THE NEW CITY HALL

PLANS FOR A FINE BUILDING,

Beautiful in Its Outlines, Compact in Shape, and Convenient.

READY FOR ACTION OF COUNCILS

The plans showing Allegheny's new City Hall as it will be if remodeled upon the designs of Mr. Joseph Anglin, the Federal street architect, were curiously inspected last evening at the office of City Clerk White by a number of interested Alle-chemians. The City Property Committee was to have met last night to inspect the plans and take some action upon them, but the special meeting of the Common Council branch to consider the ordinances governing the Carnegic Free Library caused a postponement of consideration of the new plans until next Monday evening. The chorus of commendation which was heard last night is indicative of official approbation.

The design which Mr. Anglin has prepared provides for a three-story building, 180x165 feet in size. It is to be built of stone, with slate and tile roof. The style of architecture is the Turkish, or more recently termed the Byzantine and heating arrangement will be complete. An elevator is one of the advantages pro-As Architect Anglin Would Place It

Opposite Carnegie Hall.

The postoffice part of the building is highly spoken of by all who have examined the plans. Mr. H. D. Parnum, the department inspector, who has headquarters in Philadelphin, was here recently and looked at the plans. After returning home he wrote a personal letter on Mr. Anglin and the plans.

-Spain is suffering from heavy floods.

-The constituents of Congressman Wike, of Quincy, Ill., are angry because he voted against Chicago for the World's Fair. -Fire in the warehouse of B. C. Clark Crockery Company, Kansas City, yesterday, did damage of $102,000. Cause unknown. -The London firm of Browne & Wingrove, melters and refiners and dealers in bullion, have failed. Their liabilities are £300,000.

than four times the space now occupied. A public lobby will run around the Ohio and-Federal street sides, where will be arranged the lock-boxes, drop-boxes and carriers' windows. On the Ohio street side will be located the offices of the Postmaster, Assistant Postmaster, and the Morey Order and Registry departments. These offices will be separate, where they are now all crowded into one narrow, cage-like corner of the office. A better system of delivering and receiving mails will be prostreet to a platform at the postoffice door. The Controller's offices on the first floor, as well as the City Engineer's offices, will remain very much the same as they are Opposite the postoffice department in the front of the building is located a bureau of information and the City Treasurer's office.

Access to this is provided from the street and the main corridor of the building. The real beauty of the building is in the grand entrance, the great corridor extending clear through the building to West Diamond street, the octagon rotunda reaching to the roof and the grand stairway to the second

AVOIDING MANY COMPLAINTS. There have always been complaints made about the Poor Board being located on the third floor of the present building. In the new building it is proposed to bring them down to the first floor. The Board of Heelth will also be on the same floor in the northwest corner of the building, somewhat isolated from the remainder of the building to guard against the spreading of contagious entire southwest corner of the building with an entrance on the Ohio street side. The offices of the Mayor and his clerk will be on the left of the corridor, and those of the Chief of Police and the Chief of detectives on the right. Across the corridor is located the lockup and police court, with the sergeant and matron's offices connected. There are two tiers of cells, 24 in all. The upper tier is intended for women and children. A hospital department is also attached. The arrangement of this department is particu-larly appropriate and has been approved by Mr. J. R. Reed, of the Prison Board,

The Council chambers on the second floor front, are arranged so as to include all of the modern advantages of assembly rooms. They are fitted up with lobbies, with raised seats, cloak rooms, committee rooms and president's private rooms. The space now used for the library is designed to be used as a joint committee room and offices for the

NEW COMMITTEE ROOMS.

The rooms now occupied by the clerks of Council are converted into committee rooms. There are also committee rooms arranged on the other side of the corridor. Over the Mayor's department is located the Water department, where the Superintendent and Assessor will have their offices. On the op-posite side of the corridor will be the City Assessor's office and two large unoccupied

The third floor is arranged so as to in-clude many of the offices now located there, except that they will be increased in size and more adapted for their purpose. The and more adapted for their purpose. The Superintendent of the gas department will have his office in the front of the building, directly over the Clerk of Councit's office. The battery room will remain where it is, but it will be given more space. The operator of the patrol system will also be located on this floor. The Chief of the fire department also remains where he is The Street and Road Commissioners will be given larger and more commodious rooms.

The Building Inspector's office will be in the rear portion of the building, with private offices over the lockup. A large room over the Mayor's department will be used as a dormitory for the police. Other storerooms for the various departments are provided for on the second floor.

THE NEW BASEMENT.

The basement is arranged so as to be of good service. A large assembly room and a hall for police drill are provided, and also a room where the police will report for duty. If the plans were carried out Allegheny could have a building of which the rapidly growing city of parks might well be proud. The arrangement of all the offices was made in compliance with the suggestions of the city officials. Most of the offices are provided with secure vaults for the storage of docu-ments and valuable papers. The building is arranged so as to get the very best ad-vantage of the light and air. The sanitary wrote a personal letter to Mr. Anglin, approving the design in the highest terms.

The work will cost anywhere from $60,000 to $100,000, and will take nearly a year to complete.
