And the Bill Will Pass the Senate Without Much Trouble.

WASHINGTON HAS A NEW SCHEME NOW

V. K. Stevenson states that sufficient votes to secure the site of the fair were offered to New York for a cash consideration. The proposition was refused, according to him, and accepted by Chicago. He charges that the latter city expended several hundred thousand dollars in this manner.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, February 25 .- V. K. Stevenson, a member of the World's Fair delegation to Washington, who returned to the city to-day, says that the New York delegation was approached by men who intimated that New York could have the fair if the delegation would pay for the privilege. The New York gentlemen indignantly refused to listen to further overtures on the part of these men, and stated emphatically that they wouldn't pay I cent to buy up anybody. If the fair depended upon bribery and corruption in buying up the votes of Congressmen they did not want the fair at

Mr. Stevenson stated further that Chicago's delegation accepted the offer and bought votes wherever they could. Mr. Stevenson did not give the names of the men who were busy lobbying for bribes, but said they were well known in Washington. Chicago hustlers were glad to get a chance to do anything that would further their interests, and were not averse to spending a few hundred thousand dollars on the floor of the House.

BLAMES IT ON POLITICS,

Mayor Grant reached his office in the City Hall at 4 o'clock this afternoon, and said that politics had without doubt been the cause of New York's failure to get the

"I can understand," said he, "why Congreatmen from States near Chicago should have voted for that city, but where is the explanation for the votes of Congresamen from Pennsylvania, Maine and New Hampshire favoring that city. As it was, the Republican Congressmen who were from the Northern States, and voted for New York, simply cast their votes, and nothing against her, and it was a fatal more. During the intervals between the weakness. When the delegation from Massachusetts arrived in Washington only favored Chicago were hustling about all the time-not a moment's time did they spare. If it had not been for the vast amount of work done by our committeemen, New York would not have got near so larg, a vote as it did. Mr. Depew and Mr. Whitney worked very hard, and hard work was necessary, as shown to us when we canvassed the situation on Friday."

ACCEPTING THE SITUATION.

A dispatch from Washington says: The excitement over the World's Fair was practically at an end to-day, everybody but a few super-enthusiastic Washington ians conceding that the thing is settled finally in favor of Chicago. The bill is now in the hands of the special committee, which will remodel it in harmony with the site chosen. putting the stamp of Government approval and incorporation on the project, and appropriating a million, and possibly a million and a half dollars, for a Government exhibit and expenses of Government representa-

Probably about 100 members of the House will vote against the holding any fair whatever, but the bill is quite certain to go through, and, as far as can be learned, it will have no appreciable opposition in the Senate. The Chicago people are not resting, however, but are making every effort to expedite legislative action upon the World's Fair bill.

SOME CHANGES DESIRED.

The Chicago representatives desire some changes in the general bill reported, and say that it was the understanding all along the heart his wife Johanns, with a long that when the site had been named its representatives should be allowed to shape the had saved from her earnings $232 18, and measure, within reasonable limits, to suit | had the money deposited for safe keeping their necessities. There was for a time an expectation that, either by increasing the mitted to the Tombs to await trial and the membership of the special committee or by the replacement of six of its present members, its control should be absolutely vested in the representatives of the winning city: but the Chicagoans have abandoned this idec, confident that they can rely upon the loyal support of the committee as at present constituted.

As already stated, changes in the bill are desired, but just what changes the Chicago men have not themselves settled upon. Many of them object to what is known as the Carlisle amendment, which provides for a United States charter, and was inserted as a concession to the constitutional objections of some Southern members. STATE CONTROL WANTED.

The provision of the original Adams bill for the incorporation of the board under the Illinois law is preferred by some of the Chicago people, for the reason that it would make the incorporators amenable to the provisions of the State law. This point is not, however, regarded as material. Another amendment that is desired is one authorizing the Mayor of Chicago to appoint one-half and the G overnor of Illinois the other half of the 100 incorporators. An appropriation of money is also desired to meet the expense of the Government exhibit and suitable buildings for its display. The special committee is to meet to-morrow, and will probably hear leading Chicago men as to the further procedure. Undoubtedly the committee will be requested to go itself or send a sub-committee to Chicago to look over the site for the fair.

THEY HAVE NO PEARS. If this request cannot be granted, then an If this request cannot be granted, then an effort will be made to bring before the committee here a number of Chicago's promitions.

nent citizens, and particularly those who have interested themselves actively in Chiengo's efforts to secure the fair. There is no expressed fear of any further opposition in the House or Senate to the perfection of the Chicage bill.

Mr. Springer says that the New York representatives have assured him that they ccept the situation in good faith, and will use their influence in the Senate to help along the Chicago bill, and do all in their CHICAGO BOUGHT VOTES power to make the fair a success.

ANOTHER SCHEME.

The Capital City is Bound to Have a Colebration of Some Kind in 1892-Reselutious Adopted by the Board of Promotion.

WASHINGTON, February 25 .- At a meetnight, the following resolutions were adopted: Resolved, By the Executive Committee of the National Board of Promotion of Washing-ton, composed of members from all the States and Territories, for a three-Americas exposition to commemorate the discovery of America by Columbus, that while we heartily favor a World's Fair in the city of Chicago, which has World's Fair in the city of Chicago, which has been chosen by the chief representatives of the American people, we respectfully recommend the incorporation of the following providens in the bill to carry that decision into effect.

That an international celebration be held at the national capital in 1892, in commemoration of the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus, and that the President of the United States appoint a governmental commission of ten members, in equal numbers from each of the two principal political parties, to formulate and superintend

DEPEW DON'T BELIEVE IT.

He Thinks There Was No Bribery in the Fair Contest.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, February 25 .- Many of the New York delegation to Washington came back to-day. Dr. Depew says: "The metropolis cannot afford to filibuster, nor can it afford to be an obstructionist. Such a course would be unworthy of us. To my mind New York is still the only place for an international fair. It seems incredible that Congress should have disregarded the $15,000,000 which we are ready to put up here to get the fair. And yet I think if Chicago is to be the place for the fair we should all pitch in and help make it a big thing if it is possible.

"Who is responsible for the defeat?" con-tinued Dr. Depew. "No man can tell. The Southern Democrats, when they saw the votes going to New York were dreadfully cut up, and they stirred around as if a bombshell had exploded among them. The New York fair died of politics, that's all. Every vote which belonged to Chicago she held like a vise, while almost 30 per cent of the territory to which New York had a right to look for support went one Congressman was in favor of New York, but several were won over to our side."

Dr. Depew was asked whether it was true, as reported, that there had been an offer by Chicago agents to buy votes of Con-

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] NEW YORK, February 25.—Little Wall treet, that part devoted exclusively to bucket shop speculation, was in a commotion this afternoon, and the disquiet had not ceased late at night. A year ago Governor Hill signed a bill which made it a misdemeanor, punishable with a fine of $500 and imprisonment for one year, for bucket shop owners to continue the business. Arrests were made, but there came a lull and the shops resumed operations and did a thriving business. While their shops have been ing of the Executive Committee of the thronged the offices of the legitimate brokers Washington Board of Promotion, held to- in Wall street have had comparatively few customers. It looks now as though the bucket shops had been most effectually closed at least for a time. The onslaught was made this afternoon by Police Captain McLaughlin, with Detectives Oates and Nugent and Patrolman Mc-Aulife at his back. All of the principal bucket-shops were raided, and the customers driven out. The cashier of one, a member of the Y. M. C. A., was arrested. Although every effort has been made to stop the shops from receiving quotations they have had them the instant that the highpriced customers of the big exchange reeived them.

Captain McLaughlin and his men had ascertained where the leak was. It was from a wire in an upper room of a building at No. 40 Broadway. In the room was one of the old-tashioned Gold and Stock instruments, and connected with it were wires leading to all the bucket shops. It was learned that the wires connecting the bucket shops with this instrument were adjusted at night. Frank Maier practically owned the instrument, was his own telegraph operator and lineman, and for several years made from $500 to $$1,000 a week supplying the bucket shops with quotations. It was only necessary to tap one of the regular Auxieus Inquirers. Andrew Carnegie gave a dinner at Washington last evening to the President, the Pan-American delegates and others. The decorations were of the most elaborate de- chasing all of the works of the navigation scription, and the menu arranged with great care. First-class artists furnished vocal and to all may be carried along and ended at instrumental music.

IFROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT, 1 WASHINGTON, February 25 .- The dinner given this evening by Mr. Andrew Carnegie, of Pittsburg, to the delegates of the Pan-American congress, the President, Vice President, Cabinet, Speaker of the House of Representatives and others, was, judging from what can be learned of it, the most elaborate affair of its kind ever seen in Washington. The dinner was given in the new dining room of the Arlington, which, as an inheritance of a fashionable young person from the great Corcoran estate, has blossomed within a year into one of the

The great room was a wilderness of plants and flowers, and such floral decoration of a table was never before seen in Washington. The table was set in circular form, so that each guest might grasp the antire brilliant seene at a glance. In the center was a Secretary Windom to-day in regard to the scene at a glance. In the center was a gigantic four-leaved clover in maiden's hair ferns, while between the leaves were banks of lilies of the valley and magna charta roses suggestive of the unfolding spring. The whole was surrounded by a base of old gold plush covered with ivy, lilies of the valley and jacqueminot roses. A SCENE OF PAIRYLAND. The central piece of all was an immens silver candelabrum, whose lights, shaded with white and Nile green silks, made the scene one of fairy land rather than a suggestion of dinner for mortals. Seven different shapes of hors d'œuvres, and seven of each kind, all made of solid silver and cut glass, added to the beauty of the table decorations. On the walls were trailing vines and smilax, together with bunches of paim leaves lightened up with roses.

Over the mantelpiece were two silk American flags, and the hearth was banked with rare orchids, ferns and American beauty roses. Boutonnieres were provided for each guest, consisting of an orchid and a piece of heather, the latter being imported especially from the moors of Mr. Carnegie's native land. Each of the walters also were a sprig of heather. The dinner was intended more to tickle the palate than to please the eye or make a display of fancy cooking. A PLEA FOR ERIE HARBOR

About $150,000 Urgently Needed for Repairs and Improvements. (FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

WASHINGTON, February 25.-Captain R. O'Brien, of Erie, an owner of vessels, and Representative Culbertson, of Eric county, were before the Committee on Rivers and Harbors to-day in the interest of the im-provement of Erie harbor. Mr. O'Brien spoke of the Erie harbor as the finest deep water harbor on the lakes, and argued that a sufficient amount of money should be spent upon it to make it available for lake vessels of the deepest draught.

The storms of the last year, he said, had awaged the breakwater, and $50,000 was needed for immediate repairs. For the re-moval of the bar and for general improvements, he urged an appropriation of $75,000 r $100,000 more.

CHORUS GIRLS ON A STRIKE.

The Boston Ideal Onera Tragne Strikes One More Sang.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. KNOXVILLE, TENN., February 25 .- The Boston Ideal Opera Troupe have not had smooth traveling of late. Their performance here developed a somewhat sensational incident. In the first act the entire chorus appeared, but an intermission of 45 minutes followed, and when the curtain rose on the econd act only a small part of the company were seen on the stage. The delay it was found was the result of a strike by the female members of the chorus, who refused to continue until two weeks' back salary, which they claimed was due them, had been paid. The manager apparently declined to pay them and the girls thereupon retired to their dressing rooms, donned their street cosumes and left the theater.

The manager followed and tried to induce them to return but was unsuccessful. After half an hour's coaxing tour of the chorus were persuaded to return to the stage upon payment of their wages. The others of the chorus went to their hotel and did not ap-

TO PASS THE GERRYMANDER.

The Lower Branch of the Ohlo Assembly Will Try It To-Day. [SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] COLUMBUS, February 25.-The continued absence of Democratic members of the Legislature led the caucus to-night to the decision that they would as soon as possible rush through all the political legislation made to put the redistricting bill through the House to-morrow, though the impression is that even this bill will have hard sledding in the lower branch, and has still less chance in the Senate. The bill came up for third reading to-day, but owing to a lack of Democratic members it had to be referred In the House a bill requiring railroads to build and repair highway crossings was passed, and the bill requiring that gates shall be erected at all crossings, with watchmen in cities and villages, was amended slightly and postponed until next Tuesday. The poorman law taxing fish nets has been repealed.

PENNSYLVANIA COAL,

7,330,119 Tons Mined in the Third Anthen cite District in 1889. WILKESBARRE, PA., February 25 .- Mine Inspector G. M. Williams, of the Third anthracite district, has finished compiling the figures giving the production of coal in his district for the year 1889. The fatal accidents occurring in the district numbered 67, and the non-fatal accidents, 214. The amount mined in this district in 1888 was 8,384,493 tons and in 1889 it was 7,330,119, a decrease of 1,014,374 tons. Whatever favorable showing was made in 1889 is due to the activity of business in the early months of the year, the production in the fall and winter months, and up to this date being almost at a standstill. Such general cessation of business in the mines throughout the entire district has not been known in years, and great distress is resulting.

form revenue law covering both State and local taxation, and to report the same to the next Legislature," held their first meetng in this city this afternoon. In addition to Auditor General McCamant, who acts as Chairman, the Commission comprises William Martin, of Pitusburg, appointed by the Secretary of Internal Affairs to represent the labor organizations; ex-Representative Leonard Rhone, representing the State Grange; State Representatives Taggart, of Montgomery county, and Wherry, of Cumberland county; Prof. Bolos, Chief of the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Internal Affairs; Elias Price, of Erie, appointed by the State Convention of County Commis-sioners, and James A. Wright, of this city. THE HENRY GROUGE IDEA.

The commission came to this city to hold series of meetings to procure the evidence of the citizens who were anxious to revise the present tax laws, and also to learn what the sentiments of the people were upon the subject. To-day's session was devoted ex-clusively to hearing the views advanced by a number of representative citizens and po-litical economists. A. H. Stephenson and L. L. Shoemaker, representing the Henry George Club of this city, presented a com-munication urging the adoption of Henry George's well-known land tax scheme, which they explained and advocated at great length.

The next speaker was Prof. Franklin H. Giddings, of Brynmawr, who presented a Giddings, of Brynmawr, who presented a communication, saying:

The Political Economy Club, of Philadelphia, an organization consisting of business men, university and college professors, editors of the daily press and others desiring to study the State and local taxation of Pennsylvania, finds that essential information in lacking. It is impossible to judge of the merits and defects of our present tax laws, or to suggest wise reforms until more facts are known. The following inquiries are, therefore, respectfully suggested as likely to throw new light on this important subject:

portant subject:
First—Ascertain and tabulate the local ex-penditures of the State by countles, and if posible, by townships.
Second—inquire to what extent the present axes on corporations exempt the corporation from taxation, to which, as property owners, from taxation, to which, as property owners, they would otherwise be subject.

Third—Inquire as to certain changes in the average income of individuals in different sections, rural and urban, for a period of years. Have urban incomes been increasing faster than rural incomes? The use of commercial
