"Since the days, however, when British agri-cultural laborers burned agricultural ma-chinery and mobbed those who used it, the world has fired of kicking against the naggings and the manifest advantage to be gained by the use of air as a motive power will soon reduce friction, and when a family wants to take an arring, it can get into its carriage, set the pneu-matic automatic machine in operation and one member at the helm can pilot the vehicle and the only subsequent cost will be that of repairs. After the trilling expenditure of getting a start in the world mere existence will be a pleasure."
