two Philadelphia private detectives were yesterday arrested for fraud. Mr. Emily B. Hooper avers that they convinced her that her husband was trying to place her in an insane asylum and about this sum. By this means they secured large sums of money for alleged protection. Other similar frauds are charged.

PHILADELPHIA, February 14.—Detective Leopold Alexander, of the "Alexander Detective Agency," and Edward Hall, of "Hall's Detective Bureau," who formerly constituted the firm of Alexander & Hall, were to-day arrested by a Sheriff's posse and locked up in Moyamensing prison. The arrest was made on a warrant under the fraudulent debt act of 1882, issued by Judge Wilson, on oath of Mrs. Emily B. Hooper, who has begun action in Common Pleas Court to recover $25,000, which she says was obtained from her by fraudulent representations.

FACTS IN THE CASE.

The facts which led up to the arrest of the detectives, as detailed in her affidavit by Mrs. Hooper, and as related by other interested parties, are as follows: Mrs. Hooper is a woman of about 32 years of age. She is the daughter of Mr. Emeline Girard Taylor, who was a wealthy and successful philanthropist, Stephen Girard's daughter, who he remembered liberally in his will.

NO CAUSE FOR ACTION.

The case was referred to a master, both Alexander & Hall being witnesses. The case occupied the attention of the courts for two weeks ago, when the court dismissed it on the ground that there was no sufficient evidence to show desertion. Mrs. Hooper not only lost her case, but also, she paid to Alexander & Hall to attend to her case. Shortly after her separation from her husband she placed her little daughter at a boarding school, which she had arranged to be drawn to the States to be trained in agriculture and other profitable arts, and that they be sent to the States to be trained in agriculture and other profitable arts.

A FICTITIOUS PLOT.

Mrs. Hooper stated that she was very ill and greatly worried by the desertion of her husband, and the mysterious disappearance of her daughter, and that she was in a state of mental and without a protector or adviser, and that Alexander & Hall, seeing her condition, conspired to deceive her and to obtain out of her money. In pursuance of a conspiracy Alexander & Hall, she says, represented to her that her husband had formed a plot to seize her and place her in an insane asylum, and that she was in a state of mental and without a protector or adviser, and that Alexander & Hall, seeing her condition, conspired to deceive her and to obtain out of her money.

GREENVILLE, Va., February 14.—Judge George P. Bachman, of Greenville county, was in the city to-day and was asked by your correspondent whether the condition of the farmers of Greenville county was as bad as represented to be. He said: "Yes, perhaps really worse, for while the petition which has been published might reasonably lead the public to believe that the need was confined to the poorest of the people, the fact is that the greatest destitution is among those people who have heretofore not only sustained themselves, but added something to the wealth of the county."

He was driven from honest employment by police officers, who demanded that he give up. He gave the names of the officers implicated.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, February 14.—George Wilson, alias "Jack Sheppard," George Austin, alias "Sport," and Marcus Raymond, three notorious ex-convicts and professional thieves, stole a case of shawls valued at $150 from the hallway of Victor & Adelstein on Broadway. The shawls were jointly indicted. Wilson and Raymond pleaded guilty, but Austin demurred a trial and got one. Raymond turned State's evidence, and when he got through Austin pleaded guilty. The men were arraigned to-day before Judge Martine for sentence.

A HARVARD GRADUATE.

Wilson, in addition to being a clever thief, is an accomplished jail breaker and a graduate of Harvard University. When sent to the State Prison he made a profession of religion, and was made a member of the church. He was like other graduates who go away, Judge? He is hunted down like wild beasts. The police give us no rest. We cannot get honest employment. If we get it, the police drive us out of it. I came here from Boston about a year ago. I had firmly resolved to lead an honest and upright life.
