

A CHEAP BUT COZY COTTAGE. How to Build and Furnish a Pretty Home—Useful Hints Concerning Decoration.

Plans with this issue are for an eight-roomed cottage, cozy and comfortable, and at moderate cost. The exterior is simple and picturesque, and has a cheerful, homelike appearance.

The following simple scheme will hang well together, and be attractive if properly carried out. Roofs, a low toned red, almost brown in its shading.

For painting the following simple scheme will hang well together, and be attractive if properly carried out. Roofs, a low toned red, almost brown in its shading.

Let the bedrooms be quiet and cheerful in tone. No paper with a striking pattern is suitable for a bedroom; for in the hour of sickness, the eye and brain will soon weary.

The furniture of dark, quiet color, brightened by dyes and bits of embroidery color, here and there on the cabinet and mantel shelves.

Dresses and cloaks are not strictly objects when hung up, and if not covered, they catch the dust in a manner very detrimental to their preservation.

A story is told of three Allegheny county lawyers who had met to agree upon a fee to be charged certain clients to the Supreme Court.

INDREADFUL MADRID. The Sinful City and Prison of Tettering Spanish Royalty.

WAKEMAN FINDS QUAIN SCENES. The Manzanas Lavanderas, or Wash-women of the River.

A MAD POET'S TOMB AND AN EPISODE. CORRESPONDENCE OF THE DISPATCH. MADRID, SPAIN, January 27.—[Copyright]—You will see more odds, quaint and curious sights in the great catas of stone-covered highways leading into Madrid.

At the tomb of the poet. From the homes of these miserable outcasts I wandered to the Campo Santo or public cemetery of Madrid. To me there has always been strange fascination in the mournful end of the greatest, and the most diabolic, poet Spain ever produced.

Wakeman finds quaint scenes. The Manzanas Lavanderas, or wash-women of the river. A mad poet's tomb and an episode. From the homes of these miserable outcasts I wandered to the Campo Santo.

Simply repugnant and bad. It does not possess a single cathedral; and you cannot find a church within its environs without the consciousness derived from reading it in print.

Manzaneras Lavanderas are permitted to labor at laundresses; and for three miles up and down the stream from opposite the infantry and artillery barracks upon the heights of Montana del Principe.

Visiting Shippers. The Painesville and Fairport Road Enterprises a Party of Peasants. A number of the shippers on the Pittsburg, Painesville and Fairport road, with their wives, visited Pittsburg yesterday as the guests of the railroad.

They welcome the dancer. They eat like animals, and the moment their food is disposed of, the tinkle of the guitar is heard, and you or any kindly disposed stranger who happens to be there, will be invited to join in the dancing.

More agreeable traveling companion than a cold. A Missouri fellow came along with a cold. The Missouri fellow came along with a cold. The Missouri fellow came along with a cold.

Take Your Choice of the Hate. Elegantly trimmed, costly pattern bonnets, at less than cost. Come to J. J. The People's Store. C. M. R. & D. C.

LOVE'S LABOR LOST. Chief Jones Refuses to Let the Silsby Engine Squirt in Pittsburg.

CORRESPONDENCE ON THE MATTER. What Each Side Says Upon the Subject of the Chief's Refusal.

Other tests stand no show at all. The nine-hour test of the squirting powers of the Amonack and Silsby fire engines failed again to materialize yesterday, and there is some heat displayed on the matter.

Wakeman finds quaint scenes. The Manzanas Lavanderas, or wash-women of the river. A mad poet's tomb and an episode. From the homes of these miserable outcasts I wandered to the Campo Santo.

Simply repugnant and bad. It does not possess a single cathedral; and you cannot find a church within its environs without the consciousness derived from reading it in print.

Manzaneras Lavanderas are permitted to labor at laundresses; and for three miles up and down the stream from opposite the infantry and artillery barracks upon the heights of Montana del Principe.

Visiting Shippers. The Painesville and Fairport Road Enterprises a Party of Peasants. A number of the shippers on the Pittsburg, Painesville and Fairport road, with their wives, visited Pittsburg yesterday as the guests of the railroad.

They welcome the dancer. They eat like animals, and the moment their food is disposed of, the tinkle of the guitar is heard, and you or any kindly disposed stranger who happens to be there, will be invited to join in the dancing.

More agreeable traveling companion than a cold. A Missouri fellow came along with a cold. The Missouri fellow came along with a cold. The Missouri fellow came along with a cold.

Take Your Choice of the Hate. Elegantly trimmed, costly pattern bonnets, at less than cost. Come to J. J. The People's Store. C. M. R. & D. C.

A TALE OF THE ORIENT.

What do you think of that? My friend Theophile Lucon, the artist, handed me a sketch and then leaned back in his chair, nervously twirling his waxed moustache.

What do you think of that? My friend Theophile Lucon, the artist, handed me a sketch and then leaned back in his chair, nervously twirling his waxed moustache.

What do you think of that? My friend Theophile Lucon, the artist, handed me a sketch and then leaned back in his chair, nervously twirling his waxed moustache.

What do you think of that? My friend Theophile Lucon, the artist, handed me a sketch and then leaned back in his chair, nervously twirling his waxed moustache.

What do you think of that? My friend Theophile Lucon, the artist, handed me a sketch and then leaned back in his chair, nervously twirling his waxed moustache.

What do you think of that? My friend Theophile Lucon, the artist, handed me a sketch and then leaned back in his chair, nervously twirling his waxed moustache.

What do you think of that? My friend Theophile Lucon, the artist, handed me a sketch and then leaned back in his chair, nervously twirling his waxed moustache.

across it by way of backbone and ribs; paint this scene in all the shades of gray, from the dull gray of bleached granite to the greenish gray of the human corpse.

What do you think of that? My friend Theophile Lucon, the artist, handed me a sketch and then leaned back in his chair, nervously twirling his waxed moustache.

What do you think of that? My friend Theophile Lucon, the artist, handed me a sketch and then leaned back in his chair, nervously twirling his waxed moustache.

What do you think of that? My friend Theophile Lucon, the artist, handed me a sketch and then leaned back in his chair, nervously twirling his waxed moustache.

What do you think of that? My friend Theophile Lucon, the artist, handed me a sketch and then leaned back in his chair, nervously twirling his waxed moustache.

What do you think of that? My friend Theophile Lucon, the artist, handed me a sketch and then leaned back in his chair, nervously twirling his waxed moustache.

What do you think of that? My friend Theophile Lucon, the artist, handed me a sketch and then leaned back in his chair, nervously twirling his waxed moustache.

What do you think of that? My friend Theophile Lucon, the artist, handed me a sketch and then leaned back in his chair, nervously twirling his waxed moustache.

What do you think of that? My friend Theophile Lucon, the artist, handed me a sketch and then leaned back in his chair, nervously twirling his waxed moustache.