TARNISHING THE FAMILY NAME.

Dr. Talmage Points Out How the Recollections of Childhood

MAY LEAD THE WAY TO HOLINESS

from its high significance? To naul it now a from your mother's forehead and trample it in the dust would be criminal.

Your father's name may not be a distinguished name, but I hope it stands for something good. It may not be famous, like that of Homer, the father of appling or Eschylus, the father of appling or Eschylus, the father of appling or Eschylus, the father of tragedy, or Ethelwold, the father of monks, or Herodotus, the father of instinguished name, but I hope it stands for something good. All parents want their children to turn out well. However poorly father and mother may have done themselves, they want their sons rents at and daughters to do splendidly. Up to 40 years of age parents may have ambitions for them-selves, after that their chief ambitions are for their children. Some of the old-time names indieste this. The name of Abner means "his father's lamp." The name Abigail means 'her father's joy." And what a parental delight mon to David, and Samuel to Hannah, and Joseph to Jacob! And the best earthly and Joseph to Jacob! And the best earthly staff that a father has to lean on is a good son, and the strongest arm a mother has to belo her down the steep of years is that of a grateful child. But it is not a rare thing to find people unfilial, and often the parents are themselves to blame. Aged persons sometimes become querulous and snappy, and the children have their hands full with the old folks. Before entering my profession I was for three months what is called a colporteur. One day in the country districts I stopped at the house of a good, intelligent, gental farmer. The hospitality of such a country house is especially pleasof age, and his grandfather, about 90, were yet alive and with him. Indeed, there were four enerations in the house, for the farmer had little children playing about the room. We gathered at the dining table.

SHOWING OFF BEFORE COMPANY. After the blessing was asked the farmer put some of the meat upon his plate and courteously passed it to me, when his father of 65 years of age cried out to his son, who was at least 30 years of age: "Why do you not pass the meat as you always do, and let us take it off the plate urselves? You are trying to show off because father of 90 sat with his hat on at the table, his face unclean and his apparel untidy. Still the farmer kept his patience and equipoise, and I never think of him without admiration. He must have had more grace that I ever had. Because people are old they have no right to be either ungentlemanly or uncarny. There

Because people are old they have no right to be either ungentlemanly or uncanny. There are old propie so disagreeable that they have nearly broken up some homes. The young married man with whom the aged one lives stands it because he has been used to it all his life, but the young wife, coming in from another household, can bardly endure it, and sometimes almost cries her eyes out. And when little children gather in the house they are arraid of the venerable patriarch, who has forgotten that he ever was a child himself, and cannot understand why children should ever want to play "bide and seek," or roll hoop, or fly kite, and he becomes impatient at the sound from the nursery, and shouls with an expenditure of voice that keeps him coughing 15 minutes afterward, "Boys' stop that racket!" as though any boy that ever amounted to anythough any boy that ever amounted to any-thing in the world aid not begin life by making disagreeable or unprincipled old folks around the house. Some of us, drawing out of our memories, know that it is possible, after 60 or memories, know that it is possible, after 60 or food I will not stop; my children must have home and genial; and the grandest adornment of a home is an agred father and an aged mother, if the process of years has mellowed them. Beside that, if your old parents are hard to get along with now, you must remember there was a time when they had hard work to get along with you. When you were about 5 or 7 or 10 or 12 years of age what a time they had kept a written account of your early pranks and misdolugs, it would make a whole volume. That time when you gave your little sister a clip; that time when you prayed the about a first class and the helplessness of the household, and then he besides. By the help of God I will not stop; my children must have help said and advantages, and a comfortable starting in the world, and I must have help the bousehold, and then he helplessness of the household, and then he helplessness and the legicles, and a size. Citild's good, durable enssinere suit, all sizes, light and dark colors, $2 323 will buy a first-class stylish boy's suit, light and dark colors, $2 10 years. Thousands of other bargains, that cannot be mentioned here, will be sold in proportion to the above-mentioned prices. It will pay you to call anyone, and he ready to keep right on until unto that has been toiling for your all these years shall come to the very numbers of death. You cannot afford to break his heart. But you are doing it. Yes, you are far heard to here, will be size and a child's good, durable enssinere suit, all sizes, light and dark colors, $2 23 will buy a first-class stylish boy's suit, light and dark colors, ge or 7 or 10 or 12 years of age what a time they had with you! If they had kept a written account of your early praises and misdoings, it would make a whole volume. That time when you gave your little sister a clip; that time when you explored the depth of a jar of sweet things for which you had no permission; that havor you one day made with your jackknife; that plucking from the orchard of unripe fruit; that day when, instead of being at school, as your parents supposed, you went a fishing; and many a time did you imperil your young life in places where you had no business to climb or swim or verture.

To get you through your first 15 years with your life and your good morals was a fearful draft upon parental fidelity and endurance. In-deed, it may be that much of this present physreal and mental weakness in your parents may nave been a result of your early waywardness You made such large and sudden drafts upon You made such large and sudden drafts upon the bank of their patience that you broke the lank. They were injured in being thrown while trying to break the coit. It is a matter of only common honesty that you pay back to them some of the long-suffering which they paid to you. A father said to his son, "Surely no father ever had as bad a boy as I have." "Yes," said the son, "my grandfather had." It is about the same from generation to generation, and paronis need to be patient with children, and children duilful to their parents. Taking it for granted that those who bear me to-day have had a good parentage, I want to arge upon all the young the fact that the hampiness and longevity of parents much depend upon the right behavior of their children, and I can do this no more effectually than by demonstrating the truth of my text, "A foolish son is the heaviness of his mother."

THE BREAD HIS MOTHER MADE. Perhaps some young man astray may be brought back by a thought of how they feel about him at home. A French soldier lay wounded and dying in the hospital at Geneva, Switzeriand. His father, at home, 70 years of age, heard of his son's suffering, and started, and took the long journey and found the hospital; and as he entered the son cried: "O, father, I am so glad you have come to see me die." "No." sand the father, "you are not going to die; your mother is waiting for you, and I am going to the part of the part o Bwitzerland, His father, at home, 70 years of and I am going to take you home. I have brought you money and everything you need."

"No," said the soldier, "they give me here wardness that killed her? Romalus made no wardness that killed her? Romalus made no brought you money and everything you need."

No." said the soldier, "they give me here everything that is moe to eat, but I have no appetite, and I must die." Then the father took from his knapsack a loaf of regional, such as the plain people of his country ate, and said: "Here, is a loaf of pread your mother made, and I am sure you can eat this; she sent it to you." Then the soldier brightened up, and took the bread and ate it, and said. "It is so good, the bread from home, the bread that my mother made?" No wonder that in a few days he had recovered. O young man, wounded in the battle of life, and discouraged given up by ourselt, and given up by others, the old folks at the country freeded have not given you up, I bring you bread from home. It may be plann bread, but it is that bread of which If a man eathe never again shall hunger. Bread from home! Bread from home! Carrying out the idea of my text, I remark that a reckless or dissipated son makes a heavy-hearted parent, because it hurts the family pride. It is not the given name, or the name which you received at the christening, that is injured by your prodigality. You cannot but your name of John, or George, or Henry, or Frances, or Hachel, because there have been thours and you cannot improve or defined and your cannot improve or de-theurands of people, good and bad, having those names, and you cannot improve or depreciate the respectability of those given names. But it is your last name, your family name, that is at your mercy. All who bear that name are bound, before God and man, not to damage its happy significance. You are charged, by all the generations of the past read all the damage its happy significance. You are charged, by all the generations of the past and all the generations to come, to do your share for the protection, and the honor, and the integrity of that name. You have no right, my young friend, by a bad life to blot the old family Bible, containing the story of the marriages and births and deaths of the years gone by, or to cast a blot upon the family Bibles whose recerds are yet to be opened.

PRESERVING AN HONORED NAME, There are in our American city directories names that always suggest commercial dishon- What! Is she dead? How you startle me! Is esty or libertinism or cruelty or meanness, just | she dead? Then perhaps you have her picture, cursed it forever by miscreancy. Look out how you stab the family name! It is especially dear to your mother. She was not born under that sme. She was born under another name, but the years passed on and she came to young womanhood, and she saw some one with whom she could trust her happiness, her life, and her immortal destiny; and she took his name, took it while the orange blossoms were filling the it while the orange blossoms were filling the air with fragrance, took it with joined hands, took it with joined hands, took it while the heavens witnessed. She chose it out of all the family names since the world stood, chose it for better or worse, through sickness and through health, by cradles and by graves. Yea, she put off her old family name to take the family name you now wear, and she has done her part to make it an honorable name. How heavy a trouble you put upon her when, by misdeeds, you wrench that name when, by misdeeds, you wrench that name from its high significance? To haul it down from your mother's forehead and trample it in for they cannot stand as much as they once could. They have not the elasticity of feeling tion in the newspapers at the time. with which once they could throw off trouble. That shoulder, now somewhat bent, cannot bear as heavy a burden as once it could. At the time when the machinery is getting worn out you put upon it the most terrific strain. At 60 and $70 years the vitality is not so strong as at 30 or 40. Surely they are descending the down grade of life swiftly enough without your increasing the mo-mentum. They will be gone soon enough without your pushing them away. Call in all the doctors who ever lived since hippocrates raised medicine from a superstition to a science, and they could not cure the heart-break of a mother over her ruined boy. There may be, as some suppose, enough herbs on earth, if discovered, to cure all the ailments of the body: but nothing save a leaf from the tree of the heavenly paradise can cure a wound made by a foolish son who is the heaviness of his mother.

Perhaps it is a good thing that cruel treatment by a child abbreviates a parent's life, for what is there desirable in a father's life or a mother's life if its peace is gene? Do you not think death is something beneficent if it stops the mother's heart from aching and her eyes from weeping, and says: "You need not bear the exeruciation any longer. Go and sleep. I will put the defense of a marble slab between you and that boy's entrages. Go now where will put the defense of a marble slab between you and that boy's cutrages. Go now where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest? At the departure of such mothers let the music be an anthem instead of a dirge. While you and I hear no sound, yet there are at this moment tens of thousands of parental hearts breaking. All care was taken with the boy's schooling, all good counsels given, and the equipment for a sober and earnest and useful life was provided, but it has all gone, and the foolish son has become the heaviness of his mother.

Much of the poignancy of the parental grief arises from the lugratitude of such behavior. What an undertaking it is to conduct a family through the ailments and exposures of early life! Talk about the skill demanded of a seacentain commanding a ship across the ocean!

old cradle in which all of us children were rocked! I must ask my sister when I see her next time. We were a large family, and that old cradle was going a good many years. I remember just how it looked. It was old-fash-ioned and had no tapestry. Its two sides and canony all of plain wood, but there was a great deal of sound sleeping in that cradle, and many aches and pains were soothed by it as it moved to and fro by day and night. Most vividiy I remember that the rockers, which came out from under the cradic, were on the top and side very under the cradic, were on the top and side very smooth, so smooth that they actually glistened. They must have been worn smooth by a foot that long ago ceased its journey. How tired the foot that pressed it must sometimes have got! But it did not stop for that. It went right on and rocked for Phebe the first, and for De Witt the last. And it was a cradic like that, or perhaps of modern make and richly upholstered, in which your mother rocked you. WHERE THE DANGER LIES

The Mysterious and Sudden Ending of So Many Lives Fully Accounted For. The real danger from "Grippe" is in its after effects. Nine-tenths of all deaths resulting are from pneumonia. What is pneumonia? It is a sudden stoppage and filling up of the lungs, Thick, heavy poisonous mucous gets into the air-cells and prevents breathing. They clog up quickly and death ensues. The only salvation is to keep the lungs working and thus throw off this terrible mucous. There is only one way in which this can be done and that is by stimulating them. Under the influence of a proper amount of pure whiskey, the lungs draw in deep full breaths and throw out the poisonous air.

But while this is true and whiskey has saved more lives than any other known remedy, if it is not pure whiskey, it is liable to have a bad effect. If it contains fusel oil, a headache or a foul tongue will be the result. On the other hand, when an absolutely pure whiskey like Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is used, no ill effects can by any possibility follow. Prof. Henry A. Mott says: "The purity of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, (as simple, analytical tests will readily convince) is absolute and should recommend it to the highest public favor." To all, we unhesitatingly say, insist upon having Duffy's and do not be persuaded to take any other.
