DELAMATER'S BOOM. The Crawford Senator Gets

an Enthusiastic Send-Off FROM HIS FRIENDS' HANDS.

Delegates to Work for Him Named by the County Committee.

HIS LIFE'S PROUDEST MOMENT,

Says the Senator, Eulogistic Resolutions Having Been Passed.

STATE CHAIRMAN ANDREWS PRESENT

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

MEADVILLE, March 3 .- Pursuant to the call of Colonel Compton, Chairman, the Republican County Committee assembled in this city to-day to fix upon a date for the holding of primaries to select delegates to the next Republican State Convention. It was the largest and most enthusiastic committee meeting for years, every precinct in the county responding to the roll call, and Chairman Compton, in an 'eloquent forcible speech, explained the object of the meeting, and when incidentally referred to the duty of the Republicans of Crawford county to support, as one man, Hon. George Wallace Delamater for Governor he was interrupted by loud and long continued applause. At the conclusion of the Chairman's remarks, Hon. S. H. Wilson, of Linesville, offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted with three cheers

AN EARNEST INDORSEMENT. WHEREAS, Crawford county's representative in the State Senate, the Hon. G. W. Delamater, is the leading candidate for nomination for Governor at the approaching Republican State Convention; and, whereas, because of his sterling qualities and long valuable party service, we deem him eminently fitted and deserving such recognition, therefore be it

Resolved. That it is due him that the Republican party of Crawford county take early action for the promotion of his nomination, and to that end we hereby order a special primary for the election of three delegates to the State Convention, said primary to be held March 25, 1890.

Resolved, That we urge upon the Republicans of Crawford County to unite as one man in the support of the candidacy of our fellow citizen, and suggest that the following three representative citizens be presented, under the rules, for the suffrage of the people as candidates for delegates: Colonel John J. Carter, of Titusville, Hon. J. C. Sturtevant, of Conneautville, and Oliver Saeger, Esq., of Saegertown, it being understood that they will support, and the every honorable means to insure the nomiator Delamater for Governor

HIS PROUDEST MOMENT. After the adoption of the resolutions the Chair appointed a committee to wait upon the Senator and invite him to come before the convention. Upon his appearance he was greeted with a tremendous outburst of applause. The Senator briefly returned thanks to the convention, speaking substantially as follows: Mr. Chairman and Fellow Republicans of Craw-

fort County:

I seed not say that this is a proud moment in my life. Born, as I was, in Crawford county, where I received my education and where I have been accustomed to meet you every day, first as a boy, then as a lawyer, and latterly as a business man, I feel that this compliment from my home friends is the highest I have ever had. Pennsylvania, the grandest of our whole union of States, in the wealth of her resources, is still greater by the manhood of its citizens of whom I believe I can truthfully say Crawford county represents the highest type. I am not here, my friends, to make a speech, but to express to you my highest thanks for your valued indorsement as the candidate for our party for Governor of this great Commonwealth.

THE SENATOR'S INTENTIONS.

"If the Republican party see fit to call me to be their standard-bearer I shall try to uplift it into the bright sunlight of publie opinion and carry it proudly and fearlessly through whatever storms may approach, planting it finally on the highest eminence of victory.

"Fellow-citizens I thank you, and during the campaign, which is approaching, I shall try and meet you. You know that I am a young man and a great traveler, and you may rest assured that I will try and look into all your faces during the campaign."

The Senator was frequently interrupted by bursts of applause, which swelled into a loud and long continued shout after he had

Dr. F. L. Flood, editor of the Chautauquan, was also loudly called for, and made a tetling speech, in which he called upon the Republicans, of Crawford county, to emphasize their action of to-day, by honoring Senator Delamater with an unanimous vote. DELAMATER CONGRATULATED. After passing a resolution calling upon our Senators and Representatives in Congress to aid the appointment of Colonel Compton as Associate Justice of Oklahoma. the convention adjourned. After the adjournment an ovation was given Senator Delamater, each committeeman coming forward to grasp his hand and tender him their hearty and energetic support.

Among those present were Hon, W. H. Andrews, Chairman Republican State Committee; Hon. John J. Henderson, Judge of the Crawford County Court; Representative H. W. Brown, and many others. Senator Delamater's delegates will have no opposition in Crawford county.

Chicago Sends Deputations Through the Country to Solicit Subscriptions for the World's Fair-Railronds Expected to be Generous.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCH.1 NEW YORK, March 3.-John T. Lester, Samuel W. Allerton and President Jeffrey. of the Illinois Central Railroad, arrived from Chicago this morning, put up at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, where they had breakfast and took the noon train for Boston. Mr. Lester was seen by a reporter about 10 o'clock. He said the party was bound for Boston in the interest of the World's Fair. They would solicit subscriptions from every concern in Boston that has interests in Chicago. He said they expected to secure large subscriptions from the Boston owners of real estate in the Lake City, and also from railroad men whose lines enter also from railroad men whose lines enter Chicago. Mr. Jeffrey, he said, would attend to the railroad men. He would specially urge upon President Perkins, of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, the duty of making a generous subscription. Mr. Jeffrey, he said, was to be the director general of the fair, and had pledged himself to secure $1,500,000 from railroads having Chicago connections. Mr. railroads having Chicago connections. Mr. Allerton is to look after the beef and pork interests. Mr. Lester himself will press the subject upon the attention of the Boston Board of Trade. Otto Young and E. J. Lehmann, of Chicago, have already solicited subscriptions from New York parties and have secured $85,000 here. Mr. Lester and Mayor Cregier on Friday last appointed eight committeemen to visit different cities. The appointment of these committees has been kept secret, but the committees are all hard at work in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Cincinnati, Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo and Hartford. He says the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad will give a handsome subscription and Chi-cago will have $10,000,000 subscribed before the bill comes up in the Senate. Mr. Jeff-rey will see Chauncey M. Depew when he returns from Boston, in the expectation of getting a big sum from the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern.

Mr. Lester says the talk about postponing

HIS KNOWLEDGE RATHER COSTLY. Boy Indicted for Deadly Assault as the Result of a Challenge.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, March 3 .- A number of boys of the neighborhood, ranging in age between 8 and 14 years, met in the candy store of Frank Forrest, at 85 Market street, on the afternoon of February 7. They got into a lively discussion as to what would befall a boy, under the law, who was dared by another boy to stab or shoot him and who did stab or shoot in those circumstan ::. There was a division of opinion, and by way of testing the ques-tion Edd.e McDonnell, aged 13, bared his breast and dared Willie Coleman, aged to stab him. Willie Coleman borrowed

A CONTRACT NOT KEPT

Responsible for the Recent Terrible Disas in Arizona.

FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT 1 WASHINGTON, March 3 .- Lieutenant W A. Glassford, an officer in the United States Signal Corps, who has been for some time stationed in Arizona, has just been ordered back to this city. He is well acquainted with the Walnut Grove dam, which burst recently, and its neighborhood, and has this say of the disaster so similar to that of Johnstown:

"The dam was built at an expense of about half a million dollars. It is a notorious fact, and has been for some time, that the contractors had not lived up to their contract in constructing the dam, and for a number of months the owners have been engaged in an effort to patch up the weak spots in the structure, which were pulpable to any engineer. It was just such another case as you had here in the building of the aqueduct tunnel."

CAUGHT BY A COUNT.

A Philadelphia Girl Marries a Fascinating German Noble Who

THE DELUDED WIFE GETS A DIVORCE,

Alleging That Her Husband Got Drunk, Beat and Deserted Her.

The granting of a divorce in the Philadelphia courts brings to light another case wherein an American girl is dazzled by the glitter of a title, and when too late discovers that she has married a pretender.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. PHILADELPHIA, March 3 .- Mrs. Pauline Heyl was to-day granted a divorce in the Court of Common Pleas from her husband, Andrew Frederick Augustus Heyl, alias Count Andre Paul Von Bresendorf The charge was desertion, but there are many interesting features about the case.

The couple were married in Philadelphia over six years ago. Pauline was the daughter of a hotel keeper uptown, and her husband had been a guest at the house. She was fascinated by his elegant manners, his supposed rank as a German Count, and his alleged fortune. He gave his name as Count Andre Paul Von Bresendorf, and said he had come across the water partly on pleasure and partly on business. Her parents did not interfere, for they were favorably impressed with the young man, and then a Count was not to be despised as a son-in-law.

AND SO THEY WERE MARRIED. And so the young couple were married. only a few months after Andre Paul's arrival. It was a quiet wedding, considering that the bride was taking the step that made her n Countess, as she supposed, but it was attended by all of her relatives and many friends, who joined in wishing her great happiness in her new relation. The groom happiness in her new relation. The groom was handsome and had a noble bearing.

Many presents were given the young couple, and they departed upon a wedding tour to New York and other eastern cities. Upon their return to Philadelphia they took quarters with the bride's parents at their hotel. Here they remained, and though days rolled into weeks and weeks into months, Andre Paul made no offer of money for their board, and, in fact, his sup-ply of cash appeared to have dwindled greatly. He assured his new father-in-law continually that he expected to receive a large remittance soon, but it did not come. Pauline's mother took a trip to Europe for her health, and while there thought she would call upon the parents of her noble sonin-law in Berlin. Andre Paul von Bresen-dorf was really Andrew Frederick Augustus Heyl, the son of a worthy and respectable storekeeper in Berlin, who deeply deplored the conduct of the young man, and said he had done all he could to reform him.

A STORMY SCENE. The indignant woman hurrled home and informed her daughter of the deception. A quarrel between the husband and wife re-sulted, but after a stormy scene he acknowledged the deception, professed penitence and persuaded Pauline to forgive him and plain Mrs. Andrew Frederick Augustus Heyl instead of Countess Von Bre-sendorf. Her husband, however, changed very little in his manner of life and co tinued to exist at the expense of his wife's parents. He also quarreled with her fre-quently and made her condition very unde-Soon after the birth of a son, her husband became more abusive than before, and began coming home drunk and beating his wife. She was urged to leave him, be fused to do so and clung to him until De cember 19, 1888, when he disappeared, leaving many debts behind him. It is supposed that he went to Mexico, but, at any rate, he has never been heard of since.

IVROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT. WASHINGTON, March 3 .- The seat in the House, which has recently been vacated by Mr. Pendleton, who for a short time represented the First West Virginia district, has been taken by Mr. Wilson, of Missouri, a great friend of Mr. Pendleton's. Mr. Wilson firmly believes that Mr. Pendleton was fairly elected to this Congress, and express great indignation at the action of the Republicans in turning him out and seating Mr. Atkinson, the contestant. "The Republicans," said Mr. Wilson, to-day, "have stolen the first West Virginia district, and if the Democrats up there will do me the honor to come to me and let me attend to their business for them until the can send Mr. Pendleton back, I shall appre ciate it and will do my best to satisf

1890---TWELVE PAGES. PITTSBURG, TUESDAY, MARCH IN HARTRANFT'S HONOR.

> A Design Selected for a Monument to the Dead Commander-His Widow Expresses Entire Satisfaction With the Model.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. PHILADELPHIA, March 3 .- Governor James A. Beaver, Commander in Chief of the National Guards of Pennsylvania; Gen: George R. Snowden of Philadelphia, Commander of the First Brigade; General John A. Wiley, of Franklin, Venango county, Commander of the Second Brigade; General J. P. G. Gobin, of Lebanon, Commander of the Third Brigade of the National Guards of Pennsylvania, and Colonel North, now Recorder of the Board, met this afternoon and selected the design for the monument which is to be erected by the soldiers of the National Guard of the State in sonor of the late Major General Commanding John F.

This morning Mrs. General Hartranft, accompanied by her daughter and escorted by Colonel Charles S. Greene, visited the rooms where the designs and models were on exhibition, and spent considerable time in an examination of them. After carefully looking over the entire lot of designs and models Mrs. Hartranft informed Colonel Greene that her personal preference was for a shaft, but while she was opposed to figures. Ilse size and otherwise, she would not in any way interfere with the selection by the Board of officers of any design which they in their judgment might see fit to select.

The board decided to recept that which was submitted by Messrs, Van Gunden and Young, of this city. The design represents a shaft of granite 26 feet in height and weighing 40 tons. It is to be 8 feet square at the base, with a gradual slope to the apex. The granite to be hammered, dressed and unveilighted. A hereignized medallion programs polished. A heroic-siz'd medallion portrait of the late Genersi will adorn the face of the shaft, vhile on a keystone in the rear will be cut the inscription, "Erected by the National Guard of Penn-sylvania." One side of the shaft will have a brief record of the civic career, while the other side will have so it a brief sketch of the military record of the deceased General.

Large Number of Deligates in Nashville to Attend the National Convention of Republican Clubs-Pennsylvania Delegates Sing My Country, 'Tis of Thee.

NASH VILLE, Marca 3.-The streets of Nashville are filled with strangers who come from all parts of 'he country to attend the National Convenion of Republican League Clubs, which meets at Amusement Hall is this city tomorrow. All day long delegations were coming in, and to-night representatives from nearly all the Republican organizations in Pennsylvania, Indiana, Louisiana, South Carolina, West Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky had arrived and were comfortably quartered at the various hotels. The delegations from New York, Illinois, Missouri, Ohio, Nebraska, Mississippi, Delaware and the New England States were delayed by floods, but will reach here in time for the opening of the convention to-morrow morning.

The Pennsylvania delegates signalized their arrival at the Duncan Hotel to-night by singing "My Country Tis of Thee." The effect upon the vast concourse of people who had gathered in the hotel corridors and in front of the building as the melody rang out, was magical. Cheer after cheer rent the air, and the greatest enthusiasm and good feeling prevailed. To-morrow morning and arrange to present the name of Edwin S. Stuart, of Philadelphia, President of the Pennsylvania State League for President of the National organization. They have een promised the support of a number of delegations, and a strong fight will be made to elect him. The convention will be in session at least two days, and fully 500 delegates are expected. After the adjournment the delegates will be taken to various places of interest through the South.

Blotting Paper Palmed Off for $10,000 Gold Certificates.

THE PURIOUS LEGISLATOR'S ATTACK.

Indictment Against a Member of the Famous Com bine Dismissed.

The dismissal of the indictment against W. H. Miller, one of New York's boodle Aldermen, brings to light the manner in which two of the boodlers were defrauded by a go-between out of the $20,000 apiece which was promised them for their votes.

PERFORAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH ! New York, March 3.-William H. Miller, a Republican, who represented the Ninth Assembly district in the Board of Aldermen of 1884, was indicted for bribery on April 20, 1886, and on May 1, 1886, gave $40,000 bail, which was subsequently reduced to $20,000. He testified as a sort of a witness for the people. James M. Smith, Miller's counsel, having previously given District Attorney Fellows notice of the motion, moved to-day, before Recorder Smyth, that the pending indictment against Miller be dismissed. Colonel Fellows did not oppose the motion but indorsed the indictment: "The defendant was not one of the 13 Aldermen who were denominated 'the combine' who met at McLoughlin's house. There has never been evidence against him which would justify the people in bringing him to trial; and further he has been on several occasions a witness for the people in bribery cases and is entitled to have that fact considered. I recommend the dismissal of the indictment." Recorder Smyth granted the motion to dismiss the indictment. NO EVIDENCE AGAINST HIM. Later on Colonel Fellows said to a reporter: "There was really never a witness against Miller. When he became a witness for the people in several of the boodle trials his testimony, in the absence of any proof to the contrary, practically acquitted him of any share in the bribery. In substance, his only connection with the grant of the Broadway Railroad franchise, according to his own statement, was that he voted for the tranchise because he believed that it was a good thing to do for the interests of the community in general and his constituents in particular. Some time later Alderman Delacey, now in Canada, called at his house and handed him a package of bills amounting to $5,000, saying: "There's amounting to $0,000, saying: "There's some money for election expenses." Some hours later he, Miller, having thought over the matter, made up his mind that the transaction was not innocent, so he took the money back to Delacey and told him that he did not want anything to do with many a transaction."

with such a transaction."

THE PRICE OF AN ALDERMAN. The quoted price of an Alderman of 1884 who favored the granting of the franchise was $20,000, and it was proved in the boodle trials that John Keenan was selected to hold the stakes until after the goods, in the shape of the franchise, were delivered. It was un-derstood among the members of "the commorning meeting of the board the Alder-men who had agreed to sell their vote should each find an envelope containing $20,000 in their lockers in the aldermanic cloakroom. To Reading Clerk Moloney was in-trusted the delicate duty of preparing the envelopes for distribution. He had, accoarding to common report, pocketed his his own reward of $20,000 as a useful go-between. But he hankered after another slice or two of the juicy pie. So he filled the envelopes addressed to two of the aldermen, one of whom is now in the State with slips of blotting paper instead of $1,000 and $10,000 gold certificates. Then he

But the other Aldermen interfered, telling him that if the noise were heard ontside the bribery would be exposed and they would all "go." PRPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

PHILADELPHIA, March 3 .- The License Court judges, Fell, Wilson, Gordon and Bregy, convened to-day in the new court house. The recent order of the court instructing the constables of the different wards to make a detailed report as to the number of licensed and unlicensed liquor dealers in their bailiwicks, drew a large crowd to the court room. Judge Fell announced that the list of applicants for licenses would not be heard until the 17th of March. Lawyer Fow, representing a number of brewers, asked the Court to give an opinion on the following questions: "Can a brewer on the following questions: "Can a brewer bottle and sell in quantities of not less than a dozen bottles mait and brewed liquors of his own manufacture without a bottler's license? Has the act of March 31, 1856, relative to brewers bottling and selling their own manufactured liquors been repealed, either directly or by implication?"

Judge Fell said they were not sitting to hear any questions.

As the returns were presented by the constables they were closely scanned by Judges Gordon and Fell. After all the wards had been called Constable Charles Bregler and Charles Herman, of the Sixteenth ward, were summoned to the bar.

"This which you have presented," said Judge Gordon, "is not a return; it is merely a communication to the Court, saying that you have no information. You knew of the order of the Court. What excuse have you Constable Bregler said he had gone through the ward, but was unable to find any "speak-easies." Constable Herman also said that he had been unable to discover any "speak-easies."

"The Court made an order that you should report all places," said Judge Gordon. Have you been industrious in all this?"

"Yes, sir." "How about the drinking clubs?" "I don't think there is any violation in that respect.' "It is your duty to seek evidence and investigate rumors," said Judge Gordon.
"In the event of your failure to perform your duty in this respect," said Judge Fell,

"and of your conviction on that charge, you are liable to a fine of $500 and an imprisonment of not exceeding two years."

Defeat a Bill. PERCIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. COLUMBUS, March 3 .- It has been discovered that several telegrams sent to Senator Pattison protesting against the bill to authorize the Hamilton county engineer to appoint his own assistants are forgeries. The bogus telegrams were ostensibly written by such well-known citizens as William M. Ramsey, Thomas B. Paxton, John E. Bruce and Frank Alter, and were suspiciously similar in phrasing. An investi-gation will follow.

It is expected that the work of the Legislature this week will be mostly of a political character. Several cities and State institutions are to be reorganized. Legislation was resumed this afternoon and several bills of a minor character introduced. The most important is one intended to prevent em-ployers from deducting from the pay of em-ployes the cost of damaged stock and ma-chinery. The bill provides that whoever, without an order from his employe, retains or deducts the wages or any part of the ges of an employe for tools, wares or mahinery, damaged or delayed, shall be liable in a civil action to the party aggrieved in double the amount charged for such tools, etc., and shall be judged guilty of a misdemeanor and fined in any sum not less than $20 nor more than $100, or imprisoned not re than 60 days, or both, at the discretion

LANDS THREE OF THE GANG IN JAIL

He Expects to Capture the Last Swindler and Get His Money Back.

Richard A. E. Goebler was bunkoed reently in New York. The detectives were a little slow in making arrests, so the victim armed himself and captured three of the swindlers at the point of a revolver. He has traced the last member of the gang at large to Chicago, and is confident of capturing him and securing the return of the money out of which he was cheated.

CHICAGO, March 3.-Richard A. E. Goebler is in this city. Mr. Goebler is a small, insignificant-looking man, and he doesn't wear very good clothes; but for all that he is quite a character. Several months ago, while in New York City, he was bunkoed out of $1,500. Three men engaged in the plot. He himself was arrested at the point of the revolver and landed in fail. He is now looking for one of them, George Johnson, who got out on "straw bail," and who has been traced to Chicago. He is believed to be in hiding here. Goebler to-day called on Chief of Police March, who promised to aid him in every possible manuer and sent out officers to look for the suave Mr. Johnson. Goebler is dressed like a Western ranchman, and wears a big sombrero pulled down over his eyes. Around his waist is a belt which contains a perfect arsenal. His story reads like a dime lovel. About 25 years ago Goebler kept a barber shop in French's Hotel, in New York, and among his customers was Superintendent Murray, who was then a patrol-man. In 1872 Goebler went to Butte City, Mont, where he accumulated a little fortune.

Last October he determined to go to the mines of South Africa. Accordingly he started for New York, where one bright morning he landed, safe and sound. One day in November he was accosted by a courtle final locking many who extended to portly, fine-looking man, who pretended to mistake him for "Mr. Meyers, of Chicago."

THE SAME OLD GAME. "No," said Goebler, who was then thoroughly unsophisticated; "my name is not Meyers, I am Richard A. E. Goebler, of Butte, Mont."

Then, of course, Mr. Goebler was made the victim of the old, old confidence game. In ten minutes Goebler was $1,500 poorer, but he knew a heap more. He reported his loss to his old friend Chief Murray, but as the detectives didn't get along last enough to suit him, he dis-guised himself as a longshoreman and took up the search himself. Two weeks later he ran across Johnson, one of the swindlers, and at the point of the revolver brought him to the Tombs. Johnson was indicted, and a day or two later was released on bail that proved to be "straw bail." Goebler got the name of the bondsman, who it seems was Lewis E. Davis, and started out to look for him. The Westerner ran across him one day in the Astor House, and him to "Come along." Mr. Davis came. He is now in the Tombs awaiting trial for perjury. It was in precisely the same manner a few days later that Goebler arrested

Charles Morgan, one of the confederates, and the man who had lured him to John-

HOT ON THE TRAIL. In the meantime, Johnson, once out on bail, made himself scarce, and as before stated, is believed to be in Chicago, "I am hot on the trail of this rascal," said Goebler to a reporter to-day, "and I'll never stop my search until I have landed him in the Tombs along with Davis and Morgan. I know I'll get him. If not in Chicago, somewhere else. You may be sure I'll get back every cent of that $1,500, "After you get this job finished you ought to start a detective bureau of your own, was suggested to him.

"Oh, that's all right," was the reply. "Superintendent Murray is one of the best detectives I ever saw, and he'll give me a

CULMINATED IN A STRIKE.

The Iron Molders of San Francisco Will Resist Any Reduction. SAN FRANCISCO, March 3 .- The trouble which has been threatened for some time between the Iron Molders' Union and Engineers and Iron Founders' Associstion has culminated in a general strike of all the molders employed in the foundries and represented in the association. The strikers number over 300, but as about 700 other workmen in foundries are dependent upon the work of molders the whole number of men who are idle are about 1,000. The strike was caused by the recent notice that on March 10 the union's regulations regarding the time of work and pay would be ignored and the agreement previously made between the mployers and employes would be declared void. This agreement fixed the minimum daily rate of wages at $3 50 for ten hours work. The members of the association say

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 3 .- State Treasurer Noland has just been suspended. No cause for the suspension is known except a rumor, which gained some credence here this morning, to the effect that Noland was in trouble over his accounts with the State. Mr. Noland said that he was not aware of any differences between his bondsmen and himself, and that so far as his accounts with the State are concerned they are correct and will bear the closest investigation.
