Committee en Agriculture to-day continued the hearing of persons interested in the bills pending before it for the regulation of lard compound or adulterations of lard. Opcompound or adulterations of lard. Op-ponents of the proposed legislation had the floor. The first speaker was W. J. Curtis, noor. The inst speaker was W. J. Curris, of New York, representing N. K. Fairbank & Go., Chicago. He said the case at present was different from that of two years ago, and practically ousted this committee of juris-diction. The bill under consideration is now within the province of the legislative power of Congress power of Congress. Unless the product on which it is proposed to legislate is deleterious to health, or some deception is practiced, Congress has no power to legislate against it. "My clients, who, with Armour & Co.," Mr. Curtis said, "manufacture 90 per cent of all the lard compound produced in the country, have been and are branding all their produce 'lard compound.' We ask, who is deceiving the public in this matter? General state-ments have been made that some persons are doing so, but no names are given. We want to know who they are. The label we use on our goods is 'lard compound;' the bill under consideration proposes that we shall be compelled to brand them 'compound lard.' Such a matter is trifling with your time and attention." Mr. Curtis, after a discussion by the committee, was permitted to file the affidavits of W. C. Tucker, Analyst of the New York State Board of Agriculture, and of the members of the New Hampshire State Board of Health, to the effect that examinations made by them convinced them that there was nothing harmful used in the manu-facture of lard compound and that it was not deleterious to health. Other speakers were heard, but said nothing new.

Common Pleas Court Will Hear the McD. Hazleit Contested Will Case.

The Orphans' Court yesterday awarded an issue to the Common Pleas Court for jury trial in the case of the contested will of the late Mrs. Mary McD. Hazlett. Mrs. Hazlett, who was a resident of West Deer township, was a lunatic and died leaving an estate of $60,000. A will was filed leaving the estate to the committee who had charge of her, but the committee who had charge of her, but the Register refused to probate it, as it was made by a lunatic. The case went to the Supreme Coart, and the Register was sustained. An-other will made prior to the other was then filed. It left the estate to the relatives of Mrs. Harlett's husband, and as it had been made in a lucid interval the Register admitted it to probate. Attorney U. F. McKenna objected to this will, and instituted proceeding to escheat the estate, Mrs. Haslett having no issue or heirs at law. The proceedings were not pushed, but the contest of the will was continued.

number of signatures were obtained. Some of the signers had large interests in the rail-road, and their views, it is thought, will have considerable weight in court. The petition says that if the Court shall not decree this relief, they desire that the position of Austin Corbin as a voting trustee be declared vacant because of his being largely interested in the shares of a rival and competing railroad company, viz: the Central Company of New Jersey.

is now admitted by the medical anthorities to be a deficiency or undue waste of Gridizable Phospherus normally existing in the human economy. The remedy consists in the admin-istration of a preparation of Phospherus being at once assimilable and oxidizable. WINCHES-TER'S HYPOPHOSPHITES is the only prep-aration of Phospherus which combines these characteristics in the highest degree. For Consumption, Brenchitis, Coughs, Night Swest, and Nervous Diseases, it is unequaled. Recommended by Physiciana. Sold by Drug-gists. If per bottle. Send for circular.
