an improvement on the previous day, which was an encouraging feature. In such cases small favors are thankfully received. Airbrake continued its upward movement, selling at 114, but breaking in the afternoon and closing a point lower. Allecheny Heating Company was marketed at 105. The last previ-ous sale was at 109. There was a demand for Philadelphia Gas, but there seemed to be none for sale. Chartiers Gas advanced sharply on prospects of a dividend. It closed strong at 435 bit and 47 asked. Bank stocks received considerable attention, but buyers and sellers were too wide apart to make businees.

Switch and Signal rallied a little from the lowest point of Tuesday, but the undertone was weak. The annual report was not considered altogether satisfactory, though no one seemed able to point out the weak snots.

Wall Street Learns at the Eloventh Hour of a Big Rallroad Gobble-It Causes A Rush to Buy Grangers. edited by Bartlett NEW YORK, March 12-The stock market during the greater portion of to-day was dull and stagnant for most of the list and the few movements which took place had little or no significance. The opening this morning was attended by a stronger tone than usual of late, and especially in the Grangers there was more life and positive strength. It was reserved until the last hour to spring upon the street the -While returning from a prayer meeting at Armstrong, Mo., Rev. Burlington and Quincy led the upward movement, but Rock Island, St. Paul, Union Pacific and Louisville and Nashville were close behind. The pros-pect of a discontinuance of the rate troubles in the West already has caused a better feeling in the streat and an easier money market. -The Secretary of the Treasury has ap-pointed Mr. John Scanlon, of Chicago, to be a special agent of the Treasury. Mr. Scanlan is regarded as an authority on tariff questions and passed a very good examination. -A large vote was polled at the Sacramento city election yesterday. W. D. the West already has caused a better feeling in the street and an easier money market. There were other items favorable to the im-provement of values, chief among which was the declaration of the dividend upon the pre-ferred stock of the St. Paul, and a complete change in the management of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago Ballway, owing to the fact that a controlling interest had been bought quietly by some large corporation. The general market to-day was devoid of interest. The close was active, excited and strong at the best prices of the day. cent, and others fractional amounts.

 The railroad bond market was again more active to-day, the sales of all issues reaching $1.665,000, out of which Atchison incomes contributed $331,000 and were the strong point in the list, while the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago consols were conspicuously weak. The rest of the list, however, displayed the same steady tone without tendency in either direction. Louisville, New Albany and Chicago consols lost 2, at 102.
 The Post says: There are reports, which seem to have some foundation, of a new pool having been formed in Rock Island, and aside from this it is noticed that there has been pretty steady buying in the last two days of the other grangers, especially Northwestern and St. Paul, for Chicago account. While the volume of trading in the more active stocks has fallen off because there had been a cessation of the efforts to depress them, a good many of the usually less active stocks have had a larger business in the last week and have advanced considerably.

Although the same individuals who are largely interested in Burlington and Quincy were the builders and operators of the Bur-lington and Northern, the former has never been able to dictate the policy of the Burling-ton and Northern, and as the latter has been the greatest disturber of rates, the matter has always had the aspect of "a house divided against itself." The announcement that the Burlington and Quincy had bought the Bur-lington and Northern was therefore accepted as a pledge that the rate cutting would be
