TRYING THE COLTS.

The Old Club Youngsters Show Up in Great Style.

MR. HECKER IS DELIGHTED.

Al Johnson's Incident About Palmer O'Neill and Beckley.

THE SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

Manager Hecker began testing the young players of the old League club. Their work was in some respects remarkable. The old club directors won't trouble Beckley about his last jump. Arrangements have been completed for Saturday's big shooting contests at Exposition Park. There was a big horse sale at Chicago.

J. Palmer O'Neill, Manager Hecker, Al Pratt and others, good judges of baseball playing, are now certain that the old League club of this city will be a good one this season. The "colts" were given a good try yesterday at Recreation Park, and without doubt they acquitted themselves well. The per-formance of a few of them went clearly to show the truth of that old adage to the effect that there are just as good fish in the sea as has been

About 12 of the young men were put through a reasonable amount of exercise, and Mr. O'Neill was specialty on hand to see how they would perform. After watching them for nearly two hours he said:

HOPES ARE HIGH. "I am convinced that my theory is right. am now certain that we will soon have as good a team in Pittsburg as there ever was, I am also more than ever satisfied that the star players of the old League have by their desertion onened the way for young men who will in a very short time make just as good ball teams as we have seen in the history of the Manager Hecker was delighted and did not hesitate to say that he will have a team of players that will surprise somebody by good playing. During the afternoon it was intinated that the old club directors are negotiating for Dunlap to play second base. Nothing authentic, that is officially, could be learned about the matter, but the report seemed to be correct. Dunlap, of course, will not be paid as big a salary as he received last year, but a good offer has been, or at least will be made to him.

THEY WANT DUNLAP. Mr. O'Neill, it is understood, is desirous of having Dunlap back again and President Nimick is not opposed to it providing Dunlap's demands are not too steep. "Dunny," is un-doubtedly a good player when he is in a playing mood and it is thought that should be rejoin the old team circumstances will keep him in a mood that will prompt him to do the very best he can. True, he is somewhat out of public favor here, but if he was to play in his old time form he will soon be as popular as ever,

Yesterday afternoon pitchers Schmitt, Baker and Jones were tried. The first named displayed remarkable speed and also showed that played remarkable speed and also showed that he could pitch a very puzzling slow curved ball. Altogether he made a good impression. Baker and Jones each pleased the critics with a peculiar drop ball and Sir Guy was so de-ighted over it that he said: "Well there's as fine a drop as I have ever seen, and don't you ferrot it."

orget it."
Catchers Berger, Wilson and Bradenburg gave good satisfaction, particularly the last named in throwing to second hase. There have been reports current to the effect that Bradenburg could not throw to second base. His efforts yesterday, however, shows the contrary to be the fact. The indications are that he will be a good catcher. Berger and Wilson also did well.

THE YOUNG INFIELDERS.

Among the inficiders Youngman, Roat and Laroque did extremely well. If Dunlap does not play at second, Manager Hecker remarked, Youngman will be there and if Dunlap plays Anlife-Carroll Match. Youngman will be at short. Laroque is a good man.

But probably the most pleasing feature of the afternoon was the fielding of Routcliffe and Hemp. The latter is another Sunday for speed and seems to be able to lay his hands on almost anything. One thing is certain, viz., that, judging from his work of yesierday, there have been few, if any, better outfielders in Pittburg. He is as lively as a cat. Beyond all, the youngsters are full of enthusiasm, and they will certainly impart sufficient life into a came to make it exceedingly interesting. The old League will have a good local club. R. Mays, an all-round player from Warren, Pa., arrived yesterday, and will be given a trial to-day.

JOHNSON'S REMINDER.

He Recalis an Incident Between Himself and Palmer O'Neill.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH, ! CLEVELAND, O., March 18 .- "I knew that Beckley was going to flop to the Brotherhood last week," said Al Johnson to-night. "During the Players' meeting I went with Hanlon to the telegraph office when he sent the message to "Talking about Beckley," continued Johnson,

"Talking about Beckley," continued Johnson, "reminds me of a funny incident occurring between J. Palmer O'Neill and myself. We were talking basebalt in the Weddell House, when O'Neill made the remark that there were two men in Pittsburg who couldn't be touched by either side."

""Who are they? said I."

"Beckley and Carroll, was the reply.
Honest Jake will not go back on his contract in spite of all thei talking you fellows can do and we wouldn't think of such a thing as going to Fred Carroll.

"Twenty-four hours after," said Johnson,
"O'Neill read that Beckley had flopped. I haven't seen him since."

WON'T TROUBLE HIM.

The Old Lengue Club Will Take Beckley's Advance Money Back,

Manager Hanlen visited Secretary Scandrett yesterday and tendered him the $500 which the old club had advanced Beckley. Mr. Scandrett refused the money, claiming that Beckley had been advanced $50. The $50 in dispute is that for which Beckley claims he has never received a check. Manager Hanlon wired Beckley on the matter yesterday afternoon and it is expected that the affair will be settled to-day. ley on the matter yesterday afternoon and it is expected that the affair will be settled to-day. That the old club is pursuing the wisest course in allowing Beckley to go without trouble seems to be the general opinion. It is useless to try and deny that he has acted fairly in the matter. The fact that he has lived all winter on the old club's money and at the last moment turn his back on them is not relished by either friend or foe. This is looked upon as a very grave fault, indeed, and probably the old club will gain much sympathy by acting in the affair as above stated.

Baseball at Beaver. #### DESPERATE FIGHTING. Jimmy Smith Defeats Barney Curtis by Some mence at 2 P. M.

Heavy Hitting. TACOMA, WASH., March 18 .- A desperate prize fight took place near here yesterday and was witnessed by nearly 700 sports from all over the coast. The principals were Jimmy Smith, of Denver and Barney Curtis, of Spokane Falls. They fought at catch-weights. Smith had the best of the fight, which was for $500 a side, from the start. From the first to the tenth round Curtis was knocked down 20 times, but managed to come to the front at the call of time. In the tenth, eleventh and twelfth rounds Curtis tried to rush Smith and the lat-rounds Curtis tried to rush Smith and the latter's hurricane work won him the fight. In the flifteenth round Curtis came up looking tired, He was hammered all over the ring and was knocked over the ropes three times.

In the sixteenth round Smith again adopted hurricane fighting. Curtis could not get away from him but was knocked down six times. He tried to hold his own but was done for. He led out two or three times viciously but failed to land, meantime getting a hammering that would have put many a man to sleep. When about half the round had passed Smith suddenly shot out his right and swung a smasher on Curtis' neck. It sent him to the ropes, where Smith followed him and rained blow after blow on him. Finally, with a desperate rally, Curtis got out in the center of the ring, threw all his strength into a right-hand blow, directed at Smith's jugular, and failed to land. Quick as a flash Smith landed on Curtis, knocking him through the ropes. As Curtis drew up he got a smashing upper cut under the chin that put him to sleep and ended the mill.

Court. Uunder date of March 12, Andrews, whose execution for the murder of Clara Price takes place April 9, writes the following letter to a paper here:

DEAR SIR-In laying the Bible aside and finding a little time to spare. I thought I would write you a few lines concerning the talk of the public and of the newspapers, for the rumor is current in general that I am breaking down in health. Such, however, Is not the case, though I suppose the fact that I was sick for a few days gave rise to the report. If the Lord spares me to live until the 9th of April I will show the public that is not the fact, for I am willing to pay with my life the penalty of the law of this land for the zrime I have committed. I now ask God for forgiveness and I do not fear the gallows, and if anyone doubts my word let them come in the jail to see me some day about meal time, to see me down some of the Sheriff's meals. #### KANSAS CITY GALLANTRY.

First Bidding on the Mining Exchange for Stock Held by Ladies. KANSAS CITY, March 18.—There were two regular calls at the Mining Exchange to-day, the visiting Denver brokers being present at each, showing the Kansas City brokers how it was done. The first call occurred at 11:30 A. M. and 100,000 shares of stock changed hands. After lunch the delegates attended the after-noon call, when about the same number of shares were dealt in as at the morning call, shares were dealt in as at the morning call. The delegates to the Miners' Convention then assembled at the Warder Grand Opera House for the transaction of business.

One of the principal features of the afternoon call was a deal in the stock of the Little Nugget coal mine. This property is owned and managed entirely by women. Mrs. Lela Herron, President of the company, was on the floor of the Exchange, and announced that she desired to dispose of 5,000 shares of stock at 50 cents a share. President Charles Taylor, of the Denver Board, gallantly announced that he would take the whole amount. Other members of the Denver crowd objected, and Mr. Taylor told them they could buy from him lif they were so anxious to buy the stock. They were anxious, and paid 50 cents for over half of Mr. Taylor's holdings.

A FACTOR IN POLITICS.

The Farmers' Alliance in Kansas Strong

Enough to be Recognized. KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 18 .- The Farm ers' Alliance in Kansas is growing so rapidly, both in members and perfection of organiza-tion, that they have become a decidedly distion, that they have become a decidedly dis-turbing factor in local and State politics. State Organizer Jennings is just finishing up a trip through the State, where he has been estab-lishing new allmanes and extending the scope and organization of the old ones. Every county, nearly, in the whole State is organized and pretty nearly every farmer in each county is a member of the organization.

The old alliances have been reorganized on the plan of the one-by-one townships. Each county has a central organization, receives in-structions from the State headquarters, which are subordinate again to the National Alliance. This thorough organization has made the order D Armory to-day. Following are the sales of This thorough organization has made the order exceptionally strong.

A New Cure for Rheumatism.

Mr. J. F. Meighan, the popular Seventh street eigar dealer, awoke one morning with an attack of rheumatism in his right arm. Working around the store during the forenoon made it worse. By noon the pain was so severe that he could not raise his hand to his head and had to carry his arm in a sling. One of his customers, on tearning the facts, went across the street to E. E. Heck's drugstore, and at his own expense procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and persuaded the cigar dealer to try it. It eased the pain and reduced the swelling so that by the next morning he could use his arm, and by the second morning was entirely well. This is only one of the many severe cases of rheumatism that have been cured by this valuable remedy. Fifty cent bottles.

DISPATCH,

Operators Protest Against the Granting of a Saloon License.

JUDGE FURST ON PROHIBITION.

He Holds Its Advocates Responsible for the Speak-Easies.

GHOULS' STRANGE METHODS AT AKRON. West Virginian Teaches Kills a Pupil in Self-Defense.

Interest in Pennsylvania is now centered apon the granting of saloon licenses. In Butler county oil operators object to saloon and in Huntingdon a judge insists that prohibition is responsible for the great number of illegal drinking places. The news of three States is concise and interesting.

PERSONAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH A BUTLER, PA., March 18 .- Court will meet here to-morrow to hear the petitions for and against the granting of licenses to sell intoxicating liquors. There are nine applications for wholesale and 20 for tavern licenses. Remonstrances have been filed in but one case, that of Phillip Nicholas, who wants to sell ardent spirits at Petersville, a quiet little village in the midst of the Hundred-Foot oil field. Not only the old settlers, but a number of the oil operators have petitioned the court to refuse the license, for the reason that the sale of iquor at that place "will greatly interfere with the business of those engaged in the drilling and operating of oil wells in said township, and in the community in which the house is located." The W. C. T. U., which has annually protested against all licenses, will not appear in court at all. At Huntingdon-For the first time in three years, petitions were presented to the court to-day for license to sell liquor. Under three years of nominal prohibition speakeasies and private drinking clubs have sprung up all ever this town and county, with a membership numbering into the hundreds. This coming to the attention of Judge Furst to-day, became the text for a very vigor ous and pointed stricture on prohibition ad-vocates whom he accused of being responsible for its existence.

PROHIBITION AND SPEAK-EASIES. "It seems," said he, "that prohibition in this county encourages the creation and maintenance of speak-easies and private drinking establishments and the increase in the drinking of liquor.

Judge Furst is favorable to the granting of licenses to responsible applicants, but as the same associate judges who over-ruled him three years ago are still on the bench, a favorable decision on the present applications is simply conjectural.

License Court in Lawrence county begins to-morrow morning. There are 31 applicants all but 8 being in New Castle. There are 14 for hotels, 10 for restaurants, 3 for whole-sale, 3 for breweries, and 1 for bottlers. Should all be granted it will increase the present number by eight. The temperance people are inactive over the matter, except in a remonstrance against Wm. Simpson, at Edenburg. "It seems," said he, "that probibition in his county encourages the creation and naintenance of speak-easies and private trinking establishments and the increase in he drinking of lines.

Judge Wickham granted the following li-censes for Rochester borough to-day: Hotels, Doncaster House, St. James; wholesale, Benj. F. Pfeiffer and Harry Streit. The usual re-monstrances were filed.

LAW AND ORDER OBJECTIONS. The campaign of the Law and Order League at Reading has been opened by the filing of 64 remonstrances against hotel and saloonkeepers who applied for licenses. Of these 53 are against saloons in the city, and 11 in the country. The grounds for remonstrances are violations of the law in selling on Sunday or to mi-nors, keeping gambling or disorderly houses, harboring dissolute women and that the places are not necessary for public accommodation. Some 400 witnesses have been subpensed to give testimony for the remonstrants. The hearing will begin on Monday next. hearing will begin on Monday next.

Seventeen applications for license have been made to the Washington county court. The temperance people are making great efforts to keep these licenses from being granted.

Judge Wickham, of Beaver county, states that he will depart from his custom of refusing wholesale licenses, because he finds that it merely leads to agents from abroad doing business in Beaver.

Forgot to Deliver the Goods. SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR. MEADVILLE, March 18 .- Frederick B. Bailey was arrested and bound over to court to-day for larceny by battee. He has been operating in this city and vicinity for some time and claimed to represent a co-operative association of Knights of Labor. Hisplan was to first get one dollar for membership in the association and then secure advance payments on goods to be delivered later. He took orders for anything his customers happened to want and has undoubtedly received a good deal of money from people who are now very uneasy. In the small town of Evansburg he collected about $300. His arrest was the result of a general meeting of over-confiding patrons. claimed to represent a co-operative association

Body Partly Dissected and Then Re turned to Its Vault. 'SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]
AKRON, O., March 18.—Northfield, this county, is stirred up over the mutilation of the remains of John Campbell, aged 50, who died a month ago. Campbell's brother and nephew were the only relatives present at his funeral and they had the remains put in a vault. A day or two ago, when they went back for the burial they found that the coffin had been tampered with, the head and face of the corpse has with, the head and face of the corpse had been shaved, the work of dissection had been begun on part of the body and that it was spattered with mud and clad in other garments than those worn at the funeral.

The theory is that the body had been taken from the coffin, sent to a Cleveland medical college, and the body snatchers, fearing detection, shipped it back and replaced it in the vault. Great indignation exists here, and a thorough investigation is being made. Two weeks ago a young physician at Northfield brought an order for the body to the sexton of the cemetery, claiming that Campbell had no relations. Probat Judge Grant, who, the doctor declares, issued the order, denies all knowledge of the case.

The verdict in part runs thus:

Trains of such length (11 cars) should not be run upon this or any other railroad with only two trainmen. And this jury has reason to believe that Division Superintendent Charles B. Couch has knowledge that passonger trains have been run on said road in an unsafe and crippled condition; and that if he had exacted a rigid enforcement of their rules and regulations this accident could not have happened. The jury holds Conductor J. W. Houghtaling directly and culpably responsible for the lives lost in the wreck.

tions of Disposing of It.

Have Been Quietly Gobbled by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

Now that George F. Baer has bought the South Penn there is a great question as to just what he secured. It is said that neither the right of way, road bed, tunnels nor charter can be sold. The Pennsylvania Company has obtained the costly piers in the Susquebanna at Harrisburg.

PRPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, March 18 .- Sheriff Pittman, of Fulton county, Pennsylvania, who sold the South Penn Railroad at a judgment sale the other day, is at a loss to know just what e sold, and George F. Baer, who purchased the road at the sale for $2,500, in the interest of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, is trying to find out at 4 P. M. what he bought. When work on the South Penn Railroad was in progress, before the affairs of the company were thrown into court and the whole scheme of rivaling the Pennsylvania virtually destroyed, the company had its main office in McConnellsburg. and got into debt for room rent and other expenses which it failed to pay. The creditors obtained a judgment against the com pany in Fulton county, and it was on this judgment that the road was sold.

A LITTLE DIFFICULTY.

But there is no road. The road bed, tunnels, masonry, etc., which were partially completed before work was stopped, cost a million or two of dollars, but none of these can be sold, for they are not real estate in the eye of the law. The charter cannot be sold, because it is in the custody of the county and not amenable to any liabilities, either personal or corporate. The right of way is not an asset of the company for it was granted conditionally and is void when five years pass without the road being com pleted. The five-year limit is nearly up. The Reading Railroad Company is extending its system from Harrisburg up the Cumberland Valley by constructing a road known as the Harrisburg Terminal. One of the most important and costly pieces of work done by the South Pennsylvania Company was the half-like of the 24 margins and the statement of th pany was the building of the 24 massive cut stone piers in the Susquehanna river at Harrisburg, which were to carry the $500,000 railroad bridge across that stream. The possession of these piers was something the Reading Company had in view in the building of the Harrisburg Terminal, not only on account of the time they would save in throwing a bridge over the Susquebanna but because of the greater saving in money which would be insured.

SOMETHING OF A SURPRISE. The supposed owners of the piers were, course, opposed to the Pennsylvania Rail road's interests, and the Reading naturally expected to have no trouble in getting this important line of masonry. When Presi-dent Corbin went to Harrisburg for that purpose he was much surprised to learn, therefore, that the ownership of the piers had been the transferred to the Pennsylvania Railroad. No one seemed able to give any information as to how the astounding change in title had been made, but that it had been made there was no doubt.

So the Reading had to contract for the building of an entirely new set of piers, and, of course, the Sheriff's sale in Fulton county cannot cover the old South Pennsylvania piers. The sale, therefore, is a puzzle to both sheriff and purchaser of the property vaguely sold as "The South Pennsylvania Railroad," and another complication is Railroad," and another complication is added to the numberless complications that already envelop and confound the affairs of that luckless project. TRIED TWICE TO SHUFFLE.

John Malloy Makes Two Desperate Attempts at Salcide. John Malloy, a young man who lives on the hillside above Steuben street, near No. 1 engine house, in the West End, made two attempts at suicide yesterday, and was in the Thirty-second ward station house last night handcuffed to the iron tars of the cell. Malloy has been drinking hard of late and was practically the cause of the fracture of his aged mother's arm on Saturday evening last. Yesterday he threw himself in front of an approaching train on the Lake Erie road, and was rescued with difficulty. When he was sent home he was so boisterous that he was finally arrested and conveyed to the Thirty-four h ward station house, where a "muffler" was put on him.

Malloy had been but a short time in his cell when he was discovered endeavoring to throttle himself with the strap of the instrument named above, when the severe measures noted in the opening paragraph were taken to prevent any further attempt
