

PURE PAN-PARTISAN

Is What Miss Willard Calls the National W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Foster called down for retaining her place on the Old Executive Board.

MISS WILLARD A FAITH CRIST

Miss Frances E. Willard, President of the World's and of the National W. C. T. U., was in the city for a few hours last evening on her way to Blairsville and Indiana, expecting to return next Tuesday for the Allegheny County W. C. T. U. Convention, and to speak in Pittsburgh that evening. In reply to the questions of a DISPATCH reporter Miss Willard said in substance: "The W. C. T. U. is neither partisan nor non-partisan. We consider these terms in a strict sense, though we have been called and have called ourselves by both those names. It all depends upon one's point of view. If you look at a great mountain or a great character under one angle of vision, it presents one aspect, but when your point of view is changed its appearance is altogether different. So it is with a great movement. In an organic law, our plans of work and our departments the W. C. T. U. is altogether non-partisan.

EXCEPTIONS MADE TO NEAR FRIENDS

The general public will be surprised to learn that many druggists in the State have been violating the Brooks law, and laying themselves open to a fine of $500. The very general practice of refilling prescriptions for spirits is the violation in question, and that the heads of the Pennsylvania Pharmaceutical Association intend issuing a cautionary circular is considered significant.

ALLEGHENY'S RAPID GROWTH.

Great Need for More Police Protection on the Northside—What Mayor Pearson's Last Report Will Show—Some Figures for the Past Year.

Next Thursday evening the third and last annual report of Mayor Richard T. Pearson will be presented to the City Councils of Allegheny. The tabulated statements will be accompanied by a brief written message.

The Mayor has not yet been prepared by the Mayor, but at the expiration of his term of office he will take occasion to recommend a decided increase in the police force of the city. Allegheny has been growing so rapidly that the lack of adequate police protection has been a constant source of complaint for two or three years. The officers themselves have been dissatisfied, their beats being in many cases, so extensive that it takes an hour to cover them. In many cases, when officers were badly needed for special duty, the chief had no person to detail.

SUED FOR BOUNTY MONEY.

A Veteran Who Wants McKeesport to Keep Its Promises.

Allen Foster yesterday entered a suit against the borough of McKeesport to recover $400 bounty money due him for enlisting during the War of the Rebellion. Foster states that he served through the war as a volunteer in Company E, Fourth Regiment, Pennsylvania Cavalry. He first enlisted August 16, 1861, and was discharged in December, 1862. He then re-enlisted for three years, or during the war, to be accredited to the length of McKeesport, on condition of receiving $400 bounty money, when the war was over. He has since been honorably discharged, and he asks the court to enforce the bounty money which he says is due him.
